The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4471-Wyot's development spurred his thoughts. 'Still, I never thought I'd wake up to things unfolding this way. Wyot Dalibor managed to reach this level of enlightenment so quickly.

'Thankfully, Soren regained his former power. It also seems like he's improved his skills and abilities too.

'I wonder if Soren will be able to handle Wyot's attacks. If he couldn't even withstand the first few tones of the Nine Voices of Chaos, it would mean that sacrificing myself back then to save Soren might have been a mistake.' He concluded.

At that moment, the immense force of the Sword Energy coupled with the powers of the Nine Voices of Chaos spread in all directions, destroying everything along its path. The human cultivators quickly retreated as they could hear the loud whirring of the Sword Energy closing in on them.

Just then, the copper coffin appeared somewhere between the humans and the incoming wave of energy. Intense power emanated from the coffin the next instant and prevented the Sword Energy from reaching the humans.

At the same time, another blade of Sword Energy homed in on Soren.

"Come at me!" A confident smile was plastered across Soren's face.

The white search halo surrounding his body seemed to grow bigger as Soren concentrated on optimizing his body, mind, and spirit. Then, he raised his hand and crossed his arms before his chest. A big, white ball of light formed as Soren prepared to deflect Wyot's attack.

Boom!

A deafening crash could be heard as the Sword Energy crashed into the ball of light Soren was holding. Soren was sent flying in the air due to the massive force. The man swiftly managed to steady himself afterward. However, blood oozed out of the corner of his mouth since he was injured by the attack.

Meanwhile, Wyot was preparing to unleash the Third Tone of the Chaos' Nine Voices. He knew that he needed to act fast and exterminate Soren first since he was the biggest obstacle in Wyot's efforts to wipe out the Human Race.

Soren noticed that Wyot was forming a third Sword Energy. He stared thoughtfully at his opponent for a brief moment. Then, he vanished from his spot. In a flash, Soren had teleported to the Dooms' universe. In the next few seconds, Wyot materialized somewhere nearby as well, tracking and following Soren's aura.

Since they were in the Dooms' universe, Wyot had no choice but to nullify his third attack. If he were to unleash the Third Tone there, he would inevitably destroy his homeland.

"Hahaha! Even if the Chaos Sacred Art gives you superior powers, what can you possibly do to stop me, who's mastered the Blithe Omniscience?" Soren said in a mocking tone.

His thoughts continued. 'With the Blithe Omniscience, I can be wherever I want and dodge almost any attack.'

'While the Blithe Omniscience is a superior defensive cultivation method, the Chaos Sacred Art bestows its users with incredibly powerful attacks.'

'Wyot Dalibor has improved his powers considerably.'

Though I have reached the Ninth Rank of Omniscience Path, I'll be severely injured if I face Wyot head-on during a battle, especially when he uses the Nine Voices of Chaos.

'All I have to do now is to hold Wyot back until the formation of the Human Race's new universe is complete. Once the new universe is formed, the Dooms will have to think twice before destroying our universe since it'll destroy the Heavenly Path there as well.'

"Soren, are you that much of a coward that you won't even fight me properly?" Wyot fixed him with a cold glare.

Soren merely shrugged. "Why should I do that? You and I train in very different cultivation methods. Though my powers aren't as destructive as yours, I am confident that I'll evade all of your attacks. As long as I'm alive, I'll be able to stop you from harming the other humans."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4472-‘When Wyot unleashed the Second Tone of the Chaos’ Nine Voices, he managed to break my defenses and wound me. If the two of us battled with all our strength, I might not be able to defeat him completely. However, it’d be equally difficult for him to overpower me.

‘Luckily, I’ve mastered the Blithe Omniscience. I just need to use this power to my advantage and hold Wyot down. While I keep him busy, the human Acmeans should be able to stop the search Doom Race’s armies from advancing.

‘We just need to hold out for one month. One month is all it takes for the Human Race’s new universe to form.

Moreover, once the Heavenly Path of this new universe manifests, it’ll be too late for the Dooms to do anything by then.

‘Our priority is to hold out for as long as we can.’ Soren repeated inwardly.

At that very moment, a group of men appeared a few hundred meters away from the pair. Dolph, the search Doom Race’s former patriarch, led 300 hundred Acmeans to aid Wyot.

No one knew exactly how strong or powerful Dolph was. During his reign as the Dooms’ patriarch, Dolph rarely displayed his skills and abilities before others. However, he likely had an impressive cultivation base to have been chosen to be the patriarch.

Behind Dolph, stood 300 Acmeans who were ready for battle. Most of these highly skilled cultivators were recruited into the Dooms 30,000 epochs ago. They gradually honed themselves into Acmeans over the years.

Soren’s expression hardened as soon as he caught sight of the men. Dealing with Wyot alone was enough to keep him occupied. There was no way he could turn his attention away from Wyot to help the human Acmeans fight the search Doom Race’s backup at the moment.

James, who was lying inside the copper coffin, also had a grim expression on his face when he spotted Dolph and the group of Acmeans.

“Grandfather!” Carson called out to Dolph almost instantly.

The young man teleported and appeared right before Dolph. There was a clear look of surprise and joy in his eyes as Carson bowed and greeted Dolph respectfully.

Dolph gave a slight nod. "I received an order from the Patriarch for us to wipe out the Human Race at all costs. We can't give them any more chances. The Patriarch also wanted me to lead some of our strongest men to prevent the completion of the Human Race's new universe."

Carson felt a small sense of relief. "I feel very reassured now that you've joined the fight. All of us will follow your command, Grandfather."

Carson lacked experience with military operations and war strategies. He was more than willing to let Dolph assume command of their forces.

At the same time, Thea was channeling all of her powers to help with the fusion of numerous universes in the Twelfth Universe. She knitted her brows the instant she sensed the presence of Dolph and his Acmeans.

'The fusion is taking much longer than expected.

Furthermore, it will take some time for the Heavenly Path of the new universe to be formed. Soren, Jacopo, and our allies currently don't have enough manpower to stop the Dooms' forces.

'If we fail now, it'll be the end of the Human Race. All of our efforts thus far would go to waste.' Thea pondered.

"What do we do now?" She muttered in a low, anxious voice.

"Wyot, stick to Soren Plamen and keep him busy. Leave the rest to me," Dolph instructed.

Wyot smiled. "Yes, Father. I may not be able to exterminate Soren right away, but keeping him occupied isn't an issue for me."

After assessing the situation, Soren decided on his plan.

"If you insist on killing all humans, I'll just have to destroy the search Doom Realm then!"

Soren teleported to another location in the search Doom Realm the next instant. Then, he began to gather his powers for a devastating attack. A bright, white light surrounded his body. The overpowering aura emitted by Soren even destroyed several galaxies closeby.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4473-Wyot teleported and arrived somewhere nearby by following Soren's aura. He raised his sword and pointed in Soren's direction.

'You're pretty quick-witted to have come up with this idea to stop us. I admit that I'm not strong enough to stop you from destroying our universe. However, you will incur horrible Karma if you do that.'

"Hahaha!" Soren laughed scornfully. "Why should I be bothered about Karma when we are about to lose our own universe?"

Wyot replied nonchalantly, "It doesn't make much difference to us even if you destroy the search Doom Realm. Countless other super worlds could be found across the Greater Realms. Our people can just relocate to a new universe. Unfortunately, there's no such place for the Human Race since all of you will be hunted to extinction."

Just then, an elderly man wearing a gray robe appeared in the distance. It was Youri Dalibor. Youri had reached the Caelum Acme Rank and was at the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage. There was a dark, threatening aura about him even though he was simply standing in the same spot silently.

Soren also spotted a dark figure emerging right after Youri did. It was most likely Xezal Dalibor, the chambermaid that had served generations of search Doom Race's patriarchs.

Suddenly, a huge crack started forming in the space behind the pair. A man stepped through the crack and stood next to Youri and Xezal. It was Hirah Dalibor, the Grand Patriarch of the search Doom Race.

'Back then, I faked my death for the sake of a bright and glorious future for our people.

'I made the right call. After seeing what's happened so far, Youri definitely held the key to changing the fate of the Doooms. The Doom Race has become more powerful and influential because of him. In addition, Youri and Wyot have grown to be superior cultivators.

'What's more, the Doods are also benefiting from the increasing luck of the other races. Our providence is the largest it's ever been. I've absorbed some of it and used it to heal my injuries. Now, I've even reached the Caelum Acme Rank.' Contemplated Hirah.

The three of them moved closer toward Soren. A malevolent grin hung on Youri's face. "Soren, do you honestly think you can destroy the search Doom Realm with your powers alone? Aren't you thinking too highly of yourself?"

A deep frown creased Soren's forehead as he looked at his opponents one by one.

"Hirah and Youri... The two of you are also Caelum Acmeans, huh?" Soren said in a deep voice.

Soren kept his senses heightened. Youri and the others merely observed Soren closely. They were trying to avoid starting a fight within the perimeters of the search Doom Universe.

A battle between cultivators of their ranks would surely heavily damage the Doom Universe and their providence. They were trying to discourage and prevent Soren from attacking their homeland. By doing that, the Doods would ultimately have a better chance of winning this battle.

"Thea, the Doods have too many skilled fighters on their side. Youri and Hirah have both reached the Caelum Acme Rank. Even Xezal Dalibor, the one who fought with James in that battle in the Cloud Realm, is here as well."

"It seems our people have very little chance of winning this war. All I can do now is to hold the few of them back as best as I can. I won't let these men pass even if it means that I have to sacrifice myself. I'll leave the rest to you then."

Soren transmitted his voice to Thea using his powers.

Thea felt her heart sink as she listened to Soren's words. However, she swiftly decided on her next action. Thea sent out a message to all of the universes before her by using her Zen.

“My fellow comrades, we are currently facing the biggest threat to the survival of the Human Race. If we fail to stop the Dooms, all of our universes will be destroyed. Our people will be wiped out completely.”

“Our enemies are about to attack our homes and people now. We must stand up and fight back at once. So, regardless of who you are, bring your weapons and prepare for battle!”

Most of the cultivators within and above the Caelum

Ancestral God rank had sensed the invasion the minute the formation was breached. After hearing Thea’s announcement, countless human cultivators armed themselves and teleported to the edge of the Chaos.

“Prepare for battle!” All of them chanted fiercely.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4474-The Human Race was more prolific compared to the other races.

While a powerful cultivator from other races required up to hundreds of thousands of epochs to bear young, the average human could give birth to a baby within a year.

However, unlike the other races, all human newborns were born without any cultivation base.

Despite that, the Human Race had managed to produce many gifted and skilled cultivators among their people through years of training and guidance. Therefore, they laid low and prepared for the formation of their new universe, they were also amassing cultivators who were at least Caelum Acmeans in recent years.

After hearing those words from Thea, these human cultivators could sense the imminent danger that was about to befall their people. All of them left their homes with their weapons in hand. They arrived at the edge of the Chaos surrounding their universe. Then, they stood side by side, forming a human barricade against the search Doom Race’s armies.

Jacopo and the others had grim looks on their faces. They had desperately hoped that things would not turn out like this. In a war involving so many Acmeans, the human cultivators did not stand a chance against their opponents.

Sadly, this was their last resort. In their current situation, the humans had to use every means possible to fend off the armies and Acmeans from the search Doom Race.

Although James was trapped inside the copper coffin, he was keeping tabs on Soren. He could tell that Soren had been cornered by several outstanding cultivators in the Doom Realm. James even recognized Youri's and Hirah's aura and realized that they had stepped into the Caelum Acme Rank.

"Attack!" Dolph declared loudly.

Upon receiving his order, the 300 Acmeans got into battle formation immediately. All of them stood in one line facing the human cultivators with their weapons pointed. Behind the Acmeans, the search Doom Race's troops were ready to attack their enemies as well.

Suddenly, the copper coffin moved as it flew toward the area between the two armies at a high speed. When it had stopped somewhere in front of the search Doom Race's troops, an overwhelming aura was unleashed from the coffin immediately. At the same time, everyone could see that the coffin was glowing with a dark, mysterious light.

On the other hand, Soren was still surrounded by Wyot and the others in the Doom Realm. He could escape whenever he wanted from those men by using the Blithe Omniscience and head over to where the other human cultivators were to help them.

However, he did not do that since these peerless powerhouses would follow him to the battlefield. That in turn would only make things worse for their people as they were lacking in manpower.

When he had noticed what was happening at the battlefield, Soren could not help but wonder, 'What exactly is that copper coffin? Why is it helping the Human Race? That aside, it's releasing an extremely powerful aura at the moment. I hope it is strong enough to stop the search Doom Race's troops.'

The other human cultivators were both amazed and confused as they observed the coffin.

“Winnie, what do you think is inside that coffin? Why is it helping us against the Dooms?” Noel stared at the coffin with a puzzled look in his eyes.

Winnie shook her head. “I haven’t heard about this copper coffin before, but it sure has an incredibly powerful aura.”

“Mom probably knows something about it,” Jacopo said.

While the human cultivators were all looking at the coffin, they received another voice transmission from Thea.” Everyone, I’m afraid I don’t know anything about this coffin. I haven’t heard of or read about it in any of our ancient records.”

With his years of knowledge and experience, Dolph knew what the Death Copper Coffin was. He had no idea what was inside it. However, he was well aware of the immense powers it possessed.

Dolph stepped forward and bowed. “I’m sorry, Sir. Might I ask for your understanding to not interfere in the battle between my people and the Human Race?”

James could not speak to others outside since the coffin seemed to restrict that ability. Instead, he raised his hand and conjured numerous inscriptions outside the coffin. The inscriptions gathered in a line before the search Doom Race’s troops and eventually formed a solid barrier to block their path.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4475-James was unable to communicate from within the coffin as he could not seem to overcome the coffin’s restrictions at his current cultivation rank. Strangely enough, he could still unleash his powers from the inside. He was baffled by his current situation.

Then, an idea struck him. James conjured several inscription sigils spelling out his name and attempted to send them out of the coffin to tell the humans who he was. However, James noticed the inscription sigils vanished within seconds once they passed through the coffin’s lid.

‘So, I’m not allowed to use inscriptions to reveal my identity. ‘ James mused.

“Why exactly did someone put me in this copper coffin?” James gave a weary sigh.

After that, James tried to summon the Elysian Inscription that originated from the Twelfth Universe. Most human cultivators were able to read and understand the Elysian Inscription.

“I’ll do my best to protect the Human Race, even if it means sacrificing myself.”

The inscriptions did not disappear this time, and quite a number of human cultivators were able to decipher and read the Elysian Inscription.

“The Elysian Inscription from the Twelfth Universe?”

“Is the person inside that copper coffin a human? Are they from the Twelfth Universe?”

The human cultivators discussed heatedly among themselves as they studied the Elysian Inscription projected from the copper coffin. Those from the Twelfth Universe were especially fascinated.

“Have we ever made or had a copper coffin like this in the Twelfth Universe?”

“No. This copper coffin was first glimpsed outside the Sealed Realm. It originated from the Greater Realms.”

“Who’s inside that coffin?”

“Why won’t they tell us who they really are?”

While the human cultivators were trying to figure out what was inside the coffin, Dolph stared at the barrier formed by the inscription sigils with a stony gaze.

He called out in a steely voice, “In that case, I won’t hold back anymore.”

Dolph slowly raised his palm and summoned a black rapier. He clasped onto the handle tightly and teleported the next instant. In a flash, he re-appeared right before the copper coffin.

Dolph swung his arm and jabbed the rapier in the coffin's direction. As he did so, numerous bolts of Chaos Lightning struck down from the sky towards the coffin. Each bolt of lightning was strong enough to kill a Terra Acmean.

James remained calm even in the face of such an impressive attack. He unleashed a great amount of his aura. It seeped through the coffin's lid and slowly formed a gray, shadowy figure outside the coffin.

The silhouette stood before the copper coffin. Curiously enough, the figure appeared to be smiling faintly as it stared at Dolph.

The figure lifted its arms and unleashed the powers of the Greater Paths. In a matter of seconds, it called upon the Chaos Path and Chaos Power. These powers neutralized Dolph's Chaos Lightning attack almost instantly.

The dark figure appeared next to Dolph at an alarming speed. Then, it threw two mighty punches at the man, disarming him and sending him flying.

Then, the figure retreated to the coffin.

'The Chaos Power!'

"It's the Blithe Omniscience!"

Gasps of surprise could be heard among the members of the search Doom Race.
