The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4011-In the restricted area of the Callahans, Thea was sitting on the ground, forcibly undergoing reincarnation. An illusory door appeared in the void above her, from which materialized a black hole. Then, she leaped into the black hole. The moment the hole was about to close, a shadow appeared out of nowhere and followed her in.

The shadow was James. Faced with the Ursa's powerful attack, this was the only way for him to survive. At the same time, he could also search for Thea.

However, the Ursa's power followed James into the illusory space.

The space was illusory and devoid of all matter. Thea's soul traversed through the space.

"Thea!" James yelled and gave chase.

He tried calling for her, but her soul seemed unable to hear him. Even as he tried to grab Thea's hand, he could not.

At that moment, Thea's soul suddenly disappeared.

Seeing this, James stopped abruptly. However, the moment he stopped, the pursuing power struck his back. By the time he reacted, it was already too late.

His face paled.

In the nick of time, a shadow appeared out of nowhere and raised her hand, blocking the attack and dissolving it into nothingness.

James stood in the unknown space and looked at the shadow before him. The shadow gradually materialized into an incredibly beautiful woman in a black dress.

"Thea?"

Upon seeing the person before him, James' heart trembled. He had not seen this appearance for a very long time. Even so, her face had been forever etched in his mind.

“James.”

The woman smiled at him. Her smile was both enchanting and alluring, and James was hopelessly in love. However, after a brief moment, he noticed that something was amiss.

“You’re not Thea. You’re Yukia Dearnaley.”

James stared at the person who looked identical to Thea.

The woman nodded slightly and said, “That’s right, I’m Yukia. At the same time, I’m also Thea. Whether it be the Thea from the Twelfth Universe or the Thea from Sol on Earth, they are my avatars.”

“In that case, a-are you still my wife?”

James stared at the Thea before him. His expression was one of confusion. He wanted to know if the Thea before him was his wife.

Thea nodded bashfully.

Seeing this, the tight feeling in James’ chest was alleviated as he rushed toward Thea and embraced her.

“I missed you so much, Thea.”

At that moment, James no longer exuded the aura of an all- powerful figure but rather that of a lovesick man. The two embraced each other and only let go after some time.

“Why are you here, Thea? What space is this?” James looked at Thea and asked, “The one who left... Was she your avatar? Which era did your avatar reincarnate into?”

Hearing this, Thea’s expression turned grim as she said, “There are powerful individuals watching me from the shadows. So, I have no choice but to remain hidden and keep using my avatars to reincarnate.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4012-James had guessed that Thea did not dare appear because there were Watchers monitoring her from the shadows.

Even so, he did not know about the specifics. Now that Thea was before him, perhaps his questions could now be answered.

“I know about the war in the Primordial Realm. I also know that all the powerful figures of the Primordial Realm’s Human Race were wiped out. Only you escaped and gave yourself a new name-Yukia Dearnaley. But I would like to know more about the details.”

James looked at Thea, his wife. The person before him was familiar yet foreign to him. Her appearance was familiar, yet her identity as the matron of the Human Race and the mysterious Yukia Dearnaley was very unfamiliar to him.

Thea fell into deep thought. After some time, she said, ‘The Primordial Realm was once among the Greater Realms, and the Human Race was also one of the many races there.

Long ago, the Human Race was weak. However, we soon emerged rapidly and spread our bloodline far and wide. This affected the status of some races. The powerful figures of the Doom Race gathered the other powerful races and discussed annihilating the Human Race, hence the war in the Primordial Realm.”

“After the war, the powerful figures of the Human Race were completely wiped out. The Ten Great Races gathered forces and severed the potential and cultivation path of the Human Race. From that day onward, the cultivation path of the Human Race reached a dead end. Ever since then, the Omniscience Path could no longer be cultivated. After the Ten Great Races worked together to seal the Primordial Realm away, not only was the Human Race unable to cultivate the Omniscience Path, but it also affected many other living beings in the area.”

James listened intently.

Thea took a deep breath and continued, “Though I escaped from the war, I suffered severe injuries as well. Besides, the Doom Race has left behind Watchers in the Primordial Realm. So, I don’t dare to show myself. Once, I showed up in public and was discovered by the Watchers. In the end, I suffered a heavy blow and was almost annihilated.”

After saying that, there was a wistful look on her face.

‘The Watchers’ objective is to monitor all humans and living beings in the Primordial Realm. The moment a powerful figure that could pose a threat to them emerges, he or she would be immediately eradicated. Throughout history, there have been countless prodigies that have been annihilated by them.

“Before the Human Race was defeated, we thought of a way out. We would create a world that is comparable to the Primordial Realm. The powerful figures of the past will transform into Universe Seeds to facilitate the creation of a new world. Meanwhile, my existence is to catalyze the creation of the universe—a universe that is comparable to the Primordial Realm. This will be a world free of contamination, whose inhabitants would be able to stand up against the other races. Although I had been cautious in my doings, my whereabouts were exposed. As I’m currently being pursued, I have no choice but to remain hidden. This delayed the creation of the new universe.”

Speaking of which, she sighed. Helplessness was written on her face. All this while, she had been braving the storms all alone. No one was there to alleviate her burden. However, as long as the new universe was not yet created, she was a member of the Human Race. As the matron of the Human Race, she shouldered the burden of creating a new universe and avoiding the detection of the Watchers.

“What about me? What am I to you?”

James looked at her.

Their gazes met.

Thea said, “I cannot accomplish this by myself. I can’t turn the tides. So, I need a helping hand.”

“So you chose me?” James asked.

Thea said, “Based on my calculations, I know that an opportunity will appear in the Twelfth Universe. That’s why I went to the Twelfth Universe, thus beginning our story...”
