

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4403

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4403-‘You must stay with the search Doom Race even if you step into the Omniscience Path’s Ninth Stage today,’ Xezal said.

James was gazing ahead at the mysterious shadow before him.

He had been infiltrating the search Doom Race for quite some time and had encountered Xezal several times. However, he had never been able to see through her true strength. He had suspicions that she might be a hidden powerhouse of Caelum Acme Rank, but this was only speculation and had not been confirmed.

Currently, in the Greater Realms, there were no powerhouses at the Caelum Acme Rank. It had been this way ever since the decline of the Space Race.

James was not entirely certain about Xezal’s true cultivation realm, and today was the perfect opportunity to test her cultivation realm.

“Such arrogance,” James responded calmly. “Whether you can keep me here depends on your ability.”

“Hmph.” Xezal let out a faint smile.

In a flash, her shadow appeared right in front of James. Her speed was incredibly fast, almost instantaneous. She surpassed spatial restrictions and overcame time obstacles. Unlike the Blithe Omniscience, her speed was merely a display of her cultivation realm.

As for the Blithe Omniscience, it represented a mental fortitude, a harmonious fusion of body and Spiritual Power.

Once Xezal appeared, her illusory palm reached out swiftly, attempting to grasp James and hold him in place.

James activated the power of the Omniscience Path and launched a forceful attack, countering the illusory palm.

Boom!

A tremendous roar reverberated through the air. James was forcefully thrust backward by a horrifying power, causing his blood energy to surge, and he spurted out a mouthful of blood.

“Formidable.” James was astonished. He learned of Xezal’s strength through their first exchange. Even without using his Ignis and Chaos Power, the power of his Omniscience Path combined with his physical strength should be comparable to that of a Late Stage Terra Acme Rank powerhouse.

Yet, he was still outmatched in terms of strength.

However, this was not enough to determine if Xezal was a Caelum Acme Rank powerhouse.

James had encountered powerhouses during the fourth trial on the Path of Heavenly Awakening, and the powers they displayed were far stronger than what Xezal had shown so far. Perhaps she was holding back and had not unleashed her full strength.

Taking advantage of this moment, James retreated to the edge of the formation and manifested a longsword in his hand.

He laughed heartily and said, “No wonder you’re the most mysterious personal chambermaid to the search Doom Race’s clan leader. Your strength is truly terrifying. I don’t have time to play with you today, but we’ll meet again.”

With these words, James activated his full power and forcefully attempted to break Xezal’s formation barrier.

“Boom!”

The strike of the Death-Celestial Sword hit the formation barrier, and in that instant, James felt an overwhelming pressure emanating from the formation. It pressed down on him fiercely, as if the entire world was crushing him. He fell heavily to the ground, shattering large swathes of mountains in the process.

Lying amidst the ruins, James spat out another mouthful of blood.

‘Tsktsk.’

“Xezal’s formation is indeed powerful.”

The search Doom Race's elders were stunned. They only knew that the search Doom Race had a personal chambermaid to the clan leader, but most of them had never seen her and never knew anything about her appearance or cultivation realm.

Now, witnessing James being defeated, they realized the true terror of Xezal.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4404

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4404-Xezal had set up a formation to prevent James from escaping.

Her mastery of formations far surpassed James', but his formation was an Ancient Magic Circle and unfamiliar to her, so she could not break it in a short time.

James attempted to force a breakthrough but ended in failure. The formidable pressure within the formation struck him like a blow from an unparalleled powerhouse, leaving him instantly wounded.

Whoosh!

From the ruins in the distance, a figure flew out. It was James. He had a disheveled appearance, bloodstained lips, and a battered body.

Standing in the void, he gazed at the distant shadow and the numerous elders of the search Doom Race, his expression growing serious.

Among all the search Doom Race, he was most concerned and wary of Xezal, an existence dreaded throughout the Greater Realms. Yet, he did not expect to encounter her while rescuing Thea.

"Surrender, James," Xezal's voice echoed from afar.

'You can't escape. Surrender, and maybe I'll spare your life. If you insist on fighting, this will be the place where you meet your end."

"Hah!" James replied nonchalantly, "I admit that you're strong, but you fall just a bit short of killing me. I don't want to turn the Doom Race into ruins. Release the formation, and we'll engage in a death duel in the Chaotic Void."

His words flowed effortlessly as he did not really think Xezal would lift the formation.

“Well, I’ll show you what true despair is,” Xezal responded.

In the next moment, to James’ astonishment, the formation surrounding him vanished, and the entire search Doom Race’s protective Mountain Formation disappeared as well.

James’ expression turned vibrant.

Did she really not know that she could not stop him if he wanted to leave without adhering to the restriction of the formation?

He remained motionless for a few seconds as the barriers dissipated. He wondered what Xezal wanted to do.

Then, a faint smile appeared on his face. ‘Thanks for letting me go. The Human Race won’t forget this. If you ever find the search Doom Race unbearable, you’re welcome to join us.’

James vanished from the spot. As he disappeared, Xezal’s shadow vanished along with him.

In the Chaotic Void outside the search Doom Realm, James reappeared.

Instantly, a menacing force accompanied by a shadow appeared before him. He swiftly vanished again after sensing the danger.

Boom!

In the Chaotic Void, an extremely terrifying power fluctuation reverberated, so immense that even the distant Doom Universe could sense it.

‘This guy,’ the shadow in the Chaotic Void uttered helplessly.

Shortly after, she returned to the Doom Race.

“Miss Xezal, what happened? Did you catch him?” Some elders asked as she appeared.

“I forgot that he possessed the Blithe Omniscience. I can’t keep him here without the limitation of the formation,” she explained.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4405

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4405-Xezal briefly explained what happened. After leaving behind a single sentence, her shadow disappeared from the elders' sight.

The elders exchanged glances, sizing up each other.

James successfully escaped from the search Doom Race. It was more like Xezal deliberately let him go than him escaping. He had no idea why Xezal allowed him to leave.

James ventured far away from the Doooms Universe and entered an uninhabited small world.

He finally breathed a sigh of relief when he sensed that no living beings were tracking him.

As he relaxed, he slumped down to the ground and was unable to hold back a mouthful of blood. Seating himself cross-legged on the ground immediately, he activated his powers to heal his injuries.

Simultaneously, he released Thea.

"Are you alright?" As soon as Thea appeared, her face was filled with concern once she noticed James' injuries.

James grinned nonchalantly and said, "What could possibly be wrong? Xezal is truly terrifying. She might have already transcended the Terra Acme Rank and entered the Caelum Acme Rank."

James had a rough estimate of Xezal's strength after their first encounter. He was no match for her at his current cultivation rank.

"I'm sorry for causing you trouble," Thea apologized, her face showing remorse.

James stood up and embraced her. "Don't say that. Your troubles are my troubles. There's no need to blame yourself. Besides, I can't stay in the outside world for long. I have to return to the search Doom Race as Wyot."

"What do we do next?" Thea felt a bit confused.

James released his embrace and sat cross-legged on the ground, his face showing contemplation.

Things had indeed become troublesome now. Every step had to be taken cautiously, as each one would have an impact on the future of the entire Human Race.

After thinking for a while, he asked, "How's it going in the Primordial Realm?"

Thea replied, "The Primordial Realm has long been polluted and is no longer a suitable place for humans to cultivate. It can be abandoned at any time. The New World is ready and can merge at any moment. We're just waiting for things to be settled in the Greater Realms."

The New World had long been prepared. It would merge when the time came, and the humans would give birth to a new homeland.

"We need to release Soren," James said after some thought. "I thought that I'd be invincible or at least be able to contend with the search Doom Race and various other races after reaching the Late Stage of the Omniscience Path's Eighth Stage and having a preliminary understanding of the Blithe Omniscience. Now, I can't even deal with Xezal. Moreover, they have the formidable Youri. We, humans, cannot truly confront the search Doom Race without Soren."

Thea listened earnestly.

James continued, "However, now that the tokens are in Youri's hands, I wouldn't be able to get them even if I returned to the Doom Race as Wyot. My current plan is to go back to the Doom Race first and see if I can obtain the tokens from him. Once I have them, I'll immediately go to the Cloud Race."

"Okay." Thea nodded, bobbing her head. She said, "That seems to be the only way now."

"Oh, by the way," James asked, "How did Soren get trapped in the first place?"

Thea shook her head and said, "I'm not entirely sure about that. My realm had declined, and I had fallen out of the Acme Rank when Soren got trapped. I was in closed-door meditation for cultivation, so I don't know much about these things."

“Do you still remember Zaire?” James looked at her.

“...” Thea looked astonished.

She blushed shyly, nodding her head, and asked, “You entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening?”

James smiled and replied, “I did. I went through four trials but wasn’t confident about passing the remaining ones, so I left. I encountered you in the third trial. I didn’t expect that we had such a history. For you, these memories are just history, but for the me from that time, your memories are my future. The powerhouse who created the Path of Heavenly Awakening is truly formidable for creating a realm that transcends the past and present. Thanks to you, I was able to turn away from the path of evil. If you hadn’t taken the punishment of the Chaos Lightning for me, I might have walked further down the path of Energy Deviation and eventually been consumed by evil forces.”

Thea’s face carried gratitude as she looked at James with affection in her eyes.