The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4205-The woman in a black dress seemed to be hesitating. In the meantime, James tried sensing her aura. However, he could not sense anything at all, not even her soul. The woman seemed to never have existed. Though she could be seen by the naked eye, her existence seemed to be void. This happened once before on Planet Desolation when the most powerful individual appeared.

A few seconds later, the woman slowly removed her veil.

To James' disappointment, the woman was not Thea.

James immediately lost interest in her and stood up to leave. However, the woman was too similar to Thea. So, he asked, "What's your name?"

"Thea."

The woman glanced at James who was disguised as Wyot and spoke in a melodious tone.

Hearing this, James shivered.

"Thea Callahan?"

He asked.

Hearing this, the woman glanced at James for a few seconds before shaking her head, "Thea Quynh."

James took a deep breath, and his pounding heart gradually calmed down. Now, he was sure that the woman before him was not Thea Callahan. She only had some similarities with her, including her figure and name.

"Wyot Dalibor, the one who possesses a Thousand Paths Holy Body and the Minor Patriarch of the Dooms?" Thea stared at James and uttered word by word, "After being captured by the Heaven-Eradicating Sect, did you escape to a place called Cansington?"

At the same time, at a secluded place in the new world...

Thea Callahan was sitting in a lotus position on the ground. At that moment, her soul had merged with her avatar as her avatar had sensed the appearance of the Thousand Paths Holy Body. To her, only James possessed the Thousand Paths Holy Body. Meanwhile, only a single individual possessed the Thousand Paths Holy Body in the Greater Realms — Wyot Dalibor. Besides that, she had given James a mission — He would have to use the Dooms' power to infiltrate the Doom Race. Now, she had encountered Wyot Dalibor.

Upon hearing Wyot saying the word 'Thea', she immediately controlled her avatar's soul. She then returned the question.

When James heard the word 'Cansington', the expression on his face changed abruptly. However, upon remembering his identity as a Doom, he knew he could not be overly agitated, lest he accidentally exposes himself. Both he and Thea would be doomed.

He took a deep breath.

After coming to the Greater Realms for so long, he finally found Thea. That was because no one in the Greater Realms would know about Cansington, a place where the story began for both James and Thea.

"Indeed..."

James seemed to be reminiscing as he was thinking. "I went to Cansington. There, I was almost burned to death by a fire."

Hearing this, Thea's body began to tremble, but she quickly calmed down.

James stood up and walked toward her, grabbing her hand.

"This is not the place to speak."

He grabbed her by the arm and hurriedly left Chaos Tavern.

Thea, on the other hand, knew that the Wyot before her was James in disguise. So, she did not fight back but instead allow James to take her elsewhere.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4206-Upon arriving at the Greater Realms, James had been searching for Thea. Though the Heaven-Eradicating Sect's intelligence network was spread throughout the Greater Realms, no news of Thea came. So, he never thought he would meet her in Doom City.

He hurriedly grabbed Thea's arm and turned to leave. This scene was witnessed by many of the Dooms' guards. Among them were Youri the Great Elder's spies. Soon, word of this reached Youri's ears.

"Investigate the matter!" Youri ordered, "I demand you to find out that woman's identity."

"Understood."

On a spiritual mountain in Doom City...

There were countless courtyards in the spiritual mountain, and each of them was protected by a unique Formation. These properties belonged to the Dooms and were opened to the public for rental.

James dragged Thea to one of those courtyards. Then, he set up a Formation before pulling her to the bed and pushing her down.

In the new world far away, Thea's body had an unusual reaction.

In the room, Thea pushed James away and chided him, "You pervert."

James immediately conversed with Thea through telepathy.

"This is the Dooms' place, and there are many of them watching me closely. Though there's a Formation here, the Dooms were the ones who set them up. Even if I have set up a Formation of my own, there are simply too many of them outside. If they notice that we are up to no good, we'll be in deep trouble. So let's converse while we make love at the same time."

Hearing this, Thea did not struggle anymore. Instead, she even helped James remove his clothes.

“What’s the situation on your side?” Thea asked through telepathy.

“When I arrived in this world, I landed at the place where Soren Plamen was sealed away. However, Soren did not believe me and only taught me some Formation Inscriptions before asking me to leave. He requested me to gather the keys of the Ten Great Races and let him go free. Only then will he teach me the Blithe Omniscience. When I left the Cloud Race’s restricted area, I impersonated Youri Dalibor and resolved the Cloud Race’s crisis. I even obtained the Cloud Race’s key.”

James narrated the chain of events to Thea.

“So you were the one behind all this. Well done! The major races have begun to suspect one another. Many of them, including the powerful Soul Race, no longer trust the Doom Race.”

Thea was pleased.

“You’ve done well. I shall reward you handsomely today.”

After she spoke, she got on top of James and began to move.

“What about you? How’s the new world doing?”

Though James had arrived in the Greater Realms sometime now, he did not understand the new world. So, he was eager to know more.

“I have found all forty-nine Universe Seeds. The remaining Universe Seeds have transformed into new universes. However, they have not begun consolidating into one. The Omnipotent Lord is still currently the Lord of the Universe. After you left, I concealed myself and offered Jacopo guidance and incredible providence from the shadows. The time has not come yet for me to reveal myself. The new world needs someone to stand against the Omnipotent Lord. The Omnipotent Lord has great potential indeed. After you annihilated the Ursa, he secured his position as the Lord of the Universe and obtained the providence of the new universe. As such, he has reached the Quasi Acme Rank. However, he attracted the attention of the Watchers, who made a move against him. Nonetheless, he survived. I suspect that he has come to an agreement with the Watchers. As the Human Race's providence is becoming increasingly powerful, the Ten Great Races of the Greater Realms know that they won't be able to stop the emergence of the Human Race. So, they plan to prop up a puppet of the Human Race, and the Omnipotent Lord could be their candidate."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4207-"Now, I need Jacopo to stand up against the Omnipotent Lord. At the same time, I have offered guidance to Jabari and others of the Human Race who possess some potential."

Thea described the situation in the new universe in detail.

"Once you've thrown the Greater Realms into disarray, and the Ten Great Races are in no position to concern themselves with the Sealed Realm, I will appear and annihilate the Omnipotent Lord and the Watchers who have hidden in the Dark World. Once these troubles are resolved, a new world will be born. Once every universe in the new world merges into one, it will become a world no weaker than the Primordial Realm. That way, the seal will be broken, and this world will emerge once more. By then, the Human Race's providence will have reached its pinnacle, and many powerful individuals will emerge from among the Human Race."

"How's your strength recovering? What's your rank in the Primordial Realm's age?" James conversed with Thea as he enjoyed the process of making love.

Thea replied, "I was at the late-stage Terra Acme Rank in the Primordial Realm's age. Though I survived after the battle, my strength now is just a fraction of what I possessed beforehand. Now, my injuries have recuperated. However, my cultivation base has yet to recover completely. At the moment, I'm at the late-stage Permanence Acme Rank. You need time to execute your plan, whereas I need time to regain my strength. Once my powers completely recover, I'll be able to annihilate the Watchers who have concealed themselves in the Dark World."

Hearing this, James took a deep breath.

Late-stage Terra Amce Rank was a terrifying rank. The current Great Elder of the Dooms was at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank. To think that Thea in the past would rival the Great Elder of the Dooms...

"Do you have any plans yet for the Dooms?" Thea asked.

"I have yet to understand the inside situation of the Dooms. Let's not rush things for now. Once I have comprehended the situation, we will formulate a more detailed plan."

"Mhm."

"Ahh... Oh, yeah..."

"Hmm..."

"Enough talking for now. Let's get down to business."

A few moments later...

Thea lay in James' embrace, and the two simply lay in bed. After some time, James got up and reminded Thea, "Your appearance must have attracted the attention of the Dooms. They will surely investigate your identity. Don't let your guard down."

Thea smiled and said, "Not to worry. They can investigate all they want, but they won't be able to find anything."

"I'll be taking my leave for now. Yemami will begin to suspect something if I'm late."

James had already gotten dressed.

Thea said

nothing about Yemami. She said, “Mhm, I will remain in Doom City, so feel free to approach me anytime. Also, report to me if there’s anything unusual. We can discuss things together.”

James removed the formation and turned to leave.

After he left, Thea remained lying on the bed. Though she was formidable, James’ techniques were astonishing. After the tussling and wrestling on the bed, her back was now aching. However, she did not summon any power to remove these backaches and wish to relish the occasion.

James, on the other hand, returned to Mount Doom satisfied.

Upon returning to Mount Doom, Yemima had been waiting for James. Seeing that James was back, she glanced at him and said jealously, “Are you satisfied now?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4208-“We’ll talk inside.”

James said and entered the room.

In the room, Yemima sat opposite him.

“What’s wrong? Don’t tell me you are jealous.” James smiled mischievously at Yemima.

Yemima, on the other hand, reminded him, “I’m just reminding you not to cross the line. Lust will prevent you from accomplishing what’s important. Such events must not be repeated constantly.”

Yemima was worried that James would fool around outside and bring home a group of women. If that happened, her status on Mount Doom would diminish. This was not what she or her family desired.

“Alright, don’t worry. I know my limits.” James stretched. At that moment, his suppressed urges had been released, and he could not feel any better.

“By the way, I plan to find a place and enter a closed-door meditation,” James said.

“A closed-door meditation?” Yemima glanced at James and said, “We don’t have much time left till the gathering. You have crossed into the Quasi Acme Rank. In what limited time we have, your rank will not increase any further.”

James was now at early-stage Quasi Acme Rank. Reaching the middle-stage would take ages, so he would not be able to reach that stage before the gathering no matter how great his potential was.

“I’m going to cultivate a secret art,” James explained.

“Cultivate what?” Yemima asked.

James said smilingly, “Previously, I went into hiding and cultivated after making my escape. It was then I obtained a providence. I’m worried that I won’t be able to fight one versus five during the gathering. So I have to cultivate some more.”

“One versus five?”

Yemima immediately stood up and exclaimed, “What are you trying to do, Wyot? I know you are strong and arrogant, but you have gone too far now. Don’t you want to find some allies? Besides, this gathering is open to all at the Quasi Acme Rank. Do you know how many teams there will be?”

James’ smile froze, and he said grimly, “I know what I’m doing.”

“No, you can’t do this. If you just can’t be bothered to form a team, I will help you select a few teammates. Even if their strength is only mediocre, they are Quasi Acmeans, after all. They can help you out.”

Yemima did not want James to fight alone. After all, this concerned the Chaos Sacred Lotus, an object that would allow one to reach the Acme Rank. James needed to reach the Acme Rank to secure his position as the Minor Patriarch.

James, however, said, “I need a battle to assert my authority. If I choose a team, I won’t be able to do so even if I emerge victorious. However, if I fight alone and win, my prestige in the race will rise substantially. This will be crucial for me to become the Patriarch.”

“But..

James waved slightly and interrupted her, saying, “Please trust my judgment. I have other aces up my “Oh, so now you’re keeping things a secret from me, Wyot.” Yemima grumbled, “Speak. What aces do you have up your sleeves?”

James walked toward her and embraced her tightly. Their faces were only inches away from each other. James could clearly sense her face heating up.

Her cheeks were red as she blushed, “Wh-What do you want?”

James released his grip and said smilingly, “These are my trump cards, my keys to victory. How can I tell you

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4209-Looking at James, she asked, "Where do you plan to enter a closed-door meditation?"

"The Red Flame Realm," James said.

"What?! Are you insane?!" Yemima immediately stood up and protested, "You mustn't go there."

"Why not?" James glanced at Yemima.

"Do you really not know or are you just playing dumb?" Yemima glanced at him and said, "The Red Flame Realm has been destroyed long ago. Now, the Red Flame Realm is but a dilapidated universe. In this space, there are countless spatial turbulences. Besides, the energy of Heaven and Earth here has been greatly depleted. This is not the perfect place to cultivate."

James knew this, of course. He knew that the Red Flame Realm was a powerful world in the distant past. The owner of the Red Flame Realm was the Compassionate Path Master. Meanwhile, the vast majority of Ignis James absorbs during cultivation came from the destruction of universes. However, part of them also came from the Red Flame Realm. This Ignis is the Genesis of the realm.

James had his reasons to go there. That was because the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations were created by the Compassionate Path Master in the Red Flame Realm. He also cultivated the Second Transformation—Everlasting Flames. James would be able to achieve results much quicker. Based on his original cultivation path, he needed at least hundreds of Epochs to cultivate the Second Transformation, no matter his potential. Things, however, would be different in the Red Flame Realm. Perhaps he would be able to comprehend.

Yemima furrowed his eyebrows. She was confused. What was James going to cultivate there? However, she did not inquire further. Instead, she reminded him, "In any case, don't forget about the time. You have to return before the gathering, is that understood?"

"Alright, got it." James nodded.

Then, he simply turned to leave the place.

He did not conceal his tracks but instead walked out the front door. His departure was immediately noticed by the Dooms' guards. Some of them were spies of certain factions in the Doom Race. Soon, the Great Elder received word of James' departure.

After he left, Thea did not remain inside Doom City but instead followed James. Their affair had been exposed already, so she simply chased after him and followed him to the Red Flame Realm. Naturally, news of this reached Yemima's ears.

"You have to be careful, Sis. James said that he's out for cultivation, but I have a feeling that he's fooling around with other women. I just received word that a woman is following him."

Hearing this, Yemima said in annoyance, "Alright, I hear you. I know what I'm doing."

After James and Thea left the Dooms, they entered the Chaos and traversed through the place.

"Where are we heading to?"

Thea asked.

James said smilingly, "I told you I obtained many providences on Planet Desolation. Apart from the Primal Mantra, I have also obtained the inheritance of the Compassionate Path Master and absorbed Ignis. Now, I have cultivated the Flame Art's First Transformation. So, I plan to head to the Red Flame Realm and see if I can reach the Second Transformation before the Dooms' gathering begin."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4210

The Flame Art's First Transformation was terrifying enough to annihilate an Acmean. If he could cultivate the Second Transformation—Everlasting Flames, he believed his strength would increase by leaps and bounds.

Hearing that James obtained these providences, Thea was not surprised. James, after all, was the fated one chosen by the Heavenly Path.

The two traversed through the Chaos.

Soon, they arrived outside the Red Flame Realm.

The Red Flame Realm was a radiant universe in the distant past and was comparable to the Chaos Realm of today.

James and Thea arrived outside the Red Flame Realm, standing in the Chaos and looking straight ahead. In the distance, there was no vitality in the universe. The stars were dim, and countless suns were in flames. As they burned, they released a gas that would be detrimental to living beings. Thea was somewhat familiar with the Greater Realms. That was because the Primordial Realm was not yet sealed in the distant past. As a powerful individual, she would frequently wander about the Greater Realms.

“In the distant past, this was once a magnificent place.”

She sighed.

“Who would have thought that such a bright universe would turn out this way? I can sense that the Red Flame Realm is nearing its end. Before long, it will completely vanish from the Greater Realms, leaving nothing behind. The Red Flame Realm will only exist in the ancient texts henceforth.”

This was a sad scene. Even James remained silent. After a while, he said, “Let’s go have a look.”

“Mhm.” Thea nodded.

The two strode forward.

In just a single step, they entered the Red Flame Realm and arrived in the space just outside. There were no stars in the surroundings, and the sky was pitch-black. In the darkness, there was also an unbearable, scorching heat. The Red Flame Realm’s temperature was terrifying. Even a Macrocosm Ancestral God would not be able to endure the heat, and his physical body would disintegrate into nothingness.

“How much do you know about the Red Flame Realm?” James looked at Thea.

Thea’s appearance was unlike hers in the past. Even so, she was still stunningly beautiful.

She explained, “The Red Flame Realm’s owner is the Compassionate Path Master, an Acmean that only exists in legends. They say that he used the original flames of the Red Flame Realm to cultivate the Flame Art’s Three Fire Transformation. However, sensing that the flame’s strength is insufficient, he began gathering Ignis.”

“Ignis is very rare. When a powerful universe is destroyed, only a tiny thread of Ignis will be born. To collect more Ignis, the Compassionate Path Master attacked and annihilated many universes.” WN

“Is that so?”

James froze.

He never realized this was how the Ignis he absorbed came to be. After all, there were no records in the Flame Art’s Three Fire Transformation.

“Mhm.” Thea nodded and said, “However, this only happened in the distant past. Not many people nowadays know about this.”

The two conversed and ventured further into the Red Flame Realm at the same time. The deeper they went, the higher the temperature. In the beginning, they would encounter some stars and galaxies. However, most of them were in flames. Some were nothing more than an empty shell. However, in the deepest parts of the realm, every galaxy here had gathered to form a giant ball of flames.
