The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4412-'I have confidence in Xezal's capabilities.

'Even if James Caden does appear at the Cloud Realm later on, Xezal alone is more than enough to kill him. What's more, countless skilled and powerful cultivators from the other races will be also be there.

'All I have to do now is wait. I just need to wait for Wyot to get the Blithe Omniscience and deliver it back to me. By then, Soren will also be dead.' Youri plotted silently.

A sinister grin hung on his face.

While some of the strongest and most experienced cultivators from various races prepared to leave for the Cloud Realm, James brought along the tokens and headed for the land of the Cloud Race at once.

Soon enough, James and Xezal arrived outside the Cloud Universe.

"How confident are you at getting Soren Plamen to surrender the Blithe Omniscience?" James heard Xezal's voice coming from behind him.

Staring at the Cloud Universe before him, James shook his head lightly. "I'm not too optimistic about it. It could easily happen either way."

"I wanted people from the other races to gather at the Cloud Realm for the execution of Soren Plamen so we can lure James Caden there. Sir Youri's initial orders to kill the other humans would never be able to draw him out." James tried to offer a good and solid reason for his current plan.

Both James and Xezal fell silent after those words left his lips.

"You are playing with fire."

A response came after a rather, long pause.

Upon hearing her words, James turned around and gazed at the dark figure behind him. He could only see the faint, dark silhouette of a woman. It almost felt as though this grayish, ethereal form would disappear at any moment.

“What do you mean by that?” James had a confused expression on his face.

However, Xezal just remained silent.

James did not try to press her for an answer. He could feel that there was something more to her words. Yet, he could not quite figure out what it was at the moment. James swiftly decided to put the matter aside. Then, he entered the Cloud Universe and headed for the Cloud Realm.

Meanwhile, a huge crowd had gathered outside the main hall located within the grounds of the Cloud Race’s territory. Fitzroy, the Patriarch of the Cloud Race, and the Cloud Race’s elders were waiting anxiously by the main hall’s entrance.

“Mr. Fitzroy, the Dooms are planning to gather cultivators from all over the Greater Realms at our territory to execute Soren Plamen. Won’t this plan put our people at risk?” One of the elders asked.

Fitzroy was wearing a long, gray robe. The old man had a deep crease on his forehead.

“I don’t doubt they intend to kill Soren. However, their ultimate goal is most likely to lure that powerful human cultivator, James Caden, here. If James does show up here later on, our homeland will inevitably turn into a battlefield. The battles and destruction that’ll follow will probably destroy the Cloud Realm or even worse, the entire Cloud Universe.”

Fitzroy had made a fairly accurate guess about the Doom Race’s plans. Then, he asked, “Have we finished evacuating our people?”

Another elder replied, “Most of our people have been escorted away from the Cloud Universe and into another universe nearby. Only necessary staff members currently remain.”

Just then, a man and a shadow-like figure materialized outside the entrance to the Cloud Race’s territory.

“Mr. Wyot, the Great Elder of the Doom Race, is here. Open the gate!” Fitzroy ordered upon seeing their guests.

As the Mountain Formation was deactivated, the gate to the Cloud Race’s territory opened. Guards were stationed on both sides along the path leading to the main hall. All of them got down on one knee and greeted the guest respectfully.

“Welcome, Mr. Wyot!”

The Cloud Race was no longer in the ranks of the Ten Great Races ever since they had lost contact with their Grand Patriarch. They were prudent enough to welcome the Great Elder of the Doom Race with great hospitality since the man outranked them.

James made his way to the main hall.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4413-“Welcome, Mr. Wyot!”

Fitzroy and the Cloud Race’s elders offered their greetings as soon as James arrived at the entrance of the main hall.

“Mhm.” James gave a slight nod.

Fitzroy stepped closer toward James. “Mr. Wyot, we have prepared your lodgings. Do let us know if you have any requests. We’ll do our best to accommodate the Dooks.”

James looked at Fitzroy. “We’ll wait for cultivators from the other races to reach here and discuss more about our next step then.”

“Please come this way.” Fitzroy gestured to a nearby path.

The man led James to a huge manor located in a quiet and secluded area. Inside the villa, James could see thousands of gorgeous and alluring chambermaids from the Cloud Race waiting in the front hall to greet him.

It was no secret that Wyot Dalibor liked beautiful women. However, James immediately instructed the servants to leave the manor as he needed privacy.

Eventually, James was the only person left in the manor. He sat in a chair in the lounge. With his fingers interlaced, he stared into the distance and fell into deep thought.

‘The plan I’ve come up with so far is to gather as many of the Greater Realms’ top cultivators as possible in the Cloud Realm. At the same time, I’ll put up a super-formation that’ll cover the entire Cloud Realm. Once they are all here, I’ll eliminate as many of those cultivators as possible and show the others what humans are capable of.

‘Even if I don’t kill off all of them, I’d make sure to severely cripple their manpower. I will avenge the deaths of countless humans brutally murdered by these people.

‘However, I need time to execute this plan. A formation that completely secures an area as large as the Cloud Realm, and has the power to trap skilled and experienced cultivators will require a lot of time to be assembled.

‘Moreover, Xezal’s here on Youri’s orders. With her around, there’s a high chance she might catch on to my plans. I need to think of a way to get her off my back.

‘Anyhow, my main focus here is to save Soren. That is the foremost reason why I’ve come here. Even if I can’t exact revenge on the other races, I must get Soren out of here, one way or another.’ James concluded inwardly.

While James tried to refine his plans, a gray silhouette silently materialized behind him. He was completely oblivious to Xezal’s sudden appearance.

“What are you thinking about?” The soothing voice of a woman came from behind him.

James lifted his gaze and looked over his shoulder. When he spotted the dark figure, James replied calmly, “I’m thinking about how to proceed. I’m also devising different ways we can obtain the Blithe Omniscience. After obtaining the Blithe Omniscience, what are the things we can do to lure James Caden out of hiding? We need to capture that man who is a great threat to the safety of our people and Sir Youri.”

Xezal responded, “Let’s talk about that once the other cultivators have gathered here.”

“Mhm.” James nodded in agreement.

Xezal vanished right after saying that. James quickly tried to sense her movements and whereabouts but was unsuccessful. He could not even detect any changes in his surroundings.

‘I need to figure out a way to meet Soren alone. I must make sure that Xezal has no way of secretly following me during the meeting. If she somehow discovers my true identity, that’ll ruin my plan to rescue Soren.’ James thought.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4414-James was concerned about the fact that he could not detect Xezal’s presence or location no matter how hard he tried. After a moment’s consideration, he decided to stay put and lay low for the time being.

For the next several days, James did not take a step out of the manor. He set up a formation around the building. Any living being that tried to enter or leave the formation would activate the formation, and James would be immediately alerted. However, it was still possible for someone to stealthily get past the barrier if they knew how to undo the formation without triggering any of the sigils.

James knew that the formation might not be effective enough to keep Xezal out. Still, he went ahead and set it up as a preventive measure.

During that period, James contacted Thea by using the sigil. Soon enough, he heard Thea’s voice in his mind. “James, is something the matter?”

James replied, “I’m currently inside the Cloud Race’s territory. I am planning to get all of the top cultivators of the Greater Realms to gather at the Cloud Realm so that I can wipe them out in one go.”

“Unfortunately, Xezal Dalibor was ordered to accompany me to the Cloud Realm too. I can’t do much with her constant surveillance. I need someone who can help me with my plan, and you’re the only person I can think of that is suitable for the task. You should find a way to enter the Cloud Realm and try to approach me. I will get the formation inscriptions ready so that you can help me set up the formation around the Cloud Realm.”

Thea decided fairly quickly. “I’ll prepare to leave for the Cloud Realm at once. I’m going to use the fake identity and disguise I used when I was last seen with you.”

After he had finished instructing Thea, James started working on the formation inscriptions.

‘I need to focus on making these formation inscriptions. Also, I have to think of ways to buy time for us.

‘Setting up a super-formation is an extremely timeconsuming process. Any attempts to save time by skipping any of the steps will only weaken the effects of the formation.’ James thought.

James set up a time formation in his room and began making the formation inscriptions right away. He also put the completed inscriptions away in his storage for safekeeping.

Before he realized it, a year had passed while he busied himself with his preparations.

In that time, almost all of the top cultivators of the Greater Realms had arrived at the Cloud Realm. Even some extremely skilled rogue cultivators had also gathered there after learning about the Doom Race’s plan.

James was trying to perfect a formation inscription when he sensed something had triggered the formation cast over the manor. Someone had tried to come closer to the manor but the formation prevented them from doing so.

James undid the time formation and headed out of the manor. As soon as he spotted the dark figure standing outside the formation, he deactivated the manor’s formation right away.

Xezal walked toward James and stopped before him.” We’ve been here for a year now. You haven’t made any arrangements or told us about your plans during this time. Furthermore, you’ve just been staying inside the manor, and you even cast a formation to keep everyone out. What have you been working on in this place?”

James flashed her a smile. "I was trying to master the Chaos Sacred Art, and I didn't want anyone disturbing me."

"I see. Anyway, about that formation of yours..."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4415-Xezal went on in an unhurried manner, "I think I've seen it somewhere before. Oh, right! James Caden, that human cultivator, cast a formation around the Soul Pagoda when he infiltrated our territory previously. The formation inscriptions found there were strangely similar to the ones you used for your formation over this manor."

"If it weren't for the fact that you were away training during that period, I would have thought that you and James Caden were actually the same person."

James almost flinched upon hearing her words. However, he managed to keep a cool and composed expression on his face.

James smiled wryly. "I'd feel extremely glad if that were true. If I had James Caden's powers, I would go ahead and challenge Sir Youri for the position of Patriarch right away!"

Xezal suddenly changed the topic as she asked, "How's your progress on mastering the Chaos Sacred Art?"

James sat on a chair placed in the front yard of the manor.

'I can't see Xezal's true form nor the expressions on her face right now. However, I have a feeling that she probably has a huge, sarcastic smirk on her face right now.

'I think she's somehow figured out my true identity since the very beginning. She knows who I am and that I was a human from the moment I stepped foot in the Dooms' territory.

'Is it possible I traveled back in time from the future and I met Xezal during that time?' James pondered.

James looked at the dark figure standing before him for a brief moment. Instead of answering her previous question, he asked, "Isn't it taxing to remain in that form? Why don't you just show me your true form? I'm curious about your actual appearance."

Xezal sat in a chair facing James.

"The time is not right. When the time comes, you'll be able to see my true form. Also, you'll need the Chaos Token, the most precious and important token to the Doom Race, to see my true form. Unfortunately, that token has been lost for a long time. If you find the token, you'd be able to see me in my true form even if you're not the patriarch."

'Xezal has a nice voice. Though I can't see her appearance, I get the impression that she is probably quite attractive.' James thought.

"By the way, how much do you know about the Chaos Sacred Art?" James asked.

James felt that there was a good chance Xezal had information about the true meaning behind the Chaos Sacred Art given her mysterious background.

Xezal paused briefly before saying, "The Chaos Sacred Art was created when the Chaos Master had just crossed into the Caelum Acme Rank. However, it was only thoroughly perfected once the Chaos Master had reached the peak of the Caelum Acme Rank's late stage."

She continued, "Regrettably, no one from the Doom Race has been able to grasp and perceive the true meaning of the Chaos Sacred Art even until now. I don't think I'll ever be able to see the day when someone manages to master and unleash the Nine Voices of Chaos again."

James' brows lifted. "You know about the Nine Voices of Chaos? Did you perhaps try to master the Chaos Sacred Art and the Nine Voices of Chaos too?"

Xezal did not respond to the question. "Each tone of the Chaos' Nine Voices represents the true essence of the Chaos. The simplest way of interpreting them is by shouting them out through one's mouth."

"Back then, the Chaos Master had the ability to unleash the true power of each tone of the Chaos' Nine Voices. When the tones are combined differently, they can even produce various powerful effects. The Chaos Master could unleash the Nine Voices of Chaos using his sword, and he almost succeeded in defeating the Chaos Heavenly Path by using this power. Sadly, he perished because he was overwhelmed by the Heavenly Path in the end.”

James grew more and more curious about Xezal’s background. He asked, “How do you even know all these things that weren’t passed down in ancient scrolls or records? Have you lived through the Sky Burial Age? Have you been serving the Doom Race’s patriarchs as their chambermaid ever since then?”
