

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4326

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4326-James was never one who would choose to kill unnecessarily.

At first, he felt quite burdened when he learned that he had to kill off all living beings in this universe to pass the trial.

It was only after he had confirmed he did not gain any bad karma that he felt a slight sense of relief.

Still, there was a grim look in his eyes. He knew that the killing he had just executed was only a minor part of what he had to accomplish in the first trial.

‘The biggest concern for me now is the Yaneiri King, a talented and renowned cultivator whose name would strike fear in any normal living being.

‘If it weren’t for the sudden and mysterious disappearance, the Yaneiri King would have undoubtedly reached the Caelum Acme Rank and become the first person to do that post the Sky Burial Age,’ James concluded inwardly.

“A man who’s achieved the Boundless for both Quasi and Permanence Acme Rank. Then, he even went on to reach the Terra Acme Rank. He must be an outstanding cultivator.”

James tightened his grip on the sword handle.

Then, he activated the Divine Sense. Soon enough, he found a place where he could detect an incredibly powerful aura.

James knew instinctively that the aura belonged to the Yaneiri King. He turned his gaze to the faraway horizon.

Then, he started teleporting toward the direction where he had felt the aura earlier.

‘I’m curious to find out what the Yaneiri King is capable of.

'If I fail to kill him this time, I'll have to quickly train and try to achieve higher cultivation ranks. I need to defeat the man in thirty thousand years.' James thought.

At the same time, a young man who seemed to be in his mid -twenties was sitting inside a huge hall located at Mount Yaneiri.

The man was quietly reading an old, yellowed book. He seemed immensely intrigued by the contents of the book as he would occasionally pause and frown whenever he found something unexpected.

"Brother."

A beautiful lady in a white dress walked in through the door just then.

The lady had a tall and voluptuous figure. Her smooth, black hair reached her lower back. The lady emanated an aura of grace and elegance.

The man placed the book on a nearby table as he got to his feet. His face broke into a smile as he met the lady's gaze." Zella, you're here."

'You were reading that book again?"

Zella Yanes moved her gaze away from the old book. She had a small frown on her forehead. "Brother, if you keep doing this, the people of the Yaneiri Empire will meet their fateful end soon."

The Yaneiri King's expression hardened instantly. After a brief pause, he looked at Zella and asked, "Did you sense something, Zella?"

Zella shook her head. "It was very vague, and I couldn't make things out clearly. One thing I can tell with certainty is that it is something ominous. Also, I've sensed that our world has been projected into a realm."

"What? Our world has been projected into a realm?!" The Yaneiri King was confounded by her words.

"Mhm." Zella gave a slight nod. "Have you heard of the Path of Heavenly Awakening before?"

'Yes."

Zella explained, ‘The Path of Heavenly Awakening is a realm that has existed even before the Sky Burial Age. In the distant future, a cultivator genius from the Human Race will enter the realm and experience trials of the ultimate-level difficulty. Our world has been projected into the realm of the Path of Heavenly Awakening. We are currently the materials that’ll help future generations of humans change and improve.’

The Yaneiri King furrowed his brow. ‘Theoretically speaking, the realm would only project the past versions of our world.

It shouldn’t cause any harm to us.’

“Things aren’t so simple this time,” Zella continued, “It is very likely that our world has been completely projected into the realm. The creator of the Path of Heavenly Awakening must have somehow had the power of connecting the past and the future.”

The Yaneiri King looked at Zella, his younger sister.

He had never once doubted her words.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4327

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4327-The Yaneiri King had a very good reason to do that.

Ze Ila was a prophet. She could sense major events before they happen. The lady was able to see the future.

“Was there anything else that you saw, Zella?” the Yaneiri King asked.

“Brother, I couldn’t see the future for our people. Our people must have been wiped out at some point in the future.

Moreover, your stubbornness most likely played a huge part in that happening.

“I also got the feeling that the creator of the Path of Heavenly Awakening was probably using our world to share some insights with the humans from the future. Moreover, the creator has created this situation to make you realize that you should change before it is too late.”

At that very moment, a beam of light shone down from the sky and into the main hall.

A short while later, a man could be seen emerging from the light. He got down on one knee.

“Master, a powerful and mysterious man appeared outside Yaneiri City just a while ago. He managed to destroy the formation cast to protect the city and kill all of the people hiding inside.”

The Yaneiri King’s face darkened almost instantaneously.

The man gave off a threatening aura. “Who was it?”

Just then, Zella turned her eyes to the door.

There was a peculiar glaze over her bright eyes as she had a brief vision of the future.

She could see a man rushing toward them. She was not completely certain, but it almost seemed like the man was engulfed in white flames and emitting a white glow. The man held a black sword as he appeared in their world.

“He’s here.”

The vision had ended. However, Zella was still staring in the same direction. She had just seen James’ first appearance in their world.

“I was right. Our world has been projected into the realm. We are already a part of the illusion created as a test for the human who’s come from the future.”

‘That’s impossible,” the Yaneiri King rebuked, “I’ve read about the secret art of Projection. Even if someone were using our world to test and train future generations of cultivators through that method, they would only be using the past versions of us. Our world couldn’t possibly have been projected to the realm instead, and we couldn’t possibly sense that!”

“Brother, we are different though. You and I have predestined fates. Also, I am a prophet. It’s no surprise we are able to detect something like this.”

Zella continued, "Once the projection is over or when that human has passed the test, all of us will be able to leave this realm. By the time this is all over, we'll have memories of having met with the human challenger."

After listening to Zella's explanation, the Yaneiri King took a deep breath to calm himself.

"I have heard about the Path of Heavenly Awakening, and I know that certain challengers may activate the ultimate- level difficulty of the realm. I wonder what kind of human cultivator was able to do that this time? What does he have to do in our world to pass the trial?"

At the same time, James had arrived at the foot of Mount Yaneiri.

He was about to scan his surroundings when he saw a group of people materializing near the entrance leading to the top of Mount Yaneiri.

The Yaneiri King, Zella, and several of the Yaneiri King's disciples spotted James as well.

The king knitted his brow.

"That's him? He's so weak! This guy has only reached the late stage of Quasi Acme Rank."

There was a hint of disappointment in the man's eyes.

"Which of you is the Yaneiri King?" James looked at the group and asked.

"I..." The Yaneiri King felt a slight tug at his sleeve when he was about to reply. Then, he tactfully shut his mouth.

Zella took a few steps forward whilst keeping her gaze trained on James. Several fine lines of inscriptions that were almost imperceptible glowed in her eyes.

She was trying to use her powers to find out more information about the man. However, it was to no avail.

"Young man, which period of time do you come from? What's the condition that you have to fulfill to pass the trial?" Zella began.

James was taken by surprise upon hearing her questions.

“You... You’re aware of why I’m here?” James asked.