The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4601-The stronger cultivators avoided engaging in battle and quickly approached the dazzling sword. However, they were instantly obliterated into nothingness by the intense Sword Energy. In just a short moment, more than a dozen powerhouses were killed. After witnessing their deaths, the others did not dare to rashly approach the sword.

Meanwhile, James also stared at the bright sword in the sky in awe. He felt a familiar aura coming from it. It was the power of the Nine Voices of Chaos.

Surprised, James thought to himself, 'Could this be the Chaos Master's sword?'

The Ancestral Blood Master's phantom's voice suddenly rang in James' mind, saying, "That's the Chaos Sword, the sword of the Chaos Master in the past."

James immediately acquired confirmation of the sword's origin.

His gaze fixated on the Chaos Sword.

The Chaos Sword emitted a powerful aura, and even James was interested in it. However, he did not dare to act recklessly, as the sword had already killed many powerhouses.

Waleria marveled at the sword's strength, saying, "Amazing. For its aura to be so strong, it must belong to a terrifying powerhouse. She analyzed and concluded that the sword's owner might have the strength to fight the Theos Sect's Leader even if he had not entered the Chaos Rank.

After the Chaos Sword made an appearance, it quickly vanished into the void.

Everyone was puzzled by its sudden disappearance.

Many cultivators went around searching for the Chaos Sword. They searched the entire planet yet found no trace of the sword.

"What exactly happened during the first Sky Burial, Mr. Xrival?" James asked Ancestral Blood Master's phantom, who was within the space he had created.

Although the phantom could not sense his main self, he possessed the Ancestral Blood Master's memories, who had survived the first Sky Burial.

The phantom sat in a lotus position atop a spiritual mountain within the space James had created.

He sat silently with a solemn expression. After a while, he replied, "It's just as you suspected. Back then, Yhala wasn't the only powerhouse projected into the Chaos District. Instead, it was the entire universe in front of you.

"It's possible that not all the powerhouses in the Nine Districts could be projected into the Chaos District. Thus, they united and forcibly projected this universe into the Chaos District. Initially, the universe went undiscovered for some time. But when it was discovered, a huge battle broke out. Countless powerhouses from the Chaos District participated, and many peerless cultivators perished."

The phantom briefly explained the past event.

He had also participated in that fight. However, their enemies were terrifyingly strong even though they were only projections. Ultimately, he fled the battlefield for fear of losing his life.

"Let's go."

Waleria's voice rang in his ears.

James snapped back to reality. He followed behind Waleria and left the ancient battlefield together. They rushed toward the next location sealed by a formation.

Meanwhile, a meeting was taking place in the Yhala Sect's headquarters. Yvan sat in the highest seat of the hall, and powerhouses of the Yhala Sect and Daemonium Sect stood below him.

Yvan looked at the powerhouses below him, stood up, and said, "It's a crucial period for the Yhala Sect and the Daemonium Sect right now."

'Yhala was killed by a powerhouse from the Chaos District. Her soul was directly obliterated with just one sword attack.

“However, she had already prepared for her death. She formulated a plan to be resurrected. As long as she comes back to life, she will instantly enter the Chaos Rank. When that happens, the Yhala Sect will definitely gain a firm foothold in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

“Everyone here will have contributed to her resurrection. The Yhala Sect will reward everyone handsomely.”

Yvan’s voice resounded through the hall.

A powerhouse suddenly stepped forward, knelt on one knee, and said solemnly, ‘Tell me what I need to do, Sir. I’m ready to do whatever is needed of me.’

Yvan smiled faintly and said, “My Master, Yhala, had obtained a transcendent skill called the Death Ephialtes.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4602-The Death Ephialtes was a legendary skill. Its origin was unknown, but the condition for cultivating it was incredibly harsh. One would have to die to cultivate it.

Thus, nobody has dared to try cultivating it from ancient times to the present.

Yhala already predicted her death, so she made arrangements in advance.

‘The Death Ephialtes requires a huge amount of energy inside one’s body. Yhala merged this universe into the Yhala Realm before her death to prepare for this day.

“Many creatures have entered the Yhala Realm. After their deaths, they will become potent energy and be absorbed by Yhala’s body. After her body absorbs enough energy, she will come back to life and enter the Chaos Rank.

“Your task is to kill the cultivators that have entered the Yhala Realm.”

Yvan issued an order to the powerhouses gathered in the hall.

A huge number of powerhouses had entered the Yhala Realm.

The Yhala Realm's exit had been closed, and powerful formations had sealed it.

Before Yhala's death, she set up these powerful formations. Only powerhouses at the Chaos Rank could break through them.

However, no cultivator trapped inside the Yhala Realm had reached the Chaos Rank. They were like trapped prey waiting to be killed.

"Yes, sir."

A neat and loud reply resounded in the hall.

Yvan continued, saying, "The position of the Daemonium Sect's Leader is vacant right now. Whoever contributes the most this time will succeed in the position."

The powerhouses inside the hall were instantly enticed by his words, especially Saachi.

Saachi wanted to take over the Daemonium Sect and use their force to attack the Aeternus District.

Meanwhile, the cultivators that had entered the Yhala Realm were completely clueless about the impending danger, including James.

James and Waleria ventured through a destroyed ancient ruin.

While walking through the rubble, James asked out of curiosity, "Can you really enter the Chaos Rank?"

"Of course." Waleria was smug and said proudly, "I've cultivated the Revitalizing Art to perfection and have already broken through the threshold of the Chaos Rank. As long as I can restore my strength, I'll easily enter the Chaos Rank."

"What are you planning to do after entering the Chaos Rank?" asked James.

"I never really thought about it."

Waleria touched her chin pensively. She had never given her future much consideration before.

Suddenly, she pointed forward and asked, "What is that?"

A spectral mountain range ahead of them had suddenly appeared ahead of them. Atop one of the mountains was a dreamy palace that looked almost non-existent.

James looked ahead of them in surprise and replied, "I don't know."

Gradually, the mountain range and palace became opaque.

The appearance of the majestic mountain range immediately caught everyone's attention. The cultivators in the Yhala Realm quickly gathered around it.

Swoosh!!!

When a crowd formed outside the mountain range, a few mysterious beings in black clothing emerged and attacked them by surprise. A few weaker cultivators were killed instantly, whereas the stronger ones were also injured.

James also detected creatures secretly approaching him.
