The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4422-It had been five thousand years since James came to the Cloud Race's territory.

He had visited Soren several times but was only putting on a show for the powerhouses to see.

Soren was also cooperating with him. He started by acting stubborn, then even requested to be set free for him to hand over the Blithe Omniscience.

Over the past one thousand years, James stayed inside his manor's time formation creating formation inscriptions.

Now, they were already completed. It was time to execute his plan.

Before coming to the hall, James had met up with Thea and passed her the formation inscriptions he had created over the past thousand years.

While a thousand years had passed outside, James had spent eons within the time formation.

He had carefully crafted a formation that even Xezal could not break.

Under the countless gazes, James entered the hall. He walked to the highest seat in the hall and sat down.

As soon as James was seated, Gaerel asked, "You've finally shown up, Wyot! It's already been thousands of years. When are we going to kill Soren?"

The powerhouses present only cared about Soren's life and death. They were not bothered about whether James obtained the Blithe Omniscience.

"Yeah, when can we kill him?"

"You should give us a rough estimation."

"Delaying his death sentence isn't a good idea."

The powerhouses in the hall expressed their concerns.

James waved his hand, and the noisy hall immediately fell silent.

Everyone's eyes fixated on James, waiting for him to share his plan.

James scanned the hall, stood up, and said, "I'll go meet Soren and give him one last chance to hand over the Blithe Omniscience. If he refuses, then we'll wipe out the Human Race.

His voice resounded throughout the hall.

'This will be Soren and the humans' last chance. Wait for me to return. If I don't come back with the Blithe Omniscience, I'll need everyone to assist me in killing the humans in the Greater Realm, starting from the Cloud Universe."

James' expression showed hostility.

Many powerhouses thought James had genuine was hostile toward the humans Little did they know danger was close to knocking on their doors.

After James finished speaking, he walked out of the main hall and approached the forbidden area behind the Cloud Race's mountain.

Soon, James appeared in the forbidden area. However, many of the powerhouses followed behind him.

He turned around, looked at the powerhouses behind him, and said, "I'll head inside alone. Everyone should wait for me in the main hall."

James was unsure what kind of fluctuations would be caused after he used the ten tokens to open the formation. Thus, he did not want these powerhouses waiting outside of the formation. Otherwise, they might sense the fluctuation and rush into it together.

It would be very troublesome if that were to happen.

The powerhouses exchanged glances at each other.

James urged his Chaos Power and shouted, "Go back and wait!"

He was currently at the Quasi Boundless Supreme Path Rank and was incredibly powerful with his Chaotic Power. Apart from peerless powerhouses, most of them were pushed backward. Their eardrums felt numb, and their minds went blank.

"Let's head back to wait."

Gaerel suggested and left with the Ursa powerhouses.

The powerhouses of the Soul Race, Stone Race, Angel Race, and the other races left the forbidden area.

After everyone had left, James stepped through the crack in the formation. Soon, he arrived at the place where Soren was trapped.

As soon as he appeared, a black palace emerged.

The palace was composed of countless formation inscriptions. Numerous mysterious lines crisscrossed.

James shouted, "Mr. Soren, I'm here again. I will give you one last chance to hand over the Blithe Omniscience.

Otherwise, I'm going to lead powerhouses to besiege and wipe out the humans. We'll start with the humans hiding in the Cloud Universe and slowly kill all of them in the Greater Realms."

Soren shouted coldly, "Get lost..."

Meanwhile, James was secretly communicating telepathically with Soren.

"Mr. Soren, I've already prepared the formation. Thea is setting up the formation right now. It should be done anytime soon now. When it's completed, I can activate it, and the Cloud Universe's communications with the outside will be severed."

Soren replied, "Well done. After this battle, the Greater Realm's various races will suffer heavy losses and will have to think twice about attacking the Human Race."

"How can I help you out of the formation? If I use the ten tokens, will it cause too many fluctuations?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4423-James asked Soren, who was trapped inside the formation, for advice.

Soren replied, "It's definitely going to cause fluctuations in the area. Put the ten tokens together, and combine your energy. They'll turn into a key, which you can insert into the formation's core to open the formation."

After learning about how to open the formation, James was relieved.

He immediately took out the nine tokens. Then, he summoned the first key he had obtained from the Cloud Race.

The ten tokens floated in front of him.

James did not waste any time and quickly mobilized his energy to merge the tokens into a huge key.

"It's above the palace," Soren spoke tremblingly.

He had been tapped in the formation for countless years. He thought the formation's power would slowly eat up his body until he died. Soren already had no hope of leaving the formation alive one day.

James leaped into the sky and waved his hand.

The huge key floated into mid-air, following after him.

Soon, James spotted the formation's core.

"Here we go."

James controlled the key with his power, placing it into the formation's core. The black palace began trembling violently as soon as the key came in contact with the core.

Then, a destructive power emerged from the formation.

Rumble!!!

The entire area was affected and began to shake along with the palace.

Everyone within the Cloud Race's territory sensed the abnormality.

The powerhouses inside the Cloud Race's main hall looked toward the back mountain.

“What happened?”

‘Why is it ground shaking?’

“Could it be Wyot has engaged in a fight with Soren?”

Many powerhouses exclaimed in shock.

They were far from the formation in the back mountain and could not sense the exact situation.

Thus, they were oblivious that the formation that had kept Soren trapped for years was slowly disintegrating.

A figure appeared in the main hall and exclaimed, “This doesn’t seem right!”

Xezal’s voice immediately attracted a lot of attention.

One of the powerhouses asked with dissatisfaction, ‘Who are you? And what do you mean?’

Xezal was a mysterious existence in the Dooms and was hardly known to the public. Thus, none of them recognized her.

Xezal replied, “The formation trapping Soren is disappearing! Wyot has opened the formation and released him!”

‘What did you say?’

‘That’s impossible. Wyot only has nine tokens, so how could he possibly open the formation?’

“Yeah, please do enlighten us.”

The powerhouses in the hall did not believe Xezal.

‘What if this Wyot is an imposter? What if he’s actually James Caden?’ asked Xezal.

They were stunned by her speculation. The thought had never crossed their mind before.

Now that it was brought up, they were worried. If James were impersonating Wyot, the consequences would be incredibly grave.

After a few seconds of silence, the powerhouses rushed toward the forbidden area in the Cloud Race's back mountain.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4424-Swoosh!!!

Countless powerhouses appeared in the forbidden area.

Meanwhile, James was inside the formation, watching the black palace slowly disappear. He was overjoyed that the humans' strongest cultivator, Soren, was finally about to be freed.

Just seconds later, his face darkened. He asked anxiously, "Mr. Soren, how long will it take for the formation to completely disintegrate?"

James sensed the powerful auras outside the formation and began to panic.

Boom!!!

A loud bang came from the formation. It was forcibly breached, and the powerhouses entered the plain.

"It's going to take about one day."

Soren's voice resounded inside the formation.

"One day?" James frowned.

James was worried about whether he could hold off the many powerhouses for one day.

The powerhouses forcibly broke through the outermost layer of the formation and rushed over to James. As soon as they caught sight of him, they questioned him, "What are you doing, Wyot?!!"

"What's the progress, Thea?"

James did not respond to them. Instead, he quickly contacted Thea.

“I’m almost done. After I set up the last section of formation inscriptions, we’ll be set to go.”

“Alright.”

After confirming the progress, James secretly activated the formation around the Cloud Realm.

Swoosh!!!

The powerhouses approached James and quickly noticed the black palace that was slowly disappearing.

One of the powerhouses shouted, “The formation has been opened. Don’t let Soren leave! He’s powerful, but he’s been trapped here for a very long time. His strength is no longer what it used to be. Let’s unite and obliterate him before he escapes the formation.”

“What are you guys doing?!!” James shouted and immediately unleashed his powerful aura.

He flashed in front of the black palace and blocked their paths. Then, he warned them, “I have the final say here. Get out of the formation right now!”

Gaerel asked coldly, “Please explain yourself, Wyot. Why do you have the final token?”

The Soul-Demon Master stepped to the front, glared at

James, and asked coldly, ‘The Cloud Race’s token is supposed to be with James Caden. But you somehow managed to collect all ten tokens to open the formation. You better give us an explanation, or else this place will be your grave.’

James was faced with countless powerhouses. Most of them had participated in the battle in the Primordial Realm to wipe out the humans. Thus, they were against the idea of letting Soren roam free again.

Granted their suspicion that James was really impersonating Wyot, they planned to unite and kill him.

James replied calmly, "My patriarch handed it to me. He instructed me to come here and obtain the Blithe Omniscience. Since Soren is unwilling to hand it over to me, I've no choice but to meet his demand and let him out of the formation. He agreed to give me the Blithe Omniscience as long as he was freed.

"I've already promised to protect him after freeing him from the formation, so you guys better keep your hands off him. Whoever hurts him will become an enemy of the Dooms."

James began bluffing them, trying to stall for as much time as possible.

Once Soren was free, it would mark the start of their battle.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4425-The powerhouses were confused by James' explanation.

They began wondering whether Yuri had already retrieved the last token from James and handed it to Wyot.

Everyone exchanged perplexed glances at each other. Eventually, their gazes fixated on Xezal.

Gaerel said, "Xezal, didn't you say James is impersonating Wyot right now? You should say something."

Under the countless gazes, Xezal stepped forward. She stared at James and said solemnly, "I'm the personal maid of the Dooms' Patriarch. Yuri hasn't retrieved the last token from James. The Cloud Race's token is still in James' hands. Since he has ten keys, it can only mean he is James Caden."

James pointed his finger at Xezal and shouted furiously, "Outrageous! You blatantly claim to be our patriarch's personal maid? As the search Doom Race's Great Elder, how do I not even know about you? You must be from the humans and came here to sow discord between the various races.

“My fellow cultivators, what are you all waiting for? Hurry and take down the spy!”

The powerhouses were confused by the argument between James and Xezal. They could not trust either of them.

A beautiful woman appeared amongst the countless powerhouses.

Her white dress fluttered with the wind and radiated with an ethereal aura. She stepped out of the crowd and looked at James with teary eyes.

“A-Are you really James Caden?” Yemima was in disbelief.

She could not believe the man she had spent so much time with was a human.

Yemima knew that Wyot was aware of Xezal’s existence and that she was the patriarch’s personal maid. She had a very high status within the search Doom Race.

However, Wyot claimed not to know about her and accused her of being a spy.

Yemima could tell the Wyot before her was not

She questioned him again, hoping to prove herself wrong.

James shouted, “Step back, Yemima! You shouldn’t interfere with Sir Youri’s plan!”

‘You were an imposter ever since you returned, claiming to have escaped from the humans! Everything was a lie! You pretended to be Wyot, waiting to save Soren, right?!!!’

Yemima looked at James with teary eyes.

“I never expected you to have also betrayed the Doods, Yemima!”

James’ expression darkened, and a powerful aura emerged from his body. At the same time, potent Chaos Power began flowing through his body.

“I would not be showing any mercy just because you’re my wife, Yemima! If it wasn’t because I’m dealing with an important affair for Sir Youri right now, I would’ve killed you,” James spoke with hostility.

He had to stall for as much time as possible by gaining the trust present or making them fear the Dooms’ powers and prevent them from taking action.

The powerhouses were unable to determine who was telling the truth.

Wyt’s Chaos Powers were indeed genuine, so it was impossible for him to be an imposter. Even Sir Youri was unable to cultivate pure Chaos Power. Therefore, it was hard to believe a human could possess Chaos Power.

The chances of Wyt being an imposter were relatively low.

Compared to Yemima’s words, the powerhouses believed the Chaos Power Wyt had displayed.

Xezal watched as everything unfolded.

Clap! Clap! Clap!

She applauded and said, “I wasn’t expecting you to be such a good actor, James. I was almost convinced by your performance.”

Everyone turned to Xezal again.

Xezal continued, saying, “So what if you open the formation and release Soren? He’s no longer the powerhouse he used to be in the past. Besides me, any of the patriarchs here can kill him.

“I was wondering how James managed to sneak into our territory and rescue the humans’ matron without a sound. It seems I’ve got the answer now. You’ve been impersonating Wyt all along and knew all our formations. Thus, you could wander around without alerting anyone.”

The patriarchs of the different races immediately came to a realization.

“She’s right. I found it strange when I heard about James rescuing Thea from the Dooms. The Dooms were the strongest in the Greater Realms, so how could a human come and go so easily? He must be James and infiltrated the Dooms a long time ago.”
