The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4215-James and Thea did not linger for long in the Chaos Space and simply returned to the Doom Realm. Soon, they arrived at the Doom Realm.

Upon their return, James bid farewell to Thea. Concerned that she would be targeted by the Doom Race or other races, Thea chose to leave the Doom Realm. Though she was formidable, she had not returned to peak form. Faced against the powerful individuals of the major races, she had no chance of winning. Besides, as this was a crucial moment, she did not want to create trouble for James. So, she left the Doom Realm alone.

When she appeared in the void outside the Doom Realm, she returned to her original appearance. Staring in the direction of the Doom Realm, she caressed her stomach as a joyful smile crept up on her face, and she murmured, "I'll be giving you a surprise. Your son will surely grow to become a reliable man. Though he's still a fetus, I can already sense his uniqueness. His birth will bring about great changes."

Though the Thea in the Greater Realms was only an avatar, her will was similar to the original Thea. Now, the avatar was pregnant. Besides, the fetus had been inside her for a long time now. She had been keeping this a secret because she did not want James to be distracted.

At the same time, James had returned to Mount Doom.

Many Dooms had gathered at the foot of Mount Doom. In the lead were Yemima Dalibor, the owner of the mountain, and Xaviell Dalibor, Yemima's brother. Then, there were also many disciples of Mount Doom. They were absolutely loyal to Wyot.

"James." Xavier walked toward James and began to praise him, saying, "I never thought you'd have an ace up your sleeves. You will surely emerge victorious in the gathering this time around."

Hearing this, James was not surprised. After all, he headed to the Red Flame Realm through the front door. As such, the Dooms must have sent powerful individuals to follow him. So, it was only natural that word would reach the Dooms.

James smiled and glanced at Yemima. Yemima was about 190 centimeters tall and was wearing a white dress. Her dress was slightly transparent, and her enticing figure captured the gaze of many. Her features were delicate and near immaculate. As she flipped her long black hair to the back, she walked toward James. The gracious movements of a stunningly beautiful woman stimulated the urges of every man present there.

She stood before James and tidied up his messy clothes, saying gently, “We don’t have much time left till the gathering. We should rest for now and regulate our condition.”

James thought that Yemima would interrogate him about Thea. However, she did not bring up the issue. This woman was scary, thought James. Even so, he put on a smile and pinched her cheeks, saying smilingly, “Don’t worry, everything will be fine. Mount Doom will surely be the one to emerge victorious in the gathering.”

“Alright now, I know.” Yemima blushed. Then, she turned around and said to the disciples of Mount Doom, “Everything’s alright. You are dismissed.”

“Understood,” the disciples said in unison before turning to leave.

Xavier, on the other hand, grabbed James and asked, “James, where did you go after you escaped from the Heaven-Eradicating Sect? What providence did you obtain? How did your strength manage to increase so quickly? Besides, you even refined the entire Red Flame Realm. How impressive!”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4216-Xavielle began to kiss James’ *ss. Seeing this, James only smiled faintly. They then returned to the peak of Mount Doom.

James returned to his accommodation. This accommodation was the restricted area of Mount Doom. Apart from him and Yemima, no one else could enter without permission. So, Xaviell took the hint and did not enter.

In the room of the accommodation...

While James was seating on a chair, Yemima walked toward him and simply sat on his thigh. Though James was somewhat uneasy, he did not exhibit any emotions. Instead, he simply embraced her slim waist. The alluring fragrance of a woman entered his nostrils.

"Has anything happened in the family recently?" James asked.

Yemima answered, "Nothing much."

"Anything from the Great Elder?" James asked.

The Dooms organized this gathering because the Great Elder appeared in the Cloud Race and demanded they hand over the token. Then, the Patriarch of the Soul Race personally came to the Dooms and accused the Dooms of conspiring with the Human Race and demanded an explanation. That was why the Dooms invited all the powerful individuals of the Greater Realms. They wanted to provide an explanation to the world.

James was particularly concerned about the Great Elder. He was curious to know what Youri was up to.

As Wyot's wife, Yemima was an astute and bright woman. Being the owner of Mount Doom, she had ordered her subordinates to infiltrate the Great Elder's inner circle.

"How strange, indeed. The Great Elder has been really calm recently." Yemima said puzzledly, "Though the gathering is only just around the corner, the Great Elder seems to be at ease. I have no idea how he plans to explain to the world."

Hearing this, James furrowed his eyebrows. The more calm things appeared on the surface, the more turbulence the tides below. He had a feeling that something big would happen during the gathering. Things would be out of his control.

"Yemima, do you think the Great Elder will make his stand?" James suddenly asked.

Hearing this, Yemima fell silent. After contemplating for some time, she said, "Not likely, I think. After all, all the powerful individuals of the world will gather here. One wrong move and there'll be a world war. The Great Elder doesn't have the strength to overwhelm everyone else. Otherwise, he would have demanded the keys from the other races in broad daylight instead of having to resort to conspiring with the Human Race."

Now, everyone in the Dooms believed that Youri had colluded with the Human Race. Only James knew he was innocent. He was worried that Youri would not even bother to explain and simply resort to violence.

Youri had reached the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage during the Primordial Realm's age. Since so long had passed, perhaps he had crossed into the Ninth Stage just like what the Grand Patriarch suspected. Youri without the Blithe Omniscience would not be as scary as Soren Plamen. Even so, his physical body would be indestructible. In the Greater Realms, no living being could annihilate his physical body.

"Sigh... What a headache. I just want to secure my position as the Patriarch of the Dooms, and the Great Elder is standing in my way." James sighed.

Yemima consoled him, "There's nothing to worry about. The Patriarch's still around, and the Grand Patriarch is currently in the shadows. No matter how strong the Great Elder is, he wouldn't dare act recklessly inside the Dooms."

When he remembered Dolph, James breathed a sigh of relief. Patriarchs would not be pushovers. Even though Dolph was much lower in status compared to Youri the Great Elder, his strength was formidable. In the Primordial Realm's age, he was already a Terra Acmean. Now that so much time had passed, who knew what rank he was now?

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4217

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4217-That was because Dolph had not made a move for a very long time.

James knew nothing about Youri's plans for now. However, he could only take one step at a time. Over the next couple of years, he remained inside Mount Doom.

As the date of the gathering inched closer and closer, more and more powerful individuals gathered in the Doom Realm. Not only were the Ten Great Races present but there were even other hidden races. Though they were not in the Ten Great Races, they had Acmeans among their ranks. Apart from that, the Quasi Acmeans of all races had gathered here. The Quasi Acmeans of today will be the pillars of the Greater Realms of tomorrow. Once they crossed into the Acme Rank, they would emerge as a force to be reckoned with.

Time passed.

In the blink of an eye, there were only three months left till the gathering.

At the back of the spiritual mountain where the Great Elder resided...

Youri was sitting in a lotus position. He was old, and his pulse was weak. However, beneath his elderly surface, there was an explosive power hidden. At that moment, he radiated a bizarre-looking halo.

“What a shame...”

After some time, he stopped cultivating.

“If I could obtain the Blithe Omniscience, I would be invincible.”

Hirah Dalibor the Grand Patriarch’s hypothesis was correct—Youri was already at the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage. During the event at the Cloud Race, he had secretly gathered materials in preparation for the breakthrough of the Ninth Stage. Just as he was contemplating ways of obtaining the keys in the possession of other races, word of his appearance at the Cloud Race spread like wildfire. Then came the Soul Race. This troubled him deeply. The living being behind this had foiled his plans, and he wished he could tear the perpetrator to pieces.

A middle-aged man appeared. He was brutish and had blue hair. He was Youri’s confidant and had been following Youri since the Primordial Realm’s age. His name was Qimat Dalibor, and he was a powerful individual who concealed his strength.

Qimat said, “At the moment, powerful figures from all over the Greater Realms have gathered. The gathering is about to begin. The Grand Patriarch, Patriarch, and everyone else is waiting for you to provide an explanation.”

Youri glared at Qimat, who shivered in fear and unconsciously staggered backward. Youri slowly stood up, and his face darkened as he said coldly, “Explanation? How? I wish the Cloud Race and the Soul Race could offer me an explanation as well!”

Youri was livid. News of his Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage must not be leaked. That was because the Ten Great Races had come to an agreement after the war against the Human Race. No living being of any race is allowed to cultivate the Omniscience Path. Otherwise, he will be annihilated. That was why word of his search for herbs to allow him to reach the Ninth Stage must never be leaked. However, that would mean he could not explain where he was during the Cloud Race’s event. All this while, Youri had been thinking of ways to resolve this. However, nothing came to mind. He was beginning to panic.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4218-“What should I do, Great Elder?”

Qimat looked at Youri submissively and said, “The gathering is just around the corner. What should we do if we can’t explain things clearly?”

Youri took a deep breath to forcibly calm himself down. All this while, this matter had been on his mind. However, he had no way of resolving this. He did not want to admit to this because he did not wish to shoulder the blame.

However, on the contrary, he would not be able to explain what he was doing at that specific period of time.

“Alright now, you’re dismissed for now. We’ll take one step at a time.”

Youri waved slightly.

“Understood.”

Qlmat nodded and turned to leave.

After he left, Youri’s face darkened as he clenched his fists. He also exuded a terrifying aura. He was now showing signs of going berserk. If pressured any further, he would certainly act impulsively. Besides, he already had an idea in mind. If he could not explain things clearly, he would resort to violence.

James did not know anything about this. Though he remained on Mount Doom, he was contemplating what Youri was planning.

Time passed.

In the blink of an eye, the day of the Dooms’ gathering had arrived.

Night fell.

James sat on a rock in the courtyard and gazed at the pitch-black sky. Yemima, glamorous as always, appeared before him and said, “Tomorrow’s the day of the gathering.”

“Mhm.” James nodded slightly.

Yemima said, “The Great Elder is calm at the moment. There are no signs of him making a move.”

James was concerned. The calmer the surface, the more turbulent the tides that run beneath. Actually, he was hoping that Youri would do something reckless like betraying the Doom Race. That way, Youri would be the enemy of the Greater Realms, which would be thrown into chaos.

James was not the only person who had trouble sleeping that night. Youri was uneasy. Tomorrow was the gathering. Yet, he still did not know how to explain this. Though he had a plan on his mind, he could not make the final decision. As a Doom, he did not wish to go too far.

He walked back and forth in his room anxiously.

Knock! Knock! Knock!

A knock came on the door.

Youri took a deep breath and said, "Come in."

The door opened, and Qimat walked in.

"Great Elder, if we do not act tonight, the opportunity will slip away." Qimat said, "The greatest threat to you in the Dooms is the Grand Patriarch. All this while, he had been in closed-door meditation healing his injuries. His condition is dire Qimat had been Youri's subordinate for a very long time now. As such, he knew how ambitious Youri was. Otherwise, he would not have quietly cultivated the Omniscience Path. Back then, when the Ten

Great Races annihilated the Human Race, those who cultivated the Omniscience Path had their cultivation base ripped away from them. Youri, however, managed to slip away. Though this was a secret to the outside world, everyone inside the Dooms knew about this.

"You have to make the decision, Great Elder! Tonight, we will annihilate the Grand Patriarch. Once he's dead, you will call the shots around here. By then, even if we have to fight against the Greater Realms, we won't be afraid!"

Seeing that Youri was still hesitating, Qimat did not hold back.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4219-Youri's expression was composed as he glanced at Qimat and asked, "Where's Lada Yocheved?"

Qimat said, "As she has been by the Grand Patriarch's side all this while, she knows his condition best. After extrapolating the future of the Doom Race, much of his power has been depleted. At the moment, the Grand Patriarch has been substantially weakened. She has reported this multiple times."

Youri's face darkened as he said, "Summon her."

At that moment, the door opened, and a woman wearing a white dress walked in. As her face was covered by a veil, her appearance could not be discerned.

She was Lada Yocheved, a lady servant of Hirah Dalibor the Grand Patriarch. She was a spy implanted by Youri among Hirah's ranks.

"Greetings, Great Elder."

Lada walked in and greeted him respectfully.

Youri asked, "Is the Grand Patriarch really nearing his end?"

"Yes," Lada said, "He was gravely injured during the war in the Primordial Realm. All this while, he had been sustaining himself with his own vitality. When the Minor Patriarch returned, the Grand Patriarch gave him the Chaos Sacred Art. He even depleted his remaining power to extrapolate the future of the Dooms. It was then he learned that the Dooms would face a disaster, one that will be related to the Great Elder."

Hearing this, Youri's expression turned grim.

Lada continued, "I can sense that his power has been almost completely depleted. At the moment, his strength is only at the peak of the Quasi Acme Rank. If you make a move, you can surely exterminate him silently."

Youri knew about this for Lada had reported Hirah's condition to him many times in the past. However, he was doubtful. All this while, he repeatedly questioned Lada because he was afraid of things going awry. If he misstepped even once, he would lose everything. Doubt was written on his face.

"Stop hesitating, Great Elder. We're running out of time!" Qimat was anxious.

Youri took a deep breath and glanced at Lada, saying, "Execute the plan we originally formulated. You will ambush the Grand Patriarch while I watch from the shadows. If anything unexpected occurs, I will intervene straight away."

"Understood."

Lada nodded before disappearing from the room.

In the closed-door meditation sanctuary of the Dooms...

The Grand Patriarch was sitting in a lotus position on the peak of a mountain. His hair was disheveled, and his appearance was old. His pulse was also very weak.

From the darkness, a woman walked toward him. She was Lada.

"Grand Patriarch, the gathering's tomorrow. Do you not plan to participate?" Lada asked.

Hirah opened his eyes slightly and looked at Lada, sighing and saying, "How am I supposed to attend in the condition I'm in? If I let others know that I'm nearing my end, it will be extremely disadvantageous to our race. We have both external and internal threats at the same time. Besides, Wynnstan has yet to grow. I'm worried that the Dooms won't last through the crisis."

Hirah was filled with consternation.

Lada walked toward him and said, "Don't worry, Grand Patriarch. The Minor Patriarch has immense potential. He will surely lead the rise of the Dooms."

In the meantime, she silently gathered strength. Lada's strength is formidable, and she was a true Acmean.

At that moment, she attacked abruptly, and her powerful palm struck Hirah. Her arm pierced through Hirah's body, and Hirah was sent flying, spurting out mouthfuls of blood. He collapsed on the ground not too far away and glared at Lada furiously, pointing his finger at her.

"Y-You...!"

"Forgive me, Grand Patriarch."

Lada rushed toward Hirah and struck him once more.

As Hirah was already nearing his end, he could not withstand such an immense force. His vitality seeped away in an instant, and his soul was annihilated.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4220

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4220-Youri had concealed himself in the shadows.

Lada's strength was at the Terra Acme Rank. As she had been by Hirah's side for a very long time, she knew him well. That was why Youri instructed her to deal the killing blow.

At that moment, Hirah was already lying on the ground. He had lost all signs of life. Even his soul was annihilated.

No living being could live forever in this world. Even those who possessed strength could only enjoy a longer lifespan.

Lada walked toward Hirah cautiously and stared at him. Then, she crouched down and inspected for any signs of life. Sensing that Hirah was truly dead, she breathed a sigh of relief. At that moment, seemingly sapped of all her energy, she simply sat on the ground. She had made the decision to annihilate the Grand Patriarch after a long period of hesitation.

After observing the situation for some time, Youri walked out from the shadows.

Lada immediately stood up and greeted him, "Great Elder."

Though her appearance could not be discerned, her voice was melodious.

"You've done well, Lada." Youri praised. Then, his expression turned grim as he stared at Hirah's corpse, saying, "Throughout the time he was here, he cultivated the Chaos Sacred Art and pierced through Heaven's secret. He should have foreseen this. So how is he dead just like that?"

Youri was doubtful.

Lada explained, "The Grand Patriarch has been severely injured after the war in the Primordial Realm. Much time has passed. However, his injuries only seemed to have deteriorated. When the Minor Patriarch returned, he used immense power to extrapolate. As his energy was severely depleted, he could not even withstand my attack."

Since she had been by Hirah's side for a long time, she knew everything about him.

"Don't worry, Grand Patriarch, everything will be fine. The only people I worry about now are the Patriarch and the Minor Patriarch."

Even so, Youri was uneasy. However, now that things had come to this, it was already too late for him to regret it.

He looked at Lada and asked, "Since you have been by his side for so long, you must be familiar with his aura, I presume?"

Lada nodded and said, "Yes."

Then, she transformed into Hirah Dalibor, the Grand Patriarch of the Dooms.

Youri tried sensing her aura. Sensing that her aura was identical to Hirah's, he breathed a sigh of relief and pointed at a corpse, saying, "Clean up the mess."

"Understood."

Lada nodded.

An evil grin crept up on Youri's face as he disappeared into the night.

No one knew what had happened. That was because the closed-door meditation sanctuary of Hirah was shielded by a powerful formation that could insulate all sorts of power. Not only did it prevent aura from leaking to the outside world, but it could also prevent anyone from using Divine Sense to glimpse into the formation.

Lada transformed into Hirah and remained in this spiritual mountain.

That night, James was uneasy. He had a feeling that something had happened. However, he could not be sure. Unable to remain on Mount Doom, he left the mountain and headed toward the main peak before arriving at Dolph's study room.

Though it was late at night, the lights in Dolph's study room were still on. James knocked on the door.

Knock! Knock! Knock!
