The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4386-Chetan could not believe that James managed to break through the Altar Formation.

He spent countless years researching to perfect it and defeated many powerhouses in the same era as him.

The Altar Formation was his strongest trump card. However, James shattered it.

“Damn it.” Chetan’s face darkened.

The Supernatural Power that James had cast was very mysterious and contained great strength, capable of breaking the formation.

As soon as James escaped the formation, he regained his Spiritual Power.

Even though he looked to be in a pitiful state, the aura he emitted was powerful.

James immediately cast the Blithe Omniscience and appeared before Chetan.

Chetan suffered a backlash after his formation was destroyed, and he was injured. He could not even react when James appeared before him. Several Sword Energies pierced his body and erupted instantly.

Boom!

His body exploded into pieces. However, it was difficult to kill someone at his cultivation rank.

Chetan’s flesh and bones quickly regenerated.

“I admit defeat.”

Chetan retreated and looked at the powerful James in despair. Even though he still could fight, his most potent combat means, the Altar Formation, was not a match against James.

Meanwhile, James had activated the Ignis and overpowered Chetan in strength.

Chetan knew there was no chance he could defeat James.

“Am I never going to enter the Caelum Acme Rank?” Chetan raised his head, looking into the sky disappointedly.

Suddenly, he growled, “AHH!!!”

He vented out his frustration.

James felt his persistence and obsession with reaching absolute strength.

The Caelum Acme Rank was the pinnacle of cultivation.

Only a few transcendent cultivators could become Caelum Acmeans and reach every cultivator’s dream rank.

As Chetan’s voice resounded in the area, his body became translucent.

Shortly after, he disappeared into thin air.

“Huh?” James was taken aback. “Did he die? Or did he give up his trial, knowing that he could not defeat me?”

James was puzzled by Chetan’s disappearance. However, he was also relieved.

His body slowly descended from the sky and appeared on the ground.

He had given his all in the battle. Despite being the victor, he was still covered in injuries.

Moreover, he did not manage to kill his opponent.

With his current strength, he would have to go all out to kill a powerhouse at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank like Chetan.

In fact, the battle’s outcome would only be determined after one of them was drained of energy.

If Chetan were to desperately fight till the end, James might not have won.

James dispersed the Omniscience Path and Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations. He sat on a rock in the collapsed mountain range and panted heavily.

He murmured, "I wonder what's the next trial."

James thought he had already passed the fourth trial after defeating Chetan.

To his surprise, a powerful fluctuation appeared in the distance. The fluctuation calmed down, and a tall and burly man appeared in his sight.

The man was about two to three meters tall. He had a rowdy appearance and was slightly tan. His muscles were well-defined, and his face wore a resolute expression.

After appearing in the area, he shouted, "Who is it? Who's my opponent in the last trial?"

His booming voice echoed in the area.

Baffled by the situation, James murmured, "No way. Defeating Chetan wasn't the end of the trial, but just the beginning?"

James suddenly recalled the fourth trial was called the Death Realm. He had to go through countless battles before the trial was over.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4387-It would not be called the Death Realm if it were to end so quickly.

James slowly stood up.

Boom!

The burly man descended from the sky and landed firmly on the ground. The powerful force from the impact shattered the ground, causing a bottomless abyss to form.

He looked at James, pointed his finger, and asked coldly, "Are you my opponent?"

James subconsciously nodded and replied, "Yeah, it's probably me. What's your name?"

"I'm the strongest of the Stone Race, Simone Sabell."

The rowdy-looking man's voice resounded through the area.

James was puzzled. 'Simone?'

He was aware of the Stone Race.

They were a powerful race in the Greater Realms. However, James could not find a person named Simone in Wyot's memories.

Therefore, Simone must be a figure from the distant past, so far that the Greater Realms no longer had any records of him.

"Make your move." James beckoned to Simone.

Simone did not waste time with chit-chat.

He immediately made a move and cast his Supernatural Power. His flesh gradually transformed into hard rocks.

Shortly after, he became a stone golem.

Although Simone had a bulky body, his movements were quick.

He jumped tens of thousands of meters into the air. Then, he descended from the ground and slammed his fist toward the ground.

James saw the massive hand coming in his direction and swiftly dodged the attack.

Boom!

Cracks formed in the ground, and a bottomless hole appeared.

The void above the ground was also shattered.

James appeared in the distance and said smilingly, "Is that all you have?"

However, Simone had already appeared before him a second later and swung his fist.

James raised his hand to defend himself.

Their fists clashed.

Bang!!!

An explosion erupted when their fists made contact.

James' arm was broken instantly, and the force blasted him away.

The remaining force permeated his body, causing injuries all over him.

After the brief confrontation, James realized how terrifying Simone's strength was and no longer dared to act recklessly.

He backed into the distance and entered the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage. Then, he activated the Flame Art's Three Fire Transformations.

James' body erupted with flames. He was wary of Simone and used all his combat means.

"Interesting."

Simone grinned, clenched his massive fist, and swung at James.

At the beginning of the fight, James was slightly more careless. After casting all his Supernatural Powers, James received the attack confidently.

Boom!!!

Their fists collided again.

This time, both James and Simone were blasted away by the force.

The disparity in their strength was not very wide. However, Simone was still slightly superior to James and gained his footing fast.

‘This is going to be another hard battle. How many more of these fights will I have to go through?’

James was slightly worried.

The fourth trial was tough, but James would not give up so easily.

“Bring it on!”

A burning fighting spirit rose in his heart, and his powerful aura pervaded the air.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4388-James was in his strongest combat state but was still slightly weaker than Simone.

The two confronted each other again and were blasted away by the force from the impact.

Just as James stabilized himself, Simone struck again.

His stone fist slammed at James.

Before Simone landed the punch, a terrifying force swept forward and hit James.

James cast the Blithe Omniscience and skillfully dodged the attack. He flashed behind Simone and thrust his hand forward. His terrifying palm attack landed on Simone’s back. However, it did not cause any substantial damage.

“Haha!”

Simone turned around to James and grinned. “My physical body is pretty much invincible. You can’t hurt me. Even though you’re at the Omniscience Path’s Eighth Stage and have learned the Blithe Omniscience, you’re not a match against me.”

‘This fight is not going to be easy.’ James frowned.

Swoosh!

A long black sword manifested in his hand.

James raised his hand, and countless Sword Energies morphed out. Shortly after, he summoned a few mysterious inscriptions.

By combining the inscriptions and Sword Energies, James constructed a Sword World again.

After the Sword World was formed, James' unleashed several more Sword Energies to attack Simone.

Simone did not even bother dodging, allowing the Sword Energies to strike his stone skin.

Clank! Clank!

The Sword Energies slashed at him, causing crisp clinking sounds to resound in the area.

Only the outermost layer of Simone's body was slightly damaged, and some gravel fell to the ground.

Other than that, he did not sustain any fatal injuries.

Simone laughed wildly and charged at James.

"Break!"

He swung his stone fist at the Sword World's borders.

Boom!

Although he caused a lot of damage to the Sword World's structure, he did not manage to break the Sword World.

He repeatedly swung his fists, and countless holes formed at the Sword World's border.

After thousands of punches, James' Sword World was broken by his brute force.

Simone had exceptional physical strength but lacked in other aspects. Despite that, his physical strength alone was enough to give James a headache.

A fierce fight broke out in the area.

James cast all his Supernatural Powers and Path Powers one after another.

However, Simone's physical body seemed immune to his Path Powers. James used various Supernatural Powers, but Simone remained unscathed.

On the other hand, James had activated the Blithe Omniscience and was also formidable.

Their fight reached a stalemate.

James kept trying to look for a way to defeat his opponent. However, he was unable to formulate a feasible plan. The battle's outcome would be determined when one of them ran out of energy.

Now, James had no choice but to keep stalling till the end.

Even with the Death-Celestial Sword, James was unable to hurt Simone.

Ultimately, James cast aside his weapon and brawled with Simone.

The battle lasted for a long time.

Thirty thousand years later, Simone's stone body had slowly disintegrated under James' attacks.

In the end, his massive body collapsed into a pile of rubble on the ground.

James was also severely injured.

After killing Simone, he sat on the ground and panted heavily. Before he could have a proper rest, a new opponent appeared.

His next opponent was also a powerhouse at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4389-James engaged in another intense fight.

At the Death Realm, James was forced to fight consecutively.

One after another, he defeated his opponents.

James had lost track of how much time had passed while fighting.

He encountered formidable powerhouses in different fields.

There were powerhouses proficient in formations, some with terrifying physical strength and some with exceptional cultivation bases.

James was exhausted from all the fights and was dazed.

After nine hundred and ninety-nine opponents, James collapsed to the ground.

He lay in a pool of blood. His body was severely injured, and he even had a few broken bones.

He had to forcibly hold his bones together to continue fighting. Before his old wounds could fully recover, he would already sustain new ones.

“Damn it. Is this never going to end?”

James lay down in the pool of blood, scolding the powerhouse that created the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

He quickly began to recover from his injuries and replenish his energy because he had no idea how many more opponents he would have to face.

Just when he was ready to face the next opponent, the Death Realm collapsed, and he reappeared in the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

After returning to the familiar passage, James sighed in relief.

He looked at the exit door and contemplated whether to leave.

James had gone through four trials. The first seemed the most difficult, but every trial was not easy to overcome.

There were still five more trials in the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

James was unsure what he would encounter in the next trial.

He decided not to continue to the following trial since his current strength was already sufficient.

His cultivation rank was at the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank, and his physical strength was on par with a powerhouse at the late stage of the Terra Acme Rank.

Moreover, he was also at the late stage of the Omniscience Path and possessed various Supernatural Powers.

For him to improve any further was going to be tough.

Even if he were to complete the remaining five trials, he might not be able to reach the next rank.

He planned to leave the Path of Heavenly Awakening first to complete the mission of helping humans rise. After he acquired invincible strength, he would return to the Path of Heavenly Awakening to find out what the remaining trials were.

James looked at the door, already decided to leave.

However, he did not rush to leave. He sat down in a lotus position and began to treat his wounds.

James was seriously injured, and it would take some time to fully heal. He healed his injuries wholeheartedly and slowly recovered.

Soon, the injuries on his body recovered.

James stood up and stretched his muscles.

“I’ve learned a lot from the Path of Heavenly Passage, and my strength has improved significantly. With my current strength, only a handful of people in the Greater Realms can defeat me. Perhaps only Youri, who has reached the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage, can suppress me.

“I should be strong enough to help the Human Race gain a foothold in the Greater Realms.

“As for the remaining trials...”

James looked at the passage ahead of him.

Although he was curious to find out what was in the subsequent trial, he maintained his rationality.

He stood at the exit and gradually transformed his appearance back to Wyot. His aura also returned to that of a human.

James stretched his muscles again, looked at the door, and stepped out.

As soon as he stepped through the door, a mysterious force sucked his body away. James felt his surroundings spinny, giving him a headache.

Fortunately, it only lasted for a few seconds later. He was already out of the Path of Heavenly Awakening the next moment.

Many powerhouses were gathered outside.

After James entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening, the Ursas called for the other races’ powerhouses to wait for his return. Everyone was curious to know whether Wyot could overcome the ultimate trial.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4390-After James, disguised as Wyot, entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening, Gaerel informed all the major races in the Greater Realms about it.

The patriarchs of the various races appeared in the Ursa’s territory with their tokens, waiting at the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s entrance.

Everyone wanted to know if the greatest prodigy of their era could overcome the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s Ultimate Trials.

Three hundred years had passed since James had entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening.

Suddenly, the Path of Heavenly Awakening's door lit up.

"Is he finally coming out?"

The powerhouses stared at the door.

"He's back!"

"Wyot has left the Path of Heavenly Path?"

"He's only reached the fourth trial. Why is he coming out now?"

Many discussions resounded.

Even though nobody was aware of the trials James had gone through, they were made aware of the trial he had reached from the notification above the Path of Heavenly Awakening's door.

James appeared before the powerhouses.

The Ursa's Patriarch, Gaerel, immediately stepped forward. He scanned James up and down, then said, "According to our agreement, you'll have to complete the Nine Trials and prove you have the potential to enter the Caelum Acme Rank before we hand over our token to you."

James smiled faintly and replied, "We agreed I would have to complete the Nine Trials. However, I entered the Ultimate Trials and passed the fourth trial. My achievements should be already equivalent to having completed the Nine Trials."

Gaerel fell into contemplation. He was not sure whether to hand over the token to James.

After a brief thought, he replied, "How about you stay here for now while we discuss this amongst ourselves first."

James made an approving gesture, then turned to look at the Path of Heavenly Awakening's entrance. Then, he said, "The Path of Heavenly Awakening is mine. I'll be taking it with me."

James had only reached the fourth trial and still had five more.

He was determined to challenge them when he had the time.

The Path of Heavenly Awakening was mysterious and even contained the power to connect different ages. He did not want to leave such a treasure with the Ursas.

Gaerel burst out laughing and said, “Ha! What isn’t yours will never be yours, Wyot. Even if your patriarch were to come and ask for it today, I would never hand it over, let alone let you have it.”

James looked at Gaerel and said, “What if I insist?”

Gaerel’s face darkened, and he replied, ‘Then, we’ll have to see if you have the strength to take it from us.”

Wyot was a prodigy from the Doom Race and had a Thousand Paths Holy Body. He might even become the strongest cultivator of the Greater Realms in the future.

Therefore, Gaerel had been rather polite with James all this while.

However, that did not mean he was afraid of James.

A powerful aura erupted from Gaerel’s body.

James cast a glance at Gaerel.

Seeing that Gaerel was ready to fight, James said smilingly,” I was just joking.”

Gaerel was at the peak of the Terra Acme Rank.

James had killed countless enemies like Gaerel in the Path of Heavenly Awakening’s fourth trial. Thus, he was confident in defeating Gaerel.

However, he did not want to reveal his strength yet.

James smiled faintly and said, “Please finish the discussion as soon as possible, Mr. Wagstaff. I’ll be waiting for the good news.”

‘Take Mr. Wyot to a room to rest.”
