

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4141

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4141-‘This is mine.’

James spoke before anyone else had a chance to, saying, “We already agreed beforehand that each of us would get something.”

After speaking, James stepped forward and appeared before the ball of light. It was an ancient book that shone with white light. James reached out and took the book.

The moment he touched it, the white light from the ancient book suddenly dimmed, and he left behind only an ordinary-looking ancient book. On the cover of the ancient book were some ancient writings: the Three Fire Transformations of Flame Art. Although the writings were quite old-fashioned, James was able to recognize them.

Wotan, who had accompanied him, saw the book in his hand. He took a deep breath after reading the ancient scriptures on the cover. Wotan’s expression indicated that he definitely knew what the Three Fire Transformations of the Flame Art were.

James looked at him and asked, “What’s wrong? Do you know anything about the Three Fire Transformations of the Flame Art?”

Wotan nodded and explained, “It is a renowned supernatural power in the Greater Realms. Although it is not as good as Joyful Omniscience, Chaos Sacred Art, and Primal Mantra, it is still an incredible supernatural power that cultivators can only dream of. obtain”.

When he heard this, James smiled slightly. He felt lucky to get such a remarkable blessing from the Palace of Compassion.

Wotan continued: “If I am not mistaken, there are some conditions that you must meet in order to cultivate the Three Fire Transformations of the Art of Flame.”

“What are the conditions?” James asked.

Wotan pointed to the ancient book. “Since the Master of the Compassionate Path left the manual here, he must have specified the conditions inside. You should open it and take a look for yourself.”

James opened the ancient book and began to leaf through it. As soon as he opened the book, some white characters floated from its pages. The words floated before James's eyes.

Only James, who was holding the ancient book, could see the words. Even Wotan, who was next to him, could not see them and saw only a dim light coming from the ancient book.

"I spent my entire life creating the Three Fire Transformations of Flame Art.

"Before you can cultivate this Supernatural Power, you must first meet several conditions. First, your physical strength must be at least Quasi Acme Rank.

"Secondly, you will have to absorb an Ignis. Only after absorbing this can you start cultivating the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations.

"Ignis are an extraordinary type of fire that only exists in the Greater Realms. It only occurs when a Super Universe is destroyed. Therefore, it is extremely rare."

The first page of the book documented the conditions one had to meet in order to cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations. As he read the requirements, James's brows furrowed. He continued reading the following pages.

The book said that he could find Ignis inside the Palace of Compassion. The Master of the Compassionate Path had specially prepared it since they were hard to find and he did not want his legacy to disappear.

Detailed instructions on how to absorb and refine Ignis were also recorded in the ancient book.

James read the ancient book for a while, then closed it.

Wotan looked at it and asked: "How was it? Could you understand its contents?"

James nodded slightly and said, "Yes."

Wotan said: 'The conditions for cultivating the Three Fire Transformations of Flame Art are very demanding. The most difficult among them is to absorb and refine the Ignis. The power that an Ignis has is equivalent to the strength of an Acmean. If a cultivator below Acme rank had even the slightest contact with an Ignis, his body would instantly be reduced to ash.”

Wotan was a very mysterious person and seemed to have quite a bit of knowledge. Although he had never before seen the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations with his own eyes, he had read about it in his sect’s ancient books.

Wotan asked James: “Do you still want the book?”

“Of course, why wouldn’t I?” James put the old book away.

His next step would be to search for the Flames mentioned in the book, which was also located inside the Palace of Compassion.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4142

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4142-James put the ancient book away, leaving Wotan somewhat disappointed. The Three Fire Transformations of Flame Art was a marvelous Supernatural Art, and it was coveted even by Acmeans. However, he and James had a prior agreement, so he couldn’t voice his objections.

“The rest of the blessings will be mine, then. Are you okay with this?” Wotan looked at James.

James nodded encouragement. “Everything else in the library chamber is yours.”

The Three Flame Art Fire Transformations was the most promising blessing on the highest floor. Since James had already obtained the best blessing in the palace, he had no interest in the other manuals.

Wotan turned and went down the stairs. Many excellent and top-tier supernatural power manuals were stored on the eighth floor, all of which were hard to find outside the palace.

Wotan didn’t check them properly and just hid everything. He went to each floor and emptied all the closets. After he finished, the two men looked towards the elixir room.

James broke the silence first and said, “The Flame Art Three Fire Transformations manual states that a frost pill is stored within the elixir room. This is a vital component needed to refine the flames. That is the only thing What do I need from the elixir room, you.” you can have the rest.

He wasn’t sure what other treasures were stored in the elixir room, but he didn’t want anything else. He just wanted to keep the frozen pill.

“Sure, no problem”. Wotan had no objections.

The two of them walked towards the elixir room. A pleasant fragrance wafted out of the room as the door was opened.

The elixir room was huge and had many shelves inside. Countless bottles were arranged on the shelves. Each of the bottles was labeled with ancient words at the bottom.

“Infinity Pill, Miracle Pill, Soul Restoration Pill...”

James examined the bottles one by one.

The elixirs and pills stored within the room were extraordinary. Creating them required rare materials and ordinary alchemists couldn’t refine them.

Wotan was beside himself with joy at the sight of all the pills and elixirs. He quickly put them away without hesitation. Meanwhile, James noticed a lone cabinet with a white bottle. A few ancient characters were inscribed on the bottom of the bottle: Ice Pill.

James hurried over and took the small bottle.

As soon as he touched the bottle, an icy sensation bit into his hand. His palm began to freeze before his eyes and the frost slowly crept up his arm. Soon, his entire body was frozen.

James took a deep breath and exclaimed, “Unbelievable.”

The pill was still inside the bottle but it was capable of releasing so much power. If he consumed it and refined it, surely its effects would be much more powerful. James quickly used his power to expel the Cold Energy from his body.

Wotan spoke next to him: “I also know about the Frost Pill. In order to cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations, you must absorb an Ignis. Ordinary cultivators would die after coming into contact with an Ignis. The Frost Pill can protect your body and suppresses the power of the Ignis, allowing you to absorb and refine it. The Master of the Compassionate Path must have known his fate and prepared everything here in advance.”

Wotan was envious of James. He could have improved his strength considerably if he had obtained the Three Fire Transformations Flame Art manual and cultivated it successfully.

Unfortunately, James was lucky enough to get it himself. If James successfully cultivated the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations, Wotan was not sure that he could defeat James.

He looked at James and said, “Forty-nine. Regardless of whether we have to fight each other in the final battle, I hope you can figure out the formation around Planet Desolation. After undoing the formation, leave, and you can have all the benefits of Planet Desolation for you”.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4143

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4143-Wotan was very confident in his own strength. However, James was a cultivator with untold potential. He was a human and had reached the middle of the Seventh Stage of the Path of Omniscience. Furthermore, he obtained the Three Fires Flame Art Transformation.

Wotan’s confidence waned as he stood before James.

James smiled and said: “We haven’t reached the final stage yet. If I can really nullify the formation around Planet Desolation, I will definitely do it and help you leave.”

Hearing this, Wotan was relieved. Wotan had great faith in James and he believed that he would eventually become one of the foremost cultivators in the Greater Realms if he survived.

When he arrives at that time, the tyranny of the Ten Great Races will come to an end and the tables will be reversed. The Human Race that he had been suffering from all these years would finally rise again and become one of the most influential races in the Greater Realms.

It was quite possible that the Human Race could even gain leadership over the Greater Realms.

Apart from Frost Pill, the other elixirs and pills were also valuable. Therefore, Wotan unreservedly stored everything for himself.

James and Wotan wandered through the Palace of Compassion, dividing among themselves the things left behind by the Master of the Path of Compassion. The Master of the Compassionate Path was a powerful Acmean who lived for a long time. He amassed great wealth during his lifetime, including a large sum of Acmean Genesis Stones.

Acmean Genesis Stones are extraordinary stones formed in heaven and earth. They contained indescribable power and were the final forms of Roads.

Acmean Genesis Stones were also used as currency in Acmean society and they were more refined than ordinary Genesis Stones. 10,000,000,000 Genesis Stones only equaled one Acmean Genesis Stone. The Master of the Compassionate Path had left behind tens of billions of Acmean Genesis Stones.

James and Wotan divided the Acmean Genesis Stones fairly and each took half of the total.

Finally, the two of them reached the back mountains of the Palace of Compassion.

One last treasure remained: the Ignis.

In the back mountains of the Palace of Compassion, there was a bottomless abyss. The two of them felt scorching heat radiating from below as they approached the abyss. Although both were powerful, the heat was almost intolerable.

Wotan stood on the cliff and looked down into the abyss. He could see a ball of fire floating in the background. The white flames looked extremely strange as if it was a spirit being flickering motionless in place.

“That’s the Ignis.”

Wotan said, “You have already obtained the greatest treasure left behind by the Master of the Compassionate Path. I am no longer needed here, so help me bypass the formation first. Then, you can obtain the Ignis and farm here.”

Wotan wanted to go farm alone for a while. He had obtained countless elixirs and various Supernatural Power manuals. Therefore, he wanted to find a place to cultivate and try to increase his strength. Only by doing so could he increase his chances of survival on Planet Desolation.

James casually waved his hand, and the Formation Inscriptions appeared on his palm.

He passed them to Wotan and said: “With these inscriptions, you can leave this place safely.”

Wotan accepted the inscriptions and said, “See you. I hope you surprise me the next time we meet again.”

Bidding farewell, Wotan turned and left.

James was left alone on the cliff. He looked at the ball of fire in the abyss below, and his heart pounded.

“Ignis contain the strength of an Acmean. They are so powerful that the Acmeans themselves fear them. If I refine the Ignis and cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations, my strength would skyrocket.”

James took a deep breath and calmed down.

The Ignis was overwhelming. Although James had the icy pill, absorbing and refining the Ignis would be arduous. Without it, he would be devoured by the power of the Ignis and burned until nothing was left of him.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4144

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4144-Wotan left the Palace of Compassion.

James stood on the cliff, stared into the deep chasm in front of him, and saw a ball of white fire at the bottom. The fire kept flickering erratically and changing shape. At the same time, it emitted a sweltering heat. Furthermore, the fireball was protected by a formation. If this had not been the case, the temperature in the area would have been even higher.

Even at James's current cultivation range, it was difficult to tolerate the heat. He began to sweat profusely and it seeped into his clothes.

James's brows were tightly knit. He knew it wasn't going to be easy to absorb the Ignis. Even though he had acquired Frost Pill, it was still an uphill task. If he successfully absorbed and refined the power of the Ignis, he would fulfill the necessary prerequisites to cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations. His strength would greatly increase once he mastered the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations. the flame.

James stayed on the cliff for a while. Then he took a deep breath and slowly descended into the abyss. Soon, he arrived in front of the formation. With his knowledge of formations, deciphering the formation was not difficult. However, the flames from the Ignis would immediately spread to the surroundings once the formation disappeared.

James did not dare to hastily undo the formation. He stood in front of the formation and carefully inspected it. James was pressed for time. He set up a time formation around him to buy more time to act.

Then, he continued to analyze the formation.

30 years passed in the blink of an eye.

James had spent an even longer time in the time formation. He had thoroughly studied the formation and now understood it intimately. He was confident that he could delve deeper into the abyss without having to break formation.

James slowly approached the formation. As soon as he got closer, the surface of him became unbelievably strange and spread out in a circle like ripples on the surface of water. The waves contained great power and were capable of killing an Acmean.

Fortunately, James already fully understood the formation. He casually waved his hand at him, and the Formation Inscriptions emerged and surrounded his body. The ripples disappeared instantly.

James entered the formation without causing him any harm. Soon, he appeared at the bottom of the abyss and approached the Ignis. Once he entered the formation, he felt a wave of searing heat.

Although his physical strength had reached the middle stage of Quasi Acme Rank, he found it difficult to withstand the intense heat. His skin turned red and a burning sensation covered his body. He gathered the energy from him but barely managed to resist the high temperature.

“I’m already struggling to absorb such a small amount of Ignis. If I were to touch the flames directly, I would instantly be reduced to ash. How am I supposed to absorb and refine it?” James frowned.

Pausing for a moment, James took out the small bottle that contained the frozen pill. He twisted the cap and shook the pill. The pill was white and about the size of a grape.

A cold sensation spread through his hand and throughout his body as soon as the pill touched his palm. The Cold Energy nullified the heat, slightly relieving James of the discomfort.

James looked at the white ball of fire in front of him. Then, he opened his mouth and consumed the Frost Pill. When he swallowed the pill, a chill ran through his body. James turned into an ice sculpture in the next instant. Although the Ignis radiated scorching heat, it did not melt.

James was frozen and covered in ice. The Cold Energy protected the internal organs and meridians from him. Despite being frozen, James was still fully conscious. With much difficulty, he managed to get close to the Ignis.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4145

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4145-Within the manual of the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations, it was stated that the duration of Frost Pill’s effect only lasted for around 1,000,000 years. Therefore, James had to absorb and refine the Ignis within this period. Otherwise, it would be impossible for him to refine the Ignis with his current strength once Frost Pill’s effect wears off.

Unfortunately, the time limit was absolute and did not match the time spent in the real world. Therefore, Frost Pill’s effect would still fade even if James spent a million years in the time formation.

James walked over to the Ignis and stood a meter away from it.

The Ignis glowed ravenously, searing waves of heat washing over it continually. The high temperature melted the ice on his body.

However, his body was constantly replenishing Cold Energy, which helped him resist the heat.

After consuming the icy pill, James was temporarily relieved of the heat until the effects of it wore off. Furthermore, he had an Elemental Sacred Body. His Elemental Sacred Body contained the Genesis of Fire and was slightly resistant to the effects of Ignis.

James sat in a lotus position in the abyss and set up a time formation around his body. He looked at the floating ball of white flame before him. With a thought, he unleashed a powerful force to encapsulate the Ignis.

He used his strength to bring a part of the Ignis towards him. James gasped and pulled the Ignis towards her. Then he swallowed it.

The Ignis entered his body and burned James's throat almost instantly. Even with the help of Frost Pill, he still got hurt trying to refine it. The Ignis passed through their meridians and caused damage where they passed.

The ice on James's body continuously melted, but the Cold Energy from his body continued to penetrate his body to resist the power of the Ignis.

"Sigh!" James took a deep breath.

"It's so powerful! Without the icy pill, I could have died as soon as I interacted with it. I wouldn't even have a chance to absorb or refine it."

After taking a deep breath, James calmed down.

Then, he slowly began to refine the Ignis that he had consumed according to the cultivation method recorded in the Three Fire Transformations Flame Art manual. The cultivation method was very miraculous and profound.

Fortunately, James was strong enough, he only needed one look to subdue him.

James used the cultivation method to slowly distribute the power of the Ignis along the meridians of his body.

The process took 100,000 years.

During this time, James had been carefully refining the small portion of Ignis. With his persistent effort, he successfully managed to refine it. The portion of Ignis that James had consumed was minuscule and was the size of a tadpole stored within James' elixir field.

"I've finally absorbed that little bit."

James took a deep breath and muttered: 'The first step is always the hardest. Now that I've refined a part, it will get progressively easier.'

A hundred thousand years passed and the effects of Frost Pill weakened slightly. Fortunately, James had refined a part of the Ignis and his physical body had developed some resistance towards his heat.

James looked at the remaining Ignis in front of him. Then he separated another slice and brought it to her.

The Ignis entered his body through his mouth, nose, and pores.

This time, James took in a larger portion of Ignis.

The Ignis entered his body, and James immediately turned red from the intense heat. The heat ravaged his body even with Frost Pill's protection. At that moment, this body began to be covered in wounds.

However, James forcefully resisted the Ignis' attack. He used the power of his Life Path to heal his wounds.

The time he had left to refine the Ignis was constantly running out and he had to act quickly.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4146

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4146-A large part of the Ignis entered James's mouth, nose and pores.

Although James had consumed the frozen pill, the fire still burned through his body. Soon, bloody cuts covered his skin. His internal organs and meridians were also burned.

Other than that, he didn't do any other damage.

The Frost Pill's power protected him and his physical strength was strong enough to withstand the injuries. Furthermore, he also had dominion over the Path of Life. Therefore, he could quickly recover from his injuries as long as he remained alive.

James stabilized himself and called upon the power of the Life Path to treat his injuries. At the same time, he continued to refine the Ignis.

Minutes passed.

In just the blink of an eye, a million years passed in the formation of time.

The effect of Frost Pill had almost worn off.

Fortunately, James had already consumed most of the Ignis, with only a little left before him. Over the past 1,000,000 years, James's physical body gradually adapted to the Ignis and became resistant to their deadly heat. He had already refined most of the Ignis, and the rest would not be able to harm him even if Frost Pill's effects wore off.

"Sigh!" James took a deep breath.

Seeing that there was only a bit of Ignis left, James muttered exhaustedly, "I'm almost done. Frost Pill's effectiveness is almost gone, so it will take me a while to refine the last part."

James rested for a while. While he was resting, the effect of Frost Pill completely disappeared. After a short breather, James continued to absorb and refine the rest of the Ignis. He controlled the Ignis, pulling it close to him, and then sucked it in through his pores.

As soon as he came into contact with the Ignis, a large part of his skin was burned. His flesh was instantly incinerated.

The Ignis had indescribable power. Even though James had already refined most of it and developed a resistance, he ended up taking damage because he now lacked Frost Pill's protection.

The power of the Ignis continued to burn through his body. Almost all of his skin was burned in just an instant. He left her bones exposed and the damage caused cracks to form everywhere. James summoned the power of the Life Path from him. Power flowed through his body and quickly regenerated his burned flesh. The Ignis constantly damaged his physical body and he recovered from all the injuries he suffered with the power of his Life Path.

During this period, James experienced excruciating pain. The process of refining the last bit of Ignis took many years. After staying in the time formation for countless years, he finally absorbed and fully processed the Ignis.

James stood up abruptly, and the white Ignis lit up his eyes. He activated the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations cultivation method. Suddenly, a ball of white flames appeared in his palm. The flames were beautiful and short-lived. Yet beneath his bewitching appearance was an all-consuming power.

Even if James hadn't been able to cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations, he would still be invincible against Quasi Acmeans since he wielded the Ignis. Now, only the mighty Acmeans could stand against him.

James wanted to stay in the abyss and practice the Three Fire Transformations of the Flame Art. He also wanted to improve his Formation Path and use it to cultivate other Paths. Through this, he was able to raise his cultivation rank to Quasi Acmean Rank and consolidate all the Paths he had mastered into the Path of Chaos. By doing so, his Path of Chaos would be at Quasi Acme Rank, and he would possess insane strength.

However, he had already isolated himself in the abyss for a long time. 30,000 years had already passed in the outside world. He was unaware of what had been going on outside all this time and he had no idea if new blessings and opportunities had appeared.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4147

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4147-James decided to leave the Palace of Compassion and head to Planet Desolation to assess the current situation before making any further plans.

There was still some time left before the decisive battle, so he did not have to rush his cultivation. He would be strong enough to defeat everyone as long as he could reach Quasi Acme rank and cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations.

James put the Ignis away and stretched out his body, which he creaked in response.

Absorbing and refining the Ignis effectively tempered his body. Therefore, his physical strength was more robust than before. However, he had not yet reached the last stage of the Quasi Acme Rank, but luckily he was not far from it. It was likely that he would catch up with him very soon if he got a few more blessings.

After absorbing and refining the Ignis, James chose to stop cultivating and set out to leave the abyss. He flew towards the formation barrier and easily missed it. As soon as James appeared out of the formation, he saw many creatures outside. They were all unwilling to give up the Master of the Compassionate Way's inheritance.

Although James and Wotan had been in the Palace of Compassion for tens of thousands of years, they still had hope of getting something. When Wotan entered the Palace of Compassion, he came out quite quickly. However, he did not say anything to the crowd and quickly left the area. Therefore, those waiting outside had no idea what happened inside the formation and did not know if Wotan had obtained anything.

Now that James was also leaving the formation, he drew a lot of attention. Among the group were many powerhouses from various major races. Even Leilani, Wynnstan, and a few other powerhouses were present.

"Forty-nine is back!"

"He Emerged after thirty thousand years. I wonder if he obtained the Master of the Compassionate Path's inheritance..."

"So what if he got it? How much better can he be in just thirty thousand years? Wotan is already gone. Now that he's not here, it's time we killed Forty-Nine."

James immediately noticed hostile glares directed at him. He also noticed that the space around the area had been sealed.

Tens of thousands of eyes stared at him hungrily. However, he only smiled slightly. He would have tried to break the seal and escape if his strength was the same as when he first entered the Palace of Compassion. Now, he wasn't afraid of them at all.

James walked towards them confidently. Some creatures stepped back in response.

James appeared at the base of the mountain and looked at the creatures before him. The faint smile was still on his face as he said, "Thirty thousand years have already passed, but are they still lurking here?"

"Forty nine?"

Wynnstan stood up, pointed at him, and said coldly, "Now that Wotan is gone, you won't be able to escape this place even if you have the greatest treasure in the Palace of Compassion. You will die here today."

"Is that so?"

James did not take Wynnstan's threats seriously.

He looked around him and his eyes swept over each person. Everyone who met his gaze inadvertently backed away nervously.

James said coldly: "I don't intend to go on a killing spree either. If you treasure your lives, you can leave instantly. I won't make things difficult for anyone. If you don't leave, I will interpret it." as a hostile intent, and I will show no mercy."

Some of the creatures paled at his threat. Those with weaker cultivation bases chose to flee the place.

Wynnstan noticed the creatures around him considering leaving and yelled at them, "Don't listen to him! He's scared and just trying to scare everyone away. If we attack him all at once, we can kill him. If we don't kill him now, he'll slaughter everyone." everyone if he leaves this place."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4148

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4148-James decided to leave the Palace of Compassion and head to Planet Desolation to assess the current situation before making any further plans.

There was still some time left before the decisive battle, so he did not have to rush his cultivation. He would be strong enough to defeat everyone as long as he could reach Quasi Acme rank and cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations.

James put the Ignis away and stretched out his body, which he creaked in response.

Absorbing and refining the Ignis effectively tempered his body. Therefore, his physical strength was more robust than before. However, he had not yet reached the last stage of the Quasi Acme Rank, but luckily he was not far from it. It was likely that he would catch up with him very soon if he got a few more blessings.

After absorbing and refining the Ignis, James chose to stop cultivating and set out to leave the abyss. He flew towards the formation barrier and easily missed it. As soon as James appeared out of the formation, he saw many creatures outside. They were all unwilling to give up the Master of the Compassionate Way's inheritance.

Although James and Wotan had been in the Palace of Compassion for tens of thousands of years, they still had hope of getting something. When Wotan entered the Palace of Compassion, he came out quite quickly. However, he did not say anything to the crowd and quickly left the area. Therefore, those waiting outside had no idea what happened inside the formation and did not know if Wotan had obtained anything.

Now that James was also leaving the formation, he drew a lot of attention. Among the group were many powerhouses from various major races. Even Leilani, Wynnstan, and a few other powerhouses were present.

"Forty-nine is back!"

"He Emerged after thirty thousand years. I wonder if he obtained the Master of the Compassionate Path's inheritance..."

"So what if he got it? How much better can he be in just thirty thousand years? Wotan is already gone. Now that he's not here, it's time we killed Forty-Nine."

James immediately noticed hostile glares directed at him. He also noticed that the space around the area had been sealed.

Tens of thousands of eyes stared at him hungrily. However, he only smiled slightly. He would have tried to break the seal and escape if his strength was the same as when he first entered the Palace of Compassion. Now, he wasn't afraid of them at all.

James walked towards them confidently. Some creatures stepped back in response.

James appeared at the base of the mountain and looked at the creatures before him. The faint smile was still on his face as he said, "Thirty thousand years have already passed, but are they still lurking here?"

"Forty nine?"

Wynnstan stood up, pointed at him, and said coldly, "Now that Wotan is gone, you won't be able to escape this place even if you have the greatest treasure in the Palace of Compassion. You will die here today."

"Is that so?"

James did not take Wynnstan's threats seriously.

He looked around him and his eyes swept over each person. Everyone who met his gaze inadvertently backed away nervously.

James said coldly: "I don't intend to go on a killing spree either. If you treasure your lives, you can leave instantly. I won't make things difficult for anyone. If you don't leave, I will interpret it." as a hostile intent, and I will show no mercy."

Some of the creatures paled at his threat. Those with weaker cultivation bases chose to flee the place.

Wynnstan noticed the creatures around him considering leaving and yelled at them, "Don't listen to him! He's scared and just trying to scare everyone away. If we attack him all at once, we can kill him. If we don't kill him now, he'll slaughter everyone." everyone if he leaves this place."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4149

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4149-They all knew Wynnstan's background very well. He was a very prestigious powerhouse of the Doom Race and had overwhelming strength. Despite that, he was so easily eliminated. Not only was his physical body destroyed, but his soul also did not escape being annihilated.

After witnessing Wynnstan's death, the surrounding creatures were horrified. Even those who wanted to kill James felt afraid of his strength.

They all backed away from James.

"What kind of flames were those? Why are they so powerful?"

I've never seen or read about this before."

"He has been hiding his strength very well."

"I don't think he's been hiding it. He must have obtained it from the Palace of Compassion."

After James killed Wynnstan, a powerhouse of the Doom Race, everyone was completely blown away. Everyone present couldn't believe it, but they had witnessed it with their own eyes.

James put the Ignis away and took a deep breath. He knew how terrifyingly powerful the Ignis was. Even though his physical strength reached the Quasi Acme range, he still found it difficult to resist Ignis's power as he tried to refine it. It was only natural that the other creatures found it even more terrifying.

This was the first time he had used the Ignis in battle and he was pleased with the results. The power of the Ignis was terrifying and he could be further enhanced if he used it to cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations.

James cast his gaze over the crowd. The creatures immediately trembled in fear and backed away from him. Finally, James' eyes landed on Leilani's group. More than a dozen Quasi Acmeans were standing over her.

James walked over to her. The Quasi Acmeans group fell back a bit and considered fleeing the area. Without hesitation, some quickly fled and disappeared from the scene.

After the first individual fled, several others followed. In just an instant, many creatures had left the area. Moments later, tens of thousands of them were already out of sight.

James didn't chase after them as he just wanted to test Ignis's power.

After discovering the extent of his strength, he wasn't interested in fighting the other creatures. Although they fled, they would eventually reunite at the Grand Desolate Canyon when the formation thinned out.

However, one creature was left behind. It was none other than Leilani.

Leilana was standing in the distance, wearing her white dress. She had an amazing figure and was extremely beautiful. She had a very seductive aura and her every move was seductive.

Jame crossed the space and stood in front of her.

Leilani smiled a bright smile.

"Congratulations on improving your strength, Forty-nine. Wotan is probably the only person who has a strength on par with yours on Planet Desolation.

James shot him a look.

When Wotan was protecting him, Leilani proposed an alliance. However, when they encountered difficulties, she stabbed them in the back and attacked Wotan. Leilani was a beautiful but extremely calculating woman.

She immediately noticed the murderous look on her face. Her smile gradually faded and she slowly backed away. Looking at James, she cautiously asked, "W-What are you trying to do? You're not thinking of attacking me, are you?"

James took a deep breath and said: "In light of our previous friendship, I will spare your life. However, from now on, we are even. The next time we meet, it will be as opponents."

James didn't do anything to him. After all, Leilani had helped him in the past. Therefore, he now considered her debt to her paid.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4150

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4150-James left the area, leaving Leilani behind. Leilani felt his mind go blank and she froze in place.

James had displayed terrifying power. She still remembered meeting James for the first time. He did everything possible to curry favor with her.

However, he had become so powerful in just a short period. Even Leilani was wary of him at his current cultivation rank.

He immediately understood that he had made a mistake in attacking Wotan. If he hadn't betrayed them, he could have left Planet Desolation alive because James had already figured out the formation around the planet. James could open up the formation and let her out at the end. However, she missed the chance on her.

"Sigh." Leilani sighed helplessly.

Meanwhile, James had already left. The news that James killed Wynnstan instantly spread across Planet Desolation, and everyone had heard of the battle. James had already become a more fearsome existence than Wotan. Although Wotan was strong, he could not instantly kill a Quasi Acmean. However, James was capable of doing exactly that.

As the news spread like wildfire, James ran towards the central part of the Desolation Planet. Soon, he arrived out of the Grand Desolate Canyon.

At the center of Planet Desolation was the Grand Desolate Canyon. In the past, a power split Planet Desolation with a sword. Planet Desolation was a major world with a very powerful Heavenly Path.

Although the planet was split in half, it did not fall apart. Instead, an unknown black hole appeared at the center, and thus the rift was named the Grand Desolate Canyon.

James approached the Grand Desolate Canyon and felt a powerful force within the area. Even at his current cultivation range, the powerful strength made him cautious. He stood outside the Grand Desolate Canyon and looked at the black hole.

A powerful force radiated from the mysterious black hole. Standing in front of him, James felt tiny.

'What exactly is inside the Grand Desolate Canyon? James thought.

The contents and inhabitants of the Grand Desolate Canyon remained a mystery. It was rumored that even the strongest cultivator from the Greater Realms would not be able to reach the depths of the Grand Desolate Canyon. Only an Acmean Caelum could venture into the depths of the Grand Desolate Canyon. However, no powerhouse in the Greater Realms had reached Caelum Acme Rank.

James cleared his mind. He found a place near the Grand Desolate Canyon and sat in a lotus position. All that was left for him to do was wait for the formation to contract and force everyone to gather in the Grand Desolate Canyon for the final showdown. No one could escape this result.

While he waited, James decided to cultivate. He wanted to raise his cultivation rank to Quasi Acme rank. So, he could cultivate the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations.

James believed that once he mastered the Three Flame Art Fire Transformations, he would be invincible.

He sat in a lotus position on the ground, set up a formation, and began to cultivate.

A strange formation inscription appeared before him. The strange Formation Inscription gradually began to transform and split into numerous simpler Formation Inscriptions. The Formation Inscriptions revolved around James's body.

Even the Formation Inscription could evolve into a rank 9 Macrocosm Power. James studied them closely, wanting to perfect the Formation Inscriptions, and developed them up to Quasi Acme Rank.

The minutes passed slowly.

500,000 years passed outside the formation of time.

During this period, various promising blessings appeared on the planet. However, James ignored them. What he had acquired was already enough, so he focused on cultivating it.