The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4361-Yardos Xagorari sighed and said, "Achieving freedom and being carefree isn't a walk in the park. It isn't easy to become an extraordinary cultivator in the Greater Realms either."

James did not respond and continued to cultivate.

Soon, he reached the Divine Rank's Third Stage and formed his first Ousia.

After cultivating his first Ousia, his Path foundations stabilized, and his cultivation speed improved significantly.

Unfortunately, his injuries were not healed yet.

Wynton had mercilessly severed James' Paths and inflicted serious trauma on his body.

After the fight, James used his physical strength to suppress the injuries. However, he was slowly running out of energy and was getting weaker by the minute.

His face was pale, but he did not give up and continued cultivating.

As long as he had a breath left, he wanted to give it his best shot.

While cultivating, James observed Yardos.

Yardos had been sitting in a lotus position for a long time. Although he had not moved an inch, his Divine Sense could leave the illusion and reach into the Chaos.

Suddenly, Yardos mumbled, "What exactly is freedom? This must be what it feels like."

After speaking, his aura suddenly rose tremendously and caused the surrounding space to become distorted. He stood up and walked toward the exit.

James watched as Yardos walked out of the cave.

Meanwhile, the Boundless Master in the distance had sensed the powerful aura. He stroked his beard and said, "Yardos has made a breakthrough and created a Supernatural Power that will help humans prosper in the future. It's definitely one of the most potent Supernatural Powers throughout history."

Saewald stood beside him and said happily, "Yardos has finally entered the Caelum Acme Rank and even created an extraordinary Supernatural Power. After leaving our holy site, he'll likely look for other powerhouses to challenge them and gain experience."

Yardos left the cave, turned around, and looked at the weak James. He smiled faintly and said, "The Boundless Master is afraid of being tainted with Karma, but I'm not."

"In fact, Wynton and I are already connected through Karma. I'm a Caelum Acmean now. Since he severed your Paths, I'll reconnect them for you."

After speaking, Yardos pointed his finger at the cave. Countless inscriptions emerged from his fingertip and instantly enveloped James.

A powerful force emerged from James' body, and his severe Paths slowly recovered.

After helping James, Yardos paled as he stumbled backward and spat a mouthful of blood. He could not help saying, "Wynton's Path Obliterating Sword Art is indeed terrifying. Even though I'm a Caelum Acmen, I still suffered a backlash from reconnecting your Paths."

Yardos mobilized his powers, and his face's ruddiness returned.

The Boundless Master frowned after sensing what had happened.

"This kid sure is reckless."

As soon as James felt his Paths recovering, he shouted gratefully, "Thank you, Blithe Master."

“Haha! It feels great to be free and unrestrained. I’ll call this Supernatural Power the Blithe Omniscience. Kid, you better work hard to cultivate it. How much you comprehend is up to you.”

Yardos laughed and gradually walked away from the cave.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4362-James felt like he had obtained a blessing in disguise.

After Yardos created the Blithe Omniscience and entered the Caelum Acme Rank, he used an extraordinary Supernatural Power to reconnect James’ Paths.

James instantly felt his powers being restored. At the same time, his injuries began to heal.

Soon, he had regained his Path Powers.

He urged the Life Path’s power, and his injuries were healed instantly. However, his damaged Genesis could not be repaired with Life Power and would need some time to recover.

James was no longer on the brink of death. It would be easy to pass the second trial.

After recovering from the physical traumas, James did not rush to study the strange inscriptions on the cave walls.

Instead, he sat in a lotus position, attempting to heal his injured Genesis.

James also summoned the Chaos Sacred Lotus to absorb its power to strengthen his physical body and cultivation rank.

Soon, he entered the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank, which was the same as Wynnton.

However, Wynnton condensed his cultivation rank so he was much stronger than James.

James slowly improved his cultivation rank.

Time passed by slowly.

Soon, James' injuries had healed unknowingly. He had also grown more potent in the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank.

Theoretically, a cultivator at the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank could achieve strength on par with a Caelum Acme Rank. However, it required a lot of time.

Unfortunately, James did not have the luxury of time.

For now, he could only improve his strength in the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank as much as possible.

James looked at the strange inscriptions on the cave wall and murmured, "The Blithe Omniscience."

The inscriptions formed strange patterns and seemed to have pulled his soul out of his body. He appeared in the dazzling universe and eventually ended up in the Chaos.

In a trance, a figure flashed past him and traveled throughout the Chaos.

The figure kept moving forward and transforming simultaneously.

"No distracting thoughts in the heart. Freedom to follow your heart's desire and be totally carefree."

The figure kept flickering in James' mind.

Unknowingly, James entered the Omniscience Path's Eight Stage. His aura strengthened instantly, and his body flickered throughout the cave.

Boom!

The scene in James' mind was interrupted. His body plummeted from mid-air, slamming heavily into the ground.

Saewald sensed the fluctuations far from the cave and asked, "Do you think he'll be able to master Yardos'

Supernatural Power?"

The Boundless Master replied softly, "It's not going to be easy. After Yardos lost to Wynton, he stayed inside the holy site to hone his mental fortitude. He was able to enter the Caelum Acme Rank and create a Supernatural Power because he was inspired by James' words. However, James has too many worries in his heart, and it's hard for him to have a blithe attitude."

"I think otherwise."

"Oh, is that so? You seem to think very highly of him."

"Of course. He must be an extraordinary person for the Path of Heavenly Awakening to pull us into this illusion."

The Boundless Master nodded and said, "His Paths have met the threshold for leaving the holy site. However, his mental fortitude is still lacking. If he can comprehend Yardos' Supernatural Power, he will have fulfilled the conditions of leaving the holy site. It will be a very long process, so we'll just have to wait patiently and see how it goes."

"What about Yardos? With his character, he's most likely going to cause some trouble now that he has reached the Caelum Acme Rank," Saewald asked worriedly.

"Haha!" The Boundless Master burst out laughing and replied, "He wouldn't be him if he doesn't cause trouble."

Meanwhile, James, who had fallen to the ground, noticed a shadow on the cave walls.

James murmured, "I have too many distracting thoughts. If I can't clear my head and let go of my worries, I won't be able to comprehend the Blithe Omniscience."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4363-The Blithe Omniscience was an extraordinary Supernatural Power.

Although James had just begun studying the Blithe Omniscience, he could already sense its power.

Unfortunately, he could not comprehend it instantly.

Huff!

James took a deep breath. He sat in a lotus position on the ground, clearing his mind of thoughts.

Instead of cultivating the Blithe Omniscience, James began to improve his Quasi Boundless Rank's strength.

Concurrently, he absorbed the Chaos Sacred Lotus' power to enhance his physical strength.

Before he knew it, he had already entered the middle stage of the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage.

Additionally, his attainments in the Quasi Boundless Rank had also improved.

James had completely immersed himself in cultivating that he forgot where he was and completely disregarded the passage of time. No longer was he distracted by thoughts and his mission to lead the Human Race to prosperity.

Gradually, his heart had calmed down. As he cleared his mind, the strange patterns on the cave walls began to move.

James was suddenly brought into a mysterious space, which seemed like dazzling Chaos.

In the unknown space, James noticed a blurry figure. The figure gradually turned into Yardos.

Yardos approached James and looked at him with satisfaction.

"Very good. You've met the basic conditions for cultivating the Blithe Omniscience very fast."

James clasped his hands and said, "Please guide me, Sir."

Yardos said nothing in response, and his body dispersed into a shadowy figure.

Even though the figure seemed illusory, it contained potent Spiritual Power.

The Spiritual Power shattered the surrounding space, destroying the boundless Chaos.

“Haha! This is how it is to be blithe.”

Yardos’ voice resounded throughout the area, ringing in James’ ears.

The shadowy figure flickered around in the scene playing in James’ mind. James suddenly came to a realization while still in a mysterious state.

After some time, he opened his eyes and murmured, “I see.”

He stood up and looked toward the exit nearby. After taking a deep breath, he strode toward it.

The Boundless Master watched from a distance. He stroked his beard and smiled, “His Cultivation Heart is stable and easily cleared his mind.”

Under the watchful eyes of the Boundless Master and Saewald, James exited the cave.

James successfully walked out of the cave without hindrance. Then, he looked into the distance.

Suddenly, his gaze penetrated the Chaos and spotted Yardos. He clasped his fists and shouted, “Thank you, Sir!”

Afterward, he appeared before the Boundless Master in a flash, clasped his fists, and said, ‘Thank you, Sir. I’ve already passed the trial. If fate allows, I hope to see you again in the future.’

After speaking, James’ body became illusory and disappeared.

As soon as James vanished, the illusion collapsed.

James reappeared inside the passage and saw the exit door that appeared on the side of the path.

James walked past it without hesitation and continued advancing to the third trial. He was curious to find out how difficult the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s third trial would be.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4364-During the Path of Heavenly Awakening's first trial, James was severely injured and had his Paths severed by Wynton.

At the second trial, he encountered Yardos, who reconnected his Paths and helped him to comprehend the Blithe Omniscience's basics.

Additionally, he reached the middle stage of the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage, and his strength in the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank had also improved.

After passing the second trial, James began looking forward to the subsequent trial.

He quickly advanced through the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

After walking for some time, his body submerged into the ground, and he began free-falling through the sky. Soon, a mountain range was in sight.

James slowly descended and landed firmly on top of a mountain.

"You've arrived at the Path of Heavenly Awakening's third trial. Your task is to save Zaire."

James heard an illusory voice, making it hard to determine where it came from.

"Zaire? Who is Zaire? How am I supposed to save this person?" James frowned helplessly.

"The Path of Heavenly Awakening is really bizarre. I wasn't expecting to have to save someone. Since I'm already here, I'll have to figure out how to resolve it. First of all, I need to identify who Zaire is. I must also find out where I am and what era this is."

James had no recollection of a person named Zaire in his or Wyot's memories.

He disappeared from the mountain range and appeared outside a city. It was a huge city with several ancient inscriptions engraved at the city gate.

“Origin City.”

A lot of traffic could be seen at the city gate, with many living beings passing through it.

James blended into the crowd and followed them into the city.

After entering the city, a huge black cloud floated over, and a terrifying force swept the surroundings.

“Run!!!”

“Zaire is coming!!!”

The Origin City was thrown into chaos, and countless living beings quickly began to flee.

The black cloud speedily approached them, sucked away their energy, and killed them instantly.

In just a short moment, only piles of skeletal remains were left in the city.

James, on the other hand, sensed the terrifying power in advance. Thus, he quickly mobilized his strength and entered the Omniscience Path’s Eighth Stage to prevent being engulfed by the black cloud.

“Hmm? What do I have here?” An exclamation came from within the black cloud.

The living being inside the black cloud was surprised that a human could resist the devouring power.

“Are you Zaire?”

James saw a beautiful woman in a black dress riding the black clouds in the distance.

After clearly seeing her appearance, James took a few steps backward in shock.

The black cloud in the distance dissipated, and the beautiful woman stepped forward. Her body flickered, and she appeared before James instantly.

“You have a lot of Spiritual Power. It’s going to benefit me a lot.”

Although the woman was gorgeous, her face was cold and terrifying. She suddenly raised her hand and swung her sharp claws at James’ head.

A white radiance emerged from James’ body, forming a protective shield to block the attack.

However, the woman was exceptionally strong.

James resisted the powerful force, but his legs sank deep into the ground.

“What are you doing here, Thea?”

James looked at the demon-like woman emitting a black aura. It was none other than his beloved Thea.

He never imagined the person he had to save in his third trial was her.
