The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4526-Wyndael led James and they suddenly appeared in a mysterious place.

The Chaos here was riddled with countless cracks. These cracks were unfathomably deep and seemingly endless. They suggested the existence of even more terrifying worlds concealed behind them.

“James, I need to borrow your aura now to draw upon the energy of heaven and earth from outside the Chaos. I’ll combine it with my strength to shatter it. I’ll break through in an instant and at that very moment, you’ll be sent outside this place. No one knows what lies outside the territory.

Proceed with caution,” Wyndael warned.

“Within you lies restrictions imposed by Ancestral Blood Master. While you can’t use your full power, you can still utilize the Blithe Omniscience. With this ability, you should be able to protect yourself as you venture into outside territory,” he added.

“There is one more thing I must tell you.”

James looked at Wyndael and asked in response, “What is it?”

Wyndael explained, “In the First Era of the Sky Burial Age, numerous powerhouses met their ends, including my Master. When the Chaos Master’s sword pierced through the Chaos, my Master seized the opportunity to escape and ventured into the outer bounds. However, as time passed, we received no news from him and have no idea how he fared. Therefore, I implore you to do your utmost to find my Master when you embark on your journey to the outside territory.”

“Yardos Xagorari?” James’ expression showed astonishment. “Wasn’t he killed in battle? How did he go to the outside territory?”

“When my Master suffered severe injuries, continuing the fight would have sealed his fate. However, he devised the Blithe Omniscience. The instant a crack appeared in the Chaos, he departed silently. Only a few people know about this,” Wyndael clarified.

“Alright,” James nodded and said, “I’ll do my best to find him in my journey.”

“The Blood Mantra will help you deal with the limits on your body. Through diligent practice, you’ll discover a way to break free from the restrictions. The fate of humanity, the denizens of the Greater Realms, and the entire Chaos hinges upon you,” Wyndael patted James’ shoulder.

With a flourish of his outstanding powers, Wyndael harnessed James’ aura, allowing his powers to seep into the cracks of his body and entwine with it. Coming from the outer bounds, James had once been a legendary powerhouse, and his aura had the remarkable ability to stir up the energy of heaven and earth. Wyndael’s plan revolved around utilizing James’ potent aura to create a commotion in the outside territory, with the ultimate aim of breaking through the Chaos.

Wyndael had meticulously planned this over countless years, setting up a Superformation in the area. With this safeguard in place, even if the Chaos emerged through the cracks, its aura would remain contained, undetectable by the outside territory powerhouses. However, gathering the energy of heaven and earth from the outside territory would require some time for Wyndael to accomplish.

In the ancient city of the Doom Universe, Wyot was defeated with a single, swift blow by Ancestral Blood Master. The sight left many powerhouses in utter shock. They were rendered speechless as they gazed at Ancestral Blood Master, who was now hovering in mid-air.

Wyndael had placed a restriction in the Divine Martial Scripture, but it proved only a temporary hindrance to Ancestral Blood Master. The latter forcefully undid the restriction and converted the scripture into his own.

However, instead of departing, he remained suspended in the void, his intense gaze fixed upon Winnie, Xainte, Jacopo, and Noel.

When Ancestral Blood Master saw Noel, he discerned that Noel had already embarked on the Omniscience Path. With a simple wave of his hand, a radiant, blood-red light manifested. It changed into a peculiar inscription right before Noel’s eyes.

Perplexed, Noel asked, “What is this?”

In the void, Ancestral Blood Master spoke, “You’ve cultivated the Omniscience Path to an impressive level. This inscription will help you in fully unlocking the power of your lineage, accelerating your progress along the Omniscience Path.”

Despite his fearsome reputation as a formidable demon, Ancestral Blood Master displayed unwavering protectiveness towards his family. No one dared to bully them, especially since they were the esteemed offspring of Thea. As their grandfather, it was only natural for him to provide his unwavering support.

In the aftermath, he bestowed valuable treasures upon Winnie, Xainte, and Jacopo, leaving the powerhouses from the Greater Realms astounded and speechless at the scene they had witnessed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4527-They were unsure how this man was related to the Cadens and wondered why he bestowed them with so many treasures. Jacopo and others were bewildered too as they did not know what exactly was happening.

“Who are you?” Jacopo stepped forward and asked.

“Know your place!” Ancestral Blood Master’s expression turned dark, and a powerful pressure filled the air. Under this pressure, even Jacopo and his group were forced to kneel. They desperately wanted to stand up, but the pressure was overwhelming. Their efforts were futile in the end. Under countless gazes, all the members of the Caden family kneeled perplexedly.

He gave them valuable treasures mere moments ago. Now, he was making them kneel.

Nevertheless, Ancestral Blood Master said nothing more and disappeared from the scene. He returned to the Blood Realm, back to Callahans’ base camp. Once there, he sensed an unusual aura and furrowed his brow. “What’s going on? Time here has been manipulated,” he muttered contemplatively.

A sense of foreboding rose from within him.

He instantly appeared in the courtyard where James had been, but it was already empty. James had vanished without a trace.

"Damn it," his face darkened. He waved his hand, channeling his Supernatural Power. The scene of the events that occurred in that place replayed before his eyes. He witnessed Thea appearing to take James away and his expression grew even darker.

In a flash, he appeared at the spiritual mountain where Thea's manor was located.

"Father," Thea stood up respectfully upon Ancestral Blood Master's return.

"Where is he?" Ancestral Blood Master demanded angrily.

Understanding his intentions perfectly, Thea spoke directly, "James has left the Blood Realm. He's now in hiding. I also stole the Blood Mantra and gave it to him."

"Are you trying to use my anger to drive me to my grave?" Ancestral Blood Master seethed with fury, and a terrifying aura burst forth from him. Even Thea, who was a Caelum Acmean, found it impossible to bear and was forced backward.

In an instant, he appeared in front of Thea. He raised his hand and swung down his palm, stopping himself just centimeters away from her. Although he was angry, he could not bring himself to harm her.

"Hmph," he coldly said, "Do you think he can escape? I've left a sigil inside him, I can track him no matter where he goes."

With those words, he disappeared.

Thea was drenched in cold sweat. For a moment, she really thought Ancestral Blood Master would kill her. She wiped the sweat off her forehead and prayed inwardly, "I hope he doesn't find James."

Meanwhile, at the deepest and most vulnerable part of the Chaos, Wyndael was channeling James' aura. This aura drew power of heaven and earth from the outside territory to compile and was forming a brilliant longsword. Moreover, this sword was charging itself on sacrificial power.

At this moment, Wyndael sensed an unusual aura and his face changed.

“Damn, how did he arrive so quickly?” he muttered anxiously. He turned to Teresa and urged her, “Teresa, stop Ancestral Blood Master, don’t let him get any closer. Make sure he doesn’t interfere with James’ departure.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4528-Ancestral Blood Master arrived swiftly, having implanted a sigil inside James that allowed him to locate James anywhere. Following the sigil, he arrived at the deepest part of the Chaos, where Wyndael had set up the Invincible Formation.

The Ancestral Blood Master’s powerful Zen penetrated the formation, enabling him to witness the situation within. He threw a fit as he shouted, “Wyndael Klein, so you’re the one behind this. You’re looking for trouble here.”

He casually waved, and immense power flowed out of his hands. It directly attacked Wyndael’s formation.

Boom!

A loud explosion echoed as the formation trembled and faded for a moment. However, it was a formation that Wyndael had spent countless years setting up. Even the strike of Ancestral Blood Master was not enough to destroy it.

“Ancestral Blood Master, what the hell are you doing?!” Wyndael roared. “The Chaos here is about to be shattered. If you destroy this formation, the Chaos aura will leak out, and be detected by powerhouses from the outer bounds. This will inadvertently attract them, leading to the early arrival of the Sky Burial.”

“Rest assured, I can break this formation before you shatter the Chaos. I’ll bring James back myself,” Ancestral Blood Master’s voice came from outside the formation.

In Mount Thunder, Xezal’s main body, who was also Teresa, took action. She disappeared on the spot, arriving in the void in the blink of an eye. As Ancestral Blood Master unleashed his second attack, she appeared and stood in front of the formation.

“Are you also going to stop me, Miss Teresa?” Ancestral Blood Master’s face grew grim.

Teresa looked at Ancestral Blood Master calmly and said, "I might not be able to fight you and win, but I can hold you off long enough to allow James to leave. That should be enough."

At this moment, James stood before countless cracks, unable to draw on his powers. However, he could still sense what was happening outside the formation. He saw Teresa appear. He had encountered her several times before this, but this time, he could finally see her clearly.

Teresa was beautiful, pure, and exuded an invincible aura. He could not help but glance at Xezal who was beside him.

"Is Teresa your main consciousness?" he asked.

Earlier, Wyndael had spoken to Xezal, but now Teresa had shown herself. This was the reason James posed the question. However, Xezal did not respond.

The giant sword from the outside territory had finished accumulating its power. Meanwhile, Wyndael also went all out and gathered up his power.

The sword from the outside territory moved. It struck an unknown area as Wyndael simultaneously attacked the Chaos crack.

Seeing this scene, Ancestral Blood Master grew anxious outside the formation. If James were allowed to leave the Chaos and head to the outside territory, the Chaos would lose its biggest hope. It would be doomed once the Mega Sky Burial arrived.

"Damn it!" he cursed, and then his body burst forth with radiant blood light. His aura reached its peak in an instant.

Teresa also emitted a brilliant, white light. With a lift of her hand, the power of Greater Paths gathered, and numerous mysterious inscriptions appeared before her. The inscriptions converged to form a wall, attempting to stop Ancestral Blood Master.

However, Ancestral Blood Master's aura was too overwhelming and terrifying. His blood light emerged, directly shattering the wall formed by Teresa's mysterious inscriptions. Without hesitation, he entered the formation using his powerful will.

Wyndael and the forces from the outside territory attacked the Chaos simultaneously. The Chaos at this location instantly cracked open, creating a fissure.

“Hurry, take James and go!” Wyndael shouted.

Xezal acted promptly. She swiftly took James, and flew towards the crack in the void. When that happened, Ancestral Blood Master had already penetrated the formation.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4529-He did not destroy the formation, but he managed to pass through it and appear at his desired location.

Wyndael immediately tried to counter him. They met each other at full force, and the Ancestral Blood Master’s body was disintegrated by the impact. In that moment, Wyndael realized something was amiss and exclaimed, “A clone?!”

Meanwhile, the Ancestral Blood Master’s real body had already caught up and emerged at the Chaos crack. He reached out forcefully to pull James back.

Xezal’s main body, Teresa, suddenly appeared before him and attempted to block his path. They slammed into each other, and Teresa was forced back while he remained unyielding.

Witnessing James about to leave the Chaos, Ancestral Blood Master’s expression became serious. He had not intended to kill James, but now he had no choice but to do so.

A blood light filled the air and pierced through the Chaos, aiming straight for James. Teresa moved to block it, but the blood light was unstoppable. Teresa intercepted most of it, but the force was so powerful that it rocked her body. The residual blood light pierced through her and struck James directly.

As soon as it hit him, James was forcefully flung out of the Chaos. The Chaos seamlessly merged back together from the inside out upon his exit.

Before James left, he also suffered an attack from Ancestral Blood Master. Despite Teresa bearing the brunt of the damage, he still suffered injuries on his back.

Wyndael appeared in time and asked Teresa, "What's the situation? How is James?"

Teresa frowned slightly and replied, "A powerful force attacked me and James. He's not with me now, and I cannot sense his presence. I don't know how he's doing at the moment."

Hearing this, Wyndael's face scrunched in concern." Ancestral Blood Master, you've done it now!" he shouted.

"You're the ones who started it! You secretly let James leave. He knows the Chaos intimately. If he recovers his memories from his previous life and returns with reinforcements to attack us, the Chaos will be doomed," Ancestral Blood Master retorted.

Teresa stepped in to mediate. "Enough. Let's stop arguing. You both share the same goal to save the Chaos. Wyndael's plan could be a viable solution. If he's correct, the Chaos can be saved."

"What if he's wrong?" Ancestral Blood Master responded dubiously. "If he's wrong, the Chaos will be irreparably damaged."

Teresa said, "At this point, there's nothing we can do but trust that James is safe."

"Hmph," Ancestral Blood Master snorted dismissively. "He has my sigil in him, rendering him powerless. He's as good as dead after taking my attack earlier."

He left those words and promptly departed without continuing the fight with Teresa and Wyndael. With James out of the picture, there was no need to continue fighting.

After he left, Wyndael and Teresa looked at each other. Wyndael inquired, "What's the situation in the outside territory?"

Teresa replied with uncertainty, "I'm not sure. The place I'm in resembles a void, much like the Chaos. It's all hazy and empty, and I cannot sense the presence of our Chaos. Even though my main body shares the same consciousness as my clone, I still cannot perceive the location of the Chaos, let alone my original's whereabouts."

Wyndael felt relieved after hearing this. "We must find

James as soon as possible. We can't let him die."

Teresa smiled reassuringly. "Don't worry, he won't die. He has survived severe injuries before. This time, I managed to dampen the Ancestral Blood Master's attack. Considering James' physical strength, he should be able to withstand the residual force."

"Urk!" Teresa suddenly spat out a mouthful of blood.

"Ancestral Blood Master is truly terrifying," she said with a hint of concern. "Now he stands as the foremost legendary powerhouse in the Greater Realms' Chaos."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4530-As the crack appeared in the Chaos, Xezal quickly carried James away. However, just before they could escape, they were struck with a powerful force, forcing him and Xezal to be separated. When the Chaos' crack restored itself, Xezal was unable to sense its location.

When James' back was hit, it formed a crack that spread rapidly across his entire body like a spider's web. The immense power wreaked havoc on his physical body. His mind was immediately dazed, and he fainted.

It was hazy outside the Chaos. No Paths or signs of life existed there.

James' body floated in this void.

In this void, there were numerous spatial turbulences. James' body was engulfed by one of these turbulent flows, vanishing from that place. He reappeared the next moment in another location in space in. His body continued to drift aimlessly through the void.

Time seemed immeasurable in the hazy void. Suddenly, a universe appeared and swiftly drifted toward James' location. Eventually, the universe settled within the void.

The universe contained a city and within it, there was a city mansion.

“We should be safe here.”

In the main hall of the city mansion, numerous humanoid beings stood with anxious expressions on their faces.

The leader among them spoke, ‘We have completely escaped and arrived in the Endlos Void, where PAtHs don’t exist. They should not be able to trace us here.”

‘This universe is running out of energy, and we can no longer travel through the Endlos Void. Let’s rest here for a while and wait for the universe to replenish its energy,” the human-like beings gathered together and discussed among themselves.

The leader stood up and commanded, “Spread the word! Have the army take turns guarding and monitoring all events in this universe. If anything happens, retreat immediately.”

“Yes.”

Following the leader’s orders, the army began to carry out their orders. They patrolled the Endlos Void of the universe. Not far away, a body drifted in the Endlos Void, seemingly drawn in by some force. It moved at an astonishing speed, reaching billions of times the speed of light.

“Everyone, be careful! Something’s coming” The army sensed the presence of the drifting body and immediately sounded the alarm. This information quickly spread throughout the universe.

The universe had a manor enveloped in clouds that stood atop a spiritual mountain. There, a white-robed woman sat cross-legged. Her face was pale, and blood stained the corners of her mouth. Despite her efforts to heal herself, her injuries were severe, causing her to collapse to the ground.

Summoning her strength, she slowly rose to her feet, wiping the blood from her mouth with her hand. Suddenly, a bright flash of light descended, coalescing into a man in his 20s. He was also clad in white robes and wielded a longsword. He was the one who had issued the orders in the city mansion.

“Saintess,” the man greeted her respectfully, clasping his hands together. “We’ve successfully escaped to the Endlos Void. The enemy shouldn’t be able to catch up to us.”

Additionally, we found a drifting body outside the universe. It appears to have lost its life aura.”

The woman addressed as Saintess, wiped the blood from the corner of her mouth with her hand and acknowledged the information. The man continued, “The universe is out of energy. We must stop and allow time to recover. We can’t keep fleeing endlessly.”

“Okay,” the Saintess nodded gently. She slowly stood up and said, “I’ll take a look.”

In a flash, she disappeared from her original spot and appeared in the Endlos Void outside the universe.
