The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4106-“Quite a crowd, huh?” James stood in space outside the Desolate Galaxy and said, “There has to be at least a thousand of them.”

Leilani nodded and said, “Indeed, I wasn’t expecting that many people.

News of the incident has only just spread, and there are already so many people here already. As the news spread, there would certainly be more people here. The treasure is simply too alluring, I guess. I wonder how many would perish here...”

Hearing this, James seemed to be reminded of something as he asked, “Could this be a plot of the Stone Race?”

“Huh?”

Leilani glanced at James.

James said, “Perhaps the Stone Race wanted to lure the powerful individuals of the other races here and capture them all in one fell swoop.”

Hearing this, Leilani smiled.

“You certainly overestimated the Stone Race. Even though the Stone Race is among the most powerful of the Ten Great Races, they are still far away from overwhelming the other races. They wouldn’t dare pull off such an endeavor.”

James asked, “What if the Stone Race knows the truth about the Desolate Grand Canyon and they are using this against the other races?”

“Why are they doing this then?’ Leilani looked at James.

James smiled faintly and said, “Power and authority.”

This was merely his hypothesis. However, anything was possible as long as there was no conclusive evidence.

‘We’ll see.” Leilani did not wish to argue with James.

As the two approached the Desolate Galaxy, they headed toward the region. Along the way, Leilani explained, "The Desolate Grand Canyon is located on Planet Desolation. According to the historical records in the ancient texts, Planet Desolation was once a huge planet. Back then, the Stone Race was still a weak race."

Speaking of which, she seemed to remember something.

"By the way, have you heard of the Desolate Path Master?"

James shook his head and said, "Nope. Who is he?"

Leilani explained, "Throughout the history of the Greater Realms, there have been many powerful individuals in existence. Though they vanished without a trace, there are records of their existence in the ancient texts. The Desolate Path Master was among these powerful individuals. They say that he originated during the period when the Space Race dominated the Greater Realms. There were also no detailed records about their cultivation base in the ancient texts. During the period when the Space Race ruled over the universe, he was one of the few who could stand against them. They also say that his place of origin was Planet Desolation."

Hearing this, James pondered for a second before asking, "Is the Desolate Grand Canyon the territory of the Desolate Path Master?"

Leilani shook her head slightly and said, "I don't really know. That's because records about him are few and far between. I have no idea whether this place is his place of origin."

She changed the subject.

"The Desolate Grand Canyon is a unique place. They say that some powerful individuals slashed Planet Desolation in half during the war in the Desolate Grand Canyon. However, since Planet Desolation is a huge planet, even though it was slashed in half, a strong magnetic field prevented the planet from disintegrating. Meanwhile, the region that was sliced in half is the Desolate Grand Canyon of today. They say that a mysterious space was born in the deepest parts of the canyon, formed by the combination of a unique magnetic field and the power of the Chaos Heavenly Path. However, no one knows for sure what there is here. That's because no living being has ever been able to enter the Desolate Grand Canyon since antiquity.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4107-Hearing this, James asked, “Not even the Acmeans?” “Perhaps those at the Caelum Acme Rank. But people like these have not appeared in a very long time.” Leilani said.

‘The Caelum Acme Rank?’ James froze.

He had been in the Greater Realms for quite some time. However, he only knew about the existence of the Acme Rank. He did not know if there were any sub-ranks in the Acme Rank. He also did not ask any of the members of the Heaven-Eradicating Sect. 1

Upon seeing James’ stunned expression, Leilani froze momentarily before glancing at him and asking, “What’s wrong? Is something the matter?”

James scratched his head awkwardly and asked, “How are the sub-ranks in the Acme Rank divided?”

This question stunned Leilani. Her eyes bulged as she looked at James in disbelief as she asked, “No way! You possess a physical body at the Quasi Acme Rank, yet you don’t know about the Acme Rank’s sub-ranks?”

James grinned and said, “I was concentrating on my cultivation all this while, so I didn’t ask.”

Leilani rolled her eyes.

Did James not even read?

However, she put those thoughts aside and explained, ‘The Acme Rank is divided into three sub-ranks-Permanence, Terra, and Caelum.

Permanence is the weakest, whereas Caelum is the strongest. Even though Permanence is the weakest, it is still nonetheless extremely difficult to reach. As long as a race could produce an individual at the Permanence Acme Rank, they would immediately emerge as a force to be reckoned with in the Greater Realms. Meanwhile, the Caelum Acme Rank is the most terrifying of all. However, it has been a while since someone of that rank appeared. Ever since the war against the Primordial Realm and the Human Race, there haven't been any Caelum Acmeans appearing."

Hearing the brief explanation, James now understood more about the Acme Rank.

Leilani continued, "During the Primordial Realm's Human Race's age, there were many Caelum Acmeans. However, most of them perished on the battlefield."

Hearing this, James asked, "In that case, who's the strongest in the Greater Realms?"

After some contemplation, Leilani said, 'The Dooms are the strongest among the Ten Great Races, and the Great-Grand Patriarch is perhaps the strongest among them all. Rumors say that his cultivation base is infinitely close to reaching the Caelum Acme Rank. However, he has not appeared in a very long time. No one knows exactly what rank he's at now."

The Dooms were the strongest among the Ten Great Races because of their Great-Grand Patriarch.

James and Leilani headed toward the Desolate Grand Canyon. In the meantime, Leilani explained many things about the Ten Great Races. Everything she said was much more detailed than what the Heaven-Eradicating Sect had told James. Though the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's intelligence network was spread throughout the Greater Realms, the Human Race's status in the Greater Realms was simply too low. As such, they would not be exposed to the core of the major races. That was why their understanding of the situation was only rudimentary and superficial. Leilani, however, was different. She was the princess of the Angel Race. As such, she knew many things.

'The Desolate Grand Canyon is right ahead."

Leilani stopped and pointed straight ahead.

James saw there was a giant planet in the distance. The planet had been sliced into two. There was a crack in the middle, and it was only because of the presence of the magnetic field that the planet had not yet disintegrated.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4108-The region James was in was not too far away from the Desolate Grand Canyon. Before he even arrived at the canyon, he could already sense a powerful force sweeping toward him.

“Let’s go have a look.”

James was exhilarated when he saw the canyon. He came here not to search for treasures but for Soulblues. Once he obtained the Soulblues, he would then be able to infiltrate the Doom Race. By then, he would have a legitimate identity that would allow him to traverse freely throughout the Greater Realms, unlike his current self, where he would have to sneak around like a wanted criminal.

Leilani was curious to see what the Desolate Grand Canyon-a place considered to be one of the Ten Forbidden Areas of the Greater Realms-looked like.

The two strode forward. As they were very near the Desolate Grand Canyon, danger could be lurking near the corner. So, they did not proceed recklessly but instead walked in with caution.

Boom!

A few moments after they entered, an explosion occurred in the space before them. At that moment, the pitch-black sky was illuminated by a glaring light. A wave of powerful force shredded through the air like a ripple, and everywhere it passed through disintegrated into nothingness.

James and Leilani’s faces paled. They immediately tore open space and disappeared without a trace. In the next instant, they were already outside the Desolate Galaxy. Only after the explosion subsided did they continue forward.

They returned to the place they were at.

“What was that just now?” James asked. At the same time, he used his Divine Sense and scouted the Desolate Grand Canyon. However, there were too many unique formations and unknown regions in the canyon.

The Desolate Grand Canyon was the most dangerous place James had ever encountered. This was certainly much more dangerous than the Ecclesiastical Restricted Zone, where even Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral Gods could still wander in and leave the place in one piece.

However, the same could not be said about the Desolate Grand Canyon.

Leilani shook her head and said, "I have never been to the Desolate Grand Canyon. How would I know? We can only know more by venturing deeper into the canyon. Perhaps a living coming into contact with a formation, hence the fluctuations."

"Be careful," James reminded her and continued forward.

In just a single step, he was already very far ahead. Leilani followed suit.

Soon, they arrived at the region where the explosion occurred. There were now many Spatial Black Holes here. Each of them was of moderate size – about the size of Earth. Even so, there were many of them. In the surroundings were countless cracks. The scene was rather horrifying.

"It's a formation."

James could tell something was amiss at a single glance. He said, "There's a broken formation here that exploded. Only some formation inscriptions remain."

Leilani furrowed her eyebrows and said, "This place is merely the surface of Planet Desolation. Wouldn't it be more terrifying if we head deeper into the planet?"

"Of course." James sighed. "Perhaps it is as you said. Only Caelum Acmeans have the right to enter this place. This place must once be the battlefield of Caelum Acmeans in the distant past."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4109-"Oh yeah..."

Upon remembering something, James asked, "Is the Caelum Acme Rank the highest rank? Are there more ranks beyond that?"

As a cultivator, James knew that the cultivation path had no end. By reaching a higher rank, one would be able to advance into a more advanced world. Only then could one comprehend more about a higher rank. In the past, James thought that the Grand Emperor Rank was the pinnacle of cultivation. Then came the Ancestral God Rank and the Acme Rank, but what came after the Acme Rank? These were all unanswered questions.

As the princess of the Angel Race, one of the Ten Great Races, her understanding of the world was deeper and more comprehensive than James<sup>1</sup>. So, James posed her a question.

Leilani shook her head slightly and said, ‘To my understanding, the Caelum Acme Rank is the pinnacle. I have never heard nor read anything in the ancient texts that say otherwise.’

Hearing this, James was relieved. He was worried that there would be powerful individuals beyond the Caelum Acme Rank appearing out of nowhere.

“What should we do now?” As Leilani looked at the Spatial Black Holes and cracks before her, she said, “Since the exterior of Planet Desolation is this terrifying already, wouldn’t things get worse inside?”

‘There’s no rush,’ James said, “Since no living being will be able to enter the Desolate Grand Canyon anyway, we might as well just stand guard here.”

‘What for?’ Leilani asked puzzledly.

James looked at the remaining Formation Inscription on the edges of the black holes and smiled faintly, saying, ‘To comprehend the Formation Inscriptions here, of course. If I’m not mistaken, these Formations must be the work of the same individual. This means that I’ll be able to extrapolate all the Formations inside Planet Desolation from the Formation Inscriptions of a single Formation. After comprehending the Formations, we will be able to wander about the planet unopposed.’

Hearing this, Leilani rolled her eyes.

“If this plan of yours works, the Formations here would have been broken long ago. Creatures of all kinds would have already found their way into the Desolate Grand Canyon, the secrets inside would have been exposed.”

‘What other options do we have? This is our only way, so let’s just test things out.’

James said. He was not confident about what he was about to do. Though Soren Plamen had taught him some profound Formation Inscriptions of the Greater Realms, and as such, he had a certain degree of mastery of the Formation Inscriptions of the various races, the Formation here surpasses the ones of the Ten Great Races. That was why he was not feeling confident.

Then, James’ body flickered, and he disappeared from view. When he reappeared, he was by the edges of a Spatial Black Hole. There, he found the shards of the Formation Inscriptions. As he raised his hand, a powerful force gathered in his palm, forcibly pulling these shards toward him. With those shards in his possession, he hurriedly retreated.

He returned to Leilani’s side. When he reappeared, there were a few living beings there as well. They were all somewhat handsome-looking men.

Besides, James had seen them on Mount Eden before. They were the Core Disciples of some powerful families that enjoyed a relatively high status in the Greater Realms. Among them were sons of Patriarchs and Sect Elders, or even distinguished prodigies of a certain race.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4110-Upon James’ return, he saw that there were many living beings by Leilani’s side. He had seen them on Mount Eden before. However, he did not know them in person.

Seeing that James was back, Leilani walked toward him and asked, “How did it go?”

James glanced at the group of people before looking at Leilani and nodding slightly, saying, “Mhm, I’ve got my hands on them. Who are they, by the way?”

Leilani immediately introduced them to him, “This is Sigmund Lailoken, a powerful individual of the Devil Race.

“His name is Wynnstan Dalibor. He’s also a powerful individual of the Doom Race. His grandfather is the Great Elder of the Doom Race.

'This is Xhafer Yianni of the Ghost Race.

"He's Gruffudd Broderick of the Skeleton Race."

Leilani introduced them to James.

Hearing this, James was stunned. He could not help but glance at these people, for they came from some of the most powerful races of the Greater Realms.

"Why are you with him, Princess Leilani?" Immediately, a man scoffed, "I have investigated him. He's but a creature of the Ape Race. They say that the Ape Race was as close as kin to the Human Race. The Human Race is the lowest-ranked race of all, meaning that the Ape Race is equally insignificant. Aren't you humiliating yourself by mingling with someone like him?"

James glanced at the man. He was Sigmund Lailoken of the Devil Race.

Hearing his statement, James was displeased. He mocked, "You say that the Human Race is the lowest-rank race. So why are you in human form instead of your original state of being?"

Hearing this, Sigmund was at a loss for words. Since antiquity, all living beings must take on the form of a human being to continue cultivation. Besides, the human form was the most perfect and immaculate.

James continued, "You look down on the Human Race and the Ape Race. You mock me because my original form is similar to a human. So why are you in human form as well? I thought you despise all things about the race you look down on?"

"Alright now, calm down you two." Leilani intervened and said, "Race isn't important here. Our priority is to find out what's inside the Desolate Grand Canyon."

The other races remained silent. They were contemplating James' question. From the moment they were born, they knew instinctively that the Human Race was the most puny among all races in the Greater Realms. Yet, they never thought about the reason why they took on the form of a human being.

Sigmund was livid. Before he could teach James a lesson, Leilani intervened. So, he could only glare at James and said coldly, "I will remember you, kid. Once you leave the Desolate Grand Canyon, I'll see if your strength is worthy of your bold words."

James paid no heed to his threat and said nonchalantly, "Sure, whatever."

Sigmund had a bad temper. Upon hearing this, he was enraged.

"F*ck this! I'm not doing this after we leave the Desolate Grand Canyon. I'm going to settle the score now!" he yelled.

His deafening roar reverberated throughout the region. An immensely powerful force materialized from within his body, and a powerful magnetic field formed on the surface of his body.

Seeing this, the others hurriedly retreated to the rear with grins on their faces.

Leilani tried to stop him, but it was too late.

Sigmund had already struck James. In the blink of an eye, an illusory palmprint charged toward James. Standing in the void, James' expression was composed when faced with Sigmund's powerful attack. The moment the illusory palmprint appeared before him, he immediately catalyzed the power of the Five Great Paths.

All the Paths he cultivated had merged with the Chaos Path, and his comprehension of the Five Great Paths had reached the pinnacle of the Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank. Though the power of the Five Great Paths was slightly weaker compared to that of Chaos Power, it was terrifying nonetheless.

He raised his arm and struck.
