

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3925

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3925-The three of them encouraged James continuously, but James still had that defeated look on his face.

He looked at the three and said, "Thanks, but I'll never give up. I'll think of a way to leave this place. Oh right, have you met any living beings heading to the eighteenth space during your long stay here?"

All three of them shook their heads.

Yehosheva answered, "I was the first to arrive in the seventeenth space. Then the two of them came. You're the fourth. I don't know if anyone else came here before me, but after myself, nobody else headed towards the eighteenth space."

James raised his head to look at the shapeless spatial barrier on top of him. The Sixth Stage of the Omniscience Path? This was going to be very difficult. He sat down with a thoughtful look on his face. He was pondering on how to step into the Fifth Stage of the Omniscience Path.

Shoosh! A flash of light appeared, bringing a small, red bird to the realm.

"Here comes another one."

All of them looked at the bird. Its eyes were glimmering with curiosity as it stared at its surroundings. Seeing that the four living beings were gathered together, it fluttered its wings and appeared before them.

"Little birdie, I see you've joined the pack."

James stood up immediately with joy. This bird was mystical. It knew many things, even the fact that the outer universe was birthed by Universe Seeds.

The bird's appearance gave James hope.

"Kid, you're here too?" The bird looked at James.

"Yep," James said, "This is the seventeenth space. To get to the eighteenth, one has to reach the Sixth Stage of the Omniscience Path. I've reached the Fourth, do you have a way to help me reach the Sixth?"

Hearing that James had reached the Fourth, Yahveh, Jehudi, and Yehosheva were all in shock.

The bird used its claws to scratch its jaw. Its eyes scanned James back and forth before saying, “Didn’t I tell you before that continuously absorbing medicinal pills and elixirs and using their powers to stimulate the body may be fruitful in opening up vitality and potential?”

James nodded and said, “Indeed. I have searched continuously for Macrocosm-Ranked elixirs and consumed them. But even if I have cultivated them, there’s no improvement to my condition. My body is like a black hole. No matter how many Macrocosm Powers I cultivated, they would be subsumed in their entirety.”

“Hmm...” The bird fell into deep thought and said, “In that case, I don’t have any other ways for you.”

“Wait,” The bird was reminded of something and said to

James, “Didn’t you seal the Light of Death in the outer realm? Why not use that Light to stimulate your body and see whether you can activate your body’s potential?”

James froze as he heard this. The bird said that any living being touched by the Light of Acme will die, yet it is letting him make this attempt. Yet, this was perhaps the only way out of his situation.

“I don’t see any other option open to me, so I’ll try. But you must guarantee my safety, I’m worried that something might go wrong,” James said as he looked at the bird.

The bird patted his chest and assured James, “Don’t worry. I’m here. There’ll surely be no accidents.”

James was worried about this assurance, but there was no other way around it, was there?

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3926

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3926-The Light of Acme can activate a person’s own potential and allow one to step into a higher Stage of the Omniscience Path. This was what Lord Samsong told James after reading the records of an ancient book.

As for whether this was the truth, James had no idea. But he did not have another choice either.

He stirred his mind and retrieved the Light of Acme or in the words of the bird, the Light of Death, from the Celestial Abode. The Light was immensely colorful and bright. Even if James had sealed it, the Light could still emanate a frightening level of power. This power shocked the powerful Lords who were also present.

“What is this?” Yahveh asked with a stupefied look. He could not help but exclaim, “How powerful.”

Jehudi and Yehosheva both looked at James.

Staring at the Light of Acme before him, James explained, “This is the Light of Acme, formed by the power that remained in the corpses of Acmeans. At least ten of them died in the same place to allow such a Light to form.”

Jehudi took a deep breath and said, “No wonder the power is so massive.”

After summoning the Light of Acme, he looked at the bird and asked, “What should we do next?”

The bird rolled its eyes. Sure, James could pose the question, but how about the bird itself? To whom should this question be posed? Though It had never made contact with the Light of Acme, it still put on a wise face and said in a deep voice, “You should absorb the Light of Acme and use its power to strengthen your physical body.”

James still felt that the bird was not reliable. But then again, what other choice did he have?

He opened up the seal of the Light. After this, all of them sensed the frighteningly strong power that stimulated their flesh so painfully that they had to avoid any contact with it. They reappeared somewhere far away. Even the bird could not withstand the power emanated from the Light, as it fluttered its little wings towards a faraway place, where it felt barely bearable.

The Light of Acme's power was so immense that even if the Light did not actively establish a target, a Ninth Stage Lord would not be able to withstand its power. That included James when he did not actively fight back.

He summoned his body's Chaos Power just in time. With the Chaos Power's protection, the Light of Acme could no longer harm him substantively.

"Kid, that's not going to work," the bird's voice came from afar. 'You need the Light of Acme to stimulate your body, your blood, and your bones. Now that you're shielding yourself from the Light of Acme, there's no point in doing all this, is there? How else are you supposed to activate your own potential and vitality?"

Hearing this, James' eyebrows shrugged slightly. He looked at the Light of Acme. How would he protect himself from the Light without Chaos Power?

He took a deep breath. Now he could only put everything in the hands of fate, including his life.

He immediately revoked the Chaos Power. No longer shielded by the protection of the Power, his flesh bore the immediate brunt of the Light of Acme. Cracks spread across his body, followed by the continuous flow of blood.

In a short while, he was entirely covered with blood.

Seeing this, the bird's jaw dropped.

"How scary. This is surely the Light formed by the power of Acmean's corpses."

The other three powerful figures could not help but be stupefied. Was this not overkill? Although they were powerful Lords, they would not dare attempt such a cultivation method, even if it meant that they would never be able to step into a pristinely new stage of the Omniscience Path.

At the stage that James was in, he could usually ignore pain. Yet, as the Light of Acme spread across James, he could not help but sense how intense the pain was.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3927

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3927-The Light of Acme shone on his body, causing cracks to materialize across his body. Then, the cracks tore apart incessantly, resulting in flesh and blood splattering all over.

His expression was twisted by the pain, as the Light of Acme continuously destroyed James' physical body.

Very quickly, his physical body was annihilated by the Light of Acme. What remained of him were some bones. The bones were not even complete, for some of them were shattered, while others had already turned into powder.

If James could not hold up any longer and allowed the Light of Acme to continue its process of destruction, then it would really mean the end of him. His soul had merged with his physical body a long while ago. If all of the bones were destroyed, that would mean total death.

He avoided the last strike in time by reappearing somewhere far away. He started summoning the body refinement technique to recover his physical body. To this date, he has learned many secret Supernatural arts, many of them being body refinement techniques.

He recovered very soon, but his physical body's strength made no gains.

"It doesn't work," James looked at the little bird who was deep in thought and said, 'This is futile. My physical body is harmed, but no new potential has been unlocked.'

The bird said, "Maybe you should try more than once?"

"More than once?" James's eyebrows frowned once again. He thought that what the bird proposed was reasonable. The second time's the charm, they say.

So he did it. James headed to the area covered by the Light of Acme. He did not use any strength to fight back and only allowed the Light of Acme to destroy his body.

In a very short time, blood was dripping from every inch of his flesh, followed by the destruction of his physical body, and the breaking and disintegration of his bones.

He held on regardless until he could no longer do so. Then, he would heal his body. After it recovered, he would once again use the Light of Acme to train his body.

Once, twice, ten times, a hundred times, a thousand times...

In the beginning, the living beings within the space would still pay attention to James. But at the very end, even they no longer looked at James and chose instead to play their game of chess. They knew that James would not die anyways, he was only embarrassing himself.

One year, ten years, a hundred, a thousand, ten thousand years... Time passed without a sound.

James used the Light of Acme to destroy his physical body for a million years, yet his physical body's power and inner potential had not increased.

"James, just give up. It's useless," the bird advised. Even the bird had lost hope, as it felt that the Light of Acme could never activate one's own potential.

But James did not want to give up. If he gave up just like that, he would never be able to leave this place and will be locked here forever.

He lay on the floor. His blood formed a puddle, with bones floating upon it. The Light of Acme shone from the sky. The colorful beams of light fell on the bones, causing them to shatter. At this moment, a mystical energy materialized from one of these bones. This energy enveloped his entire body, invigorating him.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3928

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3928-James' body had been destroyed continuously by the Light of Acme. He wanted to use the Light to stimulate the vitality of his body and activate his body's potential. For a million years, he bit his lips and endured never-ending suffering.

The three powerful figures of the seventeenth space have long given up. They gathered together for a game of chess. Occasionally, they would observe James and check whether he had died.

In the beginning, the bird still remained helpful. However, as time passed, the bird's hope slowly dissipated. It sat on the topmost floor of the pavilion and stared into space. Just like that, almost a million years passed.

James lay in the puddle made of his blood. His flesh had been mashed up, and all of his bones were nearly broken. When there was only a last bit of breath in him left, vitality and zest materialized from one of his bones, from which some mystical powers erupted.

This bone was the dragon bone, a bone he got when his cultivation base was still very small. The dragon bone helped him a lot during that time. But as he ascended through the ranks, the dragon bone was no longer of help to him. Its effects were almost negligible to James.

"What's happening?" Sensing that the dragon bone was materializing new potential, James was shocked.

He did not expect that the first to be vitalized would be the dragon bone.

"What power is that?" The little bird which was perching on the topmost floor of the pavilion sensed an uncanny power. Re-energized, it leaped and appeared in the void. Flapping its wings, it headed towards the area where James was.

Floating in mid-air, it stared squarely at James.

Yahveh, Jehudi, and Yehosheva also sensed a similar power materializing, so they rushed toward the direction James was in and appeared somewhere near him. They saw a bone in James' chest emanating colorful rays of light. The light embodied a mystical power that subsumed James, recovering the flesh that the Light of Acme destroyed within an instant.

However, this was merely the beginning. Both James' bones and flesh, stimulated by this power, materialized mystical powers. New surges of vitality and potential were born, as well as a worrying degree of zest.

James' potential was activated, as well as his vitality. This mysterious power took over him and he felt a sort of comfort that he has never felt before. Under the influence of such a power, his physical power upgraded at a bizarre pace.

Before this, his physical body's power was equivalent to the Ancestral God Rank. But now, it rose to that of the Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank.

Essentially, this meant that even if he did not deploy any Paths, his physical body

This sight continued for quite some time before James stood up from the ground. He stretched his joints, producing a crackling sound.

With a wave of his hand, his fist materialized an immense power that could rattle the entire space.

“I can’t believe this! You actually succeeded?!” The bird looked at James astonishingly. Disbelief was obvious in its tiny pupils. The three powerful figures were also in a state of shock.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3929

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3929-James’ own power was activated. He reached the Fourth Stage of the Omniscience Path, allowing his aura to rise. His body’s vitality strengthened within an instant. He sat on the ground in a lotus position, beginning to use his own potential, zest, and vitality to nourish and bolster his physical body so that he could reach the Fifth Stage. The Omniscience Path was a unique Combat Form that required the stimulation of external forces and battle.

“Attack me.” James stood up immediately, looking at the bird, Yahveh, Jehudi, and Yehosheva.

The four of them had little hesitation and started appearing around James, attacking him.

James did not deploy any Paths and purely used his physical power. As for his aggressors, they had complete control over their energies.

In the old battlefield of the seventeenth space, James’ body emanated a white light. His aura spilled over and formed a mystical territory. Within this territory, he was God and he controlled everything.

Other people’s attacks continuously destroyed his territory. These destructive powers spread across his body, stimulating and training it. After receiving thousands upon thousands of attacks, his aura grew, and so did his physical body’s power.

The battle sustained itself over many years. Throughout this time period, James' own potential was wholly absorbed by his physical body, allowing him to achieve the Fifth Stage of the Omniscience Path.

At the Fifth Stage, his physical body's power is equivalent to that of a Three-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God.

All of them gathered in a pavilion of the seventeenth space. Yahveh caressed his beard and said smilingly, "You've managed to reach the Omniscience Path's Fifth Stage, a Stage that no one has achieved since the beginning of history. Breaking the barrier of this space requires the Sixth Stage. I wonder how far away are you from the Sixth Stage?"

Jehudi was in a good mood as well. He chuckled loudly and said, "Haha, we can finally leave this place. After being trapped here for such a long time, it's been so dull. I really want to see what the outer world looks like."

Yehosheva was also filled with joy. She did not expect that she could actually leave this space.

The bird looked at James, saying, "Youngster, you've stepped into the Fifth Stage of the Omniscience Path, but the Sixth will be very challenging."

James was fully aware of that. But he was very confident, for he had already broken through the Fourth and reached the Fifth. He said smilingly, "Nothing is impossible. All that's required is time."

The bird gave James a talons-up, praising, "James, I believe in you. It's up to you whether I'll ever leave this place. Right, could I borrow the Light of Acme? I also want to see if I can reactivate my potential that had been cut off." The bird was tempted by James' success in reaching the Fifth Stage.

"Sure," James did not hesitate at all and summoned the Light of Acme. Then, he opened up the seal of the Light.

Prior to this, the power emanated from the Light of Acme could hurt him. But now that he has reached the Fifth Stage and his physical body's power has been escalated, the Light of Acme can no longer inflict substantial harm on him.

This was not the case for the bird, however. While it did indeed have a high rank, its physical body was only at the rank of an Ancestral God. Thus, the Light of Acme could still harm it. But it persevered regardless.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3930

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3930-James' own power was activated. He reached the Fourth Stage of the Omniscience Path, allowing his aura to rise. His body's vitality strengthened within an instant. He sat on the ground in a lotus position, beginning to use his own potential, zest, and vitality to nourish and bolster his physical body so that he could reach the Fifth Stage. The Omniscience Path was a unique Combat Form that required the stimulation of external forces and battle.

"Attack me." James stood up immediately, looking at the bird, Yahveh, Jehudi, and Yehosheva.

The four of them had little hesitation and started appearing around James, attacking him.

James did not deploy any Paths and purely used his physical power. As for his aggressors, they had complete control over their energies.

In the old battlefield of the seventeenth space, James' body emanated a white light. His aura spilled over and formed a mystical territory. Within this territory, he was God and he controlled everything.

Other people's attacks continuously destroyed his territory. These destructive powers spread across his body, stimulating and training it. After receiving thousands upon thousands of attacks, his aura grew, and so did his physical body's power.

The battle sustained itself over many years. Throughout this time period, James' own potential was wholly absorbed by his physical body, allowing him to achieve the Fifth Stage of the Omniscience Path.

At the Fifth Stage, his physical body's power is equivalent to that of a Three-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God.

All of them gathered in a pavilion of the seventeenth space. Yahveh caressed his beard and said smilingly, "You've managed to reach the Omniscience Path's Fifth Stage, a Stage that no one has achieved since the beginning of history. Breaking the barrier of this space requires the Sixth Stage. I wonder how far away are you from the Sixth Stage?”

Jehudi was in a good mood as well. He chuckled loudly and said, “Haha, we can finally leave this place. After being trapped here for such a long time, it’s been so dull. I really want to see what the outer world looks like.”

Yehosheva was also filled with joy. She did not expect that she could actually leave this space.

The bird looked at James, saying, “Youngster, you’ve stepped into the Fifth Stage of the Omniscience Path, but the Sixth will be very challenging.”

James was fully aware of that. But he was very confident, for he had already broken through the Fourth and reached the Fifth. He said smilingly, “Nothing is impossible. All that’s required is time.”

The bird gave James a talons-up, praising, “James, I believe in you. It’s up to you whether I’ll ever leave this place. Right, could I borrow the Light of Acme? I also want to see if I can reactivate my potential that had been cut off.” The bird was tempted by James’ success in reaching the Fifth Stage.

“Sure,” James did not hesitate at all and summoned the Light of Acme. Then, he opened up the seal of the Light.

Prior to this, the power emanated from the Light of Acme could hurt him. But now that he has reached the Fifth Stage and his physical body’s power has been escalated, the Light of Acme can no longer inflict substantial harm on him.

This was not the case for the bird, however. While it did indeed have a high rank, its physical body was only at the rank of an Ancestral God. Thus, the Light of Acme could still harm it. But it persevered regardless.