

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4171

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4171-“The First Transformation of the Flame Art’s Three Fire Transformations, Flame God Incarnation.”

Narga repeated James’ words.

At that moment, James’ aura was so terrifying that it completely overpowered Narga’s.

Narga had previously read and heard about Ignis and the Flame Art’s Three Fire Transformations in ancient books.

It was rumored that even an Acmean would be severely injured or even killed after coming into contact with Ignis.

James emitted white flames, his aura potent. He looked like an invincible Flame God.

Narga immediately lost the intention to fight as he knew that his defeat was inevitable. His confident smile had long faded, and he was thinking of fleeing from battle.

“I was just joking with you, Forty-nine. I don’t want the Primal Mantra. It’s all yours. Open the formation and let me go.”

Narga gave up on the Primal Mantra. He wanted to leave the planet alive.

“Leave?” James sneered.

The Human Race and many of the Greater Realms had great grievances.

A battle between the Human Race and the various other races would definitely be a fierce one.

If he let the Acmean leave now, countless human lives would be lost in his hands.

“Did you think I’d let that happen?” James’ face was gloomy.

“You don’t have to be so ruthless, Forty-nine. I’ve already given up on obtaining the fortune. You can have it. Don’t worry. I won’t let what happened on Planet Desolation slip. You can erase my memories like you did to Leilani if you can't trust me."

Narga began to negotiate to survive.

"There's no room for discussion," James said coldly.

As soon as those words were uttered, he made his move. With a flash, he appeared before Narga instantly.

There was a subtle shift in Narga's expression, and he quickly dodged.

He could sense James' powerful Ignis Power once James got close.

James' strength had fused with the Ignis' power after he integrated it into his body. If Narga were to get hit, the Ignis' power would also strike him, causing him to be severely injured. It might even result in his death.

Narga quickly cut through the void and disappeared from sight.

The moment he disappeared, the space where he once stood was instantly destroyed by the Ignis.

Narga reappeared in the distance with a gloomy expression.

"Is there really no room for discussion, Forty-nine? If you let me go, I'll give you all my treasures..."

Before he could finish speaking, James had launched another attack.

Narga dodged the blow.

James pursued Narga, and a chase began in the area.

While on the chase, James set up formations to seal the space.

'Damn it!'

Sensing the formations, Narga cursed in his heart.

He wanted to escape through the void, but the space had already been sealed. James had also caught up to him. Narga was forced to confront James' attack. He jabbed his spear, and a powerful force erupted from it to form a protective barrier Narga was very strong, but James had terrifying strength.

James instantly broke through Narga's protective barrier.

The white-flamed Sword Energy struck Narga.

The moment the flaming Sword Energy touched him, a hole appeared in his chest, and the flames permeated his body.

He mobilized all his strength to resist the Ignis, trying to force it away.

However, the Ignis was horrifying, so much so that even an Acmean would be injured instantly.

Narga was immediately injured, and his combat strength dropped greatly.

"What a terrifying Ignis! Not to mention the First Transformation of the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations. As expected from a Supernatural Power created by a Caelum Acmean."

Narga wore a solemn expression as he looked at James, who was standing at the distance. He tried to plead, saying, "Please spare my life, Forty-nine. I'll promise you anything. I'll give you anything you want."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4172

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4172-Narga was horrified. He was unable to resist Ignis and sustained severe injuries. It would be the end of him if he were struck a few more times.

Narga repeatedly begged for mercy and no longer had the demeanor of a mighty powerhouse. Instead, he looked like a helpless prey at the mercy of his predator.

Unfortunately, James had no intentions of letting him go.

James remained indifferent in the face of Narga's pleas. He waved the Malevolent Sword, and powerful Ignis Power materialized into Sword Energies, which constantly slashed at Narga.

Although Narga was injured, he was nonetheless a powerhouse at the Acme Rank. Thus, he still had some strength and quickly dodged the attacks.

Boom!

Blazing Sword Energies swept at him continuously, and the surrounding space exploded from the impact.

Narga was furious that James ignored his pleas for mercy.

"Do you really think I'm afraid of you? If I have to die, you're coming with me."

A terrifying aura suddenly burst out from his body.

He burned his life force and soul, allowing his strength to skyrocket.

Narga was initially at the Permanence Acme Rank's Middle Stage, but now his cultivation rank was raised to the Permanence Acme Rank's Late Stage. There was even the possibility of further improvement.

"Go to hell, Forty-nine!"

Narga's expression was grim, and his murderous intent permeated the air.

James' expression darkened upon witnessing this.

An Acmean that was burning his own bloodline power and soul in desperation was a tough opponent.

Narga's aura and strength increased steadily.

He currently had the strength of a Terra Acmean.

A Terra Acmean was far superior to a Permanence Acmean.

Narga's aura was potent, and he looked like an unrivaled Demon King with formidable strength.

James looked at him solemnly, but he was not too worried. Even though Narga's strength was greatly boosted, it represented the last of him. His explosive power would only last for a while.

Narga held a spear in his hand and charged at James. He wanted to kill James with the limited time he had left.

He was determined not to let James leave Planet Desolation, even if it meant sacrificing his life.

He aimed his spear at James and jabbed. The spear's destructive force resulted in slight tremors.

James raised the Malevolent Sword and blocked the attack.

Boom!

The spear and sword clashed.

James was sent flying, and his Blood Energy churned, causing him to spit out a mouthful of blood.

He had combined the power of his Omniscience Path, Chaos Path, and Ignis, but he was still weaker than Narga.

Narga had sacrificed his life force to obtain great strength and now had the upper hand against James.

After the first confrontation, he launched another fierce attack on James.

His power broke through the formation that James had set up around him.

James had no choice but to avoid direct confrontation. While dodging the attacks, he used the Ignis to launch counterattacks.

The Ignis contained horrifying powers, and Narga was still dodging its attacks even after enhancing his strength. He knew that coming into contact with it would lead to severe injuries.

James and Narga fought a fierce battle outside the Desolate Grand Canyon.

The two were very powerful, and their every move was enough to cause mass destruction.

Fortunately, a mysterious power and a formation were protecting the area. Otherwise, the shock waves from their battle would permeate the air and cause major damage to the Stone Realm.

Narga catalyzed his various Supernatural Powers out of desperation.

Although James was at a temporary disadvantage, he was far from defeat.

They fought fiercely for ten days.

Ten days later, Narga's strength began to weaken.

James immediately took notice of this and began to counterattack. He no longer dodged but used many of his Supernatural Powers to actively attack Narga. Narga was forced to retreat and was sustaining injuries repeatedly.

Swoosh!

A Sword Energy wrapped in white flames pierced through the sky.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4173

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4173-The Sword Energy darted toward Narga.

Narga could not dodge in time, and the Sword Energy pierced his body, forming a bloody wound.

His flesh began to catch fire when he came in contact with the Ignis. Although he had urged all his strength to neutralize the Ignis Power, it was already too late. In just a short moment, half of his body was burnt.

Just as he was stuck in a sticky situation, James launched another attack. He slashed his sword a few times, and thousands of Sword Energies shot out.

James unleashed countless Sword Energies instantly and used them to surround Narga from all directions.

“Argh...

“No!!!

“You’re going to die soon, Forty-nine! Even if I can’t kill you, the Ursas will never forgive you!!!”

His furious growls echoed in the area but gradually weakened.

Countless Sword Energies infused with the Ignis surrounded him and set him on fire. Soon, he was incinerated into nothingness.

James put away the Malevolent Sword and dispersed the Ignis. His body plummeted from the sky, and he crashed into a rock.

“Puff!!!”

After crashing into the rock, James spat out a mouthful of blood.

He was already injured from the previous battle against the 30,000 creatures. Now, he sustained even more injuries from the fight with Narga. They were quite severe.

James was relieved after finally killing Narga. He sat in a lotus position and began to treat his injuries.

The mysterious figure in the depths of the Desolate Grand Canyon had been watching the battles and witnessed everything from the beginning to the end. Thus, he knew James and Wotan had teamed up to kill the other creatures. Even though one managed to hide until the end, James still ended up killing him.

He was very satisfied with the results.

His body flickered, and he disappeared from the Desolate Grand Canyon. Shortly after, he appeared in front of James.

James was still healing his wounds when the mysterious figure appeared before him. However, he was not surprised by the sudden visitor. James looked at the figure and asked calmly, "Who are you?"

The blurry figure gradually materialized into a middle-aged man. He wore a black robe and looked quite handsome. However, his face was unusually pale, making it seem as if he was a corpse.

"You're not bad."

The man in the black robe praised James, saying, "Your surviving to the end has proved your strength. You're qualified to inherit the Primal Mantra."

Of course, James was interested in the Primal Mantra.

However, he was more curious about what had happened here in the distant past. He had questions about why the Greater Realm's former ruler, the Space Race, declined so much after the battle on this planet.

"What happened here in the past?"

James looked at the man with curiosity.

The man replied softly, "The past is the past. It doesn't matter."

James asked, "Then, who are you? Are you a powerhouse of the Space Race? Or are you another Caelum Acmean? Could you be the Compassionate Path Master?"

James unleashed his Divine Sense, trying to figure out if the man before him was a living being or a remnant soul.

However, James' Divine Sense could not detect the man even though he was standing right before him.

"Who I am isn't important either."

The man casually waved his hand, and a white light emerged from his palm and floated toward James.

The light stopped before James and manifested into an ancient book. On the cover of the ancient book were several ancient words Primal Mantra.

James looked at the book and took a deep breath. His heart was pounding from excitement.

The Primal Mantra had been a famous Supernatural Power in the Greater Realms since ancient times.

It was much superior to the Chaos Sacred Art and the Blithe Omniscience.

Now that he had obtained the Primal Mantra, becoming a Caelum Acmean was no longer a dream.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4174

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4174-James grew excited as he looked at the Primal Mantra before him. He was curious to find out what was recorded in it.

He reached out for the Primal Mantra and flipped it open.

After opening the book, a white light emerged and formed ancient inscriptions before him.

“This?” James was startled.

The inscription sigils used in the Primal Mantra were in the most primitive, oldest, and simplest form.

James could easily turn them into laws. He could even turn the most complex Paths into primitive sigils.

Since the text used in the Primal Mantra was the most primal sigils, James could understand it. He had even come across a few before.

The man in the black robe looked at the surprised James and said, “The Primal Mantra is the beginning of everything. Read it well. Once you thoroughly comprehend it, it’ll be easy to enter the Caelum Acme Rank.”

After speaking, the man disappeared from sight.

James put away the Primal Mantra.

The Primal Mantra was recorded in the simplest and most primitive sigils.

However, James knew that for the Primal Mantra to be called the best, it was definitely more complicated than it looked.

Now was not the time to cultivate and comprehend it.

James put away the Primal Mantra and wanted to ask a few more questions. However, the man in the black robe was already nowhere to be seen.

“Sir?” James stood up and looked around.

The man had already vanished without a trace.

James turned around and looked at the Desolate Grand Canyon behind him. He looked at the crack and murmured, “The Desolate Grand Canyon is still an unknown space. I wonder what’s in there.”

Curious, James decided to head into the Desolate Grand Canyon to have a look.

He flew toward the Desolate Grand Canyon and arrived in an instant. When he got close, a powerful force prevented him from advancing further.

The force swept toward him like a wave and pushed him away.

The power dispersed after he was at a certain distance from the Desolate Grand Canyon.

James frowned and murmured, “That was some powerful force. I couldn’t even resist it. It’s definitely a formation set up by a Caelum Acmean.”

James had many questions but no one to answer them.

He took a deep breath and murmured, “It seems I’ll have to enter the Caelum Acme Rank before I can unravel the secret of the Desolate Grand Canyon and find out what exactly happened on Planet Desolation.”

James pushed his thoughts away and looked at the formation around the planet.

The man in the black robe had disappeared after handing him the Primal Mantra. However, the formation around Planet Desolation did not vanish.

“Perhaps the man knew I could open a passage through the formation, so he did not bother dispersing it.

“There must be countless powerhouses gathered outside the planet right now. If I leave, they’re going

James wore a heavy expression.

He had obtained the greatest boon on Planet Desolation.

Now, his biggest problem was leaving.

James grew worried.

, James could not use his Divine Sense to find out what was happening outside. He could only guess that there were many powerhouses waiting there.

COM The formation around the planet prevented his Divine Sense from penetrating through it. Thus to surround me. I’m pretty sure there are many Acmeans amongst them.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4175

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4175-Those waiting outside Planet Desolation were most likely the top powerhouses of various races.

With so many of their race’s prodigies trapped, it was only natural for them to show up to check on the situation.

James did not rush to leave. Instead, he sat in a lotus position and continued to heal his injuries.

His injuries were healed after he recuperated for a while in a time formation.

He hid his aura and entered a state of invisibility. Then, he got close to the formation and waved his hand. A mysterious Formation Inscription appeared from his palm.

The Formation Inscription submerged into the formation surrounding Planet Desolation.

A ripple appeared in the formation, and a small crack opened.

James' body flickered, and he passed through the formation. The next moment, he appeared outside of Planet Desolation.

Outside the formation, countless powerhouses were paying close attention to Planet Desolation. They immediately sensed the fluctuation in the formation.

However, the fluctuation only appeared for a short moment before vanishing.

The group of powerhouses scanned their surroundings but found nothing unusual.

James had left Planet Desolation in a state of invisibility with his aura hidden. Moreover, he had obtained a boon from the planet, and his soul aura was already wiped out. Thus, even an Acmean was not capable of detecting his presence.

He carefully avoided the group of powerhouses and left the area without a sound.

After arriving at the periphery of the Desolate Galaxy, he came to a stop.

From the distance, James looked toward Planet Desolation and saw the countless powerhouses. Then, he smiled faintly.

He had come to Planet Desolation to find a Soulblue. However, he unexpectedly obtained several boons.

Even though he had not yet stepped into the Acme Rank, he had obtained Ignis and cultivated the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations. Now, he was capable of taking on a powerhouse at the Terra Acme Rank.

Terra Acmeans were terrifying existences in the Greater Realms and were considered to be at the pinnacle of cultivation.

He finally had the strength to fight against the top powerhouses of the Greater Realms.

Yet, James was not satisfied.

His goal was to enter the Acme Rank and even the Caelum Acme Rank. Then, he could unite with Thea and lead the Human Race to prosperity.

He was not far from achieving his goal and was sure that day would come soon.

James cast a glance to the distance and left the area quickly. He headed toward the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's headquarters.

The Heaven-Eradicating Sect's headquarters' was situated at the edge of the Greater Realms, where Empyrean Spiritual Energy was scarce. Very few creatures would venture into the area. Thus, the Greater Realm's major races did not pay much attention to the area.

James arrived at the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's headquarters and headed to the main hall of one of the mountains.

The Heaven-Eradicating Sect's Leader, Dempsey, patted James on the shoulder and said smilingly,

"Haha! I knew you would return safely, James. We were so worried after hearing that something unusual happened on Planet Desolation."

James smiled faintly in response. Dahlia asked, "What happened on Planet Desolation, James?" However, James was unwilling to delve into the events that occurred on Planet Desolation.

It was a very complicated matter. Countless prodigies from different races of the Greater Realms died on Planet Desolation. If word of what happened got out, he would be doomed.

Thus, it was best that fewer people knew about it.

It was not that James did not trust the Heaven-Eradicating Sect. Instead, he was afraid the sect members might get captured by other races and have their souls searched. If that happened, information would be leaked.

Hence, James changed the subject, saying, "I've completely wiped out my soul aura. No one will be able to sense that I'm human. Once I replicate the soul aura of a Doom onto my body, I'll be able to disguise myself as a Doom. Where's the Doom you've captured?"

The Doods gathering was happening soon. There was not much time left. James had to infiltrate the Doods and gain their trust as soon as possible. Only then could he carry out the plan he had formulated with Thea!

He would use the identity of a powerful Doom to stir up chaos in the Greater Realms to buy time for the Human Race.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4176

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4176-Dempsey explained upon hearing James inquire about the imprisoned Doom, "His name is Wyot Dalibor. He's the son of the Doom Race's current Patriarch. We went through a lot to capture him after finding out that he was out training.

"Wyot is a Seventh-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God. He's the heir of the Doods and has a very prominent status, so we captured him alive. We didn't execute him but kept him as a hostage to prevent the Doods from targetting us."

Dempsey briefly explained the imprisoned Doom's background.

James was slightly taken aback. He never expected the prisoner to be the son of the Doom Race's Patriarch and the successor of the Doom Race.

Since the Doom had such a high status, James should be able to execute his plan more efficiently.

“By the way, has there been any news about Thea?” asked James.

It had been a long time since he came to the Greater Realms. However, he had yet to find Thea. He desperately wanted to find her and learn more information.

Dempsey shook his head lightly.

“I’ve already sent out all our intelligence personnel to obtain information about Madam Thea, but there hasn’t been any news. Are you certain Madam Thea has been reincarnated into the Greater Realms?”

James nodded and said, “Of course. I came to the Greater Realms because she was reincarnated here.”

Dempsey sighed and said, “The Greater Realms are very vast. It’s going to be hard to find her.”

James said, “Don’t give up. Keep on searching for her. Without her, I won’t be able to find out the situation of the world I came from. It’ll also be hard to get things done without her.”

“I won’t stop.”

Dempsey stood up and said, “Let’s go to the dungeon to see Wyot first.”

After speaking, he made an inviting gesture.

Then, he led James to the Heaven-Eradicating Sect’s dungeon.

The Heaven-Eradicating Sect’s dungeon was heavily guarded and had a powerful formation protecting it.

Guards were posted at certain distances. Even the Heaven-Eradicating Sect’s senior authorities could not freely enter the dungeon.

Without the token of the Heaven-Eradicating Sect’s Leader, no one was allowed entry.

The dungeon was built deep underground, and it was dark and damp.

There was a cell deep inside the dungeon.

A man was imprisoned in it. He had scattered hair and a very weak aura.

Hearing the footsteps, the man gently shook his head. As soon as he moved, the iron chains around his body rattled, which triggered the formation inside the chain.

An electric current flowed through the iron chain and shocked Wyot, causing him to let out a miserable groan.

Dempsey brought James to the cell, pointed at Wyot, and said, "That's Wyot, the son of the Doom Race's current Patriarch. He's also the successor of his father."

James looked at Wyot and said, "Open the cell."

Dempsey called for a soldier and ordered, "Open it."

The soldier walked over and took out a key. He proceeded to unlock the cell gate and pushed it open.

James walked into the cell and stood before Wyot.

Wyot glared at James furiously and roared, "Go ahead and kill me!"

He was enraged and kept struggling to break free.

Rattle!

The iron chains kept rattling.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4177

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4177-Crackling electricity flowed through the black iron chains and permeated Wyot's body. He trembled upon being shocked and let out another miserable groan.

James calmly raised his hand, and a magical inscription appeared from his palm.

The inscription sank into Wyot's eyebrows and entered the deepest part of his soul.

Wyt felt excruciating pain as the inscription entered his soul, and he growled, "Argh!!!"

After a few moments, a sigil emerged from his body.

James copied Wyt's memories into the sigil and integrated the inscription into his soul, immediately learning about Wyt's past experiences.

Then, he took out the Soulblue and passed it to Dempsey.

"I'll leave the matter of copying his soul aura to you. I'll cultivate for a while and make a few changes to the memories I've copied so I don't get exposed when infiltrating the Dooms."

After speaking, James turned around and left the dungeon. He headed to a spiritual mountain within the Heaven-Eradicating Sect, ascended to the mountaintop, and began cultivating.

James began sorting Wyt's memories and created false scenarios to replace the time when he was captured. This was done to not expose his identity if powerhouses from the Dooms searched his soul.

Although it was a highly complex process, it was easy for James as he had mastered the various Paths of heaven and earth.

Meanwhile, Dempsey also quickly got to work. He promptly used the Soulblue to copy Wyt's soul aura before handing it back to James.

James took the Soulblue and went back into seclusion.

He started to absorb and refine the Soulblue, integrating Wyt's soul aura into his.

His soul aura kept changing, taking on a Doom's soul aura.

After the process was complete, James stood up slowly, changing his appearance into Wyt's.

Then, he walked out of the manor where he was cultivating.

Seeing James coming out, Dempsey walked over and stared at James.

He could not sense James' human aura. Instead, James' aura was just like a Doom's. He observed James' appearance, gave a thumbs up, and said, "Impressive. I can't even sense a trace of human aura from you. Your human aura is completely erased, and you seem exactly like one of the Dooms."

James smiled lightly, and his Chaos Power emerged from his palm. He said smilingly, "With this appearance and Chaos Power, no one will suspect my identity, right?"

Since James had copied Wyot's memories, he had already learned of his experiences.

Wyot did not have a very high cultivation rank. Being the son of the Doom Race's current Patriarch was not why he was chosen as the successor of the Doom Race. In actuality, he was chosen due to his great potential. He was only a Seven-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God but had mastered various Paths of heaven and earth.

Wyot was the second person in the Doom Race to have successfully cultivated all the different Paths of heaven and earth. Thus, his Chaos Power was also very pure.

His talent stood out, which was why he was chosen as the next patriarch.

At the same time, James learned of some of the Dooms' Secret Arts from Wyot's memories. Unfortunately, Wyot had not cultivated the Chaos Sacred Art.

James had one more goal that he wanted to achieve while infiltrating the Doom Race-to learn the Chaos Sacred Art.

James looked at Dempsey and said, "Watch Wyot carefully. Don't let him escape. If he returns to the Dooms, it'll foil my plans."

Dempsey reassured him, saying, "Don't worry. There won't be any problems. Even if the Heaven-Eradicating Sect is destroyed, I'll make sure he doesn't escape."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4178

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4178-James had shapeshifted into Wyot.

His only concern was that Wyot might escape from the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's headquarters. If that happened, things would get very messy.

James was relieved upon hearing Dempsey's reassurance.

"Time is running out for the humans. I won't stay here any longer since I have to infiltrate the Dooms as soon as possible," said James.

"Be careful."

"Take care, James."

"If anything goes wrong, just abort the mission. Your survival is more important."

The Heaven-Eradicating Sect's senior authorities reminded James one after another.

James replied to them smilingly, "Don't worry. Our plan is foolproof. It won't take long for me to become a core member of the Dooms. I might even become their patriarch."

After speaking, James did not linger around any longer and quickly left the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's headquarters.

Dempsey and the other members of the Heaven-Eradicating Sect watched as James disappeared from their sight.

"I hope James' mission in the Doom Race's territory goes well." Dahlia looked into the distance sadly.

Dempsey comforted her, saying, "Don't worry. I'm sure he'll be fine. He went to Planet Desolation and came back even stronger. He's already a Quasi Acmean. Moreover, he took on Wyot's identity as the son of the Doom Race's Patriarch. He'll be fine as long as he isn't exposed.

"The fate of the Human Race lies on him.

"Pass down the order to use all our resources to find Madam Thea's whereabouts. We must find her as soon as possible."

James left the Heaven-Eradicating Sect and headed toward the Doom Realm.

The Doom Realm was one of the Greater Realms' strongest realms. It was also the core realm where the Doom Race lived.

The Doom Race was currently the strongest among the Greater Realms' various races.

The battle in the Primordial Realm was also initiated and led by the Doom Race. They gathered the other races and launched an attack on the Human Race. As a result of that battle, the Human Race suffered significant losses and failed to maintain its status as one of the strongest races.

James quickly traveled through the boundless Chaos. Soon, he appeared outside the Doom Realm.

He stepped forward, slowly walking through the void. Then, he entered the Doom Realm. James headed toward a planet within the Doom Universe with the help of Wyot's memories.

The planet was called Dreadovia.

Dreadovia was massive and had a very vast area.

James arrived outside Dreadovia and looked at the planet ahead of him. Then, he entered the planet.

He headed toward Mount Chaos, the headquarters of the Dooms.

Mount Chaos covered an area of tens of thousands of light-years. On the spiritual mountain were countless powerful Dooms.

As soon as James appeared outside Mount Chaos, he immediately attracted the attention of some guards

"Young Master?"

A few guards were surprised to see James.

Tens of thousands of guards immediately gathered and knelt on the ground. They greeted him respectfully, "Welcome back, Young Master!"

James looked at the Doom Race's guards, raised his hand, and said, "Stand."

The guards immediately got back on their feet.

Swoosh!

Several shadows flashed toward him.

The shadows materialized into human-looking creatures. Among the seven or eight of them, one of them was the Dooms' Great Elder, Youri, who James had disguised himself as before.

Since James had Wyot's memories, he recognized the creatures that had come to see him.

He looked at a middle-aged man dressed elegantly and greeted respectfully, "Father."

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4179

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4179-Then, James turned to Youri and greeted, "Great Elder."

He also looked at the other elders and called out to them, "Elders."

The Doom Race's Patriarch, Dolph Dalibor, looked at Wyot calmly. Then, he asked, "How did you escape?"

James replied calmly, "It's a long story. Let's head inside first."

On the main peak in the Doom Race's territory, Dolph sat in the highest seat in the main hall. Below him were a few core members of the Dooms, all of which were elders. At the same time, they were also powerful cultivators at the Acme Rank.

There were eight Acmeans inside the hall.

This was different from what James knew.

According to the intel he obtained, major races had only about five Acmeans. Meanwhile, any other race that had at least one Acmean would be considered a high-status race.

However, there were already eight Acmeans inside the main hall.

“Tell us what happened, Wyot.”

Dolph’s voice resounded throughout the area.

James stood up and clasped his fist at Dolph and the other elders. His face darkened, and he said, “Father, Elders, I need you all to help avenge me.”

James said, “When I was out training, I was ambushed. I was brought to a mysterious place and tortured for a long time before I finally found a chance to escape. However, I did not dare to come back immediately. So, I went into hiding and cultivated.”

Dolph said, “According to the information we’ve gathered, the Heaven-Eradicating Sect were the culprits that captured you. All these years, we’ve been trying to find their headquarters but were to no avail.”

James shook his head and said, “I wasn’t captured by humans but by the Soul Race.”

“The Soul Race?” Dolph, Youri, and the other elders exclaimed in unison.

Dolph stood up and said solemnly, “You shouldn’t spout nonsense, Wyot. Are you sure it was the Soul Race?”

James shook his head lightly and said, “I-I’m not very sure. But I escaped from a secret base of the Soul Race.”

Dolph had a solemn expression.

Youri stepped forward and said, “Young Master, you must be exhausted. How about you go rest first? We’ll investigate this matter thoroughly.”

“Alright, Elder Youri.”

James cupped his fists, turned, and left the main hall.

After he left, the Doom Race’s powerhouses began to discuss.

“Would the Soul Race really do such a thing?”

“According to our intel, the Heaven-Eradicating Sect was the one that captured Wyot. One of the Heaven-Eradicating Sect’s powerhouses had also publicly admitted that they’d captured Wyot.”

“Yeah. So what does this have to do with the Soul Race?”

The Doom Race’s powerhouses discussed, expressing their opinions one after another.

Dolph looked at Yuri and asked, “What do you think, Elder Yuri?”

Yuri fell into deep thought. After a while, he replied, “Wyot disappeared for eight thousand Epochs. There had been no news about him all this while, yet he reappeared out of the blue. I think that’s a bit suspicious.”

Dolph looked at Yuri and asked, “Oh? Why do you say so?”

Yuri shared his opinion, “A lot of things have happened recently. The Soul Race has repeatedly come to us, accusing us of working with the Human Race. Even the Cloud Race has come to us, claiming I’ve visited them and taken their key. With all these strange events, it feels like Wyot’s return is a bit...”

Dolph asked, “What you mean to say is that this might be the between us and the Soul Race?”

Human Race’s scheme to cause conflict

Yuri shook his head, saying, “I can’t say for sure yet. The most important thing now is to verify Wyot’s identity. We must check if he’s the real deal or a human disguising as Wyot.”

James had already predicted their reaction to Wyot’s sudden return to the Doom Race. He was fully prepared. No matter how the Doooms tried to verify his identity, they would never be able to find out he was a human.

His main goal was to gain the Doom Race’s trust and make them think he was the real Wyot. Then, he could provoke the relationship between the Doom

Race and the Soul Race. After getting these two into conflict, he would break the Doom Race's relationships with all the other races.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4180

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4180-James left the main hall and went to Mount Doom, following Wyot's memories.

Mount Doom was the spiritual mountain where Wyot resided.

It was given to Wyot and named in honor of the Doom Race.

Soon, James arrived at the foot of Mount Doom. He raised his head and looked at the mountain, then stepped forward.

With just one step, he leaped into the air and arrived atop Mount Doom.

There were several grand buildings situated atop the mountain.

As soon as James appeared, all the creatures on Mount Doom came to see him.

"Welcome back, Young Master." The creatures knelt on the ground.

"Get up." James waved his hand.

At that moment, a tall and glamorous woman came from a distance.

She had long, black hair and wore a pink dress with a tiara on her head.

Her facial features were exquisite, and her skin was as white as a pearl.

As she walked over to James, she emitted a noble and elegant aura.

Soon, she arrived right before James.

Her bright eyes were glued on James.

"You're back."

Her voice was gentle and soft, very pleasant to the ears.

From Wyot's memories, James knew that the woman before him was Wyot's wife. She was also the daughter of a powerful family in the Doom Race.

"Mhm." James nodded lightly at her.

Yemima Dalibor walked toward James, took his hand, and said gently, "I'm glad you're back."

A man in his twenties also walked over and said smilingly, "Wyot, my sister missed you a lot while you were gone. She couldn't even drink or eat because of how worried she was about you."

The man was Yemima's younger brother, Xaviell Dalibor.

After Yemima married Wyot, Xavier followed her to Mount Doom. He was also quite close with Wyot. From Wyot's memories, Wyot and Xaviell had a good relationship and talked about almost everything.

James patted Xaviell's shoulder and said smilingly, "I know."

Then, he turned to Yemima and said, "I'm sorry for making you worry."

Although Yemima was Wyot's wife, the two were only married in name. They had a wedding and were partners but had never slept together.

Wyot did indeed like Yemima since she was the most talented woman in the history of the Doom Race.

However, Yemima was uninterested in him and was pressured by her family to marry him.

On their wedding night, Yemima told Wyot that she would only sleep with him after he reached the Acme Rank.

"Alright, everyone's dismissed." James lightly waved his hand.

The crowd that came to greet James left one after another.

Afterward, James and Yemima headed toward the back mountain side by side.

While walking through the winding path, James asked, “Did anything happen while I was gone?”

Wyot and Yemima were only married in name. However, it was undeniable that Yemima was a very rare prodigy. Not only did she have high talent in cultivation, but she was also very smart.