

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4021

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4021-To him, the chances of the living being inside being a Doom were much higher.

This was the Greater Realms, after all.

The Human Race's main camp was located in the Primordial Realm.

As the powerful individuals of the Primordial Realm had been annihilated, there was no way any of them would have survived.

Besides, the Ten Great Races had worked together to seal away the Primordial Realm and performed a powerful Forbidden Art to sever the cultivation path of humans.

So, there was no way humans would have survived.

However, there was also the possibility that the person inside the cage was a human who was imprisoned here even before the Primordial Realm's age.

Regardless, such a possibility was insignificant.

5 James was lost in contemplation.

At that moment, he had no idea what to do.

That was because he could not confirm the race of the living being inside the formation.

The only thing he knew was that the living being did not go all-out because he cultivated Chaos Power and the Omniscience Path.

So, he simply sat on the ground and looked at the formation before him, asking with a smile, "In that case, did you try to kill me because I cultivated Chaos Power or the Omniscience Path?" "Do you understand the situation you are in now, kid?" The voice asked coldly.

James said nonchalantly, "What situation? Worse comes to worst, I will simply fight you.

Though you are strong, you are trapped inside the formation.

Even if you perform everything you have, you may not be able to kill me.” “Do you know what formation this is?” The living being inside the formation said, “I don’t know how you got in, but I’m sure that you were not put in here by the people outside.

Anyway, since you are trapped here, you won’t be able to leave forever.” “Is that so?” Though James’ expression was composed, he was stunned deep down.

“Of course.” The living being said, “To leave this place, we have to work together.” “Work together?” A mischievous grin crept up on James’ face as he said, “I don’t even know what sort of creature you are.

How am I supposed to join forces with you? What should I do if you cause trouble for me after I let you out? I don’t mind joining forces.

But first, you have to tell me more about yourself.” “I don’t mind telling you.” The living being inside had no interest in concealing any facts.

His identity was not a secret.

The Cloud Race knew about him.

If James came from the outside world, he would surely know about him.

“I am a human.” The living being said.

“Impossible!” James immediately stood up and rebuffed him, “The Human Race has been annihilated long ago.

Back then, the Ten Great Races worked together to annihilate the Human Race, destroy the Primordial Realm — the main camp of the Human Race, and even severed the cultivation path of mankind.

You are an Acmean, so why would they spare an Acmean of the Human Race?” “Hahaha!” A burst of laughter came from inside the formation.

“They wanted to kill me, but they can’t.” “Why can’t they?” James asked.

“That’s because my Omniscience Path has reached the pinnacle of the Ninth Stage.

My physical body is indestructible, so they can only imprison me here.

They set up an incredible formation and tried to use the formation's power to obliterate my physical body and soul.

However, much time has passed, and I'm still alive." Hearing this, James was excited.

The pinnacle of the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage? Was this true? Was he truly a human? Questions arose in his heart.

He was doubtful of the living being's words.

He sat down once more.

After some contemplation, he asked, "To my understanding, there were only fifty Acmeans in the Primordial Realm.

All of them perished on the battlefield, so how could you be a human?" The living being inside the formation said, "I was trapped here long before the Ten Great Races attacked the Human Race." "Hahaha..." James laughed.

"Inconsistencies throughout your story! Since you were trapped here long ago and knew nothing about the outside world, how did you know that the Human Race's cultivation path of the Omniscience Path had been severed?" James questioned him.

Hearing this, the living being fell silent.

After some time, he said, "That's because I have mastered an invincible Supernatural Power.

When I was trapped here, some powerful figures of the Ten Great Races came here and tried to learn my Supernatural Powers.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4022

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4022-Before he could confirm the other side's identity, he could not act recklessly.

He asked once more, "Since you say that you have reached the pinnacle of the Omniscience Path, your physical body is indestructible, your physical strength is unparalleled, and you have mastered unrivaled Supernatural Powers, you should be very terrifying.

So why are you trapped here?’ A sigh came from inside the formation.

“When I was born long ago, the Human Race was not strong in general.

It was my appearance that led to the emergence of the Human Race.

I came out of the Primordial Realm and arrived at the Greater Realms.

With my cultivation base, which is the pinnacle of the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage, my fame spread far and wide throughout the Greater Realms, and I become one of the ten strongest individuals here.

None of them could defeat me in one-to-one combat.

However, as they weren’t pushovers either, I couldn’t completely annihilate them either.

“Back then, I fell into their trap.

Knowing that they could not annihilate me, they imprisoned me using a Superformation.

Countless years have passed, and I have entered into a slumber.

If not for you, I wouldn’t have awakened.” Hearing this, James finally understood what had happened in the past.

He asked again, “What is the Supernatural Power you were talking about? Why do even the living beings of the Ten Great Races want to have them?’ A voice came from the formation, “The Blithe Omniscience.” Hearing this, James froze momentarily before asking, “What’s that? What does it have to do with the Omniscience Path?” The living being said, “This is an invincible secret art of the Human Race.

The potential of the Human Race is the most terrifying among the races in the Greater Realms.

The Omniscience Path is a cultivation path that increases the strength of one’s physical body, Blood Energy, and many more.

However, this is just raw power we’re talking about.

The Blithe Omniscience is a Supernatural Power attached to the Omniscience Path.

By cultivating the Omniscience Path and the Blithe Omniscience, you will gain terrifying power.” “In that case, did you manage to learn it? By the way, where and who does the Blithe Omniscience originate from?” James asked.

“Throughout the time being imprisoned, I could only comprehend the Blithe Omniscience.

Perhaps because I was sealed away, my comprehension is only just theory and not practice.

So, my comprehension is maybe around thirty to forty percent at most.” Hearing this, James was tempted.

He had cultivated the Omniscience Path.

Though the Omniscience Path increases one’s bodily strength, there was no Supernatural Power related to it.

At that moment, he somewhat believed the living being’s words.

“What do I have to do?” James asked.

Whether or not the living being was human no longer mattered to him.

Most importantly, the living being’s strength was formidable, and those who imprisoned him would surely be top- notch fighters as well.

Once he leaves this place, he would surely seek vengeance.

By then, the Greater Realms would be thrown into disarray.

This was complementary to his plans.

A voice came, “I will teach you the method of opening the formation outside.

After you leave, head to the Ten Great Races and find ten keys that are each guarded by the ten races.

Only by gathering all keys can this mysterious formation be broken.” Hearing this, James furrowed his eyebrows and said with a grim expression on his face, “You overestimate me.

In the Primordial Realm’s era, fifty Acmeans of the Human Race were wiped out by the Ten Great Races.

How am I supposed to take their keys?”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4023

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4023-“Seizing by force is of course not gonna work, you can take it by ruse, however,” the living being in the formation suggested to James.

“How about you give me the Blithe Omniscience? Only by strengthening my abilities can I help you more efficiently, get the key to open up the formation, and free you.” James started to make a bargain.

“Impossible,” the living being in the formation immediately rejected the deal, saying, ““There’s the power of the Doom Race in you.

You might be one of them.

I can’t trust you.

If you bring the keys and free me, I promise you that I will give you the Blithe Omniscience regardless of your race.

Your potential is infinite, so you’ll definitely make it further in the Omniscience Path.

Add the Blithe Omniscience to that and there’s no question that you’ll have a seat among the Greater Realms’ Ten Great Races.” The powerful figure in the formation had his concerns.

He was worried that James was someone sent by other races, sent on purpose to scam him of the Blithe Omniscience.

Living beings of other races could also walk the cultivation path of humans.

Plus, the human form was the most perfect of them all, the most immaculate.

Other races could also materialize into humans.

Although in general, other races could not cultivate the highest stage of the Omniscience Path, there were exceptions.

Some top geniuses could also tread very far in the Omniscience Path.

Based on his understanding, some races among the Greater Realms' Ten Great Races reached the Eighth Stage of the Omniscience Path.

And that was without the help of the Blithe Omniscience.

Through the simple conversation, James believed that this person was surely a human and that the Blithe Omniscience existed.

This was the invincible art of humans and the reason for their existence among the Greater Realms' Ten Great Races.

James decided to enquire once more after leaving the formation.

If this was really a human, then he must head towards the Ten Great Races and find a way to take the key.

As long as this powerful figure was released, a powerful figure among humankind would own a seat.

“Okay, I’ll give you my word.” James promised the powerful figure and said, “But I’m now trapped in the formation and cannot leave.” “Of course I know you can’t leave.

This is a multi-layered formation.

I’m trapped in the nucleus of the formation.

Outside the nucleus, there are even other fortified formations.

With your capabilities, it won’t be difficult to silently open up the exit with some help from me.” Hearing this, James asked, “Then why don’t you just hand me all the ways to open up the formation? Then you can just leave without the key.” “Haha,” the living being smirked.

“Youngster, you’re too naive.

Can't you see who set this formation up? Never mind yourself, even someone from the Greater Realms' Ten Great Races would not be able to open up the core formation.

One can only open the formation of the outer realm to reach the core formation." "Ah, so that's how it works.

Oh right, I don't know your name yet." "My name is Soren Plamen." James registered the name in his mind.

After leaving, he would ask around among The Greater Realms' Ten Great Races before looking for Thea.

Thea was Yukia, a powerful figure of the Primordial Realm Era.

If Soren was a human who was a powerful figure, then he would surely know Thea.

"Then tell me how to break the outer formation, so I can leave as soon as possible and get the keys," James said.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4024

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4024-The formation here left Soren helpless.

While the outer formation acted only as a supplement, it was not something James could resist.

Soren started giving pointers to James.

James sat in a lotus position before the core formation, wanting to comprehend and sense it.

Under Soren's guidance, he very quickly understood the mechanisms of the outer formation.

He cultivated seriously for a long time within the Time formation.

But in the outer realm, only 500 years had passed.

After 500 years, James stood up and said, "I've understood it fully.

Now, I can open up the outer formation silently and leave.

But before I do so, I still want the Blithe Omniscience.” James was hungry for the Blithe Omniscience.

This was a supernatural art that complemented the Omniscience Path.

Once mastered, his combat power would increase exponentially.

“No way,” Soren rejected the request.

If the Omniscience Path was what James only had, Soren would believe that James was human, but he had the unique power of the Dooms within him—Chaos Power.

He would not recklessly hand over the Blithe Omniscience to just anyone.

It left James helpless.

“Pll make a move then.

I’ll return once I get the ten keys.” James clasped his fist into his palm, signaling his departure to Soren.

Then, he flew away and disappeared from the plains with a flicker.

The plains became eerily silent following James’ departure.

The formation made up of the inscriptions also silently vanished into the void as if it never existed.

James opened up the formation silently, appearing outside of it.

This was the Cloud Race’s base camp.

The Cloud Race was one of the Greater Realms’ Ten Great Races until their fall in the war in the Primordial Realm.

Only a heavily injured powerful figure remained.

Since then, he had been in hiding and had never shown up for a long time.

This caused the Cloud Race to drop out of the Ten Great Races.

James walked into the restricted area of the Cloud Race.

He knew that this was the region of the Cloud Race from Soren, who also told him about other things regarding the outer realm.

There was only one Acmean among the Cloud Race, but this figure was in hiding and had not appeared for quite some time.

Regardless, there were still a number of figures among the Cloud Race who were almost as powerful as Acmeans.

James was in deep thought as he walked through the restricted area.

Should he try to get the key that belonged to the Cloud Race by living among them? After a short while, he suddenly sensed the aura of the Cloud Race.

He disappeared into the void.

A patrol team appeared very soon.

The team was made of around a dozen disciples of the Cloud Race who looked young.

Yet, they were all very powerful and were Seven or Eight- Power Macrocosm Ancestral Gods.

James hid until the team left.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4025

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4025-With his cultivation base, it would be a difficult task for the Cloud Race to sense him if he did not show up.

For now, he must find out where the keys guarded by the Cloud Race were and steal them away without anyone realizing.

He entered the spiritual mountains where the Cloud Race was.

The center of the mountains was made of tens of thousands of spiritual mountains.

Each of them was extremely wide, as each mountain was separated by a few light years.

The entire base camp of the Cloud Race was as big as three thousand light years.

James unleashed his Divine Sense.

However, there were a number of Formations set up within the Cloud.

Some of them were so complex and lay beyond his Senses.

With his power, he could forcefully barge through some Formation barriers.

However, this would risk exposing him to the Cloud Race before he found the key.

He arrived unknowingly at the spiritual mountain that was near the central area.

James was still wary of stepping into the center because that was where the powerful figures of the Cloud Race gathered, which meant that his risk of exposure would be the highest there.

At the foot of this mountain, there was a stone slab with some ancient characters engraved on it.

It read — Mount Ethereal.

James slowly entered the mountain.

On his way, there was almost nobody patrolling the area.

He arrived at the peak of the mountain very quickly, where he finally saw some disciples.

It seemed that the security here was not as stringent as in other places.

The disciples could not sense James since he had hidden his aura and entered into invisible mode.

The disciples were whispering among themselves.

"I wonder when this war will end." "If only the Grand Patriarchs were still alive, the Bug Race would not dare be this bold." "The Grand Patriarchs all perished in battle.

Only one of them came back alive, albeit suffering grave injuries.

After so long, I wonder how his wound is now." "This is such a pain in the neck.

I hope he exits his closed-door meditation soon." All of them looked worried.

From this conversation, James could deduce that there was an ongoing battle between the Cloud Race and the Bug Race.

No wonder the security was so stringent.

Shoosh! A beam of white light penetrated from the sky into the ground.

The light materialized into a girl who was wearing a white dress, except that the dress was now dyed in red.

The girl was covered in bloody injuries.

Her hair was messy, and she looked very tired.

As her appearance could not be visibly discerned, James could not tell if she was a beauty.

"Peak Master." The disciples went toward her direction to help her stand.

Then, they brought her to the main hall.

This was followed by the appearance of several powerful figures.

These powerful figures were Elders.

When they saw the injured woman in the hall, all of them had an anxious look on their face.

"Sect Leader, the assault of the Bug Race is too fierce.

After such a long battle, the Cloud Race is dropping like flies one by one.

I'm afraid it won't take long before the Bug Race attacks the entrance of the mountain." Although injured, the woman's heart was still on the battlefield.

"Yente, focus on your recovery.

Don't worry about the battle, leave everything to us," An elder said before handing over a healing elixir.

He then instructed Yente to be taken away to recover.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4026

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4026-The Sect Leader of the Cloud Race and its Elders left as well, reverting the hall into its previous silent state.

James took in all of this in the dark.

From this incident, he understood that the Cloud Race was facing some troubles, causing a number of them to bear injuries.

Only a handful of them like the Sect Leader and the core Elders were not involved in the battle.

If they participated, that could only mean that the survival of the Cloud Race was at stake.

James thought long and hard as to how to find the whereabouts of the keys.

Yente's position within Mount Ethereal must be rather high.

Now that she was injured, it would be the best opportunity for him to acquire some essential information from her.

With this thought in mind, James left silently.

Yente's space for recovery was a hidden chamber within Mount Ethereal, a house made of stones.

There were some mystical inscriptions and characters engraved on the walls of the stone house.

Yente was sitting in a lotus position on the grasslands.

She had already changed into a white dress and cleaned herself up.

Blood was no longer visible on her skin.

Her figure was attractive, and her looks were seductive.

It was just that she looked slightly pale, and blood leaked out of her lips' corners from time to time.

This was obviously because she sustained some very serious internal injuries that were beyond her healing powers.

A mystical power materialized from her body and spread across her.

A white light materialized from her, causing her to look divine from afar.

James appeared at the hidden chamber without a sound.

He hid himself somewhere far away, focussing his gaze on Yente.

He observed Yente's aura and found out that Yente's power exceeded the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank, but she had yet to attain the Acme Rank.

He estimated that Yente's power was only slightly weaker than his.

He then set up a Formation to bar all other auras from entry before appearing abruptly before Yente.

"Who's there?" Yente stood up immediately, wanting to attack.

But before she could do that, James had already made a move, giving her a hard slap.

Yente was injured from the start.

Her current capacity was less than one-tenth of her peak form, making her an unworthy opponent of James.

She was sent backward by one hit, and her back slammed squarely on the wall behind her.

This wall was very special, enveloped by which was a Formation that maintained its structure regardless of the momentum it received.

After she hit the wall, she crashed to the ground.

Before she could stand up, James uncannily appeared before her and put a seal on her.

Yente, who was now sealed, could no longer summon any powers.

Her injuries worsened in an instant, and her face became as pale as a ghost.

Blood emerged from her injuries, causing her to become a bloody figurine.

She lay on the ground, looking at James.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4027

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4027-Yet, she chose to keep silent.

Her expression was serious as she interrogated James, "Who are you exactly? This is the base camp of the Cloud Race.

How did you get in?" James took a glance at her and smirked.

Then, a powerful force materialized in his palm as he raised his hand.

This caused Yente, who was lying on the floor, to float upwards into the air and then immediately formed a lotus position on the ground.

James could sense the injuries within her.

With a wave of his hand, a powerful life force entered her body, temporarily halting the dissipation of her life.

Since Yente's injuries were worsening rapidly without the ability to suppress her injuries, James had to do something.

His goal was not to murder her but to get some crucial information.

Yente's glare at James was deadly.

James then sat down before her and asked her smilingly, “At this point, you must be wondering — Who am I? Why am I at the Cloud Race’s base camp? Why am I here before you?” “Why then?” Yente asked coldly.

James tidied up his smile and said, “I temporarily halted the deterioration of your injuries, but there’s a time limit to what I can do.

So within this timeframe, you are to answer whatever I ask.

If the time limit is exceeded, your injuries will worsen.

By then, even if I open up the seal, it’s hard for me to say whether you can stay alive.” “Ask away,” Yente said.

This reply caused James to be slightly taken aback.

He thought that it would be harder than that to make Yente open up.

After recovering from his surprise, he asked, “What’s going on between the Cloud Race and the Bug Race?” “Nothing much.” Yente shook her head.

“Then why did the Bug Race launch an offensive against the Cloud Race?” “That’s because the Cloud Race was once the Greater Realms’ Ten Great Races.

Although it’s no longer the case now, the Cloud Race is still one of the leading races.

This meant that we’d become a stepping stone for other races.

As long as they can defeat us, they will also become a powerful race.

The Bug Race attacked us because a powerful figure had been birthed among them.

They are eager to secure a spot within the Greater Realms.” On this front, it seemed like Yente had little to conceal.

But as she spoke, she was also observing James.

When the Cloud Race was under attack and sent their messengers to call for help from other Races, none replied nor extended aid.

Now that someone from the Dooms' Race was here, they could not be up to anything good.

James could understand what Yente had said.

Although the Cloud Race had fallen, they were previously one of the Ten Great Races.

Confronting them was a shortcut to obtaining acknowledgment and glory.

"Who are the powerful figures among the Cloud Race?" James enquired again.

Taking a glance at James, she said, "There's an elder who's an Acmean.

But he sustained an injury from the battle against humans.

After he returned, he went into hiding to heal, but no one knows where.

Apart from him, there's the Great Elder Wannabe Yiskah.

He is at the Quasi Acme Rank.

He's already broken through the threshold of the Nine- Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank, but has yet to ascend into the Acmean Rank." Yente has little to hide concerning James' question.

"After the Great Elder, we have our Sect Leader, who's also at the Quasi Acme Rank.

There's still some disparity between the capacity of the Sect Leader and that of the Great Elder.

There's around twenty Quasi Acme Rankers among our race." James was stupefied upon hearing this.

Seeing James' distorted expression, Yente sighed as she said, " Twenty or so figures who are Quasi Acme Rank doesn't mean anything if they have yet to step into the Acme Rank.

The Bug Race dared attack us because they now have a powerful figure who's an Acmean." As she spoke, she took a hard look at James.

“Being part of the Doom Race, your people know clearly about our race’s capability.

Is there a need to send a disciple all the way here just to check us out?”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4028

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4028-But in actual fact, he was here to show off Chaos Power.

He knew that a powerful figure of the Cloud Race would recognize Chaos Power, so he was here to pass off as a Doom.

“you’re here for the key?” Yente looked at James.

James replied, “The Cloud Race is no longer one of the Ten Great Races, so you’re no longer legitimate to guard the key.

If the key falls into the hands of other races, and they free the frightening person within the Formation, this will be a threat to all of us.

I’ve come here with orders to gauge the Cloud Race’s capabilities.

If the Cloud Race can resist the Bug Race’s attack, I’ll let the key remain in your custody.

Otherwise, before the Cloud Race’s base camp is completely taken over, you must hand over the key to us.” James was deceiving his way through.

He knew nothing about the Ten Great Races.

He also did not know why Soren was trapped in the Cloud Race’s restricted area, but deception was the only trick up his sleeves.

“Hmph,” Yente was obviously not happy about this.

“The Ten Great Races were allies at one point.

Now that we’ve fallen behind, other Races no longer saw us as legitimate.

For a very long time, we’ve been faced with a mountain of challenges and we’ve sent so many messengers pleading for help, but everyone ignored us.

Now that we're in danger, you care not about our survival, but the key." Yente had little feelings for the other races, so she did not care to hide her anger in front of James.

"Since you made your way here, your capabilities must be extraordinary.

Sadly, you've got the wrong person.

The key is guarded by the Sect Leader.

I'm a mere Peak Leader and have no rights over the key." Finishing her sentence, she closed her eyes.

James looked at her and slipped into deep thought.

After quite a while, he undid Yente's seal and disappeared from the hidden chamber.

Yente fell onto the ground on her head, followed by a spitting of blood.

She sat up immediately, then she summoned her energy to suppress her internal injuries.

James left with a new plan.

He would fake himself as a Doom and ask for the keys from the Sect Leader.

Although this plan was highly risky, he had no other alternative.

Before that, he had to first find out what were the powerful figures among the Dooms so he could impersonate one of them.

He quickly sensed Murderous Energy around him.

It was coming from a battleground where tens of thousands of living beings were killing each other.

The battle was intense, as horrible deaths took place at every second.

James knew that this was where the Bug Race and the Cloud Race were fighting.

With an Acmean among the Bug Race, the Cloud Race would definitely lose the battle.

However, James temporarily ignored this and left the area.

He walked into the Cloud Realm and arrived in one of the bustling cities to inquire about information.

The Dooms were one of the Ten Great Races and held a very high position among them.

Everyone in the Greater Realms knew about the Dooms, so James wanted to find out who exactly were the Dooms' powerful figures.

After testing the waters, he planned to impersonate the Dooms' Great Elder, who was very powerful.

Even if the Great Elder was not among the ten powerful individuals, he was still able to compete with them.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4029

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4029-Many powerful figures died under his hand during the war of the Primordial Realm.

After James made up his mind to impersonate Youri, he began to ask around for descriptions of Youri's looks, appearance, and habits.

He got his answers after spending some time.

The problem was that these were mainly based on rumors, so he had very few details.

It would not be too hard, however, to paralyze the Cloud Race who was already under the Bug Race's attack.

As James was asking around, casualties continued to build up among the Cloud Race.

Some feeble disciples even died on the spot.

Only some 10,000 years had passed and the Cloud Race had already sustained a huge loss.

At the current moment, the Bug Race had already reached the mountain's entrance to the Cloud Race.

The Cloud Race activated a Formation, wanting to use it to struggle against the Bug Race.

Pretending to be Yuri, James stood somewhere far away from the battlefield.

He had already changed into a gray robe and dyed his hair and skin green, making him look very freakish.

However, he hesitated to head over, as the Bug Race had already reached the Cloud Race's base camp, meaning that the Cloud Race was surrounded.

A strong aura from the Acmean among the Bug Race could be felt.

This meant that if James went over now, and if his true identity was divulged, he would be in great trouble.

Escaping was not a problem given his capabilities.

What would become significantly difficult was getting the key in the future.

James went into deep thought.

He decided to take a risk.

If he failed, he would just have to escape and find another opportunity to acquire the key.

"Stop," James yelled as he flew forward.

His yell contained an immensely frightening Chaos Power that sent chills down the Bug Race's army's spine.

"Chaos Power?" "Yes, a powerful figure of the Dooms is here." "Isn't the Cloud Race already eliminated from the Ten Great Races? Why would a Doom be here?" "Could this be an intelligence failure?" The powerful figures of the Bug Race looked above them and saw Yuri walking in the air.

“The Dooms’ Great Elder Youri Dalibor?!” The Bug Race’s powerful figures’ expressions changed once they saw Youri, including the Acmean among them.

James appeared outside the mountain entrance and stared at the army in front of him.

He did not say much but merely turned towards the Cloud Race.

He then said coldly, “Let me in.” “Quick.

Open up the Formation and welcome the Dooms’ Great Elder.” The Sect Leader of the Cloud Race looked joyful and ordered immediately.

A small opening materialized in the Formation, letting Youri in.

Once he stepped into the Formation, it closed up once again.

Outside, a powerful figure of the Bug Race asked, “Leader, what do we do now?” “Don’t panic,” the Leader said, “The Great Elder of the Dooms has not made a move on us.

Perhaps he’s not here to stop us.

I received an intelligence report that a restricted area in the mountain has a prison that houses a powerful figure who’s a member of the Human Race.

Maybe the Dooms were afraid that something would go wrong and decided to visit the Cloud Race.

Wait for the Dooms to clarify before we act.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4030

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4030-Everyone knew about this.

Since Youri had yet to make a move on the Bug Race, the Bug Race remained hopeful.

They did not retreat but stayed and waited for updates.

Impersonating as Youri, James stepped into the Formation and appeared in the compound of the Cloud Race's base camp.

Many powerful figures of the Cloud Race appeared simultaneously, welcoming the arrival of Youri.

"Youri, you're finally here.

If you didn't show up, we might've been eradicated already." Fitzroy Yiskah, the Sect Leader of the Cloud Race walked towards James, his expression filled with joy.

In his opinion, Youri was here because of the crisis they were facing.

The Bug Race would no longer threaten his own Race.

"Great Elder, please enter." Fitzroy welcomed James personally, bringing him to the main hall.

Fitzroy sat on the main seat, while James sat next to him.

Other powerful figures remained standing because they had no right to sit before the Dooms.

James took a glance at Fitzroy and caressed his beard.

He said calmly, "Fitzroy, you should know why I'm here." James was here because of the key.

But he did not divulge from early on and just allowed the Cloud Race to figure that out.

If they guessed correctly, he would save himself the awkwardness.

Otherwise, he would just have to come clean about everything.

Fitzroy was taken aback slightly and enquired, "Didn't you come here because you've received our cry for help?" James did not answer this question and merely replied, "A long time ago, when the Cloud Race was part of the Ten Great Races, you sealed up the human Soren.

Due to the unique geography of the Cloud Race, a Formation was able to be set up in the hidden area of the compound.

Soren was trapped there forever, and the ten keys that could open the Formation were guarded by the ten Races respectively.” James scanned across the room, observing the expressions of the powerful figures before him.

He was trying to analyze their thoughts through their expressions.

These figures looked solemn.

James continued, “The Cloud Race today is no longer part of the Ten Great Races.

Now, even a race like the Bug Race can harass you.

It’s no longer safe for the key to stay here.

My Sect Leader thus sent me here to retrieve the key from you.” James directly told them his reason for being there.

“Great Elder...” Fitzroy’s expression looked awkward and said, “ Great Elder, we agreed that each race would guard a key.

No matter what, no race has any right to take back the key from another race.

What you’re doing now conflicts with our previous agreement.

If you want the key, that’s no problem, but it must be done like how we agreed upon, that all of those who made such rules must gather together.

Till then, we won’t hand over the key.” Fitzroy was not dumb.

Now that the only Acmean of the Cloud Race had mysteriously disappeared, they were no longer a force to be reckoned with.

The key was the trump card he had to play.

If he handed the key to Youri, even the Ten Great Races would attack them, let alone the Bug Race.

This was especially so given that the Cloud Race’s location was so unique.

Otherwise, Soren would not be trapped here in the first place.

Hearing this, James' expression turned grave as he summoned a small amount of Chaos Power, allowing the Power to spread and form an invisible storm.

He restrained the storm almost immediately after it began to erupt.