

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4603

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4603-James turned around abruptly and thrust his palm forward. A terrifying palm force burst out and struck the void.

A black-clothed being quickly emerged to block James' attack. The confrontation caused a terrifying shock wave to spread to the surroundings.

Both James and the black-clothed being were pushed away by the force.

The black-clothed man's wrinkled face was full of shock. He stood in the distance and said, "I wasn't expecting you to have improved so much in just a short period."

James finally could see his opponent's face. It was the Daemonium Sect's Elder, Xylon, a powerhouse at the late stage of the Caelum Acme Rank.

James no longer feared Caelum Acmeans. Although he was only at the Permanence Acme Rank, he had entered the Boundless Rank while at the Quasi Acme Rank. Moreover, he had reached remarkably high attainments in the Boundless Rank, and his bloodline power was extremely strong.

Assuming his opponent was a late-stage Caelum Acmean that had not entered the Boundless Rank, he would still be able to put up a fight even if he could not kill his opponent.

"It's you again?" James looked at Xylon coldly.

He did not have a very good impression of the Daemonium Sect, especially Zeloneth. Previously, he almost died because Zeloneth was hunting him down. Now that Xylon had tried to ambush him, his hatred toward them deepened, and a strong urge to fight rose in his heart.

Waleria promptly grabbed James and whispered, "Don't act rashly. We're inside Yhala Realm, and all of the Daemonium Sect's powerhouses have gathered here. Their Deputy Master and Master might appear if you provoke them. We won't even stand a chance against the Four Grand Mages, let alone the two of them."

James immediately calmed down. Then, he said coldly, "I'm not interested in fighting you today. Get lost."

Xylon knew James was not an easy opponent, so he did not insist on a fight and quickly disappeared from their sight.

James sensed the shock waves of countless battles permeating the air. Although the pervading forces were strong, the mountain range ahead of them was unscathed and seemed protected by a mysterious power.

With a frown, James asked perplexedly, "What's going on? Why is the Daemonium Sect attacking the powerhouses gathered here?"

Waleria replied distraughtly, "My biggest fear has happened."

She had a bad premonition that the Daemonium Sect was scheming something after they publicized the location of the Yhala Realm and permitted others to enter freely.

James looked at Waleria and asked, "What should we do now?"

Waleria thought awhile and replied, "We need to get out of here first. The Daemonium Sect is very powerful. If we're not including my Sect Leader's strength, the Daemonium Sect's overall strength is superior to my sect. We'll be digging our graves if we confront them now. We need to find out their true motive and plan accordingly."

After speaking, she pulled James and left the area.

Soon, the two arrived in a desolate area.

James sat down on a rock, and Waleria stood in front of him.

None of them spoke a word.

James suddenly stood up and broke the silence, saying, "I'll go ask around."

Saachi had joined the Daemonium Sect and was promoted to an elder. She definitely knew about their motive. Thus, James planned to ask her about it.

Waleria looked at him and said, "With how things are right now, we should stay together. The Yhala Realm isn't safe, and we might encounter members of the Daemonium Sect. If that happens, we can at least look out for each other."

"Alright." James nodded.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4604

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4604-The Daemonium Sect was already on the move. However, James and Waleria had not figured out their ultimate goal.

James decided to ask Saachi about it. As an elder of the Daemonium Sect, she would definitely be informed about their plan.

The two quickly left the area.

James scanned the Yhala Realm for Saachi's aura.

Soon, he detected her with some of the Daemonium Sect's disciples besieging a Caelum Acmean.

The Caelum Acmean was forced to retreat. Unfortunately, he was killed in less than ten days.

However, he took down many of the Daemonium Sect's disciples.

After the Caelum Acmean was killed, the Daemonium Sect's disciples gathered to heal their injuries. Saachi stood aside with her sword stuck into the ground. She folded her hands and coldly looked into the distance.

At that moment, two figures appeared without a sign.

Saachi immediately drew her sword and pointed it at James and Waleria.

As soon as Saachi drew her weapon from the ground, the Daemonium Sect's disciples, who were treating their wounds, stood up. They summoned their weapons and stared warily at the two people ahead.

"Saachi," James greeted her.

Saachi had a cold expression and emitted a corrupted aura. James felt sorry after seeing her in such a state. She was completely different from when they had first met.

"Get lost," Saachi replied coldly.

James looked at the Daemonium Sect's disciples behind Saachi, grabbed Waleria's hand, and said, "We should retreat first."

The two quickly left the area.

The Daemonium Sect's disciples were relieved after seeing them retreat and put away their weapons.

A middle-aged man walked over and called out respectfully, "Elder."

Saachi ordered, "Everyone is already injured. Immediately lead them back to recuperate. I'll go kill the other powerhouses alone."

"Yes, ma'am." The middle-aged man nodded and led the troops away.

Soon, Saachi was left alone in the area. She looked into the distant void.

Waleria and James emerged in the void and appeared in her sight.

The two walked over and stopped in front of her.

Saachi waved her hand and set up a formation to block out other beings' Divine Sense.

"What do you need from me?" Saachi's expression relaxed significantly, but she was not friendly with them.

James went straight to the point. "The Daemonium Sect has begun hunting down other living beings in the Yhala Realm. I want to know their goal."

Saachi replied honestly, "It's a very long story that dates back to when Yhala was still alive."

She told them the whole story. Then, she looked at them and said, "If you want to survive, it's best to hide. Don't expose yourself. The killing will probably stop when we have enough energy to resurrect Yhala."

After giving them the information needed, Saachi left.

James' brows' furrowed. He turned to Waleria and asked, "Do you know about the Death Ephialtes?"

Waleria nodded lightly and said, "Of course."

Intrigued, James asked, "Where's it from?"

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4605

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4605-Waeria explained, "Countless years ago, the Chaos District's Leader ruled over the Endlos' Ten Districts. Back then, he had many powerhouses under him. Among them, one wanted to create an invincible Supernatural Power. Unfortunately, he kept experimenting but never succeeded before the Chaos District's Leader was attacked, and the Chaos District was in turmoil.

"Eventually, he created the Death Ephialtes but never perfected it. Never would I have thought that Yhala got her hands on the Death Ephialtes and tried to cultivate it."

James' brows furrowed tighter. He rubbed his forehead and said, "The Daemonium Sect is a huge problem. What should we do now? Should we listen to Saachi and go into hiding?"

After briefly contemplating it, James came up with an idea. He looked at Waleria and said, "Didn't you say you'd be able to restore your strength to its peak and enter the Chaos Rank in about tens of millions of years? How about you enter a space I've created and set up a time formation to cultivate with peace of mind? Meanwhile, I'll find a place to hide and wait for you to regain your strength."

Waleria looked at him awkwardly. Her claim to regain her strength and enter the Chaos Rank in tens of millions of years was a bluff.

She could recover her strength, but entering the Chaos Rank was not that easy. Even if she had tens of thousands of Epochs, she still might not be able to enter the Chaos Rank.

"Actually, about that..." Waleria said hesitantly, "I lied. The Revitalizing Art is indeed amazing, but it also has a downside. After casting it, I'll enter an extended vulnerable period. In short, I won't be able to enter the Chaos Rank so quickly."

"I knew it," James said, frustrated, "Forget it. Pretend I didn't say anything. Let's figure out something to survive for now."

James sat down on the ground. He was powerless against the formidable Daemonium Sect.

The Daemonium Sect was attacking with full force.

Although James had the Ancestral Blood Master's phantom with him, the phantom was not strong enough.

The phantom could only last for one day against Zeloneth. Thus, he wanted to save the phantom for a critical moment.

Meanwhile, Waleria was also out of ideas.

She could not stop the Daemonium Sect's operation and save everyone in the Yhala Realm, even if at her peak strength. At her prime, she was on par with Yvan or perhaps slightly weaker.

Moreover, the Daemonium Sect had more than one powerhouse like Yvan.

Suddenly, a plan popped up in her mind.

"Let's look for Yhala's corpse. As long as we destroy it, she will not be able to use the Death Ephialtes to resurrect. If it failed, the Daemonium Sect won't need to provide energy to her body anymore."

James rolled his eyes.

"You're so naive. The Daemonium Sect definitely has her body. We'll need to break into the Daemonium Palace to do that."

Discouraged by James' words, Waleria slumped to the ground.

The two leaned on each other's backs and sighed simultaneously.

"I know where her body is."

A voice suddenly resounded near them.

The two quickly returned to their feet and looked toward the void ahead. A woman slowly emerged and walked toward them. Her face was pale, and she seemed to have been injured.

James and Waleria stared at the approaching woman warily.

While approaching, the woman reassured them, saying, “No need to be on guard. I come with no ill intentions.”

James asked, “Who are you?”

The woman replied, “My name is Qreeola Sayon. I’m Yhala’s disciple, and I’ve been hiding in the Yhala Realm. My job is working with Yvan to complete Yhala’s plan.”

James was stunned by her words.

Waleria asked doubtfully, “If you’re her disciple, why have you come to us? Why are you trying to disrupt her plan?”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4606

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4606-Qreeola immediately revealed her identity.

Her face was incredibly pale. Just as she was about to speak, she coughed up a mouthful of blood and fell to the ground.

James and Waleria took a few steps backward, keeping a safe distance from Qreeola.

They could not verify who she was yet, so they wanted to be more careful.

Qreeola got up from the ground with difficulty and sat in a lotus position. She urged her energy to heal and stabilize her injuries. After a while, she felt better.

She raised her head toward James and Waleria.

“Yvan is Yhala’s eldest disciple and also her favorite. I had a disagreement with him, which led to him attacking me.

Fortunately, I sent a clone to meet with him, or I would’ve died.”

Qreeola explained her situation, and her face gradually darkened.

“I did everything he asked of me, but he only has Yhala in his heart. He ruthlessly tried to take my life, so my loyalty to him is gone.”

After hearing her story, James turned to Waleria and asked, "What do you think?"

Waleria gave it a brief thought and replied, "We don't have a better plan anyway. I think we can give it a go."

James turned to Qreeola and asked, "Then tell us where her body is and the details of your plan."

Qreeola stood up slowly and said, "Yhala's body is buried in the central region of this realm. A powerful formation is set up around this realm, allowing her body to absorb the energy of a cultivator that dies."

"So, what exactly is your plan?" asked Waleria.

Qreeola explained slowly, "I want to prevent Yhala's resurrection. The only way to achieve that is to completely destroy her body. However, I can't get close to her body in the central region alone. That's why I need help."

James questioned, "Why us? There are countless powerhouses in the Yhala Realm, many of whom are stronger than us."

Qreeola looked toward Waleria and replied, "Because she's the Theos Sect's Grand Sect Elder."

In the past, Qreeola had been living within the Yhala Realm. After it was opened and she severed ties with the Daemonium Sect, she secretly investigated many things. Thus, she was aware of James and Waleria.

Although Waleria had not recovered to her peak strength, she was still the Theos Sect's Grand Sect Elder and definitely had various combat means.

Therefore, Qreeola decided they were the best partners.

James pulled Waleria aside, waved his hand, and set up an isolation formation. Then, he asked, "Do you believe her?"

Waleria thought about it and replied, "I think we can trust her."

"What makes you think so?"

"Because the Daemonium Sect is incredibly powerful. If their goal is to kill me, they could've sent the Four Grand Mages, their Deputy Sect Leader, or Sect Leader. I wouldn't stand a chance against any of them right now. It's unnecessary to send her and come up with so many lies just to get rid of me."

"Alright. Then, we'll believe her for now. It would be best if we could destroy Yhala's body by cooperating with her. Even if our plan fails, we have nothing to lose either."

After a brief discussion inside the formation, the two came to a conclusion.

They dispersed the formation, and James walked over with a bright smile. "You're name was Qreeola, right? We'll believe you for now and will join you."

"Count me in."

Suddenly, a voice resounded.

James, Waleria, and Qreeola's expressions darkened instantly.

Qreeola had set up a formation to prevent other cultivators'

Divine Senses from finding them. However, someone managed to break into her formation.

The three of them scanned their surroundings warily.

A woman slowly approached from the distance.

She wore a black dress and had some black energy emitting from her body. Her aura made her seem like an evil person.

"Saachi?" James looked at her surprisedly and asked, "Didn't you already leave? Why did you come back? Did you hear everything?"

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4607

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4607-Saachi approached them and stopped in front of them. Then, she replied, "I left but came back after sensing a powerhouse nearby."

"Then what do you want?" Waleria glared at Saachi warily.

She felt disgusted by Saachi's aura.

Saachi replied truthfully, "I want to go to the central region of this realm to replace Yhala and absorb the energy in this realm. I'd like to disrupt Yvan's plan and kill him. Then, I can take his position as the Yhala Sect and Daemonium Sect's Leader."

Saachi boldly expressed his ambitions.

Hearing this, Qreeola glanced at her thoughtfully.

Waleria, on the other hand, burst out laughing.

"Haha! What gives you such confidence? Do you understand what you're talking about? Have you an idea how powerful Yvan is?"

Saachi did not bother responding to her sneers.

To relieve the tense atmosphere, James said while smiling, "The more help we can get, the better. From now onward, we're allies on the same boat. We have to work together to disrupt Yvan's plan."

Qreeola said, "First, we must find a place to avoid attracting attention. The Daemonium Sect and Yhala Sect are hunting down the powerhouses in this realm. We should hide first and only act after the battles calm down."

"Alright." Waleria nodded.

James and Saachi did not have any objections.

The four hid their auras and quietly left the place. They quickly transversed through the Yhala Realm and soon arrived in an ancient place. There was an ancient formation blocking their path. Although it was already broken, it still contained powerful force.

"Can you break it?" asked Waleria.

James examined the formation for a while and replied, "Shouldn't be a problem."

He raised his hand and summoned some ancient formation inscriptions. The inscriptions submerged into the formation and immediately transformed to match the inscriptions used to set up the formation.

Shortly after, a crack formed.

Astonished, Waleria said, “You’re a really strange guy. What actually do you cultivate? I’ve never seen or heard of such techniques.”

James chuckled but did not explain himself. He changed the topic, saying, “Let’s head inside to take cover for now.”

After speaking, he passed through the crack in a flash.

Waleria, Saachi, and Qreeola followed closely behind him.

After entering the formation, the crack closed up.

Meanwhile, the scenery in front of the four had changed.

They saw a beautiful mountain range and rivers ahead of them. There was a giant stone tablet not far away with words carved onto it.

The stone tablet looked dilapidated but still emitted a powerful Sword Intent.

The Sword Intent spread like torrential ocean waves.

Seeing the words engraved onto the stone tablet, Waleria exclaimed, “The Saber Sect?”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4608

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4608-James looked at the startled Waleria and asked, “What is the Saber Sect?”

Meanwhile, Saachi frowned as if she also knew about the Saber Sect.

Waleria took a deep breath and explained, “The Saber Sect is a powerful force that existed countless eons ago. Before the Chaos Sect’s Leader entered the Chaos Rank and became the Endlos Leader, the Saber Sect used to be able to suppress the Chaos Sect.”

Waleria turned to Qreeola and asked, “You’ve been in this realm for a long time, so you should know about the ruins here, right? The Saber Sect’s ruins disappeared ages ago, so why is it here in the Yhala Realm?”

Qreeola explained, "Many years ago, this universe did not exist. However, many powerhouses sensed the Chaos District's existence and forcibly pieced this universe together."

Waleria asked puzzledly, "Why?"

James was equally curious about the many secrets revolving around the Yhala Realm.

Saachi, who was from the Aeternus District, was clueless about the Yhala Realm. Thus, she stood aside silently and listened.

Qreeola elaborated, saying, "Because these powerhouses sensed the existence of the Chaos District. The Chaos District is a very extraordinary place, and they were unable to enter it. For them to be projected into the Chaos District, they had to move a few ancient ruins from ancient times into this realm. Then, they used the power of these ancient ruins to weaken the district's barrier. It was the only way to project this world into there."

James touched his chin pensively.

The Endlos' Nine Districts had countless powerhouses.

However, none of them were capable of entering the Chaos District. Ultimately, they had no choice but to project themselves into the Chaos District through such extensive means.

Meanwhile, the Chaos Master was capable of piercing through the Chaos and killing Yhala's main body, which was somewhere in the Endlos' Nine Districts. Judging from this, the Chaos Master must have been a terrifying powerhouse. Or, more precisely, his Nine Voices of Chaos was a horrifying existence.

From what James learned, Teresa was the one that helped and guided the Chaos Master to cultivate the Nine Voices of Chaos.

James pondered, 'Could it be that the Dooms, the Chaos Master, and Teresa are related to the former Endlos Lord?'

Qreeola continued, saying, "Thus, it's not really strange to find the ruins of the Saber Sect that had vanished countless years ago here."

James put away his thoughts. He looked toward the scenery before him and asked, "What's in here? Have you checked it before?"

Qreeola shook her head. "No, Yhala has warned me not to recklessly enter these restricted areas as they are full of danger."

Even though Qreeola lived in the Yhala Realm for many years, she had only ventured into a few restricted areas, which she had confidence in surviving and avoided the more dangerous areas.

The Saber Sect was an area she had not explored before.

"Since we're already here, let's have a look."

After speaking, James walked forward with strides.

"You guys can go ahead. I'll stay here to treat my injuries."

Qreeola was severely injured and did not want to venture into the Saber Sect. She was already a powerhouse, and ordinary treasures did not interest her.

Although Yvan managed to destroy her clone, she was still a considerable powerhouse.

In her prime, she was not much inferior to Yvan. She was only injured because she did not have her guard up against Yvan and was not expecting him to attack her.

James advanced and soon arrived at the stone tablet. He raised his head and looked at the words engraved on the stone tablet-Saber Sect.

The two words contained extremely powerful Sword Intent.

Even though countless eons had passed, the Sword Intent was still potent. Ordinary Caelum Ac means would never be able to resist its powers.

James asked, "What's the Saber Sect's origin?"

Waleria answered, 'The Saber Sect is on par with the current Nine District's leading sect. Many years ago, it was a dominating force in the Nine Districts. No, back then, it was still the Ten Districts.'

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4609

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4609-Curious, James asked, "Why did the Saber Sect disappear?"

Waleria shook her head and said, "How would I know?"

James did not ask further since he could not get an answer.

The group continued advancing. Soon, they arrived at the Saber Sect's main mountain.

From a distance, the mountain looked like a sharp blade inserted into the ground. It was surrounded by unnoticeable Sword Energy. Unless one were a peerless powerhouse, it would be hard to detect the Sword Energy around it.

James and his companions stood outside the main hall's entrance, which had not been opened for countless years.

James walked over, raised his hand, and tried to push the door open. However, the door remained motionless.

He mobilized all his strength and attempted it again, but it was useless.

'The door's incredibly heavy.' James withdrew his hand and stepped backward.

After examining the door for a while, Waleria said, 'There's a restriction placed on the door. Normal cultivators aren't capable of opening it.'

"Is that so? How come I can't sense the restriction?"

James scrutinized the door and tried to find the restriction.

However, he was to no avail. To him, the door seemed very ordinary and was not emitting any powers.

Waleria summoned a few mysterious inscriptions from her palm. The inscriptions floated over to the door and submerged into it.

The door suddenly reacted. A few rows of words appeared and began circulating the door's surface.

“It’s a Sword Seal.” Waleria immediately recognized the seal and said. The restriction placed on the door is a Sword Seal. We need someone with powerful swordsmanship to open it.”

“Someone with powerful swordsmanship? I fit the description.”

James smiled lightly and raised his hand. An illusory long sword manifested in his hand, and then he mobilized all of his Sword Path’s Power.

His long sword grew brighter, and a powerful Sword Energy burst toward the door.

A terrifying Sword Intent emerged from the door and struck James.

The force blasted James away. He fell to the ground and spat out a mouthful of blood.

Waleria reprimanded him, “I said we need someone with powerful swordsmanship.”

James got up from the ground and said embarrassedly, “ Well, I thought I was a pretty skilled swordsman.”

Waleria rolled her eyes and said, ‘You must have misunderstood what a skilled swordsman is. I meant to say we need someone at least at the Caelum Boundless Rank.’

James replied helplessly, That means I’m far from becoming a skilled swordsman.”

He looked toward Waleria and asked, “So can you open it?”

“In my prime, yes. But now, no,” said Waleria.

James stopped asking questions and turned around, walking toward another area.

The Saber Sect used to be a powerful force in the past, and they definitely had great treasures left behind in their ruins. James felt they would not necessarily be in the main hall. Thus, he wanted to search the other areas.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4610

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4610-Inside the Saber Sect's ruins, the main mountain was the only place relatively preserved. The other areas had already been reduced to piles of rubble on the ground. Even though there were a few with standing buildings, they were mostly partially intact.

The Empyrean Spiritual Energy in the Saber Sect was dense. However, after searching for so long, James could not find any Empyrean herbs or treasures.

After searching the entire area, he turned back to the main hall.

He sat on the door's threshold in a daze.

Waleria and Saachi stood beside him.

James looked at the two women and asked, "What should we do now? Do you just keep hiding here?"

Waleria shook her head, expressing she had no plans.

Saachi, on the other hand, remained silent.

James gave up asking them for ideas.

He wanted to find a way to enter the main hall to try his luck in finding Supernatural Powers that had been left behind.

James attempted to open the door again.

Unfortunately, his efforts were futile.

Meanwhile, Waleria had already set up a time formation outside the main hall to recover her strength.

Saachi also began to cultivate. Her body emitted corrupted energy, and her eyes had a terrifying glare as if a storm was brewing with her. If she were to unleash her power, it would undoubtedly cause mass destruction.

With everyone in cultivation, James was left with nothing to do.

He stood outside the main hall and stared at the countless mysterious words circulating on the door ahead of him.

“Mr. Xrival, can you open the seal on the door?” James asked the Ancestral Blood Master’s phantom for help.

‘Yes.’

The Ancestral Blood Master’s voice rang in his mind.

“The seal is very powerful. It’s going to consume a lot of my energy to open it. If I have to fight sometime soon, my energy will only last for half a day. If my energy is exhausted, this phantom body will disappear.”

James responded, “Open it.”

Fighting for one whole day and half a day did not make a huge difference.

James did not intend to ask the Ancestral Blood Master to help him kill anyone. He simply needed his help to deter other powerhouses when necessary.

“Alright. I’ll need to borrow your body to open it.”

James felt a powerful force pouring into his body. Gradually, he lost control over his body’s movements.

The Ancestral Blood Master’s phantom had taken over his body.

He raised James’ hand, and a long sword gradually materialized.

The Ancestral Blood Master slashed the sword at the door.

A radiant Sword Energy morphed out and submerged into the door.

The door began to glow brightly, and a powerful force emerged to rapidly absorb the Sword Energy.

Waleria and Saachi immediately detected the abnormality and stopped their cultivation.

The two looked toward James, standing in front of the door and holding onto a bright long sword.

Waleria was surprised after sensing the Sword Energy formed from James' long sword. She exclaimed, "He's been hiding his strength really well. That's some really powerful Sword Energy."

Saachi was equally as shocked. She traveled with James for a long time and was familiar with his strength. However, the impressive power he was displaying right now was that of someone who had entered the Caelum Boundless Rank.

The door continuously absorbed the Sword Energy. After it completely absorbed the majestic power, the restrictive power weakened. Immediately afterward, the door opened.