

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4161

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4161-“So what if our opponents are a human prodigy and an Acmean?”

“Everyone, unite and maintain the protective barrier.”

The group of creatures rallied each other.

Wotan looked at James and asked, “What should we do now?”

James thought awhile and said, “What else is there to do? Our only option is to kill them after breaching their barrier.”

James still had his hidden weapon, the Flame Art’s Three Fire Transformations.

However, James was unsure if there were other Acmeans still lurking around unbeknownst to him. He wanted to refrain from using it unless it was absolutely necessary.

James instructed Wotan, “You’ll strike them from the left. I’ll attack from the right.”

Then, he summoned a sword. The blade was black and with a slightly curved tip. It was James’ reforged Malevolent Sword. The Malevolent Sword’s strength surpassed a Chaotic Treasure and could already be considered an Acmean God Weapon.

Holding the Malevolent Sword in his hand, James could sense a powerful force buried within it. He disappeared and reappeared in front of the creatures in a flash. Wotan did not remain idle and quickly followed suit, appearing on the other side of the barrier.

As soon as James got close, Sigmund charged at him. Sigmund had already reverted to his original form. Under normal circumstances, he would never have the courage to fight James. However, he was protected by a powerful barrier, he was not afraid.

James slashed at the barrier, slicing through the void.

Sigmund quickly dodged the attack.

Sword Energy collided with the protective barrier, but Sigmund remained unscathed.

“This is going to be difficult.” James frowned a little.

While James was distracted, several other powerhouses appeared around him and launched deadly attacks at him. James remained calm.

A chaotic battle broke out instantly.

James and Wotan were each surrounded by dozens of Quasi Acmeans. The Quasi Acmeans held their own against James and Wotan with the help of the protective barrier.

James and Wotan had no choice and were continuously forced back. After fighting for some time, James and Wotan were at a disadvantage. Both of them sustained damage. Fortunately, none of their wounds were fatal.

Without using the Flame Art’s Three Fire Transformations and Chaos Power, James fought with all of his strength. Yet, he was unable to kill even one of their opponents. Wotan also faced the same issue. He had urged all his strength yet failed to kill anyone.

Their battle caused massive destruction in the area.

As the fight raged on, a figure watched the battle from the deepest part of the Desolate Grand Canyon. He observed each creature’s performance and was trying to guess who would be the last survivor.

James was besieged outside the Desolate Grand Canyon.

Swoosh!

A beam of Sword Energy pierced through the air and rushed toward him.

The Sword Energy traveled at a blinding speed. James was engaged in combat at that moment with the other powerhouses. It was already too late when he attempted to block the Sword Energy.

Although he had superb physical strength, the Sword Energy still managed to pierce through his body. His body was run through by the Sword Energy and a bloody wound formed. Fortunately, the injury was not serious enough to weaken him.

James immediately used the Life Path's power, and his injuries quickly recovered.

It was then that James decided not to hold back anymore. His power would lessen significantly if the fight were prolonged. It would be difficult to overpower the powerhouses if he was exhausted.

James urged all his Path Powers and merged them into Chaos Power. As soon as his Chaos Power formed, his aura increased significantly.

His aura had even surpassed Wotan who was an Acmean. "Break!"

After forming his Chaos Power, James attacked the protective barrier.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4162

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4162-Chaos Power was unique to the Doom Race. James did not know how the Dooms cultivated Chaos Power. In his case, he needed to comprehend the various Paths of heaven and earth to generate pure Chaos Power.

He cultivated Chaos Power assisted by Thea's machinations. However, it was not pure Chaos Power yet. He slowly explored and integrated the various Paths of heaven and Earth into his Chaos Path, which allowed him to perfect his Chaos Power.

James did not hold back anymore since it now came down to his survival. He quickly summoned his Chaos Power. His Chaos Power was channeled into the Malevolent Sword, and Chaos Sword Energy burst out to strike the protective barrier below him.

Chaos Power was supreme, and no other race in the Greater Realms had power that could transcend it.

The creatures hiding inside the protective barrier were unafraid of James' attack. However, they immediately sensed the anomaly after the Chaos Sword Energy approached the protective barrier.

"Th-This is...?"

“Such powerful force.”

“Is this Chaos Power?”

“How is that possible? He’s a human. How is it possible for him to cultivate Chaos Power?”

The prodigies of the different races were all surprised, and their expressions reflected that. They could not believe a human had used the Doom Race’s Chaos Power.

James used Chaos Power when he killed Wynnstan. However, since Wynnstan was from the Doom Race, the other creatures thought the Chaos Power came from him. No one even considered the possibility that the Chaos Power belonged to James.

Boom!

The Chaos Sword Energy slammed into the protective barrier. When the Chaos Sword Energy crashed into the protective barrier, two terrifying forces resisted each other. This resulted in a devastating explosion.

A few weaker creatures in the protective barrier vomited blood after being rocked around by the force. Even the stronger ones were unable to stand firm. The protective barrier formed by the collective strength of the 30,000 creatures began to show signs of damage.

Wotan took notice from a distance and promptly charged at the protective barrier. It was terrifying when an Acmean used all their strength. The protective barrier was already slightly damaged by James. As soon as Wotan attacked, more cracks formed along the barrier.

However, there were 30,000 powerhouses inside the protective barrier. As soon as the cracks formed, they quickly used their power to stabilize the barrier.

Meanwhile, James repeatedly attacked the barrier.

One after another, Sword Energies flew out of the Malevolent Sword. His Sword Energies shot toward the protective barrier like meteorites.

Even though the barrier could withstand his attack, it took significant damage. The power that resisted the barrier was distributed among the 30,000 powerhouses, constantly causing them harm.

Seeing this, the powerhouses inside the protective barrier looked on solemnly.

James was too powerful. He reached the middle stage of the Omniscience Path's Seventh Stage. In addition, he was a Quasi Acmean that had cultivated Chaos Power. James' strength was already on par with an Acmean. He was stronger than ordinary cultivators who had just entered the Permanence Acme Rank.

Moreover, they also had to face Wotan, who was an Acmean.

With James and Wotan attacking in tandem, the protective barrier formed by the 30,000 powerhouses began to break under the strain.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4163

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4163-The protective barrier was damaged because a few among the 30,000 creatures secretly held back their strength. They did not regard James and Wotan as their final opponents. Thus, they wanted to preserve their strength to seize the treasure after eliminating the two biggest threats.

Someone in the protective barrier shouted, "Guys, stop holding back! We need to go all out now! If you continue limiting your strength, we're all going to die!"

The others also sensed the dangerous force closing in on them and knew they would die at this rate. At that moment, those holding back hurriedly channeled all their strength to reinforce and strengthen the formation.

Meanwhile, James and Wotan continued to attack them relentlessly.

James slashed the Malevolent Sword, and streams of Sword Energies fell on the protective barrier like a meteor shower. He summoned the Sacred Blossom at the same time, unleashing its power on the barrier as well.

On the other hand, Wotan was also merciless and attacked with all his strength.

The space around the protective barrier was already shattered, and several black holes formed from the intense onslaught.

James cursed, “Damn it. They’re so persistent.”

He had already urged his Chaos Power but still could not break the protective barrier.

Wotan also telepathically communicated with James, saying, “We’re not going to get anywhere at this rate. There are thirty thousand of them, but only two of us. If we continue exhausting our strength like this, we’ll be worn out before we can break the protective barrier.”

James pondered his words. Wotan was right. With 30,000 opponents, they could take turns to rest and recover their strength.

However, James and Wotan were struggling to stay afloat.

James replied telepathically, “We’ve only one option. We need to sow discord among them and break the barrier from within.”

Wotan frowned. “How do we do that? They’ve united with the determination to get rid of us. It’s almost impossible to stir up internal conflict now.”

James looked at the 30,000 powerhouses below them.

He saw a familiar figure among the creatures—Leilani.

James knew to win the battle and kill his opponents, he would have to persuade Leilani.

After devising a plan, James immediately activated his Path Power and contacted Leilani.

“Only one creature is supposed to leave her alive. Do you know why Wotan is fighting with me, Leilani?”

Leilani was focused on pouring all her strength into the protective barrier. When she heard the voice echo in her mind, she raised her head and glanced at James, who was continuously bombarding the protective barrier from the sky. James continued, saying, "That's because I can bypass the formation. After the battle, I'll break the formation around this planet and allow Wotan to leave safely. I'm offering you a chance to leave here alive, but I'll need you to cooperate with me."

Leilani had a hesitant look, unsure if she could trust James.

James noticed her doubtful expression and said, "Before coming to Planet Desolation, your father spoke to me."

Hearing this, Leilani finally replied to him, "What did he say?"

James responded, "He knew I was human as soon as we met. However, he did not expose my identity. Thus, I must ensure that you leave this planet alive. If you die, and I leave without you, he'll definitely hold a grudge against me. If that happens and he reveals my human background, it'll be hard for me to move around in the Greater Realms.

"Work with me to break the protective barrier, and I'll make sure you leave safe and sound."

Leilani wavered after hearing James' words.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4164

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4164-James' only hope of breaking the protective barrier was Leilani.

The protective barrier formed by the collective strength of 30,000 powerhouses was simply too strong. Even when James and Wotan joined forces, they could not breach it. If they continued to drain their energy fruitlessly, they would be exhausted before breaking the barrier.

While attacking the protective barrier, James observed Leilani.

James and Wotan's onslaught was aggressive. The creatures within the protective barrier did not dare to fight them rashly. The two had displayed Acmean-level strength. Being struck by any of their attacks would result in severe injuries or even death.

One minute later, Leilani said telepathically, “Forty-nine, how confident are you in breaking the formation around the planet and getting me out alive?”

At this point, Leilani had already given up contesting for the Primal Mantra. She just wanted to leave the planet alive. Her main priority now was to survive.

This thought was shared by a number of the surviving creatures.

James replied, “I’m not sure if I can completely dissolve the formation, but I’ll be able to make an opening at least.”

Hearing this, Leilani began to consider her options. After pondering briefly, she decided to take a gamble.

James had indeed broken many formations within Planet Desolation. Perhaps, he really could open a passage in the formation and help her leave the planet.

She asked, “What do I need to do?”

James replied, “It’s very simple. Since you’re inside the protective barrier, I need you to attack from within while Wotan and I attack from the outside. If we attack simultaneously, we’ll be able to break the protective barrier instantly.”

“Alright.” Leilani agreed to cooperate with James.

After James got Leilani’s approval, he relayed the plan to Wotan. The two of them paid close attention to the protective barrier. Inside the protective barrier, Leilani glanced around her.

The surrounding creatures were doing their best to maintain the protective formation and all of them were not wary of the other creatures in the barrier.

At that moment, Leilani suddenly made a move. She summoned all her strength and released a damaging blast that spread out in every direction.

The creatures around her were unguarded, so many were injured when Leilani’s power struck them, and the protective barrier was immediately weakened.

After she succeeded in disrupting several of them, she quickly attacked the protective barrier.

At that moment, James and Wotan quickly followed up and attacked the barrier with all their might. The trio was perfectly coordinated both from outside and within, instantly breaking the barrier set up by 30,000 powerhouses.

As soon as the protective barrier fell, the group of powerhouses lurched forward, and some fell to the ground, spitting out blood.

“Leilani, y-you...?!”

“You traitor! Why did you do that?”

“Why did you help the human? You’re going to bring destruction to the Angel Race!”

Many powerhouses roared at her furiously. Leilani ignored them and made her way to the distant sky where James stood in a flash.

James could not be bothered with Leilani at the moment. Looking at Wotan, he shouted, “Let’s finish this quickly.”

“Got it.” Wotan nodded and quickly rushed down toward the group of creatures with his sword in hand.

James did not stand by either. He charged at the creatures and began to mercilessly slaughter them.

None of them could counter Wotan and James attacks without the protective barrier. One after another, the creatures met their doom.

After the protective barrier was shattered, it was hard for them to reform it as James and Wotan had already charged at them, preventing them from regrouping. They scrambled around the place, trying to save themselves.

Leilani floated in the distant sky and watched quietly with a solemn expression. She could not tell if she had made the right decision or not.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4165

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4165-The Angel Race would be persecuted by the other races if anyone else somehow survived today. She could not afford to bear the consequences, nor could the Angel Race resist the wrath of the other races. She could only hope that James and Wotan left no survivors.

Just while she was deep in thought, a creature suddenly charged at her.

“You traitor! I’ll kill you!”

A furious bellow interrupted her thoughts and Leilani was forced to engage in battle.

An intense battle broke out in the Desolate Grand Canyon. James and Wotan brought their might to bear and slaughtered the powerhouses one after another with their swords.

The battle lasted for about three months.

James hovered in the air with messy hair and a bloodied body. The Malevolent Sword in his hand was slick with blood.

The surrounding area was full of corpses.

Two creatures stood in the distance.

One of them was Wotan, and the other was Leilani.

Wotan was also ragged. He was severely injured, and his aura was feeble.

During the fight, Leilani was targeted by many powerhouses. However, James and Wotan protected her, so she survived the intense battle.

After several months of fighting, everyone involved was killed except for James, Wotan, and Leilani.

Leilani was worried that James would go back on his word, so she quickly distanced herself from the two. She appeared in the distance and sat in a lotus position. Then, she consumed a healing elixir and promptly began to treat her wounds.

At that moment, she no longer exuded elegance and looked extremely battered. Her hair was tousled, and her torn, white dress was stained with blood.

Wotan also began to recuperate. At this point, the remaining three could not trust anything other than themselves and their swords. Wotan quickly healed his wounds to prevent James from attacking him to obtain the Primal Mantra. James looked at Wotan and Leilani in the distance. He also sat down on a rock on a mountaintop. He breathed heavily and urged his Life Path to treat his injuries.

“Forty-nine, there’s only three of us left now. What’s next?” Wotan asked cautiously from a distance.

James had promised to open a passage in the formation that would let him leave.

Aside from himself, James and Leilani were the only others left on the planet now. Leilani was barely a threat. His only concern was James.

The prospect of obtaining the Primal Mantra was too great. Wotan found it hard to resist and wanted to fight James to the death to obtain it.

James looked at Wotan in the distance and said, “What do you say? If you want to fight, I’ll gladly humor you. If you want to leave, I’ll make an opening in the formation for you to leave.”

Leilani replied, “Open up the formation first, and let me go.”

James looked at her. Leilani could not help shuddering in fear as she met his gaze.

James replied, “I’ll keep my promise to you, Leilani. You can leave safely, but I need you to keep everything that happened here a secret.

Leilani immediately agreed without hesitation. “I promise! I won’t speak of anything that happened on this planet!”

James said, “I believe you, but I don’t trust the powerhouses waiting outside. Just in case, I’d like to cleanse your soul memory and erase the memories of your time here”

James’ decisive voice shook Leilani’s heart. When she heard this, Leilani took a few steps backward. To cleanse one’s soul and erase its memories was damaging to the soul. It would be difficult for her to enter the Acme Rank in the future after her soul was tarnished.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4166

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4166-“Can’t we talk about this?”
Leilani’s face went pale.

At her current cultivation rank, she knew the damage erasing her soul memory sigils would cause to her Soul Genesis. It would severely impede her cultivation in the future. Not to mention, recovering from the damage caused to her Soul Genesis would be difficult.

James parted his lips and said, “No, unfortunately, we can’t. I trust you, but not the powerhouses outside. Once you leave this place, some powerhouses will try to glean information from your soul. When they learn about everything that happened on this planet, I’ll be doomed.”

Leilani thought deeply about this ultimatum. After a while, she replied, “Alright, do it.”

After she agreed, James slowly stood up. He appeared in front of Leilani in the next instant. Then, he raised his hand and placed his palm on Leilani’s forehead. Leilani did not resist. She felt a powerful force entering her forehead and penetrating her soul to forcefully erase all her memories on Planet Desolation.

Once James erased Leilani’s soul memories, her soul was slightly damaged, and she fell to the ground weakly. She looked at James and Wotan in confusion, unsure of why she was with them and what had happened.

James did not explain and grabbed her hand and flew toward the sky. Soon, he arrived at the formation’s border. He inspected it for a while and immediately understood the formation's basis. Although he could not completely deactivate the formation, he could make an opening for her to leave.

He casually waved his hand, and several profound Formation Inscriptions emerged from his palm and fused into the formation.

A disturbance immediately formed on the formation and the force rippled outwards. Then, it split apart and created a crack.

After that, James casually pushed Leilani through the formation. With his strength, he easily helped Leilani leave from the opening in the formation.

Once she passed the formation, the crack was restored instantly.

Many powerhouses were standing guard outside the formation. For the past millions of years, countless powerhouses that specialized in formations came to study it. However, the formation was highly complex, and they were unable to decipher it.

Suddenly, a figure emerged from the other side of the formation. Leilani instantly appeared outside of Planet Desolation.

“Leilani!”

The Angel Race's Patriarch, Jethro Amani, had also been among those waiting outside. He quickly caught Leilani.

Leilani looked at Jethro and groaned, “Father.”

“What happened?” asked Jethro.

The other powerhouses also stared at Leilani, awaiting her answer.

Leilani had a puzzled expression. She turned around and looked at Planet Desolation's formation. Then, she shook her head lightly and said, “I don't know. The only thing I know is that there's a Primal Mantra there. A mysterious powerhouse had enacted a grand scheme. He made us enter Planet Desolation and forced us to fight each other. He said the last person that survived would be awarded the Primal Mantra.”

“Then how did you leave?” asked Jethro.

Leilani racked her brains, but her mind was blank, and she had no recollection of the events on Planet

Desolation

“I-I don’t know. I seem to have lost a portion of my memories. I only know that Forty-nine opened a passage in the formation and sent me out of the planet.”

“Forty-nine?” Jethro frowned.

A powerhouse asked, “Do you know this Forty-nine, Jethro?”

Jethro nodded lightly and said, “I’ve seen him before. He came to the Angel Race and is Leilani’s acquaintance.”

Jethro briefly introduced James but kept his identity as a human a secret.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4167

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4167-The other powerhouses began to interrogate Leilani since their own kin had also entered Planet Desolation. However, Leilani was unable to answer their queries.

The powerhouses were frustrated.

A powerhouse commented sternly, “Jethro, we must find out what happened inside Planet Desolation. Unfortunately, it seems Leilani is hiding things from us. If she refuses to speak, we’ll have no choice but to search her soul.”

Jethro looked at Leilani and asked, “What else do you know?”

Leilani shook her head and said, “I don’t know anything else, Father.”

“In that case, let me search your soul.”

Coerced by countless powerhouses, Jethro did not stop them and allowed them to search for Leilani’s soul. A powerhouse scoured Leilani’s soul and memories but only found that Leilani had been telling the truth.

...

On Planet Desolation, only Wotan and James remained in the Desolate Grand Canyon after Leilani was sent out of the formation. The two stared at each other.

James smiled faintly and asked, "Do you want to fight?"

Wotan was hesitant. He looked at James and asked, "You used Chaos Power in the previous battle. However, you did not use the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations left behind by the Compassionate Path Master. Have you successfully cultivated it?"

Wotan knew how strong James was and was trying to guess the odds of him emerging victorious. Although Wotan was an Acmean, he was not that much stronger than James. He was not confident he could beat James in a battle to the death. He wanted to ascertain whether James had cultivated the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations.

James smiled and replied calmly, "Why don't you find out for yourself?"

Wotan was perplexed by his response.

'Has he cultivated it or not?' thought Wotan.

After a brief pause, Wotan took a deep breath and said, "Forget it. I won't fight you over the Primal Mantra. Make an opening in the formation and let me leave."

After speaking, he glanced at James.

"You're not thinking of erasing my memories, are you?"

James looked at him and asked, "What if the powerhouses outside search your soul?"

"Haha!" Wotan laughed and said, "You underestimate me. Unless the Ten Great Race's leaders band together and search my soul, no one will dare to touch me."

Wotan was full of confidence.

Curious, James asked, "What race are you from?"

"It doesn't matter. Don't worry. No one will search my soul."

With his reassurance, James was relieved. He said, "I hope you keep everything that happened here a secret."

James trusted Wotan.

The Primal Mantra was a powerful treasure. Wotan was an Acmean and if he wanted, could definitely fight James for it. Since Wotan willingly gave up the Primal Mantra, James did not want to treat him mercilessly. James immediately walked toward the formation's border. Wotan followed closely behind him. James forcefully created a crack in the formation. Without hesitation, Wotan passed through the crack in a flash and left Planet Desolation.

At that moment, James was the only surviving person among the large group of creatures that came to Planet

Desolation.

James glanced around the area. After he confirmed that no other living creatures were around him, he sighed in relief. Then, he looked toward the Desolate Grand Canyon and slowly approached it.

As he got closer, he suddenly sensed a dangerous aura.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4168

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4168-James sensed danger when he got close to the Desolate Grand Canyon. He immediately activated the Omniscience Path's Seventh Stage and prepared all his strength.

James turned sharply and stared behind him. The ground was filled with corpses that he and Wotan had killed. At that moment, several dismembered body parts began to gather to reform a complete body. Suddenly, a powerful life force filled the supposed corpse.

James paid close attention.

The body slowly got up from the ground. It was a man that had taken a human form.

The man was shirtless, and his chiseled body was exposed. His face was covered in blood, and he licked his lips and looked at James in the distance with a strange expression.

James stared at him. He had no idea what race the man belonged to, but he could sense the powerful aura coming from him. The mysterious man was more formidable than Wotan, who was already an Acmean.

James already suspected that other Acmeans potentially hid themselves among the group of creatures. However, he never expected an Acmean to have stayed hidden until the end and show up only after Wotan had left.

“Forty-nine.”

The shirtless, ruffian looked at James who was near the Desolate Grand Canyon. Suddenly, he let out an eerie smile.

“Bet you didn’t expect this.”

James took a deep breath and calmed himself down. Then, he replied softly, “Indeed. I thought I was the only one left. I didn’t expect my Divine Sense to not detect you. You waited until Wotan left because you’re afraid the two of us would join forces against you, right?”

“Wotan is freakishly strong. He is number ten on the Gold Ranking of the Chaos Ranking. After entering the Acmean Rank, his strength must’ve improved tremendously, surpassing other powerhouses at the Permanence Acme Rank. I don’t think I could win against the both of you.”

The man parted his lips and explained relaxedly. It was evident he did not take James seriously.

James looked at him and asked, “What race are you?”

The man laughed and said, “Haha! It doesn’t matter If you find out anyway. I’m from the Ursas.”

“The Ursas?” James frowned. He was familiar with the Ursas.

Where he was from, there was a wounded powerhouse of that race. Back then, he had to fight tooth and nail to kill the Ursa and his entire army was almost decimated.

James knew of the Ursas' special ability and how they could mimic any powers.

'This is very troublesome,' thought James.

His Chaos Power could not gain the upper hand against a powerhouse from the Ursas. The Ursa could easily emulate James' Chaos Power and use it against him.

"Never would I have imagined a human to cultivate the Doom Race's Chaos Power."

The Ursa looked at James with disbelief.

"If you obtained the Primal Mantra, and I let you leave unscathed, you'll become a great threat to the other races in the Greater Realms once you grow stronger."

James looked at him and asked, "If you hadn't hidden your strength and united with the other powerhouses to fight us, we might've lost. Why did you hide until the end?"

The Ursa smiled and said, "We'd definitely have killed both of you had I joined in. However, I'd have to fend off the other powerhouses alone. Although I'm an Acmean, I don't have the confidence to eliminate so many Quasi Acmeans.

"Thus, I decided to take action when everyone was wounded. To my surprise, you're the only one left.

"Haha." The Ursa burst out laughing.

"Now, as long as I kill you, I'll be able to get the Primal Mantra. Then, I can go into seclusion to study and cultivate it. Through its teachings, I'm sure I'll reach the Terra Acme Rank and Caelum Acme Rank very soon.

Ultimately, I'll become the strongest powerhouse in all the Greater Realms."

The Ursa's laughter resounded throughout the area.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4169

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4169-His dreams could come true if he obtained the Primal Mantra.

James kept his composure. He already suspected that there were powerhouses that had concealed themselves. Thus, he refrained from using the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations.

James said calmly, "Aren't you celebrating too early? I'm not even dead yet."

"Allow me to send you on your way then."

The Ursa spat out in a menacing voice.

"Remember my name. It's Narga Windward."

After speaking, Narga quickly made a move. He appeared in front of James instantly, with a spear in his hand. It was a black spear that emitted a faint glow.

He held the spear and jabbed it at James' head.

James twisted his body and avoided the deadly blow. The space behind him was struck by the spear and instantly shattered as a result. A black hole formed but was repaired by the mysterious force around them.

After missing the first attack, Narga used a different tactic. He swung his spear at James' waist. Acmeans boasted monstrous strength. Although James was not hit, the powerful force grazed his body, causing him pain.

James did not dare to be careless and quickly summoned the Malevolent Sword.

The Malevolent Sword parried the Spear.

Boom!!!

The space burst open.

James felt a powerful force from the Malevolent Sword snake up his arm and spread throughout his body. His body trembled from the strong aftershock. The force also injured his hand that held the Malevolent Sword, and blood trickled down it. His hand trembled, making it hard for him to keep his grip on the sword.

After they exchanged blows, James knew his opponent was overwhelming and had strength that surpassed his. James quickly retreated to a distance and urged his Life Path's power to heal his injuries.

"Tsk, tsk." Narga clicked his tongue.

"You're quite strong. I've been in the Acme Rank for many years and have already reached the middle stage. Yet, you survived after resisting my attack. As expected of the Human Race. If you were to become stronger, you'd definitely become one of the strongest individuals in the Greater Realms. It's a pity you came to Planet Desolation and had to face me."

Narga spoke mirthfully before his face darkened. His face looked incredibly serious.

To prevent any unexpected situations, Narga was ruthless. He urged all his strength, and his Acmean power spread throughout his body, instantly boosting his aura.

"Die!" He growled and attacked again.

His body aligned with his spear as he charged at James.

James also mustered all his strength. He channeled his Omniscience Path's power, physical strength, and Chaos Power into the Malevolent Sword to block Narga's attack.

His sword and Narga's spear struck each other outside of the Desolate Grand Canyon.

Two powerful forces collided.

Rumble!!!

A colossal force erupted from their impact and rippled over the surroundings.

The space around James and Narga constantly shattered.

In terms of strength, James was slightly weaker than his foe. His body was blasted away, and a powerful force seeped into his body through the Malevolent Sword, causing him severe injuries.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4170

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4170-Narga completely overwhelmed James.

James was constantly blasted away, and a powerful force invaded his body through the Malevolent Sword. Although he had monstrous physical strength, he was wounded and his body showed signs of falling apart.

“Off you go.” Narga made another move.

He thrust his palm at James. At that moment, Narga’s palm energy aimed at James’ head.

James quickly sheathed his Malevolent Sword and dodged the attack. As soon as he put his sword away, Narga’s sword pierced his body. James avoided the palm energy but was struck by the spear.

In a mere moment, James was severely wounded.

He quickly retreated far away. He urged his Life Path’s power and its abundant life force to spread through his body, healing his injuries.

James could repair his external injuries but not the internal damage.

After the previous battle against the 30,000 powerhouses, he had no chance to treat his injuries. On top of his previous injuries, he now was inflicted with more wounds.

James knew he would not last long at this rate.

“Is that all you’ve got?”

Narga did not follow up with another attack. From his perspective, James was no match for him, and he was assured of his victory. It was practically guaranteed he was going to be the one that left with the Primal Mantra.

James stretched out his hand to wipe the blood off his lips. He looked at Narga in the distance and smiled. Then, he said, “It seems I won’t be able to win without going all out.”

Narga was slightly taken aback by James' remark, and then let out raucous laughter.

"Haha! Who are you trying to fool at a time like this? Go ahead and give it all you've got. I'd love to see what other tricks you have left."

Narga assumed James was already fighting in his strongest state and had no other way to counter him. He did not believe that James was still restraining himself. He felt that James would have unleashed his full strength when the battle began and would not wait until now.

Narga looked at James mockingly. He was sure that he had already sealed James' fate.

James looked at him calmly, and a playful smile formed on his face. Then, he said, "Did you forget I entered the Palace of Compassion and obtained the Compassionate Path Master's inheritance? Have you heard of the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations before?"

Narga's face immediately froze at James' words. It was evident he knew about the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations.

"You cultivated the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations?" He said with disbelief.

Then, he immediately denied the possibility, saying, "That's impossible. Your physical strength is only at the Quasi Acme Rank. How could you have withstood the Ignis' power? You can't possibly have absorbed and refined it, let alone cultivate the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations..."

Before he could finish speaking, he sensed that James' aura had changed.

James awakened the Ignis. The Ignis in his elixir field circulated his body, coursing through his bones and extremities.

Suddenly, James' entire body was cloaked in white flames. His aura also skyrocketed.

"The First Transformation of Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations, Flame God Incarnation."

James' voice resounded powerfully. At that moment, he looked like a supreme Fire God.

The white flames spewed from his body, releasing destructive power. If a Quasi Acmean were to come in contact with the slightest bit of Ignis, they would be incarcerated instantly.”

“Ignis?”

Narga looked at the flames rising from James' body and pursed his lips. He was there when James killed

Wynnstan.

Back then, he also witnessed James utilizing some white flames. He managed to kill Wynstann using it. However, it never crossed his mind that the flames James summoned were from the Ignis.