The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4371-James felt the cold blade against his skin and froze. He could sense the murderous aura from Thea and knew he would die inside the illusion if he were even to move a muscle.

Thea asked coldly, "Who exactly are you? How are you related to Soren? Also, why are you keep following me?"

"I'm not related to Soren," James replied honestly.

Although he had met with Soren before, they did not have much connection with each other.

'Then why are you following me?"

"I don't want to see you continue walking down the wrong path, and I am trying to help you back on the right track."

"Pfft." Thea sneered and said, "Who is to determine right from wrong? Everyone's ultimate goal is to become the strongest."

"Just kill me. If you don't, I'll pester you until you turn to righteousness."

James closed his eyes, awaiting his death. In his current condition, he was no match against Thea.

He thought Thea would surely kill him. However, she withdrew the long sword and said calmly, "I'll spare you because you're also a human. Stop following me, and don't ever appear in my sight again. Otherwise, I won't show any mercy next time."

After Thea finished speaking, she disappeared from the area.

James was left panting heavily on the ground.

After a while, he got up from the ground with difficulty and sat in a lotus position. He set up a time formation and began refining the Karma Power he had attracted.

His cultivation rank was at the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank. Unless James elevated his rank, the rate at which his strength improved and refined the Karma Power would be very slow.

However, he could not make a breakthrough yet. Otherwise, he would never be able to defeat Wynton.

He planned to increase his strength to the maximum limit so that when he entered the Permanence Acme Rank, he would be more potent than those at the same rank.

James was severely injured but survived, relying on his strong willpower and Chaos Power.

He gradually refined the Karma Power into his own strength. At the same time, he utilized the Karma Power to improve his physical body.

Even though the improvements were slow, he still made steady progress.

Time passed by slowly.

After a long time, James finally absorbed and refined the Karma Power into his own strength. As a result, he had grown significantly stronger.

James stood up and stretched his body. Then, he dispersed the time formation and tried to determine how much time had passed.

Three million years passed while he was refining the Karma Power.

The damages caused during the previous battle had not been restored even after three million years, and countless skeletal remains were still scattered on the ground.

These remains belonged to powerhouses. Thus, their bones had not completely decomposed even after so many years.

James looked at the bones around him. Despite wanting to rescue them, he was helpless.

Three million years had passed, and he did not possess the means to revive them after such a long time.

His cultivation rank and strength only permitted him to resurrect them right after death.

The Karma Power he would attract would be more potent if he were to revive those dead for much longer.

With his current strength, he was unable to bear the consequences. If he were to save them, he would be devoured by Karma Power.

“Thea...You will be the death of me.” James sighed helplessly.

James had not successfully saved Thea from going down the wrong path, so his trial was not over yet. He had to rescue her to complete the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s third trial and leave the illusion.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4372-After spending three million years in the time formation, James was oblivious to Thea’s whereabouts.

He attempted to locate her whereabouts but was to no avail.

James murmured disappointedly, “Saving Thea isn’t going to be easy.”

He quickly left the area and entered a city.

James wandered the city and began inquiring about Thea.

After asking around, he learned about her whereabouts.

‘Zaire was captured eight thousand years ago.’

“In the past years, Zaire wreaking havoc everywhere. She mercilessly took many lives, and various races could no longer stand her behavior. The Dooms called the powerhouses of the Greater Realms to capture her. She is going to be publicly sentenced today.”

James acquired information about Thea’s arrest. She was being held captive in the Doom Race’s territory, waiting to be sentenced.

James was shocked by the news.

He pondered solemnly, 'The Dooms? Why them?'

Before the Primordial Realm Era, the Dooms had not allied with the other the humans. The Dooms were very powerful.

Their current patriarch was Hirah.

Thea was trapped in the Doom Race's territory, and her chances of escaping were very slim.

James knew he had to save her. However, he was not confident in rescuing her with his current strength. Despite that, he was determined to get her out.

After learning about Thea's whereabouts, James rushed to the Doom Universe.

On Mount Chaos, a towering pillar was above the hall on the Doom Race's main mountain.

A woman could be seen tied to the pillar. She wore a black dress and was shrouded with mysterious inscriptions. Her hair was scattered, and she looked incredibly pitiful. Her clothing was ragged, and her pale skin was stained with dried blood.

Several powerhouses stood in front of the main hall, and in the lead was the Doom Race's Patriarch, Hirah.

Hirah was a powerhouse that worked hard to reach the peak of the Terra Acme Rank, step by step.

Thea was also at the Terra Acme Rank. However, he relied on absorbing other creatures' Spiritual Power to improve her cultivation rank. Thus, she was slightly inferior to Hirah in terms of strength.

Many powerhouses of the Doom Race were also present, including Youri and Dolph. Additionally, powerhouses from different races had also gathered together.

"Greetings, everyone."

Hirah stepped forward, glanced at the powerhouses at the hall entrance, and announced, "Greetings, everyone. Today we're here for a public sentence. As everyone knows, Zaire has been a huge troublemaker in the past years. Not only does she cultivate corrupted ways, but she has also taken many lives. Her crimes are heinous, and I will punish her on behalf of the Heavenly Path with Chaos Lightning.

No one opposed Hirah's decision.

Hirah asked, "Do you feel remorse for your crimes, Zaire?"

Thea looked to be in a terrible state, tied to the pillar. When she heard Hirah's words, she laughed and said, "What do you mean by crimes? At the end of the day, everyone just wants to become stronger. I've simply gone down a different path."

"You're still acting so stubborn even though you're at death's door."

Hirah's face darkened, and he raised his hand. Shortly after, a streak of lightning pierced the sky and struck Thea.

Thea's body trembled from the pain, and she could not help but scream in pain. She struggled to free herself but could not break Hirah's Sealing Formation.

After being hit, Thea sustained severe injuries.

Her aura was weak and would not last a few more lightning strikes.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4373-"Go ahead and kill me if you can."

Thea unleashed a terrifying aura, and her expression turned hideous. She roared furiously at them, "But remember, I'll come back to exterminate the Doom Race if I survive."

Her threat resounded throughout Mount Chaos.

However, several lightning strikes from the sky in response to her.

Hirah used the Chaos Power to form the Chaos Lightnings, which was unbearable to most living beings.

At that moment, a man wearing a black robe appeared outside Mount Chaos.

The man immediately noticed Thea bound to the pillar floating above the mountain. When he arrived, Thea was being tortured by a series of lightning strikes.

“Damn it.” James was furious.

Although Thea had taken many lives, she was still his wife. He was not going to let anyone punish and hurt her.

Moreover, the Ten Great Races were not saints either. They had a blood feud with the Human Race, and James despised them.

A potent aura erupted from James’ body, and he summoned Death-Celestial Sword.

James shouted, “Stop it!”

The Death-Celestial Sword flew toward Mount Chaos.

After the loud shout, a long black sword pierced the air and landed in the hall of the main mountain.

Boom!

The Death-Celestial Sword plunged into the ground outside the hall and caused a terrifying shock wave to permeate the air. The force instantly blasted away several of the powerhouses present.

Swoosh!

After the sudden attack, a man dressed in a black robe descended from the sky and landed steadily in front of the hall entrance.

Thea was severely injured after the Heavenly Tribulations’ attacks but was still bounded to the pillar. Seeing James, she was slightly taken aback. Her brows furrowed, and she murmured, “What is he doing here? Does he have a death wish?”

Hirah looked at James and shouted coldly, “Presumptuous! You’re in the Doom Race’s territory. How dare you!

‘Take him down!’

The Dooms were the strongest in the Greater Realms, and no other race dared to go against them.

However, a human showed up and attacked them. The Doom Race would not tolerate such disrespectful behavior.

After James entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening, his original appearance and human aura were restored. Thus, the Dooms knew he was not one of them.

Moreover, Wyot was not born yet in the current era within the illusion. Even if he were to use Wyot’s appearance, the Dooms would not recognize him.

With Hirah’s order, many guards of the Dooms rushed over and besieged James.

James waved his hand, and the Death-Celestial Sword flew toward him. He grabbed the sword and pointed it at the guards.

He shouted at them, “Get out of my way.”

His voice was like rumbling thunder. The guards were startled and involuntarily backed away.

‘You must want to die very badly.’

Hirah snorted and flashed in front of James. He raised his hand and mobilized terrifying strength to attack James’ head.

At the last second, James disappeared from sight.

The space where he was seconds ago was shattered instantly.

Suddenly, James reappeared behind Hirah and slashed his sword.

Despite using all his strength, James could not penetrate Hirah’s defenses.

A powerful force erupted from Hirah’s body, sending James flying into the distance.

‘That’s the Blithe Omniscience.’

“He’s a human! The Supernatural Power he used is definitely the Blithe Omniscience.”

“Could he possibly be Soren?”

“I don’t think so. I’ve seen Soren before. He doesn’t look like that.”

James calmly dodged the attack, but the powerhouses recognized the Supernatural Power he used. It was none other than the Blithe Omniscience that was passed down in the Human Race for ages.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4374-Soren was the only human capable of using the Blithe Omniscience.

Thus, James was instantly mistaken for the powerhouse ranked first on the Chaos Ranking, Soren.

James was blasted into the distance by Hirah’s Chaos Power.

He floated in the distance sky, pointed the Death-Celestial Sword at Hirah, and said coldly, “Let her go.”

“Hmph,” Hirah snorted and said coldly, “Who do you think you are to give me orders? Zaire has committed various heinous crimes, and her hands are covered with blood. She must be sentenced to death. I will not allow anyone to save her!”

“If that’s the case, I will not show any mercy.”

James’ Blood Energy churned, and his aura skyrocketed. A faint white search halo appeared on the surface of his skin. At the same time, white flames also began emitting from his body.

While the search halo only glowed on the surface of his skin, the white flames rose several meters high. At the same time, he emitted a mighty and powerful aura.

He was at the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage and had Ignis. Although his strength was still inferior to a Terra Acmean, his chances of victory were raised significantly if he also used the Blithe Omniscience.

Nobody could kill him, not even a powerhouse at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank like Hirah.

"He's at the middle stage of the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage."

"When did the humans have such a powerhouse?"

After sensing James' aura, many powerhouses gasped and backed away.

The other race's powerhouses also detected James' strength and were unwilling to get involved in the feud. They quickly retreated away from the main mountain. Some even left Mount Chaos, wanting nothing to do with the fight.

"You better stop right there, brat."

A loud voice came from the sky.

James looked toward the sound and saw that Youri was already at the pillar. He pressed his long sword at Thea's head.

"If you dare to move, I'll kill her," said Youri.

"Old bastard, if you touch her, I'll send the entire Doom Race to accompany her to hell."

James emitted a murderous aura.

"Try me. If you move, she dies," Youri threatened.

Youri had noticed James was worried about Zaire's safety. Although James was powerful, it was evident he would submit if Zaire were held hostage.

Moreover, Youri knew James could not possibly obliterate the Doom Race unless he was Soren, who was at the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage.

James was indeed intimidated and did not dare to act recklessly.

“Let her go. I’ll be punished in her stead.” James compromised.

James was not confident in saving Thea before Youri killed her. He could not bring himself to watch Thea die before his eyes.

“Sure.” Youri agreed without hesitation.

From his perspective, James was a more significant threat than Zaire.

James was in the middle stage of the Omniscience Path’s Eighth Stage. Given some time, he might become the next Soren. They were already having a massive issue with dealing with Soren. If the Human Race had another powerhouse on par with Soren in the future, the Doom Race’s status would be challenged.

The other powerhouses of the Doom Race immediately understood Youri’s thoughts.

Hirah stepped forward and said, ‘Then, we’ll punish you instead of her. The Dooms promise to release her.’

James looked at Thea. His heart ached to see her in such a fragile state. He quickly put away the Death-Celestial Sword and dispelled the Omniscience Path as well as the First Transformation of the Flame Art’s Three Fire Transformations.
