The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4611-A powerful force morphed out from the door and sucked James inside the hall.

After James entered the hall, the door closed behind him, and the restrictive seal resurfaced.

Outside the door, Waleria and Saachi exited their respective time formations. The two stood before the door and looked at each other in confusion.

‘The Caelum Boundless Rank?’ they spoke in unison.

Meanwhile, James was inside a vast hall with patterns on the surrounding walls. In the highest seat of the hall was a middle-aged man.

“I’ve already consumed half of my energy to open the door. My phantom body’s energy can be replenished with Empyrean herbs or any rare items that contain energy.”

James replied, “Got it. I’ll do my best to find Empyrean herbs to maintain your phantom body. I feel more assured about surviving in the Endlos’ Nine Districts with your help.”

After speaking, James looked toward the man sitting at the highest seat of the hall with curiosity.

The man wore a white robe and looked unsullied by the world.

James walked over, and a light breeze swept forward.

The breeze instantly caused the man in the highest seat to wither. His clothes and flesh crumbled into dust, leaving only a scarred skeleton in place.

James walked over and briefly examined it. Then, he turned his attention to the surrounding walls with mysterious patterns.

The patterns on the wall were mysterious drawings of exquisite Sword Moves.

“Universal Sword Art.”

As soon as James began examining the drawings, a voice resounded in his mind.

Startled by the booming voice, James felt his mind go blank. He suddenly entered a trance-like state, and the drawings around him began to move.

James watched the drawings come to life and perform profound swordsmanship.

He tried to comprehend the technique but suddenly passed out.

A long time passed before he finally regained consciousness.

When he opened his eyes, he felt dizzy.

“What profound swordsmanship.”

James took a deep breath and sat in a lotus position. He urged his energy to readjust himself. After a while, he felt much better.

“Did you understand anything, Mr. Xrival?”

James asked the Ancestral Blood Master about the drawings.

The Ancestral Blood Master replied, “It’s a profound sword technique created by the various Path Powers of heaven and earth. Its strength is terrifying. Unfortunately, I could only comprehend the basics, not the entire technique. You’ll need a Thousand Paths Holy Body and to cultivate all the Paths of heaven and earth in order to practice it. That said, it suits you very well.”

James was excited after hearing his words.

A Sword Move created with the heaven and earth’s various Paths sounded tailor-made for him.

“I wasn’t expecting to stumble upon such great treasure inside the Saber Sect’s main hall.”

James stood up and looked at the skeleton in the highest seat.

He bowed and said, “Thank you for leaving the Universal Sword Art here, Sir.”

After he expressed his gratitude, a trace of white mist emerged from the skeleton and gathered to form a translucent figure.

The figure floated above the main hall and stared at James. Immediately afterward, an evident look of disappointment flashed on his face.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4612-James immediately noticed the disdain and disappointment on the figure's face. He greeted tentatively, "Sir?"

The blurry figure gradually materialized into a physical body. He looked at James puzzledly and asked, "How did you enter the Saber Sect with such a low cultivation base?"

The man had set up the formation around the Saber Sect, making it impossible for outsiders to break without tremendous strength. However, a human cultivator at the Permanence Acme Rank had appeared in the Saber Sect's main hall. Thus, he was incredibly confused by the situation.

James replied truthfully, "It's true I don't have the strength to break the seal. However, the phantom body of a powerhouse resides inside a space I've created. He's the one that helped me open the seal placed on the door."

"I see," the man murmured. He looked at James and said, "Although your cultivation base is relatively low, fate brought you here, and it was meant to be. Moreover, your physique is incredibly compatible with the Universal Sword Art."

Intrigued, James asked, "Were you the one that left the Universal Sword Art here?"

The man nodded lightly and replied, "Yeah."

He harked back into the past. After a long while, he said, "The Universal Sword Art is a Supernatural Art that I've spent my whole life creating."

'The Chaos District's Leader created the Chaos Sacred Art and cultivated Chaos Power to enter the unprecedented Chaos Rank. To surpass him, I've retreated to this place and poured my heart into creating a Supernatural Power superior to the Chaos Sacred Art.

‘That’s how the Universal Sword Art was born. It consumed all my time and strength, but I never managed to perfect it. Otherwise, it would’ve become one of the greatest Sword Art ever to exist. It’s a pity I didn’t have enough time to complete it. I recorded everything about it on the stone walls here, hoping someone would enter this place, inherit it, then perfect it.’

His words took James aback.

He thought, ‘The Chaos District’s Leader created the Chaos Sacred Art? Was the Grand Patriarch of Doom Race not the creator of it?’

James immediately recalled that the Dooms’ Grand Patriarch had cultivated the Chaos’ Nine Voices under Xezal’s guidance.

That would mean Xezal was familiar with the Chaos’ Nine Voices and somehow acquainted with the Chaos District’s Leader. Perhaps she was the daughter of the Chaos District’s Leader.

James immediately came up with a lot of conjectures.

The man looked at James and interrupted his thought, saying, “Young man. Although your cultivation rank isn’t impressive, you have a good physique. It’s rare to have Thousand Paths Holy Body. It’s really compatible with cultivating the Universal Sword Art, and you’ll have a much easier time than others.”

“I’ve recorded everything I’ve created about the Universal Sword Art on the surrounding walls. Unfortunately, it’s still lacking the last part. I hope you’ll be able to perfect it.”

The man’s body gradually became translucent, and his voice slowly weakened. Soon, he completely vanished from James’ sight.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4613-James immediately asked the Ancestral Blood Master, “Mr. Xrival, the woman you fought previously, Teresa. Do you know anything about her background?”

The Ancestral Blood Master's phantom resided inside the seal within James' body. His main self had fought with Teresa before, and he was aware of the event. However, he knew very little about her and her clone, Xezal.

He replied, "I know of her existence but nothing about her detailed background. From my understanding, Teresa has always been a mysterious existence. She had appeared in the Doom Race before and was the Chaos Master's teacher. After the first Sky Burial, she vanished. However, a mysterious person appeared in the Doom Race and served as the personal maid of the Doom Race's Patriarch."

James said thoughtfully, 'You know about the Chaos District's Leader, the Endlos Leader, and the Endlos' hidden tenth district, the Chaos District. As a powerhouse that existed before the first Sky Burial, you must also know about some milestones of the Chaos District's Leader, right?'

The Ancestral Blood Master replied, "No, unfortunately. Perhaps the Chaos District's Leader's injuries had relapsed, and he died before I was born. Regardless, it's certain that the Doom Race within the Chaos District is related to the Chaos District's Leader. In addition, Teresa is also somehow connected to him."

James sighed and said, "What a pity. We could've asked Xezal about it if you didn't separate us when we arrived in the outside territory."

'You'll find out the truth sooner or later. Right now, you should focus on understanding the Universal Sword Art that's recorded on the stone walls. It's a very profound technique. However, the cultivation conditions are harsh, and one must have a Thousand Paths Holy Body.'

The Ancestral Blood Master stopped talking.

James put his doubts away and set up a time formation. Then, he began to study the drawings on the stone wall.

He stared at a drawing, and it began to move. Suddenly, he entered a magical place that had powerful Sword Intent. He was surrounded by Sword Energy which was strong enough to instantly kill a powerhouse at the peak of the Caelum Acme Rank.

"Water?" James sensed the existence of the Water Path.

The Water Path was incredibly powerful and also contained Sword Path Power.

James noticed a drop of water rapidly transforming in front of him. Gradually, it evolved into the Sword Path.

He would be overwhelmed by dizziness when he attempted to comprehend them together. However, he was able to inspect them and study them separately. Therefore, James had to go through them one by one.

The drawings on the wall recorded the process of the various Paths of heaven and earth forming into the Sword Path. Every drawing would evolve into the Caelum Acme Rank and ultimately transform into a Sword Path.

James had already cultivated the various Paths of heaven and earth. Thus, it was easy for him to comprehend the Universal Sword Art.

Time passed by unknowingly while he studied the Universal Sword Art. James' body also gradually transformed, and potent power emerged from his blood and muscles. His bones had also grown stronger.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4614-James noticed the change in himself and immediately beamed with a bright smile. After comprehending the Universal Sword Art, he had gone through a complete transformation, and his whole body was filled with potent Path Powers.

The Path Powers were not from his cultivation efforts but were generated from his own body.

James exclaimed, "So this is the real power of the Thousand Paths Holy Body."

His whole body exuded the Path Powers of heaven and earth without him having to mobilize them.

After James' Thousand Paths Holy Body had been awakened, his Omniscience Path had also improved and reached the late stage of the Ninth Stage. In addition, his physical strength, bloodline power, and Spiritual Power had also skyrocketed.

James sensed the changes because of the Thousand Paths Holy Body and exclaimed, “Amazing.”

The Ancestral Blood Master said in surprise, “I thought having a Thousand Paths Holy Body’s benefit was only making it easier for one to cultivate the various Paths of heaven and earth. I never expected an awakening to happen.”

James’ Thousand Paths Holy Body was indeed terrifying. He only had a preliminary understanding of the Universal Sword Art and could not cultivate it further because of his limited cultivation base. He was far from perfecting it.

“My cultivation base is still too weak. I must improve as soon as possible, reach the late stage of the Permanence Acme Rank, and enter the Permanence Boundless Rank.”

James was eager to cultivate. However, he had already spent a lot of time studying the Universal Sword Art and was clueless about the situation outside.

He dispersed the time formation and found that a hundred thousand years had passed.

“I wonder what’s the situation outside right now.”

James planned to leave for now. Since he had already obtained the Universal Sword Art, there was nothing left in the hall for him to gain. As long as he could improve his cultivation rank, he could continue cultivating the Sword Move.

James turned and returned to the door. When he attempted to leave, the restrictive seal was disabled, allowing him to easily open the door.

As he walked out, the magical drawings on the walls began to disperse and disappear.

James noticed them vanishing but did not bother with it. He walked outside of the hall, and the door closed behind him.

“You’re finally back.”

Waleria immediately approached and observed him. She noticed that James was different from before he entered. It felt like the various Path Powers of heaven and earth were emitting from his body.

“How did you change so much?” Waleria was surprised.

James immediately restrained his aura and hid his Path Powers, quickly returning to normal.

However, he noticed Saachi and Qreeola’s gazes were also fixated on him.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4615-He touched his nose awkwardly and said, “Why is everyone looking at me?”

Waleria stared at him and said, “Who the hell are you? What else are you hiding from me?”

James smiled and said, “What do you mean? I’m not hiding anything. Have you already recovered your strength?”

Waleria observed James for a while but could not figure him out. She gave up and shook her head lightly in response to his question. Then, she said, “How could I recover so easily? Still, I’m already much better than a hundred thousand years ago!”

James turned to Qreeola and asked, “What about you? Have you recovered from your injuries?”

Qreeola also shook her head and replied, “No, but it won’t affect my combat strength. We can’t waste any more time. It’s already been a hundred thousand years. We must leave as soon as possible to stop Yhala’s resurrection.”

James looked toward Saachi. After a hundred thousand years of not seeing her, the aura emitting from her had become even colder. She stood aside like an iceberg that gave off a chilly air.

Despite noticing her changes, James did not say anything to her.

“Let’s head out,” James said, then began descending toward the mountain foot.

Everyone followed behind him.

Soon, they had left the mountain range and were out of the formation.

Everything around them was a mess, and countless cracks could be seen in the surrounding void. Even the universe's Heavenly Path was incapable of repairing the damage.

It was evident fierce battles had taken place during these 100,000 years. Many Caelum Acmeans must have died tragically in the Yhala Realm.

Qreeola pointed in a direction and said, "Let's go. It's that way."

The group hid their auras, entered an invisible state, and quickly traveled toward the central region.

Along the way, they passed by many battles. The Daemonium and Yhala Sect's disciples fought with the powerhouses trapped within the Yhala Realm, turning the entire place upside down.

James' group paid little attention to the battles around them and quickly moved forward. Soon, they arrived at the Yhala Realm's central region.

Ahead of them was a spiritual mountain with a powerful formation. Countless Daemonium and Yhala Sect's disciples stood on guard outside of it.

The group hid themselves and observed the spiritual mountain.

James whispered, "What should we do now? There are so many guards around the formation. We won't be able to approach without a sound. We'll get discovered when we're close to them. We'll have to pave a way with force."

James was not confident in forcefully paving a way through the formation. Even though he had a preliminary understanding of the Universal Sword Art and had awakened his Thousand Paths Holy Body, he still doubted his abilities to take on the Daemonium Sect's powerhouses.

Waleria said, "We'll have to come up with a better plan."

She looked at James and asked, "Can you get us past the formation without breaking it?"

James observed the formation for a while. Although the formation was strong and profound, he could decipher it with sufficient time.

“Yeah, but I’ll need some time to study it.”

Saachi said, “I have a way to get you closer.”

Everyone turned to Saachi.

Saachi explained, “I’m an elder in the Daemonium Sect, so I have the authority to arrange guards around the formation.”

Waleria replied, “Great. You get James closer to the formation, so he can quietly open a passage through the formation. Qreeola and I will wait outside as backups.”

After coming up with a plan, Waleria waved her hand and summoned a few runes. Then, she distributed them among their group.

“Everyone take one rune. We can use the runes to contact each other.”

After the discussion, Saachi and James left.

Saachi used her status as the Daemonium Sect’s Elder, and James disguised himself as one of her followers.

Instead of heading straight toward the formation, Saachi brought James to the Daemonium Palace.
