The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3971-One particular day, a thousand years later, James was in the back mountain of Mount Thea.

He sat on a rock at the cliff, letting the breeze mess up his long hair.

Swoosh!

A figure suddenly flashed beside him.

The man that appeared wore a black robe and had horns on his head.

Quiomars called out respectfully, "Master."

James asked sluggishly, "What's the matter, Quiomars?"

Quiomars replied, "Master, I've been secretly monitoring the Omnipotent Lord for the past thousand years. He never left the Ancestral Holy Site, but he frequented a restricted area of the Ancestral Holy Site. I quietly followed him but found a potent formation around the restricted area. It's not a formation set up by a human but from someone of the Greater Realms."

James immediately regained his spirit, jumped off the rock, and asked, "What else?"

Quiomars took a deep breath and said, "I sensed a magical power coming from inside the formation. I've seen this power before in the Primordial Realm Era."

James asked, "What kind of power is it?"

"It's from the Ursa Race."

Quiomars' expression immediately became solemn.

"The Ursas are a mighty race from the Greater Realms.

They're also one of the Ten Great Races that destroyed the Primordial Realm. The Ursas have a unique power capable of mimicking any kind of power."

"That must be it."

James instantly connected the dots. Now, everything made sense.

Previously, he wondered how Briscoe had power that imitated a Nine-Rank Macrocosm Power. It turned out he had practiced a signature skill of the Ursas and cultivated their power.

“Master, I’m guessing there is a powerhouse of the Ursas hidden in the formation.”

James frowned and said, “Could it be he traveled to the Dark World and came to our universe?”

Quiomars shook his head and said, “I don’t think so. Judging from the aura I sensed, he is an Acmean. However, he wouldn’t have to hide within a formation if he were an Acmean. There can only be one possibility.”

James interjected, saying, “He stayed in the Dark World after the battle during the Primordial Realm Era. Perhaps he was injured and never left. So, he stayed in the Dark World and came to our universe very recently.”

Quiomars nodded and said, “Yeah. That’s most likely the case. Also, I can tell he’s most likely injured and hasn’t recovered. If he had already recovered, his strength would be enough to destroy the Dark World and this current universe.”

James fell into thought and asked, “Then why do you think this Ursa contacted the Omnipotent Lord and taught some of the Ancestral Holy Site’s prodigies their cultivation method to become powerhouses? What exactly is he trying to achieve?”

After a brief thought, Quiomars said, “I can think of one possibility.”

James looked at Quiomars curiously.

Quiomars said, “The Ursa was seriously injured, and there’s only one way to help him recover. He needs to create a world not weaker than the Primordial Realm. Then, he will absorb the world’s Genesis.”

James agreed, saying, "That will explain why the Ursa told the Omnipotent Lord about the Universe Seeds. He's trying to use the Omnipotent Lord to create a Super Universe so he can absorb the Genesis and recover."

Quiomars nodded and said, "Yeah. It can also explain why the Omnipotent Lord is only at the peak of the Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank and not an Acmean. The Ursa is afraid of losing his power over the Omnipotent Lord."

According to some information gathered by Quiomars' monitoring, they had a rough guess on the situation.

James gently touched his temples and said solemnly, 'What a headache. I've already got mysterious Watchers to deal with. Now, there's another powerhouse from the Ursa Race.'

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3972-Quiomars asked, "What should we do now, Master?"

After a brief thought, James said, "The situation is still very unclear now. We can only speculate for now and make plans after confirming everything. How about I find a plan to get into the formation and meet with this Ursa?"

Quiomars frantically reminded him, "You shouldn't act recklessly, Master. It'll only raise his guards."

James waved his hand slightly and said, "I know my boundaries. You're dismissed for now. Remember to restrain your aura in the Ancestral Holy Site, and don't act rashly."

James was aware of Quiomars' somewhat reckless personality. Although he was docile now, he was terrifying when enraged.

"Alright," Quiomars replied and left.

James sat on the rock again and casually waved his hand, and some inscription rules appeared before him. James began calculating and deducing how to enter the formation. He wanted to find out how strong the Ursa hidden in the formation was.

He could deduce many things since he was profound in the Paths of heaven and earth and had reached the pinnacle of his current cultivation rank.

Soon, James found an opportunity that would appear in the future.

“The opportunity will come from the Omnipotent Lord in three hundred years?”

James frowned slightly.

He murmured, “How would I get the opportunity from the Omnipotent Lord? Am I supposed to tackle the Omnipotent Lord?”

If the Omnipotent Lord was a mortal, James could easily use the inscription rules to deduce his life. However, the Omnipotent Lord was a powerful cultivator, and it was impossible to completely predict the Omnipotent Lord’s life with the Heavenly Path’s rules.

Even though some information could be gained about him, most of them were irrelevant.

James could not find out what the opportunity in three hundred years was. Thus, he was left with no choice but to wait.

After three hundred years, he would naturally find out what kind of opportunity it was.

James called out, “Quiomars.”

Swoosh!

A light ray flashed and fell to the ground, and Quiomars appeared.

“I’m listening, Master.”

James parted his lips and said, “From now onward, closely monitor the Omnipotent Lord’s every move, especially after three hundred years. Tell me as soon as he does anything out of the ordinary.”

“Understood.”

After Quiomars received the order, he quickly left to monitor the Omnipotent Lord.

A big black cow could be seen grazing leisurely at the foot of the Ancestral Holy Site's Mount Ancestre. From time to time, its big, dark eyes would scan the surroundings.

Everyone in the Ancestral Holy Site knew the big black cow was James' mount. Since James was the Ancestral Holy Site's Protector, no one dared to bother the cow and instead allowed it to roam freely.

In the blink of an eye, three hundred years passed.

Quiomars appeared on Mount Thea.

"Master, I've noticed something unusual."

James asked, "What is it?"

Quiomars said, "In the past three hundred years, the Omnipotent Lord did not leave the Ancestral Holy Site. But, tomorrow, he will be meeting one of his partners to have a tryst with her."

After learning about the news, James casually waved his hand, and countless inscription rules appeared before him. The inscriptions transformed endlessly.

Soon, James found an opportunity in the ever-changing inscription rules.

He discovered what exactly the opportunity revealed by the Heavenly Path was.

While the Omnipotent Lord was out of the Ancestral Holy Site, he could disguise himself as the Omnipotent Lord.

Then, he could see the Ursa powerhouse hidden in the formation.

"Which partner is the Omnipotent Lord meeting up with? Have you investigated her identity?" asked James.

Quiomars replied, "I have. She's from the Fox Race and lives in the First District's Mount Fox."

"Alright. I know what to do."

James immediately formulated a plan.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3973-The Omnipotent Lord would leave for Mount Fox the next day. Thus, James wanted to make arrangements in advance.

“I’ll handle this alone. You can just stay on Mount Thea for now.”

After James gave the order, he disappeared from Quiomars’ sight.

Mount Fox was the base of the Fox Race.

The Fox Race was relatively strong in the current universe. There were many of them, and they were scattered throughout the twelve districts. Moreover, the adult men and women of the Fox Race had stunning and charming appearances.

The owner of Mount Fox was called Mila Quercia.

Mila used to be a Caleum Ancestral God before the universes merged. She was also a long-time partner of the Omnipotent Lord. Once in a while, he would come to Mount Fox to have a tryst with her.

Now that they were in a new era, Mila had become a Macrocosm Ancestral God. Unfortunately, she had not reached high attainments yet and was still a Macrocosm Ancestral God with one Macrocosm Power.

A powerful formation surrounded Mount Fox. However, they were nothing but decorations to James.

He easily passed through the formation and entered Mount Fox.

James concealed his aura and became invisible. At his current cultivation rank, no creature on Mount Fox could detect him unless he chose to show himself.

After entering Mount Fox, James unleashed his Divine Sense to scan the surroundings.

He immediately grasped the situation and terrain of Mount Fox.

On the main peak of Mount Fox was an independent manor. It had many flowers and plants surrounding it, making it a beautiful scenery.

Among the bed of flowers was a gazebo. A beautiful woman with a great figure rested in the gazebo, wearing a sexy dress.

She was wearing a slightly sheer dress, vaguely revealing her slender figure.

Her facial features were also perfect.

She crossed her legs and sat lazily in the gazebo. The sight of her was incredibly alluring.

Suddenly, James appeared in the gazebo and revealed himself.

“Who are you?!”

Mila immediately reacted to the uninvited guest. Seeing the stranger, she quickly raised her hand to attack.

James stood motionless, allowing Mila to attack him.

Mila used all her strength to attack James but did not cause any harm to him. Instead, she was blasted away by James’ physical strength.

“Who are you?” Mila stared at James,

Her relationship with the Omnipotent Lord was not a secret. However, it was the first time someone had broken into her spiritual mountain.

“I’m James Caden.”

James did not hide his identity.

“You’re the Ancestral Holy Site’s Protector?”

Mila recognized the name.

Although she had never met him, she knew James was a very powerful man. Although he lost to Briscoe, the Omnipotent Lord still gave him a high position.

Her expression immediately darkened, and she said coldly, "You're very bold, James. Do you know what place this is? Do you know what happens if you trespass into Mount Fox?"

James said lightly, "Of course I do."

Immediately afterward, James summoned a few mysterious sigils, and they submerged into Mila's body, instantly immobilizing her.

Mila could not move and felt that her power had been sealed off.

"Wh-What are you trying to do?"

She was wary but looked at James coldly and said, "I'm the Omnipotent Lord's long-time partner. What are you trying to do to me?!"

James smiled faintly and said, "I won't do anything to you. I just need a small favor from you."

After speaking, James summoned a mysterious sigil in his palm.

"I know the Omnipotent Lord will come to see you tomorrow. While you two are intimate, I need you to place this sigil into him."

James had to subdue the Omnipotent Lord before he entered the formation within the Ancestral Holy Site's restricted area.

Although he had the strength to subdue the Omnipotent Lord, he was not able to do it secretly. However, it was a different case with Mila. The Omnipotent Lord would not raise his guard against her.

If she placed the sigil into him, everything else would be much easier to handle.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3974-"I see how it is, James." Mila had a solemn expression.

“So you joined the Ancestral Holy Site and became the Protector to overthrow the Omnipotent Lord? I’m afraid your plot won’t succeed. I’ll never betray the Omnipotent Lord. Just kill me.”

Mila fearlessly accepted to die instead.

Even if she had to die, she would never help James and betray the Omnipotent Lord.

James said calmly, “Is that so? Then after I kill you, I’ll wipe out the Foxes on Mount Fox. There should be about eight to ten million of them, right?”

After speaking, James unleashed a powerful force.

Linder the oppression of the force, Mila instantly felt uncomfortable. Shortly after, she was covered in injuries, and her soul was about to dissipate.

Her mind went fuzzy, and she felt death coming.

At that moment, a sense of fear rose in her heart.

Although she thought she was not afraid, she still felt terrified when in the face of death. Her face went pale, and she felt a shiver down her spine.

At the last second, she shouted, “Stop! Stop it!”

James retracted his energy.

Mila was finally relieved of the discomfort. At that moment, she was devoid of strength and fell to the ground.

James looked at her, waiting for a reply.

After a while, Mila regained her strength. She stood up from the ground, stared at James, and said coldly, “What do you want?”

James said, “Don’t worry. I’m not interested in becoming the Universe Lord, nor do I intend to hurt the Omnipotent Lord. I just need to trap him here for a while. After I resolve my business, I’ll let him go.”

James wanted to trap the Omnipotent Lord without him noticing anything wrong.

Meanwhile, he would enter the Ancestral Holy Site's restricted area and meet the powerful Ursa hidden within the formation to inquire some information.

"Is that all?" Mila was doubtful of James.

If James was not interested in becoming the Universe Lord, why must he do such a thing?

"Of course."

James said solemnly, "If I wanted to become the Universe Lord, the Omnipotent Lord wouldn't stand a chance against me. I have my own plan. You just need to assist me."

Mila asked, "What's your plan?"

"You don't need to know the details."

James did not reveal anything about his plan.

It would greatly affect the entire universe, so the fewer people aware of it, the better.

James raised his hand, and a mysterious sigil appeared in his palm. The sigil submerged into Mila's forehead.

At that moment, Mila sensed a mysterious sigil being planted in her soul and taking control of her. If James wanted, he could easily tear apart her soul, and she would explode, disappearing into nothing.

"I hope you don't play any tricks. If anything goes wrong, you'll die instantly, and I'll destroy Mount Fox."

After James left a few words and the sigil, he disappeared from Mila's sight.

James did not immediately leave but hid in the dark.

After Mila could no longer see James, she heaved a sigh of relief. She sat limply in the gazebo and was completely drained of energy.

Mila rested for a while and recomposed herself.

She looked at the sigil floating before her and put it away.

“Maids!”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3975-Swoosh!

Several light rays emerged and formed beautiful women.

Mila stood up and said, “Pass down the order to get ready to welcome the Omnipotent Lord.”

Following her order, all the Foxes on Mount Fox began preparing to welcome the Omnipotent Lord.

A day passed in the blink of an eye.

The following morning, the women of Mount Fox stood at the mountain foot in two rows to welcome the Omnipotent Lord’s arrival.

Soon, the Omnipotent Lord arrived.

The Omnipotent Lord made a grand appearance. He rode on a dragon carriage, which was basically a carriage pulled by nine golden dragons.

A thousand soldiers followed behind the dragon carriage. The soldiers were very powerful. Most were Caelum Ancestral Gods, with a few Macrocosm Ancestral Gods.

The carriage and soldiers stopped outside Mount Fox.

The Omnipotent Lord alighted the carriage and appeared outside Mount Fox.

At that moment, Mila walked over wearing a beautiful and sexy dress. She stood beside him and said charmingly,”

Welcome, My Lord.”

After speaking, she linked her arm with the Omnipotent Lord.

The two entered Mount Fox side by side.

Inside an independent manor on the main mountain of Mount Fox, Mila had changed into a thin dress, and her figure could be vaguely seen through it.

While she undressed the Omnipotent Lord, she silently summoned a sigil in her palm. She raised her hand and gently pressed it against the Omnipotent Lord's back, allowing it to submerge into him.

As soon as the sigil entered the Omnipotent Lord's body, he lost consciousness.

Mila pushed the Omnipotent Lord aside, rolled out of bed, and quickly got dressed.

At that moment, James also appeared.

James looked at the unconscious Omnipotent Lord and summoned several more mysterious sigils.

The sigils entered the Omnipotent Lord.

The Omnipotent Lord was very powerful, and one sigil would not seal him long enough. The power in his body would be able to quickly dissipate the power of the sigil.

Thus, James used a few more sigils to seal him. No matter how strong the Omnipotent Lord was, he would not be able to break the seal now.

After James accomplished his plan, the Omnipotent Lord would not notice anything after the seal was lifted.

"I've already done what you've asked of me. Are you going to take off the seal on my soul?" Mila looked at James.

James raised his hand and lifted the seal on Mila's soul.

Afterward, James' appearance morphed into that of the Omnipotent Lord.

Even his aura was the same as the Omnipotent Lord's.

Those close to him would not even notice anything different.

Mila immediately took a few steps backward and asked, "What exactly are you trying to do?"

James replied lightly, "It's none of your business. I'll seal you for now. I'll be back very soon."

After speaking, James sealed Mila.

Although Mila was a Macrocosm Ancestral God with one Macrocosm Power, she had very low attainments. Thus, James could easily seal her off with just the snap of a finger.

After Mila was sealed, James disappeared from the room.

The next moment, James arrived in the restricted area behind the Ancestral Holy Site's main mountain.

Quiomars informed James that the Omnipotent Lord would call out to the formation before the powerhouse let him inside.

James was already familiar with the process of how the Omnipotent Lord met with the Ursa.

However, James knew nothing of how they conversed face to face. Quiomars did not follow the Omnipotent Lord into the formation, so he did not understand how they interacted.

James could only meet him first, then act accordingly.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 3976-James passed through the formation and entered the grotto.

Shortly after, he arrived at the stone chamber.

James saw the blurred figure sitting in a lotus position within the stone chamber.

The figure kept fluttering and changing, making it hard to determine its real appearance.

“What’s the matter this time?”

The figure parted his lips, and a hoarse voice resounded.

James stared at the figure and unleashed his Divine Sense to scan the figure, trying to understand the figure’s background.

He sensed a potent aura coming from the figure, which was similar to that of Master Mateo, who he encountered in the Ecclesiastical Restricted Zone.

James was sure the Ursa powerhouse was really an Acmean. He tried to gauge how much power the Ursa had left.

“You’re trying to spy on me?”

The Ursa’s face darkened, and he raised his hand, attempting to blast James away.

James hurriedly parted his mouth and shouted, “Wait! I have something to say!”

The figure lowered his hand and said coldly, “Go on.”

James planned to make indirect remarks to get to know the Ursa first.

He did not know what the Omnipotent Lord called the Ursa, so he refrained from addressing him. Instead, he went straight to context, saying, “I sent a lot of men to the Dark World and learned a lot of things.

The Ursa seemed particularly concerned and asked, “What did you learn?”

James took a few steps closer.

As soon as he approached, he sensed a powerful force emanating from the Ursa. Although capable of resisting it, James pretended he was struggling and took a few steps backward.

“I learned about Yukia. I discovered her real name is Thea, and she is known as the Human Race’s matron during the Primordial Realm Era.

The blurry figure fluttered rapidly, seemingly afraid after Thea was mentioned. His hoarse voice resounded, asking,” So?”

James said, "I already learned more about the Universe Seeds. They were formed after the death of the Human Race's powerhouses. Thea scattered the seeds throughout the Chaos to create a world with strength on par with the Primordial Realm.

"You asked me to find these Universe Seeds and stimulate their formation. Are you trying to help her create a new world?"

James looked at the figure, trying to analyze the powerhouse's thoughts through the subtle changes in his aura.

The Ursa replied, 'That's right. Since you've already discovered the truth, I won't hide it from you anymore. I've joined forces with Thea to create a world as strong as the Primordial Realm in order to fight against the Greater Realm's other races.'

The Ursa painted himself as a righteous man, acting as if his goal was for the greater good of the countless races of the universe.

If James were unaware the Ursa was one of the Greater Realms' Ten Great Races, he would have definitely believed him.

"I've already told you everything I can. We don't have much time left. You should find the Universe Seeds, stimulate their formation, and merge them into a major world as soon as possible."

The Ursa issued an order.

"Understood." James nodded respectfully.

James knew he would not be able to extract any more information if he were to inquire further, and he might even expose himself.

Thus, he turned and left. As soon as he turned around, an invisible sigil stuck to the wall and disappeared without a trace.

James was confident the Ursa would not discover it was a different kind of Path.

The Ursa did not understand their universe's Paths, so he could not detect the sigil James had left behind.

The sigil functioned like a camera and was good for surveillance.

As long as the sigil was not removed, James could easily monitor the situation within the stone chamber.

James left the stone chamber, walked out of the formation, and immediately headed to Mount Fox.

As suddenly as James appeared, he returned as fast as a gust of wind.
