

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4121

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4121-Now that Wotan, who was ranked tenth in the Chaos Gold Ranking, had emerged, he was a threat to everyone else.

Although Wotan could hear these discussions, he paid no attention to them. Instead, he scanned his surroundings and walked forward, heading towards the Five-Colored Sacred Pond in the center.

Although there were countless living beings here, none of them dared to act recklessly. Although they wished to stop Wotan, they dared not step forward, for provoking Wotan could mean certain death.

Wotan was getting closer and closer to the Sacred Pool of Five Colors.

Leilani, Wynnstand, Sigmund, and the others were eager. James's expression was grim. This providence would be extremely beneficial to him. Therefore, she couldn't give him up just like that.

'Trying to take the providence yourself? Why do you take us?' James said and appeared in the air. His gaze met Wotan's. He was not afraid at all, for he was determined to seize this providence. That was because he cultivated the Path of All-knowing it was simply too difficult, and every step he took was too excruciating.

"Who is he?"

"Is he trying to stop Wotan? He must be tired of living!"

"I have seen it before. He was the one who performed the Sacred Flower at Leilani's birthday banquet. The Sacred Flower is indeed beautiful, but his understanding of the Greater Ways is not complete enough.

This made his Sacred Flower weaker than expected."

James immediately became the center of attention.

"Who are you? What is your name?"

Wotan did not lower his guard. Although he was ranked tenth in the Chaos Gold Ranking and almost invincible in the Quasi Acme Rank, he could feel the power of James. Although James did not exude any aura, his instincts told him that an explosive power was hidden within James's body. His instincts tend to be precise.

'That's not important. The important thing is that providence does not belong to you alone,' James said. At the same time, he was up to something. It was evident that everyone here was afraid of Wotan, who seemed to be a troublesome opponent. If only he could ally with him, things would be much easier for him.

He smiled and said, "Why don't we join forces?"

"Join forces?" Wotan looked at James and smiled slightly, saying, "What can you offer me?"

Since Wotan could not see through James, he was curious to see how powerful James was. He pointed at Leilani and the others and said, "I'll give you a chance. If you can defeat them, I'll join forces with you until the final showdown."

James looked at Leilani, Wynnstan, Sigmund, Xhafer, and Gruffudd. He had fought Sigmund before and knew his strength. In all honesty, he was confident that he could defeat them one on one. However, the same cannot be said of a one against five.

His expression was grim.

Wotan said coldly, "If you can't even defeat them, you have no right to join forces with me."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4122

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4122-Wotan was arrogant. He didn't need allies. Anyone who wanted to join forces with him would first have to prove his worth.

Or maybe you could fight me.

Wotan's voice boomed.

James looked at Leilani and the others before looking at Wotan. After some contemplation, he decided to fight Wotan. Wotan was ranked tenth in the Chaos Gold Ranking. He was curious to see how powerful Wotan was, considering that everyone was afraid of him.

“You.”

James pointed to Wotan.

A smile appeared on Wotan’s face. At that moment, overwhelming power erupted from within his body and permeated the surroundings. This caused the void to distort. Considering that Planet Desolation was protected by the power of the formation, not to mention that there was a mysterious person who controlled everything behind the scenes, the space was extremely stable here. However, even Wotan’s mere aura could distort space. This was the evidence of Wotan’s power. Furthermore, under the overwhelming pressure of the aura, the surrounding living things turned pale. Some weaker ones could not withstand the pressure and quickly withdrew to the rear and kept their distance.

“He wants to fight Wotan?” Leila froze.

She knew that Forty-Nine’s physical strength was formidable, in the Quasi Acme Rank. However, who among the Gold Ranking did not have a powerful physical body?

The Human Race cultivated the physical body of him, and their cultivation system was the Path of Omniscience. However, the cultivation of the physical body was not limited to just the Human Race. All other races could do it too. However, cultivating the physical body was not equivalent to cultivating the Path of Omniscience.

Wotan stood in emptiness as his black hair fluttered in the breeze. An immense aura materialized from within his body and formed a mysterious magical field. Under the effect of the magnetic field, cracks began to appear in the surrounding void. However, the cracks did not spread as the place was controlled by a mysterious power, perhaps the Heavenly Path or the man behind the scenes.

James’s expression was grim as he faced Wotan. Under Wotan’s overwhelming pressure, he could feel a terrifying power coming towards him. This power was similar to a shapeless tornado that repeatedly struck his body. Even though his body remained motionless in the void, he could still feel the pressure.

“I will not hold back,” said Wotan.

His voice boomed. Then he moved, appearing before James in the blink of an eye. His speed exceeded the limitations of time and he ignored the existence of space. Before James could react, Wotan had already made the move on him.

Wotan’s palm went straight for him. Although the palm looked ordinary, it contained unparalleled power. When he hit James’s body, James’s chest immediately sank and he suffered from the force of incredible power. James quickly withdrew. At the same time, the void behind him collapsed and he fell into the Spatial Black Hole. When he reappeared, he was already several hundred light-years behind him in a vacuum.

A bloody hole appeared in his chest. As he looked at his wound, he was stunned.

“How powerful... My physical strength is in the Quasi Acme range. Even a powerful figure in the Quasi Acme range would not be able to injure him even with his full strength. Now, however, I am injured in a single move.”

Immediately, James knew how terrifying Wotan was. Unsurprisingly, the individual was ranked tenth in the Chaos Gold Ranking.

“Nothing bad.”

A voice came from light years away, “You only suffered external injuries. Very impressive, I must say. You are considered a powerful individual based on the fact that your physical body has reached Quasi Acme Rank. Yet, even so, you have no right to associate with me.”

First, he praised James. Then he belittled him.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4123

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4123-James inhaled deeply. Currently, he had to rely heavily on the Power of Chaos and the Path of Omniscience. During such circumstances, he had to be careful not to expose the Chaos Power, because this would affect his future membership in the Dooms. By then, regardless of whether he successfully passed himself off as a member of the Dooms, the Dooms would distrust him and deny him the highest positions. Even if he were to risk exposing his human identity, James must not let his Chaos Power be known.

Wotan Buster's attack left the countless number of living beings gathered in this area in shock.

"He's living up to his name: the top ten of the Chaos Gold Ranking. Although Forty-nine's physical strength is in the Quasi Acme Rank, he penetrated her chest with a single punch."

'Tsk, tsk, what a guy. And this is nothing more than pure power, without using any supernatural art."

Several powerful figures exclaimed. After weighing the pros and cons, James decided to put the Path of Omniscience to use.

Only a living being could leave this place alive. Furthermore, a mystical formation had been set up that was blocking the ability of those outside to know what was happening in Desolate Galaxy.

James summoned the Life Power, causing his bodily injuries to recover at a speed visible to the naked eye. Upon his recovery from such injuries, his aura changed as well. The blood inside him clenched in an instant. Calm fluids transformed into ferocious tides.

His blood churned violently inside him, causing his combat aura to continuously increase. A faint white halo formed around him. His muscles also tensed as the explosive power hid below them. All of this resulted in a powerful energy that materialized from within his body.

At this time, James has entered the Path of Omniscience combat form, a form unique to humans. This form was also called Battle Rank.

"That?" Several powerful figures in the distance were dumbfounded.

"Path of Omniscience?"

"He is human?"

"How is this possible? The Seventh Stage of the Path of Omniscience?"

"Humans' vitality, potential, and progress haven't ended for a long time? How can humans reach the Seventh Stage?"

Exclamations of surprise were visibly heard.

Leilani Amani was also surprised. She has already investigated James' background before this. Yet here was James, wielding the Path of Omniscience that was unique to humans. What was even more amazing is that he has reached the Seventh Stage.

Wotan reacted in a similar way. But this was instantly followed by a slight upward curve at the corners of his mouth. A slight smile materialized. "A human being in the Seventh Stage of the Path of Omniscience. Interesting."

'Take this!' Wotan's voice roared through the area. Then, a longsword materialized in his hand. The sword looked very ordinary, but it was extraordinarily blinding in Wotan's hand.

He attacked quickly, appearing before James in an instant. The sword was heading in the direction of James's skull.

A white light materialized on James, forming a halo. James' aura spilled out in a unique magnetic field, temporarily resisting the sharp energy of the sword.

He hung in the air with a calm expression, as the point of Wotan's sword came to rest ten feet from his eyebrows.

There was a pause in the fight until two immense energies collided with each other. The waves spread around him like ripples. Behind was a constant explosion of the void.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4124

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4124-James and Wotan were now at an impasse. Neither of them moved.

Although James seemed calm, he was using all of his strength. Having invoked the Path of Omniscience and reached the Seventh Stage of it, James' power has increased exponentially, allowing him to materialize extremely terrifying power. The product was an invisible magnetic field that withstood Wotan's attack.

Neither of them moved, but enormous energies emanated from the two cores. This situation continued for about a minute. After a minute, the magnetic field disintegrated. In that instant, the glowing blade headed for James's brain.

Thanks to his quick reaction speed, James easily avoided the attack. The power of the blinding sword erupted, penetrating the void and forming a huge black hole. The black hole was immediately taken back by mystical power.

Having avoided that blow, another attack from Wotan charged towards James's back.

James waved his hand casually, and the power of the Greater Roads materialized. They gathered together, forming a Sacred Flower. A terrifying energy engulfed the surroundings.

Wotan ignored the Sacred Flower and directed his sword at it.

Although the Sacred Flower was powerful, James' comprehension of the Greater Ways was merely at the peak of the Nine Power Macrocosm Ancestral God Rank. The comprehension of him has not yet reached the Quasi-Acme rank, so Blossom was unable to resist Wotan's attack. He was shattered by Wotan's attack.

The petals formed by the Path immediately disintegrated, floating in the air. The scene was beautiful but deadly.

The summoning of James' Bloom failed to harm Wotan, but that wasn't James' strongest trick. Blooming wasn't even one of the Supernatural Arts he had mastered. He would only become one if he could raise his rank to Quasi-Acme Rank or Acme Rank.

A longsword materialized in James's hand. This was a sword of a Path, not the Malevolent Sword. Since he had already used the Malevolent Sword when he was with Soul Race, he couldn't use it now.

Otherwise, the impersonation of him as Dooms would be exposed.

Wotan launched another attack, which was answered by James and his sword.

Hit! The two swords collided, causing an immediate explosion and ripple effects after the collision.

James's sword was cut into fragments of the Path, which dissipated into the surroundings.

Wotan was certainly powerful. The ordinary-looking Sword in his hand was an invincible weapon.

After this, James decided to fight Wotan without weapons. He continuously invoked the supernatural art that he learned in the restricted area of Tendo. In addition to the Seventh Stage of the All-Knowing Path from him, he strongly resisted Wotan's attacks.

Multiple living beings were paying attention to this battle. No one expected that James would be able to endure Wotan for so long.

Hit! And another collision. They both avoided each blow quickly, as the void would explode almost instantly.

By now, James realized how terrifying Wotan was. His power was no match for Wotan's despite the fact that he had deployed the Seventh Stage of the Path of Omniscience and a series of human supernatural arts.

The energy of Wotan's sword has left his body full of wounds.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4125

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4125-Whistle! James threw his fist at Wotan. An endless shadow enveloped the entire area, including Wotan's body.

Wotan continuously swung his sword, causing Sword Energy to materialize incessantly, shattering the surrounding shadows.

"Alright." After smashing countless shadows to pieces and escaping James's multiple attacks, Wotan stopped and looked at James, who was covered in wounds and whose hair was a mess. He smiled and said: "There is no need to fight anymore, I You already know the extent of your capabilities. If we continue, you will surely be defeated."

James tried to squeeze out a smile. If it weren't for the restrictions he placed on himself and the fact that he couldn't deploy the Power of Chaos, he wouldn't be so weak when facing Wotan.

Looking at Wotan, who was unharmed and clean after the battle, James gave Wotan a thumbs up and said, "You are very powerful. I really didn't expect someone of Quasi-Acme rank to be so strong."

“He, he,” Wotan chuckled softly and said, “You yourself are not evil, but...” His tone changed, “Though you can barely fight me, you have not reached the bare minimum to be my ally. So” , you have no right to compete with me for providence here. However, the five-color holy water in the five-color pond is not that helpful in helping me improve my physical power. For you, it could be, since you have just entered the Path of Omniscience. If you enter the pond and absorb its energy, you may very well be a worthy opponent of mine.”

Hearing this, James was confused. What was Wotan trying to do? Why would he not allow James to become his ally but allow him to enter the pool of five colors? He looked at Wotan, waiting for him to finish his prayer.

Taking a quick glance at James, Wotan said, “Untold years ago, my great ancestor had very good relations with a powerful human. He owed the human race a favor, so this time I present providence to you. Take this as my way. to return the favor to my great ancestor.”

James immediately understood and said to Wotan, “Thank you very much.” As he spoke, he headed towards the pond.

Surrounding them were thousands and thousands of living things. Some of them could barely suppress their urge to step forward to stop James.

At this moment, Wotan extended his sword, from which invisible sword energy emanated. He coldly said: “Do you want to get to the pond? First get permission from this sword.”

Once he said this, several living beings stopped in his footsteps and turned to Leilani and other powerful figures of the same rank for guidance. Leilani and his counterparts were discussing the matter in the dark.

“I can’t believe that boy is a human.”

‘The Seventh Stage of the Path of Omniscience means that he is already powerful enough. We can’t let it grow anymore. We must stop him, or else he will become another Soren once he reaches the Ninth Stage. This will be a threat to all races.”

“Right, many races already have vendettas with the Human Race. We can’t let him get the fortune here or let him leave the Bleak Galaxy alive.”

They continued their discussion until a consensus was reached. They all agreed that they should attack.

“Wotan”, Leilani stood up and looked at Wotan, who was standing in the air. She said coldly, “You are strong, but I doubt you can handle all living things here on your own.”

“Never try, you’ll never know.” Wotan was not afraid in the least, even if he faced so many living beings. He looked at James, who was approaching the five-color pool, and reminded James, “Young man, I can only resist them for about ten minutes. Now it’s up to you to absorb as much energy as you can.”

‘Thank you, that’s enough,’ once James finished his sentence, he disappeared into the pool with a blink.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4126

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4126-Wotan was quite confident in his abilities. However, there were now a number of Quasi Acmean figures. No matter how strong he is, he was only able to resist them for about ten minutes.

Fortunately, ten minutes was enough for James, thanks to the Time Path he had mastered. He could stay in the Time Formation for a long time despite only having ten minutes in the outer realm.

Once he entered the five-colored pool, he felt a terrifying reverberation from the battle outside. He ignored all of this and summoned a Time Formation instead.

The pond water was full of vibrant colors. It was mystical, as it contained massive energies. Once he entered the pool, all the pores in his body opened, vigorously absorbing the pool’s energy. The energy nourished his physical body, displaying the opening of his acupuncture points. These points, like dry fountain heads, spat out a bit of water.

James enjoyed as his aura rose.

Outside, Wotan had deployed invincible supernatural arts to set up a sword path formation in the mountains where James was. He was fighting some Quasi-Acmeans, while the rest of the living beings attacked the Formation.

As Wotan had to split his focus between the battle and maintaining the power of the formation, he was distracted on multiple occasions, causing him to suffer various injuries. Even if his physical power was terrifying and exceeded that of James, this group of powerful figures put him in a difficult situation. He vigorously resisted his offensive.

Time passed, minute by minute, second by second. Ten minutes passed in the blink of an eye. Many Quasi Acmeans gathered together and launched an offensive against Wotan simultaneously.

Wotan went on the defensive. Sword Energy emanated from his sword, engulfing heaven and earth in waves.

Some distance away from him, several Quasi Acmeans concentrated their power, forming a pillar of light. The pillar destroyed all the power of Wotan's sword.

Seeing this terrifying pillar, Wotan put away his sword from it. He pushed forward with his fists, materializing terrifying energy that broke through to confront that of the pillar of light.

The two energies collided and intertwined in midair. In terms of power, Wotan was weaker than the collective might of these Quasi Acmeans, causing his own pillar to continuously slide downward.

His expression changed slightly before quickly avoiding the pillar. The pillar fell in the direction of the Sword Path Formation. Although the Formation was created by Wotan, he still could not resist an alliance between Quasi Acmean figures. The formation disintegrated in an instant. Even before the pillar touched the formation, the mountains below it had already started to collapse.

At the top was James, who was still in his Time Formation.

Although they spent only ten minutes in the outer realm, James immersed himself in the pond for a while with the help of the Time Formation. He used up every second madly absorbing energy from him, allowing her physical power and aura from him to grow.

The color of the pond was no longer vibrant. Now it was boring and ordinary, like any running water. There wasn't much energy left inside.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4127

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4127-At this moment, James felt that the Time Formation he had set up was broken. This formation destruction was followed by a powerful pillar of light.

He instantly entered the Seventh Stage of the Path of Omniscience and emanated white light from head to toe, materializing into a pillar of light. The pillar of light ascended, meeting the falling pillar.

Hit! The two forces collided, exploding into fragments. The resulting product of the collision was so powerful that it annihilated the entire area, turning the area into a void. The next instant, however, everything was restored.

James appeared on the horizon. Ghastly wounds covered his entire body. One of his limbs was broken. He hung like that in the air, panting and hyperventilating.

“Awesome.” Wotan could not help but be impressed by James’s strength. This was a force materialized collectively by at least twenty Quasi-

Acmeans, but James managed to survive the attack. This could only mean that James has greatly benefited from the five-color pond. His physical strength is stronger than before, as is his All-Knowing Path.

“Judging from his aura, this youth must have reached the middle of the seventh stage of the Path of All-knowing,” Wotan muttered to himself, followed by a wail, “This must have been difficult. Since the path of cultivation for humans finished, cultivating the Path of Omniscience was nearly impossible. Before this path was cut off, the energy in this pool would have been enough to allow a Seventh Stage human to break through to the Eighth.”

James was covered in injuries, but his aura was not damaged in any way. A smile hung on his face. He was laughing out loud, like a madman.

“Incredible.” Leilani’s expression turned solemn as she said, “He’s been a short time and he’s already absorbed a huge ball of energy. His physical body and his Omniscience Path have improved!”

Wynnstan Dalibor looked grim. He said coldly: “Charge. Destroy it!”

In an instant, several Quasi Acmeans stood out. Terrifying auras erupted from them.

‘Young man, I have returned the favor to my great ancestor. Good luck ahead, and I’ll see you when I see you,’ Wotan did not linger any longer. He turned to go. His voice echoed through the area though he disappeared into thin air.

“I hope to see you again in the Desolate Galaxy. Oh, and stay alive, will you? Upgrade your ability with the time you have. Hopefully, we will fight each other again in the final battle.”

Wotan’s voice grew softer and softer until he was completely gone.

After Wotan left, a handful of living things surrounded James.

James also felt that this area had been sealed by immense power.

“Ho ho!” He laughed.

“What the hell are you laughing at?” coldly asked a living being.

James stopped his laughter and replied calmly, “Not much, just that I’m stronger now, so I can’t help but be excited about it. If this is like other times in the past. I would have looked for a powerful figure to fight with. Just to try things out, you know. But now...”

James scanned his surroundings before saying, “I’m not interested in being surrounded. Do you think a simple Space Seal can stop me?”

During an emergency situation like this, James couldn’t care less. He drew the malevolent sword. Summoning the full power of him, he forcefully broke the Space Seal.

“Dear all, the Desolate Galaxy has been sealed. Only a living being can get out alive.” James disappeared, but his voice was left behind. He did not forget to incite chaos even after the successful escape from him.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4128

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4128-James escaped. He obtained the providence that raised his All-Knowing Path and his physical power to the next level. But there were simply too many living beings and powerful figures that even Wotan, one of the top ten figures in the Chaos Ranking, could only contain them for ten minutes.

James was confident in his abilities, but he wasn't arrogant enough to fight so many powerful figures at once.

He was gone at lightning speed. He used the Space Path to leave and even erased the Path's traces so they couldn't sense his location.

The Desolate Galaxy was huge. After James left, he reappeared somewhere far away. Once again, he entered a thick forest. He sat on the branch of a huge tree in the lotus position to feel the physical power of it.

In fact, his physical power has been strengthened after immersing himself in the five-colored pool. With lowered eyebrows, he murmured softly. This was so hard. The five-colored pool's energy was comparable to that of the Fruit of Life, but its range was only slightly improved.

This fueled his determination. No matter how defiant he became, he would continue to cultivate, because it was the only hope humans had left. Whether or not humans could fend for themselves in the Greater Realms, whether or not he could cooperate with Thea again, whether or not he could change the fate of humanity before the Greater Realms found out, all of this was completely up to him.

"Thea, where are you?" James looked up at the starry sky. He felt powerless. In the universe he was in, his cultivation base was the highest, he was almost invincible. But now that he was in the Greater Realms, he was far from a truly powerful figure, the right to speak of him would be limited until he successfully became an Acmean.

James inhaled deeply. He didn't have time to think about these complex issues. For now, the most urgent thing was to survive and get out of Desolate Galaxy alive.

The number of powerful figures in the Galaxy was as much as the clouds in the sky. He has witnessed the amazing greatness of Wotan. Even if his range has now increased, he still wasn't sure he could defeat Wotan, let alone kill him.

James was wounded in the battle, where he chose to forcefully resist the collective attack of several Quasi Acmeans. His body was covered in countless wounds, just like his insides.

He sat on the tree branch and continued to recover from those injuries.

He summoned Life Path, allowing an immense amount of vitality to take over his injuries. At a speed visible to the naked eye, the wounds gradually healed. At the same time, he invoked the Power of Chaos to suppress the energies invading his system, chasing them.

His condition improved. After around a hundred years, his body made a full recovery.

He jumped, reappearing in the sky. Stretching his joints, his body emanated terrifying energies once more. He held his fists, smashing them into the void.

Pure physical power materialized into a weak, white fist. This fist attacked the formation of the Desolate Galaxy, producing a loud sound.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4129

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4129-An explosion occurred on the horizon. The fist that James created did not damage the formation. Instead, an invincible energy materialized from the horizon and headed in the direction of James.

James quickly avoided it. Hit! A huge chasm appeared below him.

“What a strong formation. If this huge ball of energy hit me, my skin would have been torn to shreds. If I survived, that is.” James took a deep breath.

He did not stay longer. He hid his own aura from him and entered an invisible mode, approaching the central area.

In the Desolate Galaxy, each living thing only had three thousand years to live. One could only kill others to increase their lifespan. Otherwise, the formation would eliminate them once their time limit runs out.

James had no hard feelings either. He was like the God of Death, reaping the death of living things as he walked in the dark. He was very careful, he only attacked those whose ranking was not high enough. He probably killed at least a thousand of them.

As for the Galaxy, it was in total chaos. In addition to the living things that formed alliances with others, the remaining figures fought and killed each other. The weak were eradicated, time and time again.

10,000 years have passed. Every corner of the Galaxy was in a state of war. Every second, a living being died horribly. The weak were exterminated. Those that remained were capable and mastered some form of supernatural art, and had a way of staying alive.

However, after 10,000 years of fierce battle, there were still many living things left in the Galaxy. It would still take quite a while until this fight could really end. This was because many living things were still hiding in the dark, hoping to escape by luck.

The formation of the Desolate Galaxy has merely been reduced by one percent. In other words, it would take another million years before the formation could contract to the core, meaning the final battle would only take place after a million years.

The formation would force all living things to focus on its center. Once everyone is there, it would be a zero sum game. There would be no more alliances.

Throughout these ten thousand years, James has also killed various living things, gaining a longer lifespan. The lifespan he accumulated now would allow him to survive until he left the core area.

“All.” A voice spread throughout the Galaxy. “After ten thousand years of battle, those who remain are the truly capable. Beware, because there will be another providence in the Galaxy.”

This was the voice of the living thing that was behind all of this.

Hearing the word providence, James got excited. The last time a providence appeared was 10,000 years ago. He greatly benefited from the previous treasure, both in terms of rank and power. If he could get a few more providences, his survival rate would definitely increase.

‘The providence this time is extremely gratifying. It will be a supernatural art, left behind by a Caelum Acmean from the Greater Realms. I think all of you have heard of the Master of the Compassionate Path. This is his legacy. Terrifying supernatural art.’

“In the Desolate Galaxy, there is a palace called the Palace of Compassion. Anyone who can find the Palace of Compassion will be rewarded by the supernatural art of the Master of the Compassionate Path. Whether or not you can get what you want will largely depend on your luck and providence.”

The voice rumbled next to the eardrums of all living beings.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4130

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4130-The Master of the Compassionate Path? Who the hell is this boy?’ James had no idea.

He only recognized the powerful figures in the Great Realm at the current time, not the ones that appeared in the past. However, he was aware of how powerful a Caelum Acmean was. It was the known pinnacle of cultivation. No one in the Greater Realm had come this far.

Now that Caelum Acmean’s legacy had appeared, many powerful figures were captivated. Even those who were of a super race were drawn to the legacy.

‘The Compassionate Palace, huh? Where is that?’ James muttered to himself.

The living thing that spoke only told them that the Palace was in the Desolate Galaxy, but he left out the details regarding its location.

Even so, since all living things in the Galaxy were figures of great power, searching for a palace in the Stone Kingdom would be an easy task, let alone a palace in the Desolate Galaxy.

James opened the Divine Sense from him. The Divine Sense from him spread to the surroundings like ripples. Everything that happened in the places where he touched his Divine Sense appeared in his mind.

Very quickly, the Divine Sense from him engulfed the entire Galaxy. Within the Galaxy, there were many historical remnants protected by formations. Even if the formations had aged, they were still strong enough to prevent the intrusion of James’ divine sense from detecting them.

James discovered that his Divine Sense was ignorant of over a hundred places in the Galaxy. This was, of course, excluding the central area, the Grand Desolate Canyon.

While his Divine Sense was exploring the Galaxy, other living beings were doing the same.

However, just like the conclusion James came to, there were around a hundred points within the Galaxy that were unreachable through his senses. So, there was no way to tell if the Compassionate Palace was one of them.

James couldn't be sure either. The only way to find out was to try, one by one.

He headed towards a historical rest that was located in the ocean.

The ocean was strange. The sea water was not blue, but black. Black mists floated out of the water. The mists condensed in the air, refusing to spread. Consequently, the area seemed quite strange. The base of the sea was what James's Divine Sense could not penetrate.

James appeared in the air. At the same moment, living things rushed into the area. Seeing James, some of them turned and left. James displayed his terrifying ability when he fought Wotan 10,000 years ago. He had not only received a providence and survived a collective attack by twenty Quasi Acmeans, but he had also made it out alive.

A figure like that was truly terrifying. If James messed with one, what he awaited them was only death.

However, James did not have time to worry about these living beings.

He floated over the sea. With the lifting of his hand, a seal materialized in his palm, producing massive energies.

Subsequently, he waved his hand casually, causing the powerful energy produced by his palm to cover the entire ocean. The waters stirred and flew towards a distant area.

James called upon his light to force himself away from these waters.

In the absence of such waters, what was left were bald mountains. Some mountains were hit, while some baseless chasms appeared on the ground.