The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4281-James was very conflicted.

Yemima asked, "What's the matter? What're you thinking about?"

James snapped out of his thoughts and said, "It's nothing. I'm just very happy. It still feels like a dream. I've been waiting to make you mine for a long time. I thought I'd have to wait until I reached the Acme Rank. I never expected us to do this so quickly. It just feels so surreal."

"Pfft!" Yemima burst out laughing.

"Cut it out. Stop being so dramatic. I've always been your woman. My heart and body belong to you and only you."

Yemima turned around and got out of bed, beginning to get dressed.

James looked at her in a daze. He began wondering if Wyot returned and Yemima found out the man she slept with was a human, how would she feel? What kind of things would she do?

"Huff." James took a deep breath and put away these jumbled thoughts.

James spent the next few days on Mount Doom leisurely, waiting for the Chaos Sacred Lotus to mature.

During this period, Yemima seemed to have unlocked a new side to herself and frequently visited James. James had no choice but to accept her.

The Chaos Sacred Lotus matured in the blink of an eye.

"Wyot, wake up."

A knock came on the door.

James slowly got out of bed, put on his clothes, and opened the door.

He looked at Yemima outside the door, yawned, and asked, "What's the matter?"

‘The Chaos Sacred Lotus has arrived and has been sent to Mount Doom’s main hall.’

James immediately regained his energy and disappeared from Yemima’s sight. The next moment, he had already appeared in Mount Doom’s main hall.

He immediately spotted the lotus floating in the main hall when he arrived.

The lotus had eighty-one petals, each blooming with magical light.

It was stunning and dazzling. The lotus emitted potent force, and its fragrance permeated the air.

An old man wearing a golden robe sat in the highest hall.

After James looked at the Chaos Sacred Lotus, he turned to the old man, clasped his hands, and said, “Sir Youri.”

Youri stood up, walked down from the highest seat, and approached James. He looked at the Sacred Chaos Lotus and said smilingly, “Wyt, this is a great treasure of the Doom Race. Only one matures in a very long time. You have a Thousand Paths Holy Body and mastered the countless Paths of heaven and earth. Thus, you have very pure Chaos Power. The Chaos Sacred Lotus also contains complete and pure Chaos Power. It’ll be very beneficial to your cultivation.”

James could sense the strong Chaos Power from the lotus.

After he refined the Chaos Sacred Lotus’ powers, his cultivation rank, physical strength, and even his Omniscience Path would improve.

Other creatures could not completely refine the Chaos Sacred Lotus’ power, and it would take five cultivators to refine it together.

However, it was an easy job for James.

He had cultivated the Omniscience Path. Thus, he could convert the Chaos Sacred Lotus’ power into his own potential to enhance his Omniscience Path.

He might even enter the Omniscience Path’s Eight Stage.

Youri patted James' shoulder and said smilingly, "I know you've cultivated the Omniscience Path as well. The Chaos Sacred Lotus would allow you to enter the Acme Rank and help you enter the Omniscience Path's Eight Stage. After you completely refine it, you'll become a true powerhouse and a pillar of the Doom Race."

James cupped his fists and said, "Thank you, Sir Youri."

"Work hard in your cultivation. In the future, we'll join hands to lead the Doom Race and create an unprecedented era."

After leaving a few words, Youri disappeared from the hall.

James carefully put away the Chaos Sacred Lotus and put it in his storage treasure.

Yemima entered the hall and said happily, "Congratulations, Wyot! You will soon enter the Acme Rank and become a peerless powerhouse in the Greater Realms."

"Thank you."

James chuckled and said, "I'm not going to waste any time and will head to cultivate immediately. After I leave seclusion, I'll definitely be one of the strongest in the Greater Realms."

James did not linger in the main hall for long. He quickly left to the back mountain and set up an ancient time formation. He began preparing to cultivate to make a breakthrough to reach the Acme Rank and the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4282-On Mount Doom's back mountain, James set up an aurasolating time formation.

He sat in a lotus position in the center of the formation, whereas the Sacred Chaos Lotus floated in front of him.

The Sacred Chaos Lotus was the Doom Race's treasure.

The Doom Race was located in the Doom Realm, which was also the central region of the Chaos. It was also the core of the Greater Realms.

The Sacred Chaos Lotus could only bloom in the Doom Realm.

It contained pure Chaos Power, which was made up of the power of various Paths of heaven and earth. After refining the Sacred Chaos Lotus' power, one's various Path Powers would also increase significantly.

The Sacred Chaos Lotus allowed a Quasi Acmean to enter the Acme Rank.

James looked at the Sacred Chaos Lotus before him and fell into deep thought.

Previously, James learned that after the Quasi Acme Rank, there was a sub-rank called the Boundless Rank.

He began pondering on the Boundless Rank.

The Boundless Rank referred to infinite power.

While in the Quasi Acme Rank, one could enhance one's strength to the maximum limit.

Under normal circumstances, a powerhouse at the Quasi Boundless Rank was stronger than a Permanence Acmean.

James had always pursued the limit of strength. In the past, he always fought opponents stronger than him. Although he was only a Quasi Acmean, his strength surpassed his current rank. At his current state, he could even take on a cultivator at the Terra Acme Rank's Early Stage.

To so easily enter the Acme Rank, James did not feel satisfied. By doing so, he would miss the Boundless Rank. It would definitely impact his strength in the future.

After carefully thinking about it, James decided to wait to enter the Acme Rank. He wanted to find a way to enter the Quasi Boundless Rank.

Unfortunately, his knowledge of the Boundless Rank was very limited.

From what he knew, Deshawn was the only one who had entered the Quasi Boundless Rank.

“Huff!” James took a deep breath.

He put away the Chaos Sacred Lotus, dispersed the formation, and left the back mountain.

As soon as he dispersed the formation, Yemima sensed his aura and quickly appeared before him. She asked, “Aren’t you supposed to be cultivating? Why are you out so soon?”

James replied, “I’m not satisfied with entering the Acme Rank so easily. I know there’s still a Boundless Rank, and I would like to reach that first.”

“Huh?” Yemima was slightly taken aback.

She looked at James and asked, “Entering the Boundless Rank is very difficult, Wyot. In fact, it’s completely unnecessary. Your current strength is more than enough. After you enter the Acme Rank, you’ll become even stronger.”

James replied, ‘You don’t understand. There’s always a bigger fish in the sea. Nothing is as simple as it seems. There are many worlds and races in the Greater Realms. Some love to show off, while some are very secretive. Some cultivators stay low profile and cultivate in the dark. Like Xezal, I’m sure many powerhouses are hidden within the different races.

“Alright. I’ll support you no matter what you choose to do.”

Yemima was supportive of James’ decision. She had already given her heart and body to James.

“I’d like to check out the library chamber and look through some ancient books to see if anything is recorded about the Boundless Rank. Plus, I remember there’s an elder there that doesn’t show himself unless our race is facing a crucial situation.”

James possessed Wyot’s memories. Thus, he knew an elder stayed within the library chamber.

The elder’s cultivation base was a mystery.

“Go ahead. You’re the Great Elder and have the right to enter the library chamber as you please.”

“Alright.” James nodded and left toward the main peak without any hesitation.

The Doom Race’s library chamber was behind the main peak.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4283-Behind the main peak was a canyon.

A powerful formation guarded the canyon, and many disciples patrolled the area. Without the permission of the Patriarch, no one was allowed to enter. Even elders were not allowed to enter the library chamber.

As soon as James appeared, a few guards came over and knelt on the ground.

“Mr. Wyot.”

James waved his hand and said, ‘You may stand.’

The guards stood up and stood aside for James to pass.

James approached the canyon. He looked at the formation, took out the exclusive seal of the Great Elder, and poured a trace of his Chaos Power into it.

A magical force emerged from the seal and submerged into the formation.

Shortly after, the formation parted for him to enter.

James walked into the large canyon with stride.

The canyon was about 100 meters wide and seemed to be bottomless.

On the side of the canyons were several stone doors, each marked with a few ancient words.

Various collections of Supernatural Powers were placed on the doors.

Behind every door was also a small space to cultivate.

James was astonished by the sight.

The Dooms were the strongest in the Greater Realms, and they had a lot of resources. They had a wide collection of Supernatural Powers. Any one of them was enough to make an average cultivator a powerhouse.

James walked through the library chamber and glanced around, trying to find books related to the Boundless Rank.

“May I help you?”

Suddenly, a voice resounded, and an elderly man appeared.

The elderly man wore a gray robe and held a black cane. He had a wrinkled appearance and was slightly hunchbacked, which made him look shorter than his actual height.

James called out to him respectfully, “Sir.”

He knew the elder in the library chamber had a very high status in the Doom Race. He had guarded the library chamber for countless years and did not participate in the battle when the Ten Great Races besieged the humans.

The elderly man’s name was Gabe Dalibor.

James said respectfully, “I’d like to find some books related to the Boundless Rank.”

“The Boundless Rank?”

Gabe sighed and said, “I’m afraid to disappoint you, but there aren’t any records of the Boundless Rank in our library chamber.”

James responded, “That’s impossible. Our race has existed since the Sky Burial Age. Our Grand Patriarch even created a supreme Supernatural Power like the Chaos Sacred Art.

Moreover, he has collected so many Supernatural Powers, so how can we not have anything related to the Boundless Rank?”

“I have a bit of understanding about the Boundless Rank. If you’re interested, I can give you a few pointers.”

James was immediately intrigued by his words and replied, “Of course, I’d love to learn from you. Thank you, Sir.”

“This way, please.” Gabe made a welcoming gesture.

James followed in the direction Gabe pointed out and headed deep into the library chamber.

In the deepest parts of the library chamber was a strange- looking boulder.

The boulder was about five meters high and wide. It had a circular shape and mysterious lines carved onto it, resembling intricate meridians.

‘The Chaos Boulder?’ James exclaimed.

Gabe explained, ‘That’s right. It’s the Chaos Boulder. During the Sky Burial Age, our Grand Patriarch studied the various Paths from the Chaos Boulder and entered the Caelum Acme Rank. He also was inspired to create the Chaos

Sacred Art.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4284-James knew about the Chaos Boulder from Wyot’s memories.

The Chaos Boulder was very well-known in the Doom Race.

The Grand Patriarch comprehended a lot from it and managed to step into the Caelum Acme Rank. He was also inspired to create the Chaos Sacred Art.

The Chaos Boulder had a spirit of its own. It would greatly benefit anyone who cultivated while sitting on it.

James walked over and sat on the Chaos Boulder.

As soon as he sat down, the Chaos Boulder emitted a dazzling light and enveloped him.

At that moment, James seemed to have entered a mysterious state.

A scene of the various Paths of heaven and earth revolving around the Chaos Path flashed through his mind.

It only lasted a very short moment, and he soon regained consciousness.

The Chaos Boulder returned to normal.

Gabe asked from the side, "What did you see?"

James replied, "I saw the various Paths of heaven and earth revolving around the Chaos Path. It seemed like the Chaos Path was a supreme existence that the other Paths worshiped. I could interpret it as Chaos Power being supreme, and the other Path Powers simply can't compare to it."

Gabe smiled, not commenting on James' interpretation. He changed the subject and asked, "You want to enter the Boundless Rank, right?"

James replied, "Yes."

Gabe explained, 'The Boundless Rank will only become available after you've stayed in a certain realm for a long time. You'll have to constantly condense your cultivation base and strength without making any breakthroughs. You can enter the Boundless Rank when you're incredibly close to reaching the next cultivation rank.

"It'll take a lot of time to reach the Boundless Rank. Do you have the luxury of time?

"With the current situation of the Doom Race and the Greater Realms, I'm afraid your ambitions aren't going to be possible."

Gabe's voice rang in James' ears.

James seemed to have come to a realization.

He had to constantly suppress his cultivation rank and strength to enter the Boundless Rank.

'Does that mean I would have to reach the limit of my current cultivation rank to enter the Boundless Rank? If it were that easy, then those who had stayed in the same rank for a long time would all be in the Boundless Rank,' thought

James.

Youri, Dolph, and the other powerhouses of the Doom Race had been Terra Acmeans ever since the Primordial Realm Era.

A long time had passed since the Primordial Realm Era. If staying in one cultivation rank for a long time allowed them to enter the Boundless Rank, they would have already reached it long ago.

James shared his thoughts.

Gabe explained, 'You've misunderstood, Wyot. The so- called Boundless Rank is about reaching greater limits in one's cultivation rank despite already having the ability to step into the next rank. The powerhouses you've mentioned have stayed in the Terra Acme Rank's Last Stage for a while, but they can't sense the Caelum Acme Rank yet. Since they can't sense it, they must continue cultivating and comprehending the various Paths.'

Hearing this, James seemed to have gained a better understanding.

"Naturally, every cultivator has a different understanding of the Boundless Rank. I merely shared mine with you. I hope it'll be helpful in your cultivation. If you still insist on entering the Boundless Rank after hearing my explanation, then you should travel around the Greater Realms to train. You'll be able to encounter even more powerhouses. You might even find someone that has entered the Boundless Rank and will be able to learn more."

James jumped off the Chaos Boulder and cupped his fists. He said gratefully, 'Thank you for the guidance, Sir.'

Gabe pointed at the Chaos Boulder and said, "You should take the Chaos Boulder with you. It'll be useful when cultivating the Chaos Path and the Sacred Chaos Art. It's the Grand Patriarch's wishes."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4285-James bid farewell to Gabe. 'Til head back first, Sir.'

Gabe disappeared from sight without replying to James.

James did not linger around any longer and quickly left the library chamber.

He had gained a lot while after infiltrating the Doom Race. He became the Great Elder and obtained a few treasures from the Doom Race, including the Sacred Chaos Lotus and the Chaos Boulder.

The Chaos Boulder would be very beneficial in his cultivation.

After obtaining some advice from Gabe, James returned to Mount Doom. He met up with Yemima and shared his plan to train outside the Doom Realm for some time.

“You want to go train outside?” Yemima was slightly taken aback.

She said worriedly, “Youri has just become the Patriarch and wants to collect the other race’s tokens. He wants you to quickly enter the Acme Rank so you can help him accomplish his goal. Would he let you go at a time like this?”

“I have no idea.” James shook his head.

He was not sure whether Youri would agree to let him leave.

However, James was determined. If he entered the Boundless Rank, it was guaranteed his strength in the Acme Rank would be top-notch.

He had to become a peerless powerhouse to help the humans gain a foothold in the Greater Realms. Only by being strong could the Human Race become the strongest.

‘Til have to discuss it with him.”

Suddenly, Yemima said, “I’ll go with you to train.”

“What?” James was startled.

Yemima pouted and said with dissatisfaction, “What’s wrong? You don’t want me to come? Did you forget I’m an Acmean? I won’t drag you down. You think I don’t know you’re planning to head to the Cloud Race or Angel Race to see either Yente or Leilani?”

Yemima knew what had happened in the Ancient Realm.

James had an embarrassed look. He was indeed planning to visit the Angel Race since Gabe had mentioned a cultivator from the Angel Race who had entered the Boundless Rank from the Permanence Acme Rank. However, Leilani and Yente had never crossed his mind.

His actions in the Ancient Realm were just an act.

“Then, it’s settled. Go discuss it with Sir Youri. If he approves, I’ll come with you.” Yemima pushed James.

James had no choice but to nod in agreement.

He left Mount Doom and headed to the main peak to meet Youri.

James explained his plan to Youri.

Youri looked at him with surprise. “The Boundless Rank?”

James said with determination, “Yeah. Sir Youri, I won’t be satisfied just entering the Acme Rank like this. I’d like to enter the Boundless Rank first. Doing so will make me much stronger when I enter the Acme Rank.”

Displeased, Youri said, “Your Chaos Path is already much stronger than others in the same rank as you. I don’t think it’s necessary for you to remain in the Quasi Acme Rank just to enter the Boundless Rank. It’ll delay my plans.”

James replied smilingly, “You’re still here to take care of everything, right? Even if I can’t help you collect the tokens, you can send the other elites to gather them. You can even go yourself.”

James was not worried Youri would obtain the Blithe Omniscience since he had the Cloud Race’s tokens. As long as Youri could not collect ten of the tokens, he would not be able to open the formation.

Soren would never hand over the Blithe Omniscience if he was not let out.

Meanwhile, James wanted to use the opportunity to meet up with Thea again. He could bring her to the Cloud Race to secretly meet with Soren.

As long as Soren believed James was a human, he would definitely pass on the Blithe Omniscience.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4286-Youri stared at James. After thinking about it, he said, "I'll give you some time. You have one Epoch. If you haven't entered the Quasi Boundless Rank by then, you'll have to return and enter the Acme Rank."

Youri had no intentions of collecting the tokens himself. Instead, Wyot had to do it.

It was a very complicated matter and would attract a lot of Karma. Moreover, it was closely related to the Human Race. Thus, Youri wanted to reduce the Karma he would draw to himself. Otherwise, it would be hard for him to enter the Caelum Acme Rank.

Throughout the long years, he had already been contaminated with a lot of Karma and needed some time to get rid of them.

According to his understanding, his chance of entering the Caelum Acme Rank would increase significantly if he resolved his Karma.

"Okay," said James.

An Epoch was more than enough.

He was confident he could enter the Quasi Boundless Rank, then the Acme Rank.

"Since it's settled, you're dismissed." Youri gently waved his hand.

"Thank you, Sir Youri."

James got up, bid farewell, and returned to Mount Doom.

When he returned to Mount Doom, Yemima asked, "How was it? What did the Patriarch say?"

James said, "The Patriarch agreed but only gave me an Epoch."

Shocked, Yemima exclaimed, "Huh? Only an Epoch? What can you do in an Epoch?"

“It should be more than enough.”

James looked at her and said solemnly, “Yemima, I don’t want you to follow me this time. I’ll be looking for other cultivators who have entered the Boundless Rank to ask for some advice. I will also be venturing into some very dangerous areas to seek boons. I don’t want you to take risks with me.”

Yemima’s brows furrowed slightly. After a while, she said smilingly, “Alright. Since you insist I don’t follow you, I won’t. I’ll wait for you to return to Mount Doom. I could wait for eight thousand Epochs, so an Epoch is nothing to me.”

Yemima was very sensible.

Since James did not want her to follow him, she agreed to stay behind.

James bid farewell to Yemima and left Mount Doom.

As he left the Doom Race’s territory, he paid close attention to his surroundings to ensure that Youri had not sent people to follow him.

He did not want Youri, or anyone in the Doom Race, to know his whereabouts.

After James left the Doom Race’s territory, he did not detect anyone on his tail.

If someone were following him, they must have been a powerhouse placed on the Chaos Ranking since he could not sense them.

James took out a map of the Chaos and inspected it.

His first stop was not the Angel Race but to see Deshawn.

Deshawn had placed first on the Chaos Ranking’s Gold Rank for a long time. He also revealed that his cultivation rank was at the Quasi Boundless Rank some time ago.

There was very little known about Deshawn. No one knew the sect or race he was from.

However, the elder in the Doom’s library chamber knew about Deshawn.

Deshawn was from the Yansh Clan, which stayed very low- key. Although they used to be a well-known clan, their glory was short-lived, and they went downhill quickly.

The Yansh Clan was located in the Greater Realms' Yansh Realm.
