The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4681-“I have a lot of time to study if I can use a time formation.

It should be easy for me to understand everything in five epochs.” Although James could not comprehend the inscriptions carved on the stone walls, he was relaxed since he had the Primal Mantra.

The Primal Mantra had the most ancient form on inscriptions.

All modern inscriptions have evolved from them.

Thus, James was confident to complete the trial within the limited time.

He quickly set up a time formation inside the confined space.

James had a high comprehension of the Time Path.

Five Epochs to study inside a time formation meant a lot of time for him.

After setting up the formation, James looked for where the inscriptions on the walls started.

He scanned the surrounding walls and finally spotted the starting point.

James walked over to the wall and stared at the inscriptions, trying to figure out how to learn everything in the shortest time possible.

He would have to be able to read the inscriptions before comprehending them.

He sat down in a lotus position on the ground and used the Primal Mantra as well as his knowledge in Paths to convert the inscriptions into their basic forms.

Then, he tried using the Primal Mantra to identify the words.

However, even though he had already used his Path Powers to convert the engraved inscriptions into their simplest form, none of them could be found inside the Primal Mantra.

James had no choice but to try another method.

He began converting the Primal Mantra's inscriptions into more complicated forms, attempting to match their different forms to the carvings on the walls.

Unfortunately, his efforts were futile.

Both his attempts to decipher the inscriptions had failed.

"I don't think this is going to work.

I'll have to study the inscriptions themselves." James halted his actions and began raking his brains for a new method.

He had plenty of time with the time formation, so he was in no rush.

He pondered, 'I wonder what's recorded on the stone walls.

Could it be a Supernatural Power or a cultivation method?' James stared at the first inscription, composed of a few bizarre- looking lines.

After focusing on the inscription, it suddenly evolved into a complex and mysterious inscription.

The transformation happened in a split second, but James captured the entire process.

He closed his eyes and reviewed the process, trying to find the fixed rules of the inscription's transformation.

As long as he could spot a pattern, he would be able to use the Primal Mantra to decipher it.

James sat idly on the ground, and it seemed like time had frozen around him.

"Finally!!! Suddenly, James opened his eyes.

He could immediately see the countless variations of the first inscriptions.

"what a magical inscription." James took a deep breath to calm himself down.

Afterward, he attempted to decipher the subsequent inscriptions.

He had already spotted a pattern while studying the first inscription's transformation, so learning the latter inscriptions was easy.

James studied the inscriptions one by one.

Soon, he completely understood everything engraved on the stone wall.

He discovered the inscriptions were used to record a powerful cultivation method called the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

However, the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra had a matching Supernatural Power called the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

The stone wall stated that each of the Ten Districts had a sacred scroll containing a secret Path Technique.

After cultivating the Ten Path Techniques, they can be fused into the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

James gasped at the discovery and murmured, "So the Ten Districts do indeed have one sacred scroll each, which contains powerful secret techniques.

After mastering all ten, I can merge them to cultivate the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4682-James deciphered the inscriptions on the stone walls, unraveled a lot of information, and finally learned about the content of the sacred scrolls.

However, the identity of the person who left behind the sacred scrolls and the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra was still a mystery.

From James' understanding, the Verde Academy's founder left behind their secret scroll.

James pondered, 'Who could've left behind the other district's sacred scrolls?' He pieced together the information he had gathered with his experiences in the first trial and suspected many significant events must have happened in the Endlos Void.

The later generations were oblivious to them because these events were deliberately erased.

“Huff! James took a deep breath after coming to a conjecture of the situation.

Now that he had figured out the content recorded on the stone walls, he had to cultivate the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

James immediately went into seclusion.

The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra was incredibly profound and complicated.

Even though James understood the inscriptions, learning the cultivation method was difficult.

Not wanting to waste any time, James also began to improve his strength.

He wanted to reach a greater height in the Permanence Boundless Rank to be more formidable when he became a Caelum Acmean.

Time passed by slowly as James cultivated.

His strength gradually improved, and a faint radiance emerged from his body.

The radiance absorbed the Empyrean Spiritual Energy around him, allowing him to refine it into his own strength.

After some time, James finally had a preliminary comprehension of the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

He was surprised that his speed of absorbing and refining Empyrean Spiritual Energy had improved after comprehending the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

Previously, his progress in the Permanence Boundless Rank was relatively slow.

It had increased by tenfold with just a basic understanding of the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

If he were to thoroughly comprehend the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, his cultivation speed would be a hundred times faster.

“Amazing.

“James marveled at the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra’s powers.

He never expected to acquire such an excellent cultivation method while challenging the Supreme Illusions.

After he masters the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, he could improve significantly in the Permanence Boundless Rank and grow stronger in a very short time.

Supposing that he kept growing at this rate, he would be able to fight the top powerhouses in the Endlos’ Nine Districts in no time.

James calmed down and continued to focus on improving his strength.

Thousands of epochs passed in the time formation.

James had completely comprehended the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, and his cultivation speed was a hundred times faster.

Although James wanted to continue cultivating, he had other things to do in the outside world.

He dispersed the time formation and found that only four epochs had passed outside.

There was a lot more time before the trial’s deadline.

He scanned the surrounding walls and saw the inscriptions gradually fading away.

After the inscriptions vanished, the walls fell apart, and a new passage appeared before him.

James approached the passage without any hesitation.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4683-It was a small area with only a hundred meters radius.

Mysterious light walls surrounded him.

Behind the light walls was complete darkness, and James could not see what was hidden within it.

“Welcome.” A voice resounded in the area.

James knew locating the voice’s owner was impossible, so he did not bother trying anymore.

He listened carefully, waiting for the following instructions.

“You’re currently within a Mental Prison.

The trial is very simple.

All you need to do is get out of the Mental Prison.

For this trial, there isn’t a time limit.” “Mental Prison? I just need to escape to pass the trial?” James was slightly taken aback.

He looked at the mysterious light walls surrounding him with doubts.

He approached, attempting to pass through it to leave.

However, a terrifying force emerged and blocked him from advancing.

The unexpected force blasted James away, and he fell to the ground.

His internal organs suffered from the impact, causing him to spit out a mouthful of blood.

James got up from the ground in a disheveled state.

He wiped the blood from his lips and examined the light walls around him.

“What the hell is this place? How do I leave?” Before attempting to leave again, James tended to his injuries.

Once he recovered, he tried to leave in a different direction.

However, the results were the same, and he was injured once again.

James treated his wounds and made another attempt.

He repeatedly tried to pass through the light walls but was to no avail.

After many failed attempts, he gave up.

He sat in a lotus position in the central area and stared at the light walls around him.

He murmured, "Is this similar to one of the trials in the Path of Heavenly Awakening?" James recalled his trial in the Path of Heavenly Awakening, where he was trapped inside a cave on Mount Boundless.

He immediately suspected the trials were similar.

He quickly calmed his mind and thought to himself, 'Since it's called a Mental Prison, it mostly has something to do with my mental fortitude.

I'll probably be able to leave after improving it.

Moreover, the Blithe Omniscience was greatly affected by one's mental fortitude.

I've only a preliminary understanding of the Blithe Omniscience now, so if I master it, nothing can keep me trapped.' James performed the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and slowly cleared his mind.

At the same time, he used the opportunity to improve his cultivation base.

Time passed imperceptibly.

James eliminated all distracting thoughts.

His mind was calm and clear.

Gradually, he lost his perception of time and senses.

His cultivation base improved consistently, and he grew stronger over time.

After a long time, James slowly stood up.

He walked toward the light walls and easily passed through without any obstacles.

The next moment, he arrived on a cliff in an unfamiliar place.

James quickly scanned his surroundings.

He sensed Wael and the other powerhouses from the Verde Academy.

He was ecstatic as it meant he had successfully passed the three trials.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4684-The powerhouses also detected James' return and immediately appeared behind him.

James turned around and noticed the Verde Academy's powerhouses standing on the stone staircase, unable to approach the mountaintop as a mysterious barrier blocked their path.

He walked over and looked at the powerhouses standing before him.

Then, he turned to Wael and said smilingly, "I didn't disappoint you, right, Sir Wael?" Wael looked at him happily and responded, "I knew I was right about you and that the trials were not going to stand in your way." With a proud look, Wael turned to the other Verde Academy's powerhouses and said, "I take it nobody will object to him being the Head of Tempris now, right?" None of the Verde Academy's powerhouses responded.

James had spent a long time in the Supreme Illusions and even a more extended time within his time formation.

He quickly sensed the time but found that only a few hundred years had passed in the real world.

Similar to the Path of Heavenly Awakening, the passage of time within the illusions differed from the real world.

Wael spoke again, "James, there's a library chamber under the cliff.

You will find our sacred scroll on the library chamber's highest floor.

You've already passed the trials and earned the eligibility to read the sacred scroll.

You can go and check it out right now.

If you miss this chance, you must go through the trials again.

Keep in mind that you'll only be able to read it within the library chamber and won't be able to bring it out." James was overjoyed.

He already knew that the sacred scroll contained a Path Technique.

After obtaining the Ten Path Techniques, he would be able to fuse them into the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

He was unable to suppress his excitement and could not help asking, "What's recorded in the sacred scroll?" Wael shook his head and replied, "I'm not sure.

Many of our powerhouses have read it before, but it's too profound for any of us to completely understand it.

Even those who could read it could only understand one-tenth of it." James stopped asking questions and turned around.

He walked to the cliff and glanced down.

Suddenly, he disappeared and reemerged in the canyon.

He saw a mysterious manor with nine floors.

He approached the closed gate ahead of him without hesitation.

As he got close, the gate swung open.

James walked over and saw an elderly man in the yard cleaning up.

He walked over, clasped his fists, and said respectfully, "Nice to meet you, sir. I'm James Caden." The elderly man halted and took a glance at James.

Then, he continued sweeping the fallen leaves and said, "Go ahead.

You can read everything in the library chamber.

However, you're not allowed to take them." James said gratefully, "Thank you, Sir.

Is there a time limit?" "No.

You can stay as long as you want." After speaking, the elderly man walked toward the backyard with his broom.

James quickly headed to the library chamber and ascended to the highest floor, where he saw a bookshelf with an ordinary-looking ancient scroll.

He walked over, picked it up, and rolled the scroll open.

Suddenly, magical beams burst out from it and turned into mysterious inscriptions.

At a glance, James realized the inscriptions were identical to those used to record the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra during his second trial.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4685-James had already studied similar inscriptions during the Supreme Illusion and could easily understand the sacred scroll's contents.

He cleared his mind and wholeheartedly immersed himself in reading the sacred scroll.

While reading, he subconsciously performed the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

Soon, James finished reading the sacred scroll.

Afterward, he sat in a lotus position on the floor and continued to perform the Path Technique recorded inside the sacred scroll.

Gradually, his strength transformed into a brand-new power.

James murmured, "Verde Power? I've developed a new power after cultivating the Path Technique from the sacred scroll." "Is it possible that I can cultivate ten types of powers after learning the Path Techniques of the ten sacred scrolls?

Then, by combining them, I'll obtain the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art? "The Verde District's power is called Verde Power.

Then, the Chaos District's power must be Chaos Power, right?" "Isn't Chaos Power from the Doom Race? Or could the manual of the Chaos Sacred Art be the Chaos District's sacred scroll?" After cultivating Verde Power, James found it to be highly potent.

He had many questions but nobody to answer them.

He took a deep breath and put his thoughts behind him.

Then, he retracted his Verde Power and stopped his cultivation.

James left the library chamber and saw the elderly man still sweeping endless fallen leaves in the yard.

The elderly man spotted James and asked smilingly, "Did you gain anything?" James replied with a smile, "Yeah." "Good, good.

I'm glad." After the brief conversation, the elderly man left for the backyard with his broom.

James stood in place, trying to check the elderly man's cultivation base.

However, even with James' current strength, he could not see through the mysterious man.

The elderly man almost seemed non-existent under his senses.

James murmured, "He must be a powerful cultivator." Afterward, James left the manor.

He returned to the cliff and walked out of the barrier, appearing before Wael and the other Verde Academy's powerhouses.

Wael looked at James and asked, "How did it go? Could you understand what's recorded in the mysterious sacred scroll?"

James smiled and replied, "If even the powerhouses from the Verde Academy couldn't understand it, how would someone like me ever understand it?" After responding, James clasped his hands at the other powerhouses of the Verde Academy.

"I've returned, Sir Lothar, Elders." Lothar waved his hand and said, "You've already passed the trials and will be the next Head of Tempris.

You stand as an equal tous, so there's no need to maintain such formalities with us.

You should return to your residence to prepare.

I'll announce the news and arrange your succession ceremony soon."

"Alright," James replied.

Wael ignored the other powerhouses and quickly grabbed James.

He pulled him away and began chattering nonstop.

"Good job, James! I knew you would be able to do it! You've really made Tempris House proud! Soon, you'll be the Head of Tempris.

I'll be leaving it in your hands.

I hope when I return, Tempris will have already surpassed the other academies significantly." Wael beamed with a bright smile, happy to be able to pass everything on to James.
