The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4355-Wynton was calm and collected.

Even though James showed great strength, Wynton did not see him as a worthy opponent.

Wynton said, "I thought you'd be the one who'd end my winning streak. Unfortunately, I overestimated your capabilities."

After speaking, his body flashed in front of James.

A powerful aura erupted from his body, causing space and time around him to freeze. Wynton unleashed his power, and formed a radiant long sword with it. The sword's blade pierced James' body in the blink of an eye.

Then, Wynton appeared behind James.

James was defenceless against Wynton's attacks. He could not defend himself in time and simply watched as the long sword ran through his body.

His mind went blank as he floated in the sky.

After a while, he lowered his gaze and looked at his body.

His flesh was carved away, and his bones lay exposed. He could feel his life draining away, and he was slowly losing consciousness.

'Did I really lose? Am I going to die?'

James was not willing to accept the outcome. He quickly urged his strength, contained his life force, and stopped his soul from weakening further.

Using his potent Chaos Power, he managed to temporarily postpone his death.

Although he survived, he was exhausted.

Wynton was a terrifying opponent and had devastating strength.

James was heavily weakened after being pierced by Wynton's sword. He activated the Life Path, and vigorous life force flowed through his whole body, quickly repairing the wounds he sustained.

James turned around and looked at Wynton, who was holding the Moonlit Sword. He gritted his teeth and said solemnly, "The battle isn't over until I'm dead."

"Ha!" Wynton sneered and said, "You're extremely persistent. I'm impressed you could withstand my attack. However, how much more can you endure?"

Wynton raised the Moonlit Sword and pointed it at James.

A Sword Energy formed from it and shot toward James.

James quickly raised the Death-Celestial Sword to parry the attack. His strength was slightly inferior to Wynton's. Now that he was injured, he could no longer use his full strength.

James failed to deflect Wynton's Sword Energy and was forced backwards. After being pushed away a certain distance, James suddenly disappeared. He reappeared behind Wynton and slashed him with the Death-Celestial Sword.

Unfortunately, Wynton could easily predict James' every move. He swung his sword behind him and blocked James' strike.

Clank!

The Death-Celestial Sword and Moonlit Sword scraped against each other.

Frightening Sword Intent emerged from the Moonlit Sword and attacked James. James was blasted away and spat out another mouthful of blood.

Wynton did not want to waste any more time on this meaningless battle. He thrust the Moonlit Sword forward, aiming it at James.

James was still being pushed back by the force when the Moonlit Sword rushed toward him. He squinted his eyes and urged all his strength to block the incoming attack.

However, the sword was unbound by time and space.

Creating a seal in the surrounding space or freezing time could do nothing to stop it.

James had nowhere to escape and could not prevent the Moonlit Sword from impaling him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4356-The Moonlit Sword possessed devastating strength. As soon as it stabbed James' body, it erased James' comprehension of the various Paths.

James could sense his Path Powers vanishing from his body, and felt his knowledge being wiped clean. His comprehension of the different Paths was forcibly extracted out of him.

"You might have survived, but you're pretty much useless now."

Wynton's voice echoed from afar.

"I used the Path Obliterating Sword Art, an invincible sword technique I've created. It will destroy the Paths of anyone it strikes."

A gaping wound was left on James' body. His hair was a mess, and he was soaked in blood. In that moment, he seemed incredibly pathetic. He looked at the calm Wynton in the distance, reluctant to give in. He did not expect his opponent to be capable of such destruction.

They were in the same cultivation rank, yet he barely stood a chance against Wynton. Despite using all his strength and his most powerful state to fight, he was helpless against Wynton.

Wynton wielded his Path Obliterating Sword Art with confidence. Anyone struck by his technique would have their Paths immediately destroyed.

"Everyone deserves a chance, so I will let you live and pass through the trial. Although I've destroyed your Paths, you're a human that practices the Omniscience Path. If you give up your other Paths and focus solely on the Omniscience Path, you might be able to achieve great things in the future."

Wynton did not kill James. He had already defeated James and was sparing him.

“You’re from the future, right? I hope you survive for a long time so that I can fight you again. Maybe you’ll have grown the next time we meet.”

Wynton’s voice resounded around him. After that, he disappeared from James’ sight.

After defeating James, he sacrificed himself and left James’ realm.

James immediately felt fatigued once Wynton left his sight. He fell from the sky and crashed into the ground.

He lay down weakly and gasped for air. He wanted to use the Life Path to heal his wounds but realized his Path Powers had been stripped away. He currently possessed no knowledge of Paths, so he could not draw on any of the Paths he cultivated before.

“He’s insane.”

After the battle, James had only a few words to describe Wynton- a terrifying powerhouse.

Suddenly, the realm disappeared, and James appeared inside a passage.

The passage was created with mysterious inscriptions, and at one end was a door.

James knew the door would lead him out of the passage. If he passed through the door, he could leave the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s realms. Moving forward would lead him to the second realm, where the second trial awaited him.

After experiencing how difficult the first trial was, James knew the second trial would be even more challenging.

At that moment, the thought of quitting crossed his mind. He dragged his injured body toward the door, wanting to leave the passage.

However, when he arrived at the door, he began to hesitate.

“What am I doing? Am I really thinking of throwing in the towel?”

James looked at the exit door with an uncertain expression.

All his knowledge of Paths, and their powers were gone. If he left, he would be considered useless and would only be able to continue cultivating in the Omniscience Path.

However, reaching the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage was incredibly hard.

"I can't just leave like this. If I go back now, how will I explain myself to Thea? How will I help the Human Race rise above the other races? Continuing down the Path of Heavenly Awakening is my only hope."

James took a deep breath. He did not step through the exit door and proceeded through the passage. He wanted to find out how hard the Path of Heavenly Awakening's second trial was.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4357-James dragged his severely injured body forward in the mysterious passage.

After walking a certain distance, he began to descend downward. He fell out of the passage and appeared in an unfamiliar place.

Boom!

His body crashed into a mountain range, flattening a large area.

"What's the second trial?"

James lay down on the ground, unable to muster the strength to stand. He simply stared at the blue sky above him.

'Welcome to the Path of Heavenly Awakening's second trial. You are required to make your way to Mount Boundless' holy site. Once you enter the holy site, you must leave after a short period.'

James heard a faint voice ringing in his ears. He endured the agony from his body and got up from the ground.

Not only was he severely injured, but he had also lost his Path Powers. Thus, he could no longer use the Life Path's power to heal his injuries. He had no choice but to rely on his own natural regeneration.

Without the help of another powerhouse to treat his injuries, he knew it was unlikely he would last for long.

'Where's Mount Boundless, and how much time do I have?'

James was crestfallen. He lost his Path Powers and could not use it to inspect the unfamiliar place. He wanted to use his powerful Divine Sense but his injuries stopped him from doing so.

James feebly limped into the distance. His only way of leaving the forest was to obtain the aid of others and ask for directions to Mount Boundless.

Meanwhile, an old man sat on a rock atop Mount Boundless which belonged to the Boundless Sect. He wore a white robe, had gray hair and a long beard.

Suddenly, he sensed something unusual and looked into the horizon.

"Interesting."

The sound of footsteps resounded, and a middle-aged man appeared.

"Master."

The middle-aged man stood before the old man, clasped his fists, and reported curtly, "I've sensed an unusual force. It seems Mount Boundless has formed a connection with a strong influence."

The old man caressed his white beard and said, "Yes, it has. It's the Path of Heavenly Awakening's power. Someone from the future must've wandered into the Path of Heavenly Awakening. An illusory projection of Mount Boundless has been produced for one of his trials."

Hearing this, the middle-aged man frowned and asked, "Do you know who it is?"

The old man replied, "I sensed a human. He's currently inside the primary forest behind Mount Boundless. He's severely injured, and his Paths are stripped away. As far as I know, there's only one living being throughout the ages that possesses a Supernatural Power capable of stripping away another's Path Powers."

The middle-aged man frowned and uttered, 'That person is the Yaneiri King from the Yaneiri Clan.'

The old man replied, 'That's right. The Yaneiri King, Wynton, reversed time and space and traversed the River of Time to come to our world. Even your junior, who has the same rank as him, could not beat Wynton and his Moonlit Sword. The human must've confronted Wynton, and had his Paths erased from his mind.'

The old man was also a human and was the Grand Patriarch of Mount Boundless.

The middle-aged man was his inner disciple, named Saewald Luanne.

Saewald's junior who was regarded as the Human Race's prodigy was Yardos Xagorari.

"What should we do now, Master?" asked Saewald.

The Boundless Master looked in James' direction and said, "He is severely injured right now. If he isn't treated immediately, he won't make it. I have no idea what his trial involves. I'll go meet him and assess the situation first."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4358-James had arrived at a huge mountain range. If he was in better condition and still had his Path Powers, leaving the mountain range would be easy for him.

However, he was severely wounded and his Path Powers were gone. Although he could still move relatively quickly, he could no longer cover light years of distance. Thus, it would take him some time to leave the mountain range.

James hastily made his way through the mountain range, desperately trying to find a way out. He urged whatever strength remained in his body but that caused his injuries to worsen. Unable to endure the pain, he fell to the ground and spat out blood.

He did not concede and attempted to get up once more. As he stood up, he saw an old man before him.

He looked at the old man puzzledly and asked, "Who are you?"

The Boundless Master stroked his white beard and said smilingly, "You can call me the Boundless Master."

James' brows furrowed, and he fell into thought. He had no recollection of a powerhouse called the Boundless Master. However, there was mention of him in Wyot's memories.

James looked at the intimidating old man and said, "If I understand correctly, there used to be a powerful sect called the Boundless Sect in the Sky Burial Age. The Patriarch of said sect is called the Boundless Master. The Blithe Master who created the Blithe Omniscience is his disciple. Could you possibly be the Blithe Master's mentor?"

The Boundless Master caressed his beard, and replied cheerily, "You sure do know a lot."

A glimmer of hope suddenly shined in James' heart.

He knelt on one knee and said, "I'm James Caden from the Human Race. It's an honor to meet you, Boundless Master. Please, save me."

The Boundless Master did not respond to his plea. Instead, he raised a question. "What's your trial? What do you need to do to leave this illusion?"

"You're aware of the trial?" James was slightly taken aback.

The Boundless Master smiled and said, "Of course. The Heaven Awakening Master's cultivation rank is similar to mine. Although he can drag me into this illusion, I can still distinguish it from the real world. I'm more than capable of breaking the illusion. However, if I do so, you'll lose an amazing training opportunity."

"Huff!" James took a deep breath.

'I'm coming across all kinds of powerful people in the Path of Heavenly Awakening. Wynton was already plenty overpowering. Now I've even encountered someone at a similar cultivation rank to the creator of the Path of Heavenly Awakening. He must be a powerhouse at the peak of the Caelum Acme Rank. If not, how could he be qualified to teach the Blithe Master?' thought James.

James replied truthfully, "The trial requires me to leave Mount Boundless' holy site within a time limit."

"So, you need to leave Mount Boundless before a set amount of time?"

The Boundless Master looked at James and smiled playfully. He said, 'This is very interesting. The Yaneiri King has erased your Paths. It'll be hard for you to leave this place without dying.'

Curious, James asked, "What kind of place is Mount Boundless? Why did you say it would be hard for me to escape?"

The Boundless Master replied, "Mount Boundless is our holy site. There are powerful formations set up around it. You'll need to be highly learned in various Paths as well possess rock-solid mental fortitude. Had you not lost your proficiency and powers in the different Paths, leaving might have been possible. With your current condition..."

The Boundless Master paused and shook his head. He gently waved his hand, and a powerful force lifted James from the ground.

The next moment, James disappeared from the area and appeared inside a cave.

James noticed another man in a black robe that looked to be in his mid-20s sitting inside the cave.

"What's this about?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4359-James' brows furrowed a little as he scanned his surroundings.

“This is Mount Boundless’ holy site. It’s an illusory projection created for your trial. I’m unable to interfere or heal your injuries. I wish you the best of luck getting out of this cave before your injuries worsen and you die. Your Paths have been erased, and you’re already on the brink of death. If you die, there’s no one to blame except yourself.”

After saying a few words, the voice completely disappeared.

The Boundless Master sat on a rock in the distance.

Saewald stood beside him and inquired, “Master, since he’s also a human, why don’t you just treat his injuries and allow him to leave the illusion?”

Hearing this, the Boundless Master’s face darkened.

“I’m afraid I can’t do that.”

Puzzled, Saewald asked, “Why not?”

“Everything is up to fate’s design. Whether he successfully leaves the illusion alive will depend on his capability.”

After responding to the question, the Boundless Master fell silent.

Meanwhile, James glanced around the unfamiliar cave. He spotted an exit and walked over to it after some hesitation.

When he arrived at the exit, he was impeded by a powerful force and was flung away. His injuries worsened, and he fell headfirst to the ground. He was unable to immediately get back up.

The black-robed man stood up, walked over, and reached out to help James back to his feet.

James took his hand and accepted his help.

The man pulled him up and asked, “So, you’re from the future, huh?”

James wiped the blood from his lips, clasped his fists, and replied, “Yeah. My name is James Caden. Who you might be?”

The man looked at James, shook his head lightly, and said, "You've got some terrible luck since you ran into that guy."

From these words, James could tell the black-robed man knew Wynton.

James felt incredibly troubled. He was going through the Path of Heavenly Awakening's trials, and the beings involved in it were powerhouses capable of seeing through the illusion.

"The Yaneiri King is an outstanding cultivator and has never lost a fight. No one in the same cultivation rank as him could defeat him. I consider myself a talented cultivator, yet I still lost to him. After my defeat, I've imprisoned myself within this holy site."

James immediately realized the identity of the black-robed man.

"Are you possibly the Blithe Master?"

"I'm not worthy of such an honorable title. My name is Yardos Xagorari."

James stared at Yardos.

"You're at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank?"

James could discern Yardos' cultivation rank.

"That's right."

Yardos sighed and said, "Although I'm at the Terra Acme Rank, I'll lose to the Yaneiri King if he reaches this rank and travels through the River of Time for a rematch."

Yardos was sure he could not beat Wynton. Even though he was at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank, he believed Wynton would undoubtedly defeat him if they stood at the same rank.

James had experienced how strong Wynton was.

During his previous fight against Wynton, he only managed to force Wynton to create a Sword World and use the Path Obliterating Sword Art. Besides these two techniques, James was unaware of his other Supernatural Powers.

James sighed deeply and said, "He's indeed terrifyingly strong. Although we're in the same rank, he easily overpowered me."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4360-James was not interested in discussing Wynton.

Regardless of how strong Wynton was, he only existed in the distant past. James would never be able to encounter Wynton in his own era.

His main priority now was to get out of the cave.

"Is it possible to leave this place?" James looked at Yardos.

Yardos looked at James, and shook his head. 'That'll be impossible for you. Your Paths have already been removed, and your Path Powers are gone. To leave the holy site, you must have a profound understanding of various Paths and unyielding mental fortitude. You have no chance of leaving this place.'

James sat on the ground helplessly.

The second trial was much more challenging than the previous trial.

Despite his frustration, James took a deep breath and said, "I have hope I can do this so long as I'm alive."

James sat into a lotus position.

'So what if my Paths were severed? I'll just cultivate them all over again.'

With a thought, James summoned the Primal Mantra. The book flipped open before him, and the most archaic inscriptions emerged from it.

Previously, James was proficient in various Paths and could easily understand the inscriptions in the Primal Mantra.

After his Paths were severed, the inscriptions became too complex for him to read.

He simply could not make heads or tails of it. As soon as his eyes swept over them, the characters suddenly became blurry, and he felt a sharp pain in his head and soul. Unable to bear it, James crashed to the ground and coughed out a mouthful of blood.

The Primal Mantra also fell to the ground.

Yardos glanced at the Primal Mantra. The Primal Path Master had not created the Primal Mantra during this era. Thus, he was unable to recognize it.

Despite that, Yardos could tell the inscriptions used inside the Primal Mantra were extremely meaningful.

“You no longer have any Paths and won’t be able to read such profound inscriptions. You’ll have to start over and take some time to develop your Ousias again. Repeating this process might be beneficial for you, but you’ll need to have a breakthrough before your body gives up on you.”

After Yardos left some words of advice for James, he stopped speaking and continued to sit in a lotus position.

A powerful aura rose from him and formed a halo that was several meters high.

James exclaimed, ‘Th-The Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage?’”

Yardos had reached the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage, and his cultivation base was at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank. Despite possessing such great strength, he was still not confident he could defeat Wynton.

“Yes, I recently entered the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage.”

Yardos sat in a lotus position on the ground and said despondently, “However, if Wynton and I were in the same rank, this wouldn’t be enough to beat him. To defeat him, I’ll need to take a different path.”

Upon hearing this, James suddenly recalled something.

‘A different path? Is he referring to the Blithe Omniscience? Did he create that Supernatural Power here?’ thought James.

James did not say much despite having his suspicions.

While observing Yardos cultivate, James also focused on his own cultivation. He started from the most basic step of cultivation-absorbing Empyrean Spiritual Energy and converting it into his own power.

Since James was at the Omniscience Path’s Eighth Stage, he had outstanding physical strength and could quickly absorb Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

Soon, James reached the pinnacle of the Sage Rank.

“What’s your goal?”

James heard Yardos’ voice reverberating in his ears.

“My goal?”

After a brief moment of hesitation, James replied, “I want to live happily in seclusion with the woman I love and to be unburdened by worldly matters. However, there is too much to do, and I don’t have the luxury of freedom.”
