

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4521

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4521-Amongst the myriad living beings were powerhouses of the Human Race.

“Do you understand it?” Jacopo looked at the Human Race powerhouses beside him.

Jabari, Sienna, Winnie, Noel, and the others shook their heads. The Divine Martial Scripture was too profound and mysterious. They had never encountered such inscriptions before, and they could not decipher them or comprehend their ultimate power in such a short time. All they knew was that the Divine Martial Scripture was incredibly enigmatic, containing the ultimate strength of martial arts.

Swish!

At this moment, a streak of blood light emerged, appearing in the sky above the radiant light. This blood light gradually converged into a handsome man dressed in a red robe.

“Who’s that?” The Doom Race powerhouses immediately looked at the sky.

All the gazes of the present powerhouses converged on the figure of the Ancestral Blood Master.

He was a renowned powerhouse from the first of the Sky Burial Age, but he had remained absent for countless years, with his name surviving only in ancient scrolls. Now that he had finally appeared, none of the living beings present could recognize him.

The Ancestral Blood Master stood in mid-air, casting a disdainful gaze upon the powerhouses below, exuding an aura of unrivaled grandeur. With a nonchalant wave of his hand, a blood light descended, shrouding the Divine Martial Scripture as he sought to forcibly seize it.

The power emanating from the Divine Martial Scripture was formidable, guarded by a restriction crafted by Wyndael. This restriction could withstand any powerhouse in the world, but it proved futile against the might of the Ancestral Blood Master.

Although Wyndael was formidable, he did not dare to confront the Ancestral Blood Master head-on. Otherwise, he would not have brought the Divine Martial Scripture out to lure the Ancestral Blood Master away from the Callahan Residence.

The Divine Martial Scripture was slowly being lifted by the blood light. As the blood light lifted the Divine Martial Scripture, Wyot witnessed the unfolding scene with a rising sense of panic.

“It’s mine!” He bellowed, unleashing a terrifying aura. Brandishing a dazzling longsword, he charged at the Ancestral Blood Master in mid-air, determined to prevent him from seizing the Divine Martial Scripture. With a single thrust, the sword light swept forth, directly striking the Ancestral Blood Master.

The sword strike possessed an unparalleled level of ferocity, powerful enough to inflict severe injuries or even claim the life of a newly ascended Caelum Acme Rank powerhouse. However, when the incomparably brilliant sword energy approached the Ancestral Blood Master, it dissipated into nothingness. Instead, a tremendous aura engulfed Wyot, sending him flying and crashing heavily to the ground, spewing out a mouthful of blood.

“This...” Everyone was shocked.

Wyot’s strength was widely known. In the current Chaos of Greater Realms, there were only a select few powerhouses who possessed the ability to withstand a single strike from him, and they could be counted on one hand.

However, Wyot had been defeated with a single move.

Moreover, it was not just any move but a mere burst of aura unleashed by the Ancestral Blood Master. Without even making a physical attack, the Ancestral Blood Master’s formidable aura inflicted serious damage upon Wyot.

‘That’s too terrifying.’

“Who is this?”

“Is there such a legendary powerhouse in the Greater Realms? Why have we never seen him before?”

Many powerhouses were trembling with fear. Even some Human Race powerhouses were dumbfounded, gazing at this scene in disbelief.

Jacopo murmured, "Who is he? He's so frightening."

Winnie, Xainte, Noel, and the others shook their heads. They were clueless about the origin of this Ancestral Blood Master who defeated Wyot.

The Divine Martial Scripture was slowly being pulled away by the blood light. As the Divine Martial Scripture was on the brink of being completely taken away by the blood light, a mysterious aura suddenly emanated from within its pages. This enigmatic energy managed to break free from the confines of the blood light, catching the Ancestral Blood Master off guard and forcing him to hastily retreat, pushing him into the void.

'Well, you've set up restrictions.' The Ancestral Blood Master's figure reappeared in the sky above the Divine Martial Scripture, his countenance turning cold. Speaking with a chilling tone, he taunted, "What can you do to me?"

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4522

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4522-Wyndael cunningly employed the Divine Martial Scripture as bait to entice the Ancestral Blood Master out of the Callahan Residence. He concealed himself within the Chaos outside the Blood Realm.

The instant the Ancestral Blood Master departed, Wyndael swiftly utilized the Blithe Omniscience and gained access to the Blood Realm, subsequently reaching the Callahan Residence.

He appeared silently on the spiritual mountain where Thea was trapped. Upon his arrival, time seemed to have frozen, and Thea's maids were instantly immobilized. However, Thea herself remained impervious to the time manipulation, gazing at Wyndael warily.

"Who are you?" she asked, her expression solemn.

This was the Callahan Residence, and she was well aware of the power and status of her family. Yet, here stood a living being from another race, trespassing without triggering any formation disturbance or attracting the attention of the other Callahan Residence powerhouses. It indicated that this living being's cultivation base had reached the transcendent realm.

Wyndael appeared before Thea with a faint smile and said, "Relax. I mean no harm."

Despite his reassuring words, she remained on guard.

Wyndael walked directly over to her and settled into a nearby chair. He explained, "I've come for James."

"James?" Thea looked puzzled.

"Yes." Wyndael nodded and continued, "James is trapped in the Callahan Residence. Although he might not be in danger here, his growth will be stifled. Only by rescuing him can he truly flourish."

"Why don't you just take him away yourself? Why involve me?" Thea questioned.

"I dare not take him away like that," Wyndael replied with a helpless expression. "If I do, your father will come after me, and my Invincible Sect will face annihilation. I don't wish to be at odds with your father. If I am to save James, I need your help."

"Me?" Thea looked dejected. "I'm trapped here and can't break through the barrier formation. How can I help him leave?"

Wyndael smiled and said, "I've already thought of a solution."

He casually waved his hand, and an inscription appeared. He handed it to Thea, saying, "With this inscription, no barrier formation in the world can stop you. Of course, I'm talking about ordinary formations. The ones here in the Callahan Residence were merely set up casually by your father. You may freely enter and exit through them.

However, if he arranges any intricate formations, then the inscription won't be effective."

Thea's face brightened as she received the inscription.

Wyndael continued, "There are also some restrictions placed by your father inside James' body. They prevent him from activating his power. To remove those restrictions, he needs either your father's help or a solution found in the Blood Mantra. You should know where the Blood Mantra is located. Steal it and give it to James. Once he leaves the Blood Realm, someone will receive him.”

‘This...” Thea hesitated.

Steal the Blood Mantra? She had never considered nor dared to do such a thing.

“Your father has left the Blood Realm and is currently in the Dooms Universe. Time in the Blood Realm has frozen, so you may act freely. Perhaps he will figure out what’s happening when he returns, but he’s your father, and he probably won’t harm you.”

Wyndael stood up and said, ‘That’s all I can do. Time in the Blood Realm will remain frozen for only one day. Act quickly. Rescuing James will become much harder if you miss this opportunity.”

With that, Wyndael disappeared from Thea’s sight. Thea’s expression kept changing. After contemplating for a while, she immediately got up and left the spiritual mountain.

She knew the location of the Blood Mantra. As the daughter of the Ancestral Blood Master, she was aware of all the secrets of the Callahans.

The Blood Mantra was stored in the Callahan Residence on the top floor of the library chamber. However, it was a strictly forbidden area. Even Xanthus was not qualified to step inside. Anyone who entered without permission would be killed without mercy upon being discovered.

With the Ancestral Blood Master around, no one in the Callahan Family dared to intrude into the chamber.

However, at this moment, Thea could not think about all of that. She headed straight to the library chamber, familiar with the path as she made her way to the top floor. There, she found a book emitting a blood-red light, which was the Blood Mantra. She took it with her and left to find James.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4523

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4523-Time in all of the Blood Realm had stopped. Only two people were not affected by the time restriction. They were Thea and James.

This was because Wyndael controlled the time within the Blood Realm. He had not completely left but remained in the Chaos outside the Blood Realm. He wanted to observe whether Thea would truly save James. He felt relieved when he saw that she was indeed going to rescue James.

After obtaining the Blood Mantra, Thea hurriedly rushed toward the spiritual mountain where James was located. She easily bypassed the barrier formation with the inscription given by Wyndael.

At this moment, James was in the mountain-top manor on the spiritual mountain.

He was puzzled as he felt the time restriction around him. He tried to break it, but his power was unable to overcome the time restriction. Moreover, he could not activate his abilities, as doing so would trigger the bloodline's restrictions, causing him great discomfort.

"Who's trying to stop time?" he wondered.

Just as he was puzzled, Thea appeared.

"James!" She rushed over and threw herself into James' arms.

James hugged her tightly and asked, "How did you come here?"

"A powerhouse from the Invincible Sect asked me to save you," Thea replied.

She loosened her grip on James, pulled out the Blood Mantra, and handed it to him, saying, "This is our race's Blood Mantra that was created by my father, and it ranks among the Top Ten of the Supernatural Signature Skills."

James was astonished. He had heard of the fame of the Blood Mantra before and knew that it was created by Thea's father, the Ancestral Blood Master.

He looked surprised and said, "Thea, you should quickly put it back. Your father won't spare you if he finds out."

"Keep it," Thea insisted, forcibly handing the Blood Mantra to James. She said, "There are restrictions placed by my father inside your body, and only he can dissolve them. You need to find a solution in the Blood Mantra. Without it, you won't be able to use your power or continue to cultivate."

After giving it to James, she pulled him along and left. With a flash, they appeared in the Chaos outside the Blood Realm.

“James, you must leave quickly. Cultivate diligently and become stronger. Only after you’ve become strong can you bring me back,” Thea said.

“But, you...” James looked worried.

Stealing the Blood Mantra would carry grave consequences if one was discovered by the Ancestral Blood Master.

“Don’t worry, I’ll be fine,” Thea assured him. She pushed James to leave. Having already brought James out, she no longer cared who would receive him. As long as he left the Callahan Residence, he would be fine.

Thea disappeared from her original spot, returning to the Callahan Residence and the trapped spiritual mountains.

After she returned, the inscription she carried with her vanished, and the time in the area resumed as if nothing had happened.

Even Xanthus, who could easily seal Thea, had no idea that time had stopped, the Blood Mantra had been stolen, and James had left the Blood Realm. However, with his cultivation rank, he would soon realize all of this.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4524

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4524-Thea returned after bringing James out of the Blood Realm.

James stood in the Chaos with a solemn expression. This parting made him uncertain about when he would see Thea again. He worried about how the Ancestral Blood Master might punish her after she stole the Blood Mantra.

“Alright,” a voice sounded at this moment.

James turned to see Wyndael behind him.

“Let’s go,” Wyndael said as he pulled James, and they disappeared from their location.

In the next moment, they arrived at a mysterious place. It was the deepest region of the Chaos, and the scene was terrifying. Numerous horrifying scenes filled the Chaos, and even remnants of dreadful battle intent lingered.

“What is this place?” James furrowed his brow. He was familiar with many dangerous places in the Greater Realms, but he had never heard of this particular spot before.

Wyndael explained, “This is the weakest part of the Chaos. In the past, powerhouses from the outer bounds tried to enter the Chaos from here. The Chaos Master once pierced through the void of this place and severely injured those powerhouses, forcing them to retreat from the Chaos.”

“Why did you bring me here?” James asked in confusion.

“I want you to leave the Chaos,” Wyndael said with a solemn expression.

James was a ticking time bomb for the Chaos. If he continued to grow and joined forces with powerhouses from the outer bounds during the Mega Sky Burial Age, it would spell disaster for the Chaos. Although Wyndael trusted James, he could not rule out the possibility of such a dire situation.

To avoid this, he came up with a plan to send James away from the Chaos.

“Send me away?” James looked astonished. “Do you mean to send me to the outer bounds?”

“Yes.” Wyndael nodded. “James, you’re a disaster for the Chaos. Many powerhouses can’t tolerate your existence, especially the legendary powerhouses who are desperate to survive. The Chaos no longer has a place for you, and you must leave.

“You’ll be safe in the outer bounds, and you’ll have ample time to cultivate.

“Furthermore, we know very little about the outer bounds, and we have never even seen the powerhouses from there. Without understanding them, defeating them will be difficult. Only by knowing both ourselves and our enemies can we win the battles.

“By going to the outer bounds, you will not only ensure your safety and gain enough time to cultivate but also get to gather information about the powerhouses from the outer bounds.

“That’ll be how you save the Chaos.

“If the day comes when the Chaos faces off against the powerhouses from the outer bounds, I hope you will stand with the Chaos.”

Wyndael spoke with a solemn expression. He was taking a gamble. The Chaos would be destroyed if he lost. However, if he did not allow James to leave the Chaos and James ended up joining forces with powerhouses from the outer bounds, it would be an even greater disaster.

James looked at the Chaos in the distance, his expression filled with hesitation. He did not want to leave. This was the place where his loved ones, friends, and even his wife were. He did not know when or even if he would be able to return if he left.