

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4741

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4741-At that moment, a few scenes appeared within the formation. The senior disciple could be seen in the scenes rapidly flashing before his eyes.

James spotted Zula within a few scenes and saw how Wael furiously killed millions of Tempris House's disciples.

Wanting to know all the details, James kept going through different events in the past.

Crack!!!

The Extrapolation Formation exploded. The force struck James, causing him to fall to the ground and spit a mouthful of blood.

"What did you find out?" asked Waleria.

Waleria had no concern about James' injuries and only cared about the results.

James got up, embarrassed, wiped the blood from his lips, and said, "I was right. Zula is indeed somehow connected to Tempris House. However, I couldn't find out more details."

Waleria said disdainfully, "What useless information. It seems that you're not really skilled in the Extrapolation Path."

James retorted, "I'm only at the Terra Acme Rank's early stage. It's already impressive enough for me to see past events. If you're so good at it, how about you give it a go?"

Waleria said lazily, "I'm not going to do it. My Sect Leader has told me that extrapolation gives you insight into the secrets of heaven and earth. These secrets can't be revealed to us. Extrapolating too often will result in a lot of karma, which must be neutralized. Otherwise, it'll cause extreme difficulty in cultivation."

James said proudly, "How did you reach the Quasi Chaos Rank if you're so afraid of karma? I'm not afraid of karma. I can easily absorb and refine its power."

Saachi could not stand them and said, "Alright, enough bickering. What should we do next?"

James quickly straightened up and said, "Let's pay the Tarbitha Sect an official visit and ask about it. We can just get an answer from her."

James was curious to know what had happened in Tempris House. He pondered, 'What kind of mistake did Tempris House's senior disciple make, and why was Wael so furious? Also, why did the senior disciple insist on being right even until his death?'

"Let's go, then." Waleria agreed with his suggestion.

"Alright," said Saachi.

After concluding, the group stood up and looked toward the Tarbitha Sect. They disappeared from the spiritual mountain and appeared outside the Tarbitha Sect.

After he appeared outside the Tarbitha Sect, he shouted, "James from the Verde Academy. I've come to visit."

His voice echoed throughout the area.

Swoosh!!!

Zula appeared with a furious expression. She said coldly, "Did you not understand what I said, brat? Do you think I won't kill you?"

Waleria stepped up and stared at her before James could speak. Then, she retorted, "I'd like to see you try. Do you really dare to touch my friend?"

Zula stared directly at Waleria.

After sensing Waleria's aura, Zula unleashed her terrifying aura.

Seeing this, Zula was not to be outdone and summoned her strength.

Terrifying auras erupted from both of them. The auras affected the surrounding space and even the whole universe.

The atmosphere was tense, and a battle seemed to be imminent.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4742

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4742-Waleria and Zula were both at the Quasi Chaos Rank. The two stood opposite each other, and extremely terrifying auras emerged from their bodies.

The two auras intertwined and formed a terrifying magnetic field. James, Saachi, Wynton, and others around him were pushed backward.

Although they had not physically engaged in a fight, they had summoned clones in the Endlos Void.

Their fight destroyed an area of the Endlos Void, and the shock waves from their battle were enough to cause thousands of universes to collapse.

Boom!!!

The two shadowy clones slammed their palms at each other.

Zula's main self stepped backward and spat out a mouthful of blood. The powerful aura from her body also dissipated.

Waleria's face went pale, and she stumbled a few steps backward.

Even though their main selves were not engaged in battle, they had released their powers into the Endlos Void to fight.

The battle was brief but intense. Waleria had the upper hand against Zula.

Zula had spat out blood after their brief exchange.

She reached out her hand and wiped the blood off her lips. Then, she looked at the beautiful Waleria and said smilingly, "Not bad. As expected from the Theos Sect's Grand Sect Elder, you're strong."

Waleria looked at Zula disdainfully and said lightly, "I never expected a powerhouse like you to be hidden in the Verde Academy."

After Waleria had successfully cultivated the Revitalizing Art, her cultivation base continuously improved, and she was close to entering the Chaos Rank. Therefore, she was confident in her strength. Initially, she was certain about crushing Zula. However, after their brief confrontation, she discovered that she was only slightly superior to Zula.

The rest of the group knew Waleria and Zula had already fought. James could tell that Waleria was stronger.

After they dispersed their auras, James promptly walked over and said smilingly, "Madam, we've come to visit, not to fight."

Then, he turned to Waleria and reprimanded, "What's with you? Was it necessary to fight at your first meeting? You should apologize to her."

Furious, Waleria grabbed James' ear and retorted, "I dare you to say that again."

"Stop, let go! So many eyes are on us..."

Waleria let go of James.

Zula said, "We're not accepting any visitors. Please leave."

After speaking, Zula disappeared from sight.

James shouted, "I'm here to ask about a past incident in Tempris House and why Wael killed so many disciples."

Zula reappeared and stared at James. After a brief moment of thought, she said, "Follow me."

The group was led into the Tarbitha Sect's main hall.

Zula sat in the highest seat and looked at them silently.

James turned to Waleria, who had a slightly pale complexion, and asked, "Are you alright?"

Waleria replied condescendingly, "What could be wrong with me?"

Even though Waleria's Blood Energy was tumbling violently with her, she did not want to admit to James that she was injured.

"You should stop resisting it. It's better to spit it out."

James smacked Waleria's back, causing her to spit out a mouthful of blood.

Waleria immediately felt much better.

Although Waleria gained the upper hand in battle, Zula had been in the Quasi Chaos Rank for a long time and had tremendous strength. During their brief battle, Waleria inevitably sustained a few injuries.

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4743

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4743-Waleria looked at James disdainfully and said, "You're so damn strong. I just vomited blood because of you. If someone dared to get close to me, I would've torn him into pieces, let alone if they slapped me on the back."

Wynton wanted to laugh but resisted the urge. Saachi also knew of Waleria's unwillingness to show vulnerability.

James did not expose Waleria and saved her some dignity.

"I didn't hurt you, right?"

"I'm fine," Waleria replied calmly.

James turned his gaze to Zula in the highest seat. He stood up, clasped his hands, and said, "Please let me formally introduce myself. I'm James Caden, the current Head of Tempris. This is Waleria, Saachi, and Wynton. They are elders of Tempris House."

Zula nodded lightly in response.

James sat down and asked, "According to the Verde Academy's intel, this place is supposed to be the Malvada Sect's headquarters. I was given the mission to wipe out the Malvada Sect. We've already destroyed most of your bases. Wynton and I wanted to infiltrate the Tarbitha Sect to learn more about your sect's situation. However, you saw through our scheme. You captured us but still let us go.

"After being freed, I performed an extrapolation and learned that you were most likely connected to an incident that happened in the Tempris House a long time ago. Therefore, I came to ask you about it."

Zula replied calmly, “Did the Verde Academy and Wael not tell you about it?”

James shook his head and said, “No.”

Hearing this, Zula fell into deep thought.

After a while, she took a deep breath and said, “It’s a long story that dates back to the distant past.”

Zula began to share the Verde District’s history and who she really was.

Her real name was Zula Qailoken, and she was Wael’s younger sister. She was brought up in Tempris House and was known as a prodigy.

Back then, the Verde District was incredibly chaotic. There were countless forces, and the strongest was called the Immortal Sect.

The Immortal Sect also led multiple evil forces within the Verde District. Their sect leader was also one of the strongest cultivators in the Verde District.

In the past, a battle between the Immortal Sect’s Leader and the former Headmaster of Verde Academy broke out.

The former Headmaster of Verde Academy was also Lothar’s teacher.

Unfortunately, the former Headmaster of Verde Academy died in battle. The Immortal Sect’s Leader, on the other hand, survived. However, he was severely injured.

The Verde Academy was livid, and their hostility toward the Immortal Sect deepened.

In order to avenge his teacher, Lothar united the Verde Academy’s powerhouses and besieged the Immortal Sect. They obliterated the Immortal Sect and many forces under them.

Zula had also participated in that battle. However, she encountered the Immortal Sect’s Leader when she entered their headquarters and learned the truth.

Although the Immortal Sect led countless corrupted sects, their nature was not evil. In fact, the reason for accepting these evil sects and rogue cultivators was to better restrain them.

Meanwhile, the battle between the Immortal Sect's Leader and the former Headmaster of Verde Academy had nothing to do with their respective sects. It was a personal matter, a battle over the title of the Verde District's strongest cultivator. However, the Verde Academy destroyed the Immortal Sect in the name of revenge.

The Immortal Sect's Leader knew his time was almost up.

"When I met the Immortal Sect's Leader for the last time, he was already on the brink of death. He left me his last words, saying evil can never be eradicated. He also said uniting them and keeping them under control is a better solution than trying to wipe them out.

"He requested me to take over the Immortal Sect after his death and restrain a few of the corrupted sects within the Verde Academy.

"It was a difficult choice between doing what's right and the Verde Academy. Ultimately, I chose to do what's right.

However, I was called a traitor and expelled from the Verde Academy.

"After that incident, I secretly contacted the descendants of the exterminated sects and created the Malvada Sect.

Throughout these years, I've been keeping close surveillance over them. Someone else would've united them eventually if it weren't me. The situation would've been even more chaotic.

"As for the senior disciple, he was caught by a corrupted sect while out training. I saved him, but he was disgusted to have received my help. He insisted on wanting to kill me since I was a traitor. In the end, I had to tell him the truth. Only after hearing everything did he finally dismiss the thought of killing me.

"Sadly, when he returned to the Verde Academy, he was also branded a traitor conspiring with me." Zula sighed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4744

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4744-Zula briefly shared some details about the past events. Back then, the senior disciple of Tempris House was accused of joining forces with the Malvada Sect. Moreover, he was said to have conspired with the Malvada Sect's Leader. Wael was furious and wiped out all the disciples who tried to plead for the senior disciple's life.

After learning the truth, James and his comrades looked at each other.

"I've already told you everything. Please head back now."

Zula dismissed her guests and said calmly, "If you want to launch an attack on us, the Tarbitha Sect will not back down. We're not troublemakers, but we'll stand up for ourselves."

James and the others stood up, clasped their hands, and bid farewell to Zula.

The group left the Tarbitha Sect and stood outside the mountain gate.

Wynton asked, "Now what? Do we attack or not?"

Saachi looked at James and said, 'You're the Head of the Tempris House, so you should make the final decision.'

James thought about it and said, "Let's head back first."

Wynton asked, "How are we going to report this?"

James said with a faint smile, "Report? I'm the Head of Tempris. Who do I need to report it to?"

After speaking, James departed back to the Verde Academy. His comrades followed behind him.

Soon, they returned to the Verde Academy.

Everyone went back to Tempris House to rest, whereas James headed to Verdett House.

He had learned a lot from Zula but was unsure of their reliability. Thus, he wanted to verify them with Lothar.

However, when he arrived at the Verdett House, he was informed that Lothar had entered seclusion.

The person that greeted him was the Great Elder, Parthias.

“Sir Parthias.”

The Great Elder of Verdett House was a peerless powerhouse. Thus, James remained respectful toward him.

“Welcome back,” Parthias nodded lightly.

The two headed to a cabin located in a quiet location of the back mountain.

Standing outside the cabin, Parthias asked, “Why have you returned so soon? How’s your mission to destroy the Malvada Sect going?”

The Malvada Sect had always been under the Verde Academy’s watchful eye. Therefore, Parthias was aware of everything James had done recently,

James asked hesitantly, “Was the Malvada Sect’s Leader a disciple of Tempris House?”

Parthias stroked his white beard. He already expected James to bring up the topic.

He nodded lightly and said, ‘Yeah, she used to be a disciple of Tempris House. She’s also Wael’s younger sister.

Unfortunately, she was bewitched by corrupted means and betrayed the Verde Academy. She joined the Immortal Sect and eventually became the Malvada Sect's Leader."

After hearing this, James was convinced that Zula was telling the truth.

"I can't complete this mission. Send someone else to do it." James stood up and began to walk away.

Parthias shouted, "Presumptuous!"

Post navigation

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4745

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4745-Parthias' voice rumbled like thunder, causing James' ears to buzz.

It took him a while to recollect himself.

James turned around and looked at Parthias, who had already stood up.

Parthias said coldly, "Wael went through great efforts to make you the Head of Tempris. Now that you've come in contact with the Malvada Sect, have you also been bewitched by them?"

James showed no fear in the face of Verdett House's Great Elder.

He boldly questioned, "Nobody is to blame for the former Headmaster of Verde Academy. Yet, the powerhouses of the Verde Academy's Five Houses united to destroy the Immortal Sect."

Parthias retorted, "Everybody knows that the Immortal Sect is evil. The Immortal Sect's Leader was injured, and it was the best time to obliterate them. After the biggest problem was gone, it was much easier to deal with the smaller forces under them."

James responded, "Is that so? Were there really no selfish motives? Wasn't it to avenge the former Headmaster of Verde Academy? Then what makes the Verde Academy so different from a corrupted sect? The Immortal Sect restrained these corrupted sects, which prevented them from doing anything overboard. Without them, the Verde District would've been in complete chaos."

Faced with James' questioning, Parthias was livid.

He replied coldly, "Return to Tempris House and reflect on yourself. If you can't even distinguish bad from good, you've no right to be the Head of Tempris."

James said coldly, "I don't really care about the position. If not for my promise to Sir Wael, I wouldn't want to stay in the Verde Academy, which only preaches righteousness but doesn't practice it."

After speaking, James' disappeared from sight. He returned to the Tempris House and entered a manor. He picked up the tea on the table and gulped it down.

Then, he grumbled, "I'm so pissed."

Waleria, Saachi, and Wynton were gathered in the manor.

Everyone looked at him in confusion.

Waleria asked curiously, "What is it? Didn't you go to report the situation?"

James took a deep breath to calm down.

Then, he replied, "I heard from Parthias that Zula was indeed a disciple from Tempris House, and she's Wael's sister. It seems she was telling us the truth. However, Parthias insists Zula was tempted by corrupted arts and bewitched."

Waleria attempted to comfort him for the first time, saying, "Forget it. There's no need to be mad over it. They were in different circumstances. You can only see things so clearly because you're a bystander. It's hard to really determine what's right in their positions."

Saachi also agreed, saying, "She's right. Just imagine someone killed your wife. Wouldn't you want to avenge her? So, wouldn't that make the person who killed her your enemy?"

Wynton nodded and said, "Nobody can clearly define right and wrong. Everyone just simply has different circumstances."

James calmed down after hearing their words.

Waleria crossed her legs and said lazily, "In an age where strength is everything, who really cares about right and wrong? The strong get the final say. Anyway, it's best you spend your effort thinking about what to do next."

James fell into thought.

After a while, he said, "From a bystander's perspective, I agree with Zula. She had to choose between doing the right thing and her sect back then. It must've taken a lot of courage to make the decision. Since she's from Tempris House, I'd like to be able to come back."

"I don't think that's possible."

"Me too."

"You're too naive, James. A senior disciple of Tempris House was executed just because he was suspected of conspiring with Zula. It's almost impossible to bring her back here." Saachi, Wynton, and Waleria were against the idea.

"I'll have to try to know. The worst outcome is me having to leave Tempris House," James said nonchalantly.

Although Wael never told him about the incident's details, he must have regretted it all these years.

James was confident Wael would support his decision.

"Do as you please. I'll be heading into seclusion."

Waleria left a few words and disappeared from the manor.

The next moment, she had returned to her own spiritual mountain. Then, she set up a time formation and began to cultivate.