The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4075-James took a deep breath and stopped treating his wounds.

During this period, Daegus remained nearby to guard him.

“Are you alright?” asked Daegus.

James nodded lightly and said, “I’ve already stabilized my injuries. I just need to rest for a while and to recover fully.”

Then, James took out his storage treasure and let out everyone he had saved from the dungeon.

When these people were released, Daegus immediately helped to lift their seals.

A few creatures from different races were also rescued.

James looked at their wary faces, waved his hand, and said, “You’re all safe now. Go ahead and leave.”

‘Thank you, Sir.*

These creatures quickly expressed their gratitude and left the area.

Soon, only the humans from the Heaven-Eradicating Sect were left in the forest.

“Deputy Leader.”

The rescued humans quickly greeted Daegus.

Karglain, on the other hand, looked at James with a frown.

James said calmly, “I already told you the Soul Race’s army raiding the village had nothing to do with me. I went through a lot and almost died in the Hopeless City to save everyone.”

Daegus looked at Karglain and asked, "Is there some sort of misunderstanding? If it weren't for this young man, I wouldn't have been able to escape from the Hopeless City."

He then looked at James and said, "I still don't know your name and where you're from yet."

Before James could speak, Karglain interjected, saying, "His name is James Caden. He claims to be from the Primordial Realm and that he's Madam Thea's partner."

Karglain introduced James.

Hearing this, Daegus was overjoyed. He hurriedly inquired, "Is that true? Is Madam Thea still alive?"

James nodded and said, "Yeah. She's still well and alive. Her clone has been reincarnated in the Greater Realms. I came to the Greater Realms from our new universe to seize a chance for the Human Race to rise."

Karglain looked at James and said, "He came to the village with Dahlia. When he arrived, the Soul Race's Army raided our village, capturing everyone."

James' face darkened. Then, he said, "I went through a lot of trouble to save all of you."

Daegus stepped forward and said, "I believe in James. He sneaked into the Hopeless City to rescue all of you. He could've safely left the Soul Realm but fought the Hopeless City's powerhouses and Tobias to buy me time to escape."

Daegus recounted the previous battle's situation to them.

"Even though he has Chaos Power, he's most definitely not from the Doom Race. A Doom cannot enter the Omniscience Path's Seventh Stage."

Daegus was the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's Deputy Leader. With his words, everyone present regained their trust in James.

Afterward, Daegus looked at the frail Bruce and said, "Let's head back first."

Everyone had been imprisoned in the dungeon for a long time, and most of them were injured.

Now that their seals were lifted, they could stimulate their powers and travel through the Chaos.

James heaved a sigh of relief.

After going through so much, he could finally go to the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's headquarters.

He could get things done in the Greater Realms more efficiently with the help of the Heaven-Eradicating Sect.

With Daegus leading the way, James advanced through the Chaos. After a long time, they arrived at a turbulent area of the Chaos.

The Chaos' space was very violent and was full of black holes. Turbulent forces were coming out from the dark holes, causing the surroundings to be very chaotic. A few smaller planets that had just formed were sucked into the dark holes.

James was surprised by the harsh environment and could not help asking, "Is this where the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's headquarters is?"

Daegus said helplessly, "After the battle in the Primordial Realm, all the powerful humans died. The survivors aren't capable of doing anything in the Greater Realms. We had no choice but to hide in such dangerous areas. After countless years of searching, we found a relatively safe small world in this turbulent area to settle down."
