

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4536

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4536-James was able to make those deductions after having observed his surroundings and the state of the universe.

"It's because we want to survive, obviously." Leif decided to be forthcoming.

James was already allowed to roam their universe freely. Leif knew the man could always find out what he was about to share by asking the other inhabitants in their universe.

"Have you ever heard of the Aeternus District?" Leif asked.

James nodded. He had just read about the Endlos' Nine Districts from the book earlier. The Aeternus District was listed as one of these nine districts.

Leif explained, "The Aeternus District is one of the nine districts that comprise Endlos. Although it has the lowest rank among the other districts, they're still a force to be reckoned with. Unfortunately, a civil war broke out there, and their district leader was murdered. In order to survive, we rescued the saintess and fled from our homes. We've been on the run ever since."

"By saintess, do you mean Ms. Saachi?" James asked.

"Yes." Leif continued, "Ms. Saachi is the district leader's daughter and the Aeternus District's saintess. After our district leader was murdered, the other forces and several organizations wanted the same fate for her too. We barely made it out of the Aeternus District back then and finally settled in this area of the Endlos Void."

James was not planning on getting involved in the matters of the Aeternus District. However, fate seemed to push him toward the center of a huge conflict happening in the Endlos.

Lief went on to explain, "The other major forces and organizations are constantly trying to eliminate the saintess because of her unique abilities. Once the saintess' abilities fully develop, she'd be virtually invincible. She'd become one of the top cultivators among the Endlos' Nine Districts."

"Is that so?" James had a skeptical look in his eyes.

‘Though I couldn’t detect Saachi’s exact cultivation rank, I have the feeling that she’s at most, a Caelum Acmean. That no doubt would make her a competent cultivator in the Endlos. However, she would hardly be considered one of the top powerhouses in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.’ James thought.

‘That’s right, and that’s because the saintess possesses the Dobro Eyes. The wielder of the Dobro Eyes is practically unbeatable.’

As he paused for a break, Lief gave a sigh. “Unfortunately, when we were trying to get away from our pursuers, Ms. Saachi pushed herself too far and sustained irreversible damage to her abilities. It is almost impossible for her to recover the Dobro Eyes’ original strength.”

“If the saintess loses the great powers of the Dobro Eyes for good, we’ll have to continue running and hiding in the Endlos Void. We’d never be able to return to our home, the Aeternus District, again.”

“What about you?” Lief turned his gaze toward James. “I’ve told you a lot about us. Shouldn’t you share something about yourself in turn? For instance, why do you have such a nasty seal placed over your body?”

James smiled bitterly. He replied, ‘That’s because I’ve crossed someone very powerful.’

Then, James made up a story about how he had made an enemy of an incredibly skilled cultivator called the Ancestral Blood Master. After James had finally escaped from the man’s clutches, he, unfortunately, lost consciousness and had been drifting across the Endlos Void since then.

However, James did not disclose any information about the Chaos.

Leif appeared to believe James’ story. “I guess that makes us allies now. You may choose to stay or leave this universe whenever you want.”

‘Thanks a lot!’ James grinned broadly. ‘I’ll stay around the spiritual mountains belonging to the saintess, then. It is the only area that remains intact and free of rifts. It’ll help me cultivate better.’

Leif nodded in agreement. ‘I’ll arrange for a suitable place for you to stay once I head back then.’

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4537

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4537-James and Lief continued chatting for quite some time. Eventually, they decided to head back to the saintess’ spiritual mountains and left the restaurant together.

Inside a quiet manor located among the spiritual mountains belonging to the saintess, Saachi was training inside a room.

She was glowing in a pure, white light from head to toe. The colors of her eyes took on a mysterious, dreamy shade. It was as if one could see the enchanting view of the galaxies in within them.

All of a sudden, a burst of Sword Energy seemed to materialize before Saachi’s eyes, and it abruptly stopped Saachi from using her powers. The magnificent colors faded from Saachi’s eyes almost instantaneously. Blood oozed from the corners of her eyes as her irises appeared to turn dull and murky.

As Saachi coughed up some blood, she lost her balance and fell onto the floor.

On the other hand, Leif had been waiting patiently outside since he sensed that Saachi was in the middle of her training session. Upon hearing the noises, Leif hurriedly entered the room.

‘Your Holiness, are you alright?’ Leif asked anxiously.

Saachi wiped the blood off her lips with the back of her hand. Then, she slowly got to her feet. The lady seemed like a celestial being who had fallen to the lands of the mortals as she had lost her usual radiance and vitality at that moment.

Saachi nodded. ‘I’m fine.’

Leif did not dwell on the matter since he was well aware of her current struggles. He tactfully changed the topic.

“I just met James Caden, and had a chat with him. The man is still wary of us since he hasn’t shared anything of note about himself with me. However, I can tell that he probably has an impressive background.”

Leif knew that James had not been completely truthful since he was probably being cautious. Still, after the conversation with James, Leif had a rough idea about his circumstances.

“It seems he truly hasn’t heard about you or your name, Ms. Saachi. My guess is that he’s probably a member of a mysterious, hidden clan or organization from one of the other districts. Perhaps he hasn’t heard of you since these organizations tend to limit their contact with the outside world. Judging by that, James most likely isn’t associated with those from the Aeternus District.”

Saachi nodded. “Hm. In that case, you can just leave him be. However, we must stay cautious at all times. If you catch him doing something that might put our universe in jeopardy, arrest him immediately.”

“Understood.”

“Alright. You may leave now.” Saachi waved her hand lightly.

As Leif exited the room and closed the door behind him, Saachi’s face hardened into a serious grimace. She lifted her hand and conjured a book with a black cover on her palm. There were no words printed on its cover.

While Saachi stared at the book, the past memories of a conversation she had with an elderly cultivator flashed across her mind.

‘The wielders of the Dobro Eyes would grow to become matchless and unparalleled powerhouses. However, the heavens have always been envious of those who are gifted with the Dobro Eyes. Throughout this time, none of the owners of the Dobro Eyes have managed to unlock the full potential and cultivation of their abilities. All of them have failed one way or another during their process of learning and training.’

“If the powers of your Dobro Eyes are somehow destroyed someday, you may choose to turn the Dobro Eyes into Damon Eyes. However, you’ll inevitably turn everyone against you, and you'll be alienated by the others for the rest of your life."

'Take this book with you. The choice is yours.'

Those words still seemed to ring in Saachi's ears.

She had a torn expression on her face.

'What would happen if I choose to wield the Damon Eyes?' Saachi pondered.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4538

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4538-'I have no idea what's recorded inside this book. Moreover, if I were to go down this road, what would become of me once I fully form the Damon Eyes?' Saachi had many questions and concerns at the back of her head.

In the end, she still could not bring herself to open the book and read it.

On the other hand, James had moved into a new room on another spiritual mountain.

He took out a book with a clean and dark red cover. It was the Blood Mantra that Thea had given him. As he carefully flipped to the first page of the book, James could see lines of strange and mysterious inscriptions on that page. Just then, those inscriptions appeared to move and float in the air. Soon enough, words in a foreign script began to form before James' eyes.

James was the only person who could see those words since he was holding the book. If someone were to walk in on James now, they would only see that James' eyes were glowing with an eerie, blood-red light at that moment.

Even though it was his first time reading words in that unique script, James managed to understand it nonetheless.

Soon, James finished reading the Blood Mantra. After he had stored the book in a secure place, James took a deep breath. "Thea's father, the Ancestral Blood Master, has definitely lived up to his reputation as one of the most prominent figures back in the Sky Burial Age. He's managed to create such fascinating text."

The scripture contained in the Blood Mantra detailed the cultivation methods that could allow one to train and improve their bloodline power. Cultivators might be able to achieve the ultimate, most powerful form of blood energy by referring to the book.

However, the person would have to have vast knowledge and great insight to understand the contents of the Blood Mantra fully. Even James knew it would be difficult for him to completely master it. Moreover, he had that problematic seal on his body at the moment.

Nevertheless, James was glad since he had found a way to remove the seal from his body in the Blood Mantra.

Although it would be a rather time-consuming process.

According to the book, James had to consistently absorb the energies of heaven and earth into his body. Once he had accumulated enough bloodline power, James would be able to overcome the restrictions cast over him.

Unfortunately, this method did not apply to a cultivator's existing bloodline power. James would have to develop and train a new bloodline power to help undo the seal in his body.

While this might be difficult for regular folk, it was not that much of an issue for James. Although he could not access his Path Powers, James could still utilize his raw strength to obtain the Empyrean Herbs that he needed.

'Also, once I get rid of the seal in my body, I can combine my new bloodline power with my existing one. That will augment my bloodline power immensely.' James thought.

A brief moment later, James left his room to start looking for herbs in the nearby area. As he was visiting the different spiritual mountains in the area, James finally came across a herb garden. In the garden, James could see various rare and precious, high-quality herbs like Macrocosm Ancestral God herbs and even Acme herbs.

James could feel his heart racing upon seeing the sight before him.

"What are you doing?"

Just then, James heard a voice coming from behind him. He glanced over his shoulder and saw that Saachi had stopped next to him. He smiled broadly at her. "I was just taking a stroll, and I happened to find this herb garden."

Saachi cast a glance in his direction. "Don't even think about it. The herbs in this garden are the very last of their kind. Most of the areas in this universe are in ruins, and it'll take a long time to return to its original state. Our enemies might find us and launch an attack at anytime. I need these herbs to make elixirs or pills in case of emergencies."

James was not paying much attention to Saachi's words. Instead, he was thinking about how he could get his hands on the herbs.

"Ms. Saachi, won't you hear me out just once?" James grinned. "How about you give me just one Acme Herb?"

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4539

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4539-"Not a chance." Saachi gave him a sidelong glance.

The Acme Herbs were extremely rare and precious.

Moreover, Saachi had spent a huge effort transferring most of these herbs in the herb garden from the Aeternus District before they had fled from there. They could not afford to give away the herbs carelessly, especially to a relatively unknown man.

"Fine. Forget what I just said."

James thought, 'I don't really need these high-grade herbs yet since I haven't begun developing my new bloodline power. Also, it'll take quite some time for me to train and improve the new bloodline power in the beginning. I won't need herbs of the Acme grade for that stage.'

As James walked away in a carefree manner, Saachi stood there and stared at the man's receding figure.

A few seconds later, Leif materialized beside her.

Saachi instructed, "Keep a close watch on James. He's eyeing the herbs in this garden. Also, reinforce the formation around the herb garden."

“Understood.” Leif nodded and left to carry out her orders.

Meanwhile, James visited several major cities located in the universe.

After going through a series of fierce battles with those back in the Aeternus District, their apothecaries were almost out of medicine and elixirs since there was a huge demand for those items to treat countless wounded civilians and fighters.

Furthermore, the universe sustained severe damage due to the war to the point where it had not been able to recover the energies of heaven and earth. People could hardly find any rare, high-grade herbs in the wild. Even low-grade herbs were very scarce.

To his disappointment, James could only find low-grade herbs or elixirs at the apothecaries he visited. Eventually, he decided to visit other nearby planets to look for the herbs he needed.

Unfortunately, James realized the situation was quite similar on those planets. People had harvested most of the useful herbs, and it would require a long time for new herbs to grow and mature.

In the end, James managed to collect a batch of herbs from several primeval forests. Some of them were Sage-ranked herbs whereas the rest of them were below that grade.

After James had returned to the spiritual mountain where he was staying, he headed out to the backyard and placed all the herbs on the ground. The man had a gloomy expression on his face.

“We had so many herbs of these grades back in the Human Universe. If I knew that this was going to happen, I would have collected a bunch of them or even stocked up rarer herbs beforehand,” James muttered dejectedly.

Then, he shook his head.

“Well, these herbs will do for now. Once I’ve created a new bloodline power, I can try to search for herbs of higher grades outside this region. I need to focus on improving this new bloodline power so that I can remove the seal as soon as possible.”

A short while later, James conjured a huge earthen pot. It was large enough to fit a grown man. He transferred the herbs into the pot, filled the pot up with water, and started boiling the mixture.

Soon enough, James was done making the herbal concoction.

He drew a long breath.

‘This is the start of my new bloodline power!’

Upon saying that, James stepped into the pot and immersed himself in the concoction.

“James? What on earth are you doing?”

Leif had a puzzled look on his face as he slowly approached the huge pot. He could see the peculiar swirls of colors in the pot’s contents. He could also detect a weak aura from that mixture.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4540

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4540-Leif seemed extremely confused.

‘I don’t know his exact cultivation rank, but Ms. Saachi has commented about how James has impressive strength due to his extraordinary physical condition. Normally, it also suggests that the cultivator has achieved a superb cultivation rank. Yet, that guy is using these low-grade herbs for his cultivation?’ Leif pondered.

James’ brows twitched the instant he noticed Leif.

However, he quickly controlled his expression and said matter-of-factly, “I bet you haven’t seen anything like this. This is a secret method that I learned from my sect leader. It’s the perfect method to train and refine a cultivator’s body.”

“Oh... Is that right?”

Leif raised his brows. “You have the body of a Caelum Acmean. Can a herbal concoction with this level of energy really be of use to you?”

“As I’ve said, this is a secret method.” James waved his hand dismissively. “If you’re not here for any urgent business, you can leave now. Knowledge of this secret method is only shared among members of the sect I belong to. We can't perform it in front of outsiders."

Although Leif appeared confounded, he did not press James for more answers. Then, he turned around and walked away.

James shouted in his direction, "Don't sneak a glance!"

"I won't!" Leif continued walking without sparing James a second glance.

After making sure that Leif had left the backyard, James heaved a sigh. "How embarrassing! A Permanence Acme Rank cultivator like me has to make do with these low-grade herbs!"

James shook his head. Then, he tried to calm himself down and focused his concentration on the next task.

The Blood Mantra detailed cultivation methods for one to train their Blood Energy and optimize bloodline power to the fullest. Apart from that, it also included ways to create a new bloodline power.

The seal in James' body had not only blocked his existing bloodline power, but it had also restricted his Path Powers. So, James had no choice but to create and cultivate a new bloodline power.

The herbal concoction that James had prepared might contain relatively low aura for skilled, experienced cultivators. However, it was more than enough to help regular folk with their cultivation. Thankfully, in James' case, the energies in the concoction were sufficient for him to create a new bloodline power.

After making sure all areas below his neck were submerged in the herbal concoction, James began to recite the scriptures from the Blood Mantra inwardly. Within seconds, the energies from the concoction were slowly absorbed into James' body through the pores on his skin.

Those energies were used to create new veins in James' body. Gradually, red mist started forming in James' muscle tissues. As the red mist combined with the energies from the concoction, blood was formed in the new veins.

Eventually, the new network of veins started circulating the new blood in his body. Meanwhile, James' existing bloodline power became dormant. James stayed immersed in the pot for three months as he worked on his new bloodline power.

After three months, the water in the pot that was once murky had turned clear as James had completely absorbed every bit of energy in the herbal concoction.

James had successfully created a new bloodline power, and he even managed to cultivate and refine it to the Sage rank.

He leaped out of the pot cheerfully. After doing a few stretches, James tried to channel his Path Powers with the aid of his new bloodline power. To his surprise, he could even unleash the powers of the Divine Rank.

Although it might not seem much, James was still pleased with his current progress.

'I just need to continue to absorb the energies of heaven and earth, and my bloodline power will increase in no time!' James thought.

James went out of the backyard to go for a stroll. After a while, he happened to pass by the saintess' herb garden. James noticed that they had increased the formations cast over the garden almost instantaneously.

'Though I really want those herbs and I am capable of destroying these formations easily, I don't want to ruin my good relationship with the saintess at the moment.' James pondered.

Shortly afterward, James decided to travel to various places around the universe to look for more Empyrean herbs. This time, he traveled for three years and collected all of the Empyrean herbs regardless of their grades. James even managed to obtain a Divine grade herb during his journey.