

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4321

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4321-‘That’s right.’

Gaerel looked at him. ‘The Path of Heavenly Awakening has existed since the Sky Burial Age. Also, the entrance to this mysterious realm is guarded by the Ursas.’

James’ eyes widened.

‘Who would have thought that it was actually the Ursas who were guarding this mysterious, legendary realm?!’ he thought.

James asked in a slightly raised voice, “In that case, might I ask how many of your people have managed to pass the Path of Heavenly Awakening so far?”

Gaerel gave a small sigh as he shook his head. “There are nine trials on the Path of Heavenly Awakening. Since a long time ago, we have been sending the gifted ones from our race into the realm. Sadly, none of them has ever made it to the ninth trial.”

His explanation further piqued James’ interest.

“Alright. I agree to your terms. It doesn’t matter if I fail. I would really like to enter the Path of Heavenly Awakening and see what this mysterious realm is all about myself.”

Gaerel gazed at the man before him.

‘I can’t wait to see if this man, who’s hailed as the most promising cultivator of our era, is able to pass all nine trials of the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

‘If he does, that means he has the potential to reach the Caelum Acme Rank. Then, it’d be right for us to pick the Doom Race’s side. Once he achieves the Caelum Acme Rank, the humans will no longer be a threat to us,’ Gaerel concluded inwardly.

‘There are a few things that I need to warn you about,’ Gaerel said.

James replied, “I’m all ears.”

Gaerel began, 'The Path of Heavenly Awakening is a strange and interesting realm. Anything can happen inside that place. There's a chance you may lose your life there. You will get a chance to leave the realm each time you pass a trial. However, if you get stuck in one of the trials, you'll remain stuck forever.'

After a brief pause, Gaerel went on, "Inside the Path of Heavenly Awakening, you may encounter projected images of past famous, powerful cultivators that have existed in the history of the Greater Realms. Naturally, those cultivators would be on the same rank as the challenger. Still, they are nonetheless a group of very formidable opponents."

James felt more and more excited as he listened to the details about the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

Gaerel got up from his seat the next instant. Then, he walked over to James' side.

"Come with me. I'll show you to the place."

The two of them headed out of the main hall, followed by the Ursa men. Then, Gaerel led the group of them onto a mountainous path and deeper into the woods.

Soon afterward, they arrived at a quiet and secluded area. James could sense that the area was under heavy protection as there were numerous formations cast around the place. He could also see Ursa guards stationed around the area.

Gaerel lifted his arm and activated one of the formations. A huge, strange door appeared before everyone's eyes the next instant.

The door was formed by innumerable mysterious inscriptions. Although James had mastered the Primal Mantra, he was having some difficulty reading and understanding those inscriptions.

"Wyot, before you enter, you should leave us with a letter. We will pass the letter to the Dooms if you fail to survive the trials," Gaerel said.

James raised his palm and conjured an inscription. Then, he handed it over to Gaerel.

'You should give this to Sir Youri if that happens.'

Gaerel accepted the inscription. Then, he gestured toward the door. “Wyt, you may enter and experience one of the most difficult realms known to all living beings now. I hope you’ll successfully overcome all nine trials.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4322

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4322-James stared at the door for quite some time.

He asked curiously, “Sir Gaerel, where will I be sent to once I enter the realm? Also, where would I be transferred once I pass a trial?”

Gaerel replied, “This door is both the entrance and exit of the realm. You’ll find the passage to leave the realm each time you finish a trial. If you take the passage, you’ll exit the realm through this door.”

James could see several light beams coming from the inscriptions on the door projected onto the ground. Those light beams formed a six-pointed star figure on the ground just a few steps away from the door.

James showed no hesitation as he walked toward the door.

As soon as he stopped above the star, the formation beneath his feet started glowing.

Just then, James heard Gaerel’s voice coming from behind him. “Wyt, I almost forgot to tell you this. Before you enter the Path of Heavenly Awakening, your aptitude, cultivation base, and cultivation rank will be examined as the realm will generate the corresponding manual. Also, the difficulty of the nine trials will increase by level as you go through the trials. By completing all nine trials of the Path of Heavenly Awakening, one will prove to have the potential of achieving the Caelum Acme Rank.

“The highest level that our people have ever managed to clear is the sixth level or the sixth trial.”

“F*ck! You tricked me?!” James exploded into anger upon hearing those words.

Unfortunately, it was too late for James to turn back by then.

The star figure on the ground started spinning at a high speed. James could sense how he was slowly losing control of his body.

Just then, the bystanders began noticing something peculiar about the gigantic door. Various colors could be seen on the door at that point.

In the blink of an eye, a total of ten colors were shown on the door.

‘The ultimate-level difficulty?!’ Gaerel exclaimed after seeing the number of colors on the door.

The Ursa elders standing behind Gaerel were equally shocked.

‘That fellow must have an incredible aptitude!’

“Like the Path of Heavenly Awakening, the ultimate-level difficulty is almost like a myth to us. This level of difficulty has never appeared even in our records ever since the creation of the Path of Heavenly Awakening.”

“How unsettling...”

“I wonder what he’ll encounter in the Path of Heavenly Awakening that’s been adjusted to the ultimate-level difficulty.”

“He’ll probably meet some of the strongest cultivators that we are all familiar with. Who knows, he may even cross paths with a young Chaos Path Master in the realm.”

The Ursas were discussing excitedly amongst themselves at the unusual sight of the door.

At the same time, Youri was receiving reports of what was happening within the Ursa grounds in real time.

“Sir Youri, Mr. Wyot is entering the Path of Heavenly Awakening now,” Qimat reported.

Youri stroked his mustache thoughtfully. “I never would have guessed that the Ursas were the guardians of the Path of Heavenly Awakening. If it weren’t because of the issue with the humans, I would want to enter and experience the realm myself.”

While everyone was staring at the door to the Path of Heavenly Awakening in awe, James could feel his body being slowly lifted into the air and moved closer toward the door.

Suddenly, James sensed a great force pulling his body to the door. In a flash, James was sucked into that huge door, vanishing before everyone else's eyes.

The colors faded from the door the next instant. Even the six -pointed star figure had stopped glowing and returned to its original position.

“Let us all wait here. The realm of the Path of Heavenly Awakening is strange and unimaginable. The flow of time inside the realm is different from the outside world. For Wyot Dalibor, he may feel as though he has been in the realm for hundreds of thousands of epochs when only a few hundred years have actually passed in the outside world.”

“It's a shame we can't detect Wyot's aura or see what happens when he is inside the realm. I'm really curious about what he will encounter there.”

On the other hand, James had entered the realm of the Path of Heavenly Awakening. He looked around and noticed that he was inside an unusual passage.

The passage was made up of strange, ancient inscriptions that were difficult to be deciphered even for James who knew the Primal Mantra.

James reached for the passage walls and tore a piece of inscription. Then, he used his powers to break down the inscription to its simplest form, a primitive inscription sigil.

Curiously enough, James could sense numerous forms of power from the inscription sigil.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4323

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4323-James could sense Space Power and Time Power from the inscription sigil. He could even detect traces of karma and reincarnation from it.

“Unbelievable...”

James stared at the inscription sigil in admiration. "The creator of this realm must be an outstanding and remarkable cultivator."

'As far as I know, any inscription in its simplest, most primitive form can carry only one form of power.

'The inscriptions found in this passage, however, seem to contain several forms of power. It is as if each of them is equipped with the powers of the Greater Paths!

'The creator of the Path of Heavenly Awakening must have been someone who had achieved extraordinary cultivation ranks. They might have been someone who was already in the late stage of Caelum Acme Rank. My guess is that the person may have even achieved the legendary Chaos Rank,' James thought.

James dispersed the inscription sigil in his palm. Then, he tried to sense the time and space around him to figure out where he was.

Unfortunately, he couldn't seem to detect any of those things. Standing in the passage, James felt as though he could no longer grasp the flow of time.

Soon, the passage began to disappear. James could also see what seemed like a new world before his eyes.

"Welcome to the first trial of the Path of Heavenly Awakening at the ultimate-level difficulty."

At that very moment, James heard those words ringing in his ear.

"For the first trial, kill all living beings in this universe. The time limit is thirty thousand years. Challengers who fail to do so within the time limit will lose their powers and perish."

The passage was completely gone by the time the voice had stopped talking.

James looked around and found that he was currently situated at the top of a mountain. He activated his Divine Sense to check the world that he had arrived in.

James soon realized that he had been transferred into a world that was as big as the Super Universes that he had seen in his original world. Moreover, he had also detected the powerful aura of quite a number of cultivators. He could tell that some of them had achieved the Terra Acme Rank.

“I need to kill all living beings in this universe within a time limit of thirty thousand years?! Are you kidding me?” James shouted at the top of his lungs, “Whose idea was it? Come out here right now! I need to have a word with you!”

Only the sound of James huffing and puffing could be heard as he waited for a reply.

“Damn it!” James cursed in exasperation.

He conjured the Death-Celestial Sword the next instant.

“I guess I just have to trust myself and do this. I’ll see for myself if this Path of Heavenly Awakening is as difficult as described in the legends! Well, this realm is mostly likely created by a superior cultivator to train future generations of cultivators instead of wiping them out. I just need to trust the process.”

James took a deep breath. Then, he teleported to a busy road located just outside a city gate. James could see countless people going about their business around the city gate.

James could tell that those people were real living beings as each and every one of them had complete souls.

He frowned. “This doesn’t seem like an artificial realm. Are all these people real?”

‘Wouldn’t it be really bad karma if I were to kill all the living beings in this universe?’ James pondered.

“It’s probably not real. This world is likely just a replica of one of the worlds or civilizations that existed in the history of the Greater Realms. The creator must have found a way to recreate such a realistic replica in this realm.

‘These people are no longer alive in our time. What I’m seeing is just a projection of them while they were still alive. It wouldn’t really affect them even if I killed these people,’ James muttered to himself.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4324

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4324-James could sense that everything he was seeing was real.

He could sense complete paths in the universe. He could even sense the signs of life flowing through the air.

At the same time, he was certain that he had entered an artificial realm.

‘This is just a fragment of our history.

‘This is all part of the illusion of the realm. The Path of Heavenly Awakening was designed to recreate situations suited to the challenger’s cultivation base and aptitude,’ James concluded inwardly.

“I have to kill all living beings in this universe within a period of thirty thousand years.”

James stood by the roadside as he stared at the huge city gate. Then, he activated the Omniscience Path and began walking toward the gate.

Every living being in the city felt the overwhelming and threatening aura emanated by James almost instantaneously.

In a flash, the city gate was closed. Countless warriors appeared on the city walls. Simultaneously, a huge formation cast over the city was activated.

Innumerable golden inscriptions appeared right above the city, forming a complete and secure barrier against any enemy.

“Who are you?”

A cold, steely voice reverberated in the air.

James spotted a man in a white robe that had appeared levitating in the air above the city gate.

The man stared at James and said in a deep voice, “This is Yaneiri City. Our people do not welcome rude or hostile visitors. Trespassers are executed immediately. Leave now, and we can pretend that this has never happened.”

James lifted his eyes and met the man's gaze. He could detect that person's aura.

'He's a rather competent cultivator. I can tell that he's reached the middle stage of the Permanence Acme Rank.

That's considered a pretty solid cultivation rank even in our times.' James thought.

'What's your name?'

James raised the black sword in his hand and pointed it in the man's direction.

"I am Halten Yfren, a disciple of the Yaneiri King."

'The Yaneiri King?' James repeated inwardly. He paused momentarily upon hearing that name.

'Why does the name sound so familiar? I think I may have heard or seen this name somewhere before...' he pondered.

James closed his eyes and tried his best to recall Wyot's memories.

Images of Wyot's memories passed through his mind in an instant. Just then, James found what he was looking for.

Wyot had once read about some strange occurrences that had happened in the Greater Realms from an ancient scroll. One of those stories was related to the Yaneiri King.

The Yaneiri King was a prominent figure that had existed sometime after the Sky Burial Age. The man was an unparalleled genius. The Yaneiri King managed to achieve incredible capacities for his cultivation base and ranks.

According to ancient records, the Yaneiri King was able to reach the Boundless when he was in the Quasi and Permanence Acme Ranks respectively. In the end, he even achieved the Terra Acme Rank.

Strangely, the Yaneiri Empire, which was the Yaneiri King's homeland, completely vanished one day.

No one knew how it happened. Not only were all the people of the Yaneiri Empire gone, even Mount Yaneiri was no longer found at its original location.

It was as if none of them, including the great Yaneiri King, had ever existed.

A deep frown creased James' forehead.

'Why did the realm choose to recreate the Yaneiri Empire?'

"From what Wyot has read in the ancient scroll, The Yaneiri King has managed to achieve the early stage of Terra Acme Rank before his disappearance. How would I ever stand a chance against such a powerful and formidable opponent?"

James was filled with various worrying thoughts. However, he knew deep down that he had no choice but to try and overcome this hurdle.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4325

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4325-If he chose to back down now, James would have no choice but to remain in this realm and die eventually.

James drew a long breath. Then, he directed his gaze at Halten, the Yaneiri King's disciple, and shouted in a steady voice, "I have come here today to kill the Yaneiri King, but before I do that, I will kill you first."

"Well, we'll see about that!"

Halten tightened his jaw. He lifted his palm and conjured a few lines of inscriptions. Those glowing inscriptions slowly moved toward the city's protection barrier and fused with it.

A few seconds later, a sword formation appeared in mid-air right above the protection barrier. Multiple swords of different shapes and sizes materialized from the sword formation. Then, all of those swords flew in James' direction the next instant.

Halten had used a rather powerful sword formation. The sword energy generated by each of those swords was enough to take out a cultivator in the Permanence Acme Rank.

Before the swords had reached him, James shot himself upward and stopped somewhere a few thousand meters above the ground.

As if they had a life of their own, the swords changed their direction and followed James closely.

James swiftly raised the Death-Celestial Sword and gave it a powerful swing. The immense power of the black sword was unleashed instantly, and it managed to stop the advance of the swords coming after James.

James unleashed the power of the Death-Celestial Sword a second time right away.

Those swords were sent flying in multiple directions and dropping to the ground due to the force this time. Even the sword formation was shattered into pieces.

Halten knitted his brows. He couldn't help but feel equally amazed and horrified by James' powers. "He's strong..."

'I can tell that he's achieved the late stage of Quasi Acme Rank by his aura. He's definitely not reached the Permanence Acme Rank yet.

'Also, there's something strange about the sword that he wields.

'Still, it's undeniable that the man has a very solid cultivation base and incredible powers. That was probably why he was able to destroy the sword formation.' Halten thought.

"Destroy," James muttered in a low voice.

He teleported and appeared right next to the city's protection barrier. Then, he stabbed his sword at the barrier.

Time seemed to have slowed down at that moment.

Then, a soft sound could be heard as a crack started forming in the barrier. In the blink of an eye, more and more cracks were formed as they spread all over the barrier.

The barrier was destroyed in just a matter of seconds.

As soon as the barrier fell apart, overwhelming energy washed over the entire Yaneiri City, annihilating every living being found in the city.

James could not detect any trace of bad karma even after he had wiped out the existence of so many living beings. It made him feel more certain that the city was just an illusion created by the mysterious realm.

There was only one man who was still alive and standing at that point.

“Impossible!”

Halten stared hard at the man holding the black sword.” You’re only at the late stage of Quasi Acme Rank. There’s no way you have the ability to destroy the formation! Who are you? Our people have never heard of anyone like you who’s capable of doing something like this...”

“Just come at me with what you’ve got.”

James had no intention of explaining his actions to someone who was created as part of an illusion.

On the other hand, Halten had lost his will to fight due to the shock of seeing what had happened to the city.

“It doesn’t matter who you are. You will pay for what you’ve done to the people of the Yaneiri Empire!”

Halten teleported and vanished from the vicinity.

‘I must report this to Master immediately,’ Halten thought.