The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4401-Upon receiving these orders, the elders present were dumbfounded.

“Miss Xezal, what exactly is going on?”

“Has something happened?” Several elders inquired.

Xezal snorted coldly and replied, “An outsider has invaded our clan and entered our Soul Pagoda. They set up a formation here.”

Qimat said, “Could it be a human? Is he here for Thea Callahan?”

Shaking his head slightly, he continued, “This shouldn’t be possible. This is our divine side. How could the Human Race have the power to enter our territory without our powerhouses knowing and set up a formation here?”

“I don’t know about that. Act swiftly and deal with it. The intruder is incredibly strong, but no matter who he is, he shouldn’t be allowed to leave now that he has come,” Xezal instructed once more.

Qimat asked, “Should we inform Sir Youri to come back and oversee the situation?”

Xezal responded, “I can’t even handle this human. Sir Youri might not be able to do anything about them even if he returns.”

At that moment, inside the Soul Pagoda, James was both comprehending the formation of the dungeon and reinforcing the formation outside.

In an instant, he completed a million-layer formation.

He used ancient inscriptions to set up the formation, making it practically impossible for even numerous powerhouses of the search Doom Race to break it in a short time.

Given a little more time, he could take Thea away with him.

In the outside world, following Xezal’s orders, the Dooms were all busy.

The search Doom Race’s Mountain Formations were all activated.

However, Xezal still felt it was not secure enough.

“I want to see what you’re up to.”

She set up another formation around the Soul Pagoda, preventing James from escaping. Then, she wholeheartedly focused on breaking the formations.

Yet, James’ array was too profound, and she had never encountered it before. She could not break it in a short time, and her strength was not enough to shatter the array completely.

She was unable to break the formation, and it continuously restored itself.

In the blink of an eye, a day passed.

Meanwhile, James had spent a long time in the time formation.

Through this period of understanding, he could already decipher the array restrictions left by Youri in the iron cage.

Once he broke the formation, he dispelled the array, and with a wave of his hand, some inscriptions entered the iron cage. The array restrictions in the iron cage vanished at once.

He flashed into the dungeon and looked at Thea, who was gasping for air on the ground. He helped her up and said, “Thea, I’m taking you away.”

He led Thea out of the dungeon, leaving the Soul Pagoda.

Outside, he saw Xezal and many Dooms’ elders.

However, the living beings of search Doom Race could not see him. They could only perceive the illusory scenes he left behind.

“James.” Thea’s face was slightly pale, and her breath was weak.

With a serious expression, she said, “How could you take such a risk to save me? If you were to get trapped by the Dooms as well, then there would be no hope and future for the Human Race.”

James gently touched her pale face and reassured her, “Don’t worry. I can safely take you away.”

He activated the Power of the Life Path to heal Thea. Her vitality recovered, and her pale face regained some color.

“I’ll bring you out. The Dooms are nothing. No living being in the Greater Realms can stop me from leaving.” Confidence and composure were evident in his demeanor.

James would not have dared to rescue anyone in the past. However, he feared nothing and no one after experiencing the Path of Heavenly Awakening and the Caelum Acme Rank.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4402-Once the formation was broken and Thea was rescued, James felt completely at ease.

He had great confidence in his own strength and believed that he had a chance of making it through no matter how many powerhouses the search Doom Race had.

James had a rough understanding of the search Doom Race’s strength. Although they had many Acmeans, their highest cultivation rank was only at the Peak of the Terra Acme Rank. There were no powerhouses at the Caelum Acme Rank, even in all of the Greater Realms. Perhaps there were some, but they remained hidden in the shadows, unknown to the world.

After safely keeping Thea inside his storage treasure, James appeared and casually dispelled the illusory scene he had left behind.

Xezal continued to attempt to break the formation but was unable to do so in a day. Despite her having the support of the time formation, James’ formation remained impenetrable.

At that moment, the scene before them vanished.

The true appearance of the Soul Pagoda appeared before their eyes, with a stranger materializing right in front of them.

Xezal saw James, and the other search Doom Race elders also recognized him.

"It's James Caden," Qimat identified him immediately.

They had crossed paths and fought not long ago. James was indeed a legendary powerhouse of the Human Race, but there was still a gap in his cultivation base compared to the Top Powerhouses of the Greater Realms.

Doubts arose within Qimat.

How did James manage to infiltrate the search Doom Race?

"It's you," Qimat's face darkened, and he spoke coldly, "You've walked into heaven's territory and barged into hell."

James waved his hand and deactivated the formation.

As the formation dissipated, a large number of the Doom Race's guards appeared and surrounded him instantly. He could sense a powerful Spatial Seal Formation in the area but remained undaunted.

With a composed expression, James spoke calmly, "I don't fear the search Doom Race since I dared to come. You shouldn't have captured my wife, nor should you have used her to threaten me. I'll still break through, even if I have to face danger."

"Hmph!" Qimat snorted. He stepped forward and appeared in front of James in the blink of an eye.

James was deeply trapped within the search Doom Race, and in Qimat's eyes, James was at a dead end.

He was determined to take the initiative to capture James himself, unwilling to let the other members steal this credit. Qimat swiftly raised his hand. He aimed to grab James' head and shoulders to seize him firmly the moment he appeared before him.

James left behind an afterimage and disappeared as Qimat's hand almost made contact with his shoulder, while Qimat ended up grasping only his afterimage.

In the next moment, James reappeared far away, looking at Qimat with a calm expression.

"What's this?" A hint of surprise appeared on Qimat's face.

Even the shadowy form of Xezal noticed something.

‘The Blithe Omniscience?’ Her ethereal pupils locked onto James in the distance.

With a smile on his face, James said, “You do have some insight. Yes, it’s the Blithe Omniscience.”

As he finished speaking, a faint white search halo emerged around him. His calm bloodline suddenly surged, and his aura grew stronger.

In an instant, he reached the late stage of the Omniscience Path’s Eight Stage.

‘The Omniscience Path, late stage of Eight Stage,’ The shadowy form of Xezal exclaimed in surprise. “I never expected you to grow so fast.”

The last time James appeared, he could not even defeat Qimat and had to resort to a sneak attack to find a chance to escape. Yet, he had become so much stronger in such a short period.

“But...” Xezal’s tone shifted.
