The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4491-The powerhouses immediately raised their guards, and a few quickly launched attacks at James.

However, James suddenly disappeared, dodging all their attacks. He reappeared in the distance and shouted, "It's me!"

His voice resounded in the area.

The powerhouses examined him and were shocked to realize who it was.

"James?"

"Dad?"

James slowly approached under everyone's astonished gazes.

Jacopo was the first to react and asked joyfully, "Is it really you, Dad?"

A group of people rushed over to the Human Universe's border.

Amongst them was Sophie, his mentor, while he was a weak cultivator. The Callahan sisters from the Twelfth Universe's Primeval Age were also present. Although they had been long forgotten in history, they had been reincarnated in the new era.

After their reincarnation, they eventually became powerhouses again and restored the memories of their previous life.

Powerhouses that had taught James in the past, like the Ancestral Sword Master, Ancestral Talisman Master, and Five Ancestral Masters, rushed over.

The former Lords of the Universes, like Kallinikos, had also shown up. Even James' disciple from the Thirteenth Universe, Quanesha, as well as his family and friends from the Twelfth Universe, came to see him.

A woman in a black dress walked out of the crowd. She had a delicate appearance, a slim figure, and radiated with a graceful aura.

It was none other than Maxine. In the past, she had committed countless mistakes because of her deep love for James.

Maxine had been cultivating for countless years and was a Nine-Power Macrocosm Ancestral God, close to reaching the Quasi Acme Rank.

“James!” Henrik rushed over, wrapped his arm around James’ shoulder, and said cheerfully, “I knew it! I knew you’d be fine and come back alive!”

“James.” A voice called out to him.

Thea appeared instantly and leaped into his arms.

James returned her hug and said smilingly, “I’m back.”

A few women watched their intimate interaction enviously. Among them were Maxine, Sienna, and James’ other disciple, Monica.

Monica’s cultivation rank was relatively low, so she watched from a distance.

“Dad?” A hesitant voice called out to him.

Thea immediately let go of James. She pulled Noel over and said smilingly, “This is your son, Noel Caden.”

James had already learned about Noel while inside the copper coffin. He patted Noel’s shoulder and said smilingly, “Wonderful.”

Then, he turned to Thea and said, “Noel, right?”

Thea frowned, “Do you not like the name?”

James said smilingly, “It’s good.”

Suddenly, James remembered Xezal advising him that humans must practice good virtue to accumulate luck to prosper forever in the Chaos.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4492-James looked at Noel and said, “Remember to do good and less evil.”

He turned to the other powerhouses and said, “The same goes for everyone here. I want all of you to have clean consciences.”

Everyone nodded simultaneously.

“James! Everything should be settled since you’ve returned, right?”

A tanned man donning black armor walked out of the crowd with a mighty aura.

Henry was James’ confidant when they were both in the army. When James was still a nobody, Henry stayed loyal to him.

“Henry,” James patted Henry on the shoulder and said smilingly, “I’m so glad to see you again. After this catastrophe, we should be able to live in peace. After the formation of our Supern Universe, the Human Race will have a secure position in the Greater Realms. Even the Dooms will have to think twice about starting a war with us.”

“Splendid! In the days to come, we can finally enjoy ourselves!” Henry was giddy with excitement at the news.

Suddenly, he glanced at Thea and said with admiration, “I haven’t met Thea ever since the news of her being the Human Race’s matron was exposed. Never would I have expected the soft woman back then to be our venerable matron.

Meanwhile, Thea turned to the crowd and said smilingly, “Alright, there’s nothing to see here. Everyone should disperse now. Our Super Universe is about to be completed soon. We’ll be blessed with abundant luck and opportunities. If you head back now, you might be able to stumble upon some great boons in advance.”

Her words enticed the powerhouses present. Although they wanted to see the Human Race’s hero, obtaining great boons was more important. The crowd quickly dispersed and left the area.

Soon, only a few people remained.

Soren approached with a smile and said, “It’s good to see you again, James. Words alone aren’t enough to express my gratitude toward you. If you ever need my help in the future, just give me a word. I’ll do everything I can to fulfill your request.”

Without James’ help, Soren would have died. To Soren, James was his savior.

James replied smilingly, "You're the Human Race's hope. Without you, the Dooms would've wiped out humanity."

Thea interjected, saying, "Alright, enough talk for now. Let's head back first. We'll reminiscence the good old days after the Super Universe is formed."

"Go ahead without me. Although the Doom army has withdrawn for now, we can't be sure they won't attack again. I'll stay to guard the universe in case they launch another attack," said James.

"Alright." Thea nodded.

The powerhouses left one after another, leaving James in the Chaotic Void to protect the universe.

Everyone was at ease with James on guard.

Meanwhile, the Dooms' powerhouses were meeting in their hall.

The Patriarch, Youri, sat in the highest seat, as usual.

"Sir Youri, James has returned."

A Doom monitoring the humans knelt on one knee and reported James' appearance outside the Human Universe.

With a grim expression, Youri said, "I knew it was him. The powerhouse inside the copper coffin was really him. He severely injured Wyot but walked away from the fight unscathed. Even worse, he defeated Wyot without his main body. What is his true strength like?"

"Huff!" Youri took a deep breath.

He was aghast by James' strength. James defeated their strongest member, Wyot, without showing his real body.

Youri could not imagine what cultivation rank James was at right now.

Nobody inside the hall could determine James' real strength.

Dolph said solemnly, "We can only count on Wyot. I hope he enters the Caelum Acme Rank as soon as possible. It's our only way to suppress James."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4493-The Dooms' hope rested on Wyot's shoulders.

James, on the other hand, did not want to bother with the Dooms.

There was a deep hatred between the Dooms and humans. The humans would never reconcile with the Dooms regardless of how many generations had passed.

However, James was not confident in destroying the Dooms. He planned to wait until the humans' Super Universe was completed and humanity became stronger before taking any action.

Meanwhile, Thea was performing the merging of the Human Universe.

A Super Heavenly Path was born after she fused the various universes. Gradually, the humans' luck was unknowingly improving.

The Human Universe's spiritual mountains and lands released powerful energy.

As a result, a few normal plants went through magical evolvement.

Some ordinary humans without cultivation bases were also transformed and acquired divine strength.

The Super Universe had been completed, and everyone was blessed with great benefits.

The humans' luck skyrocketed and surpassed the Dooms, becoming the race with the strongest luck in the Greater Realms.

All of humanity, along with the other races in the Human Universe, rejoiced.

James immediately sensed the completion of the Super Universe and the formation of the Super Heavenly Path. His anxious heart was finally relieved, and he lit up with a smile.

'The humans have been deprived for a long time. We've finally ushered in a prosperous era.'

James was pleased that his efforts were not in vain.

Thea countless years of dedication was also worth it.

The persistence of countless humans had brought hope to their race.

The humans throughout the Greater Realms were excited at the Super Universe's formation. Many began migrating to the Super Universe, planning to settle in their new home.

James stepped into the new Human Universe.

The various universes that were merged together hardly went through any environmental changes. However, a few unknown areas had appeared to bridge the different universes together. Most of these new places were spiritual mountains and large plains that contained abundant Empyrean Spiritual Energy.

Despite the changes, Mount Bane remained the humans' core area.

A man and woman stood at a cliff of Mount Bane.

James looked at the beautiful scenery before him and reached out to hold Thea's slender hand. He beamed with a bright smile and said, 'We did it, Thea. The Super Universe has formed, and the humans scattered in the Greater Realms finally have a place to call home. The humans have finally gained a stable foothold in the Greater Realms.'

'Yeah.' Thea felt sentimental.

She recalled the battle in the Primordial Realm, the countless powerhouses that sacrificed, and how she witnessed the Primordial Realm being sealed off. As the memories flashed through her mind, she felt a touch of sadness.

Fortunately, everything was over.

Thea said gently, "Our job is complete, and we can finally step down. Let's find a desolate place and live in seclusion."

It had been her dream for a very long time.

She had always wanted to live peacefully with James in seclusion, where they did not have to worry about war.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4494-James shared Thea's dream.

However, the humans' peace was only temporary.

The Dooms were ambitious, and they could not let their guard down yet.

With desirous powerhouses like Wyot and Youri alive, humans would never be safe.

James was satisfied with the temporary peace they had bought for the humans.

However, there was one more thing he wanted to do.

He held Thae's hand and said apologetically, "There's something I have to confess, Thea."

"Huh?" Thea turned to him.

James took a deep breath and said, "Y-You know about Yemima, right? When I infiltrated the Dooms, I slept with her because I was worried about my identity being exposed."

"Oh, didn't you already tell me about it?"

"Yemima has a son called Carson Dalibor, and he's halfhuman," James said ambiguously.

He had experienced many things in life but still felt ashamed of himself.

Thea looked at James curiously and asked, "Some time ago, the guy leading the Doom Army was called Carson. So, he's your son?"

She looked slightly dismayed by the news.

"Yeah, I only just found out. Wyot has a deep hatred for me and wants to take revenge by using my son to obliterate the humans."

Thea looked at him and asked, "Then what are you planning to do?"

James gently rubbed his forehead and thought to himself, ' This is a very complicated situation to deal with. I can't possibly go to Carson and claim to be his father, right? No, that's not going to work. I didn't sense a human aura from him. Wyot must've already hidden his human aura. He won't believe me if I blatantly tell him I'm his father. My only option is to see Yemima and ask her to relay it to him.'

Despite having a plan in mind, James was clueless about Yemima's well-being since it had already been 30,000 Epochs.

More importantly, the human's Super Universe had just been formed, and there were many things to take care of now. Entering the Dooms' territory now would definitely be taken as a provocation. Out of desperation, the Dooms might launch another battle, and the two races would suffer heavy losses.

James shook his head lightly and sighed. "I don't know what's the right thing to do either."

After briefly considering it, Thea said, "Let's put that aside for now. It's not the right time to enter the Dooms' territory. You should wait until the humans is stronger before taking care of it. Moreover, don't you still owe me a wedding? Let's set a good date and hold our wedding."

"Alright." James nodded.

"But before the wedding, we need to appoint someone to lead the humans. Plus, we need to establish some rules for the Super Universe. We need an exceptional leader for humanity to grow."

"Do you have a suitable candidate in mind?" asked Thea.

James replied, "I think Soren suits the role. He's a highly respected figure in the humans. He has a lot of experience since he has lived for a long time. Moreover, he's also powerful. He's the perfect fit for the Human Race's Lord, and Universe Lord."

"I'll pass." Suddenly, a burst of laughter resounded.

Immediately afterward, a middle-aged man in a golden robe approached.

Soren stopped in front of the couple, and said smilingly, "I'm not interested in becoming the Human Race's Lord, or the Universe's Lord. You should pick someone else."

Thea pondered for a while and said, "How about Jacopo? He used to be the Heavenly Court's Lord for a while. He has quite a lot of experience in management, so he's a suitable candidate."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4495-"Sure."

James had no objections to Jacopo becoming the Human Race's Lord, and neither did Soren.

Soren looked at the couple and asked, "By the way, what's the following plan? Now that our Super Universe has been formed, the Dooms will leave us alone for some time."

James took Thea's hand and said, "We'll be holding our wedding. Using this opportunity, we'll invite our family and friends to reunite and spend time together."

Soren replied, "I'm afraid I won't be able to attend the joyous occasion. Although the Human Race is temporarily out of danger, the Dooms still have countless powerful Caelum Acmeans. Moreover, Wyot is still a huge threat to us. I plan to go on an adventure to improve my cultivation base and strive to enter the Caelum Acme Rank. I'd also like to enter the late stage of the Omniscience Path's Ninth Stage."

"When are you leaving, Sir?" asked James.

Soren waved his hand and said, "I don't deserve such respect from you. Just call me Soren. I'll be leaving today."

James frowned and said, "I planned to organize a succession ceremony for Jacopo. If you leave, I'm afraid some people will be unsatisfied with the arrangement."

Soren said smilingly, "You worry too much, James. Who will dare to object to Jacopo's succession with you two here? Moreover, your children are the strongest in the Human Race. Nobody will be dissatisfied with the decision. Alright, farewell.”

After speaking, Soren disappeared instantly.

He embarked on his journey for greater strength.

Next, James settled down in Mount Bane.

The news of Jacopo succeeding as the Lord of the Human Race and Human Universe quickly spread.

Nobody had any objections to the decision. Even if they were unsatisfied, they were too weak to have the right to speak against the powerful Cadens.

Thea and James constructed a new Heavenly Court above Mount Bane.

The Heavenly Court also acted as a powerful formation to block out the Dooms if they invaded the Human Universe.

After the Heavenly Court was built, a succession ceremony was announced to be held in three thousand years.

Three thousand years seemed like a long time, but it would pass in the blink of an eye.

During this period, James and Thea discussed new rules for the humans. The establishment of rules was important in restricting the human powerhouses.

These rules, however, were not to limit their freedom. In fact, they were formed to reduce crimes.

James and Thea wanted the living beings in the Human Universe to maintain good virtue. By doing so, the Human Universe’s luck would grow continuously.

Formulating rules was rather troublesome. James and Thea discussed in a time formation for a long time before finalizing the rules.

Three thousand years flew by in a flash.

Finally, it was the day Jacopo took his place as the Human Race’s Lord.

It was a celebratory event for the entire Human Universe.

A huge majestic palace could be seen above Mount Bane. Regardless of race, the powerhouses of the Human Universe gathered inside the palace hall.

Inside the palace hall was a massive seat coated in gold.

Jacopo stood to amount the crowd. He wore a yellow robe and was incredibly imposing.
