The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4070-“No way! How could I leave you two behind?”

Dahlia was worried. How could she escape on her own in a dire situation such as this?

James said, “I’ve already rescued Karglain, Bruce, and the other humans. I’ll help your sect’s deputy leader now. If we avoid fighting, we should be able to escape pretty easily. If you continue staying here, how will you leave if they seal off their planet?”

Dahlia felt tremendous relief at his words.

She nodded and said, “Alright, then I’ll leave the Soul Realm first and head to the headquarters. After you meet with Granduncle, he’ll also bring you there.”

After she finished speaking, Dahlia quickly left. James likewise heaved a sigh of relief once she had left.

He looked at the fierce battle in the distance, stretched his body, and felt a powerful force well up in his body. Then, he murmured, “I haven’t fought since entering the Omniscience Path’s Seventh Stage. I’ll be able to test out my strength today.”

James returned to his original appearance. He held the Malevolent Sword and rushed toward Mount Carslegh.

A fierce battle raged outside Mount Carslegh. The Heaven- Eradicating Sect’s Deputy Leader, Daegus Laoise, was surrounded by the Soul Race’s powerhouses. Although he was powerful, he faced multiple opponents and was at a disadvantage. Under the continuous flurry of attacks, he sustained various injuries. Despite that, he continued to fight desperately and killed several of the Soul Race’s guards.

Swoosh!

Suddenly, bright Sword Energy rushed toward the battlefield. It pierced through the air and appeared on the battlefield. The Sword Energy homed in on Waspen. Sensing the danger, Waspen quickly dodged it.

Boom!

The Sword Energy crashed into the ground and created a deep crevice.

The Soul Realm was one of the Greater Realms. Its space was remarkably stable, and the universe James came from could not hold a candle to it. Even top powerhouses were not capable of causing large-scale destruction.

A man dashed into the battlefield after the Sword Energy crashed into the ground. The man's body emitted a light glow, and his powerful aura permeated the air. He wielded a black sword as he stood firmly on the battlefield.

His aura spread through the area and formed a terrifying magnetic field. Within the area of the magnetic field, even the Soul Realm's space began to distort.

'The Omniscience Path's Seventh Stage?'

The powerhouses attacking Daegus were startled and quickly retreated, immediately wary of the sudden challenger.

James appeared in front of Daegus.

"W-Who are you?"

Daegus was drenched in blood. He looked at James suspiciously. As the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's Deputy Leader, he knew almost every powerful human. However, he had never seen the young man standing in front of him before.

"Haha!"

A burst of laughter came from the sky.

'The Omniscience Path's Seventh Stage? That's impressive. You must be a genius to have reached the Seventh Stage, breaking through the limit placed on the Omniscience Path. Unfortunately...'

Tobias slowly approached James, walking through the air.

His face darkened, and he said coldly, "It's unfortunate that you revealed yourself in the Soul Race's territory. Today will be your last day alive."

James looked at Tobias, who released powerful energy. He immediately became serious after sensing Tobias' aura. He had sensed the aura of an Acmean before. Back in his universe, he had fought with a powerful Ursa.

The Ursa was already injured, and James only managed to wound him because he made a sneak attack. Moreover, he had to use a powerful formation to trap the Ursa and only managed to kill him after putting in so much effort.

Tobias' aura was much stronger than the Ursa he had killed.

"You should flee first."

James did not look back at Daegus. He glared at Tobias approaching from the distance and instructed Daegus, "I've already rescued Karglain, Bruce, and the others. You should run right now. I'll hold Tobias back for a while and try to find an opportunity to escape as well."

Daegus immediately refused. "How can I do that? We should fight together."
