The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4375-James' aura weakened instantly.

He descended from the sky and landed on the ground.

When he landed, a few guards rushed over to him and held their swords at his neck.

Hirah ordered, "Release Zaire and this kid up."

Although James successfully rescued Zaire, he was bounded to the pillar in her place.

Thea had suffered severe injuries and got up from the ground with incredible difficulty. She looked at James, who was bounded, and said coldly, "You must be eager to die. Do you think I'll be grateful just because you saved me? You're so naive."

She did not appreciate James' actions.

Under the gazes of the Doom Race's powerhouses, she dragged her body and disappeared from Mount Chaos.

She arrived outside of Mount Chaos. Her initial plan was to leave the Doods' territory and heal her injuries as soon as possible. However, she did not immediately retreat in the end.

Thea stood outside Mount Chaos and silently looked at James, tied to the pillar in the distant sky.

Despite being bounded, James showed no fear.

James asked, "What's the punishment?"

Hirah replied, "You're being punished on Zaire's behalf. Her crimes are heinous, and she was to be punished with ninety- nine thousand eight hundred strikes of Chaos Lightning. If you can withstand them, we'll release you, and her crimes will be written off."

James responded, "Alright, let's get on with it."

Thea watched from a distance and said disdainfully, “Who do you think you are to withstand ninety-nine thousand eight hundred strikes of Chaos Lightning? Do you think you’re Soren? Or do you think you have a formidable body? Do you think you’ll survive the Chaos Lightnings?”

James’ arrogant attitude disgusted Thea.

Boom!

A streak of lightning fell from the sky.

Despite having a bad impression of James, Thea could not help but feel anxious when she saw the Chaos Lightning. She took a few steps forward, and she bit her lips worriedly.

The lightning scorched James’ flesh.

He was at the Omnsicince Path’s Eighth Stage and had physical strength equivalent to a powerhouse at the middle stage of the Terra Acme Rank. Even if a powerful Terra Acmean were to attack with full strength, he would be able to walk away unscathed.

However, the Chaos Lightning injured him instantly. His flesh was split open, and blood dripped down his body.

Thea had killed many creatures and attracted a lot of Karma to herself.

When the Chaos Lightning struck James, Thea felt the Karma she was contaminated with from her mass massacres was slightly weakened.

Boom!

The second streak of lightning struck James and exploded around him.

James felt the Chaos Lightning’s power permeating his body, causing his Blood Energy to churn. Unable to suppress it, he spat out a mouthful of blood.

The Chaos Lightning struck him one after another.

After several lightning strikes, James’ whole body was covered in wounds.

His aura was weak, and he was at his limit. He would die if he were to be struck a few more times.

The countless powerhouses quietly watched James, who was being punished in Thea's stead.

Nobody expected James to be able to survive the Chaos Lightning.

James had already withstood tens of thousands of lightning strikes. After enduring them, the Karma Power Thea had attracted to herself had decreased significantly. Her cold heart slowly warmed up, and she could not help but feel worried for James.

"Dumbass." Seeing James endure the punishments for her, Thea could not hold back her tears.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4376-James endured ten thousand strikes of Chaos Lightnings, and not an inch of his body was intact. His flesh was split apart and scorched. Even his bones were broken from the punishment.

His soul had been integrated into his physical body. With his body sustaining so many injuries, his soul was also damaged.

James was slowly losing consciousness and was on the brink of death.

Countless powerhouses of different races were gathered around the area.

Everyone watched him silently. Even though none spoke, they were shocked that a human could withstand the Chaos Lightning punishment for so long.

Chaos Lightnings were considered one of the strongest punishments in the Greater Realms. Only a handful of people could endure just one strike of Chaos Lightning.

Thus, they found it unbelievable that James resisted tens of thousands of strikes.

"I can't die now."

James was about to pass out. He felt like his soul was about to disappear any time soon.

A strong survival instinct immediately rose in his heart.

There was still a lot he needed to do. He had to complete the Path of Heavenly Awakening's nine trials and lead the Human Race to glory. Thea, his daughters, and his son were still waiting for him.

Moreover, he had not met his unborn son yet.

James was driven by his desire to live and gradually regained his consciousness.

His blurred vision became clear, and countless powerhouses entered his sight.

The Doom Race's Patriarch, Hirah, and the Great Elder, Youri, were familiar faces to him.

James roared, "I'll use the Chaos Lightning to strengthen myself and create a formidable physical body!"

He mustered up all his strength and began to absorb the Chaos Lightning's power, which lingered in his body.

"ARGH!!!"

Chaos Lightning was a terrifying punishment. Under normal circumstances, it was impossible to absorb and refine its power. However, James had experience in refining lightning tribulations.

The Chaos Lightning's power permeated his bones, reaching part of his body. The force caused excruciating pain to spread throughout his body.

James growled in pain.

Boom!!!

The Chaos Lightnings did not stop from striking him.

James knew he must absorb and refine them. Otherwise, he would not make it through the remainder of the punishment.

"What the hell is with this kid?"

The powerhouses in the distance were dumbfounded by James' actions.

"His physical body is almost invincible."

"Even tens of thousands of Chaos Lightning strikes couldn't obliterate his physical body. That's terrifying."

"He's trying to absorb the Chaos Lightning's powers to enhance his physical strength. He will be a huge threat if he reaches a higher stage in the Omniscience Path."

The powerhouses' expressions changed.

Meanwhile, James entered the Omniscience Path and urged all his strength. His weak aura immediately skyrocketed and his whole body radiated with a blinding white glow.

The Chaos Lightning stimulated his body and blood. A potent force appeared in his body, and vigorous Spiritual Power emerged from his blood.

James focused on absorbing the Chaos Lightning's power, risking everything.

His Spiritual Power kept growing stronger. However, the Chaos Lightning also grew stronger with each strike.

At the beginning of the punishment, he would be struck one by one. Now, he was being struck by tens or hundreds of flashes of lightning simultaneously. The force of each lightning was multiplied, and James struggled to withstand them even though he had entered the Omniscience Path.

He felt his mind going foggy, and he passed out.

After James' fainted, the powerhouses could sense that James' soul had completely vanished. Only his lifeless and injured body was left hanging on the pillar.

Although James seemed to have died, the Chaos Lightning punishment was not over.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4377-The Karma Thea had been contaminated with was weakened with every lightning strike James endured for her.

Thea's indifferent and emotionless heart slowly regained warmth.

Soon, the Chaos Lightning punishment was over.

James was punished in Thea's place. At that moment, he had already lost all signs of life.

His flesh was split open, and his blood had almost dry. His bones were exposed, and the terrifying marks left on them could be seen.

'The punishment is over.' Hirah stood up, scanned the crowd, and said, 'He has been punished in Zaire's place. Her crimes have been forgiven.'

After speaking, Hirah casually waved his hand, and a powerful force emerged. It swept toward the corpse on the pillar.

The Seal Formation was dispersed, and James' corpse plummeted from the sky.

'Sigh. What a pity.'

'With his potential, he would've become one of the strongest in the Greater Realms. Yet he willingly sacrificed himself for a woman.'

'It's a shame indeed.'

Many people felt it was a pity for him to have died.

Meanwhile, Thea was cleansed of evil energy.

She cultivated Diabolic Art and was full of evil energy. However, James endured the Chaos Lightning punishment for her.

As a result, her sins, evil energy, and Karma were weakened.

She slowly walked over to the hall on Mount Chaos' main mountain.

Thea looked at the lifeless body, picked it up, and left the mountain under the powerhouses' watchful eyes.

The powerhouses did not stop her and simply watched as she left with James' corpse.

Thea found a desolate spiritual mountain with rich Empyrean Spiritual Energy and constructed a tomb for James.

A few words were engraved on the tombstone-Tomb of James Caden.

A pretty woman in a black dress stood before the tomb. She had delicate features and looked dainty.

She wept sadly, and tears streamed down her cheeks.

Her tears blurred her vision, making it hard to see clearly.

She recalled the moments since she encountered James.

Although she did not know him, she could not forget the scene of him bearing the Chaos Lightning punishment for her.

As she remembered his pained expression while enduring the Chaos Lightning, her heart ached, and she had a guilty conscience.

Thea stood before the tomb, crying for a very long time.

Suddenly, the tomb disappeared from her sight.

"Huh?" Thea was taken aback.

She quickly scanned her surroundings. Everything seemed the same, but the tomb was nowhere to be found.

Thea was startled, unable to figure out what had happened.

She stared at where she had built the tomb and waved her hand. The force created a deep pit in the ground, but the corpse she buried was gone.

"How is this possible?" Thea was in shock.

"I'm sure I buried him here. Even the Chaos Lightning could not destroy his bones, so how did his remains disappear?"

Thea was puzzled by the situation.

Even though she had reached the peak of the Terra Acme Rank, she was unaware what she had experienced was a mere illusion. Despite that, she retained the memories of everything that happened.

Meanwhile, the other living beings had their memories wiped out.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4378-James bore the Chaos Lightning punishment for Thea during the Path of Heavenly Awakening's third trial.

During the punishment, he lost signs of vitality, and his soul vanished.

Ultimately, Thea buried his corpse and built him a tomb.

Thea was teleported out of the illusion but retained the memories of everything that had happened within it.

However, the other powerhouses had their memories wiped out.

The other powerhouses were also sent back to reality after Thea.

Everything within the illusion had ceased to exist except James' tomb.

The tomb remained in the illusion for many years.

Creak!

One day, the tomb suddenly lifted open.

A skeletal hand reached out from the ground, repeatedly pushing aside the soil. Shortly afterward, a complete skeleton crawled out of the tomb and sat on a rock.

James was still in a groggy state.

After some time, he suddenly recovered his memories. His flesh and blood also regenerated, and his body was restored.

"I'm not dead yet?" James took a deep breath.

James had gone through the Chaos Lightning punishment for Thea and lost consciousness halfway through it. He had already lost his perception of the outside world. Supposedly, he was already dead. However, he miraculously regained consciousness.

“I’m still alive? Did Thea bury me here? Have I completed the trial? Has Thea already left the illusion?”

James stood up and examined his surroundings. He let out his Divine Sense to sense the surroundings.

He did not find any living beings inside the illusion.

“Everyone’s gone.” James was surprised.

He immediately examined his physical body and cultivation rank.

“I was at the middle stage of the Omniscience Path’s Eighth Stage. After going through the Chaos Lightning punishment, my physical body has improved. I’ve already reached the last stage of the Omniscience Path’s Eighth Stage and am very close to the Ninth Stage.”

James analyzed his cultivation ranks.

Unexpectedly, he benefited from the punishment.

If not for the Chaos Lightning’s powers, it would be hard for him to reach the late stage of the Omniscience Path’s

Eighth Stage. In fact, it might have taken him many more years.

Because of the punishment, he coincidentally entered the last stage of the Omniscience Path’s Eighth Stage.

His physical strength was also terrifying and was on par with a powerhouse at the late stage of the Terra Acme Rank.

Under normal circumstances, a powerhouse at the last stage of the Terra Acme Rank would have to attack with full strength to injure his physical body.

However, he would have to avoid fighting a powerhouse that cultivated in the Boundless Rank.

Perhaps it would take a Permanence Acmean that entered the Boundless Rank to hurt him.

James stretched his body and smiled after sensing the majestic power flowing through him.

The Chaos Lightning laid a foundation for him to cultivate a formidable body and enter the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage.

James murmured, "This should mean I've passed the third trial."

After speaking, the surrounding space collapsed, and he appeared inside the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

Another door appeared inside the passage.

James could walk through the door and exit the Path of Heavenly Awakening, returning to his era. With his current strength, very few in the Greater Realms could stand against him.

He could easily take on the patriarchs of major races.

However, Youri, who had entered the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage, was still going to be a tough opponent.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4379-"Should I leave now?"

James looked at the exit door before him.

"The Path of Heavenly Awakening is a very magical place. If I were to leave now, I might miss out on great opportunities. With my current strength, I should be able to overcome the subsequent trials no matter how hard they are."

James was confident in his strength. He wanted to break through the remaining trials.

In the first trial, he confronted the legendary Wynton, a prodigy who was invincible in his rank.

In the second trial, he met the Human Race's unrivaled powerhouse and also the creator of the formidable Blithe Omniscience, Yardos. He also had the opportunity to see the Boundless Master.

In the third stage, he encountered Thea, who was known as Zaire, before she had become the Human Race's matron.

He was looking forward to what he would experience in the fourth trial.

"Huff." James took a deep breath.

He advanced along the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

What awaited him in the fourth trial was a mystery waiting for him to unravel.

Mysterious inscriptions surrounded the passage he walked. Even James was unable to comprehend them. However, he could sense they were very magical and had deep meanings.

As he walked forward, the passage collapsed.

James plummeted from the sky and landed firmly on the ground.

He scanned his surroundings and found himself in another mountain range surrounded by a primeval forest. Countless trees towered tens of thousands of meters into the sky.

The primeval forest had a very ancient atmosphere.

The roars of unknown beasts resounded in the forest, causing small creatures to flee in fear.

"What's the fourth trial?"

James looked around him. He unleashed his Divine Sense and detected the many beasts in the forest. However, they were relatively weak.

"Welcome to the Death Realm."

A surreal voice resounded in the area.

'The Path of Heavenly Awakening's fourth trial is called the Death Realm. Here, you will engage in countless battles. Many famous figures throughout history will be summoned, and you must defeat everyone to pass the trial.

"However, you risk dying in battle."

Startled by the trial, James' mind went blank.

"Does it have to be this hard?" James took a deep breath and murmured, 'The creator of the Path of Heavenly Awakening is terrifyingly strong. He's even capable of projecting powerhouses of different eras into this illusion.'

Although James thought himself to be strong, he recognized the creator of the Path of Heavenly Awakening was on a completely different level.

He was nowhere near to be doing half of what the Path of Heavenly Awakening's creator could do.

James pondered, 'How strong must he be to do something like this?'

"Alright, bring it on."

A powerful aura erupted from his body.

James was at the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank and late stage of the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage.

Moreover, he had comprehended until the Third Tone of the Chaos' Nine Voices and had preliminary comprehension of the Blithe Omniscience.

With his current strength, he might stand a chance against Wynton.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4380-In the fourth trial, countless powerhouses throughout the Greater Realms' history would be projected into the illusion, and James would have to defeat them.

James was not afraid of fighting them with his current strength. He was confident in beating them as long as they were in the same cultivation rank.

Even if he had to face Wynton again, he was confident victory would be his.

He looked forward to seeing what kind of powerhouses would be projected into the fourth trial.

James strode forward, making his way out of the primeval forest.

After leaving the forest, he sensed a powerful aura.

In the distance, there was a city.

A man in his thirties stood on the ancient street outside the city. He wore a yellow robe and had quite the looks. He looked into the distance with his hands behind him, seemingly observing James, who had walked out of the primeval forest.

His name was Chetan Yearth, a powerful ancient figure of the Greater Realms.

Chetan lived in the era before the Space Race ruled the Greater Realms, which was after the age Wynton was from.

He entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening by chance. Unlike James, he was not in the Ultimate Trials but the Nine Trials of the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

It was rumored he would have the chance to enter the Caelum Acme rank after he passed the Nine Trials.

He overcame countless obstacles to reach the ninth trial.

His mission was to kill a human called James Caden. However, he was not sure who his target was.

Despite being oblivious to his opponent's identity, Chetan was determined to kill anyone that got in his way.

After sensing the terrifying aura, James approached the city.

Soon, he arrived at the ancient road outside of the city.

James looked at the man in the yellow robe and tried to detect his cultivation rank.

'He's at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank.'

James smiled faintly and asked, "What is your name?"

The man responded, "Chetan Yearth."

After speaking, Chetan urged all his strength and unleashed his powerful aura.

“Chetan?” James frowned.

‘Who the hell is he?’ thought James.

He racked his brain and searched Wyot’s memories but had no recollection of a man named Chetan Yearth.

James had no idea who the man before him was and could only conclude Chetan must not have been a well-known figure. It was the only explanation for why he was not recorded in the Greater Realm’s history.

“Well, it doesn’t matter who you are or where you’re from. Since you’ve encountered me today, you’ll have to die.”

After speaking, James unleashed his powerful aura.

“This is my trial. It’s an illusion for me to improve. You’re nothing but a side character and won’t be able to stop me from completing the Path of Heavenly Awakening.”

Chetan looked at James with determination.

“Wait, what?” James caught onto his words and noticed something out of the ordinary.

“Did you say you’re trying to complete the Path of Heavenly Awakening and are currently in a trial?” asked James.

Chetan replied, “That’s right. I’ve activated the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s Nine Trials. I’m on the ninth trial right now. If I pass this trial, I’ll have the chance to become a Caelum Acmean.”

James immediately understood the situation.

In his fourth trial, he would have to fight powerhouses that had reached the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s ninth trial.

His opponents were powerhouses that entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening in the past.

“Huff.” James took a deep breath. He was astonished by the strength of the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s creator.

The Path of Heavenly Awakening’s realms were connected through time.

James pondered, ‘Will I also encounter powerhouses that will be born in the future?’

He quickly put away his thoughts and focused on the trial.
