

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4771

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4771-“Of course.”

Yardos flashed James a smile.

“Not only is there a tenth rank but also there’s a good chance the eleventh rank exists for the Omniscience Path.

I’ve already entered the late stage of the tenth rank.

I’m currently trying to figure out how to advance to the eleventh rank.

You can’t move to the tenth rank yet since you’re still lacking in your cultivation base.

You can work on that after you’ve reached the late stage of Caelum Acme Rank.”

Yardos’ words confirmed James’s suspicion.

‘The tenth and eleventh Rank...

I guess it’s a never-ending learning and training process.

For the eleventh rank, even Yardos, a Chaos Rank cultivator, is still unsure how to achieve it.

A cultivator who can reach the eleventh rank would be a force to be reckoned with,’ James thought.

“Would you attend the Hazeaf Gathering that would be held in an epoch’s time, Sir Yardos?” James asked.

“T should,” Yardos replied, “In the meantime, you need to restore peace in the Aeternus District and gain control over that area.

Others will learn of our names at the Hazeaf Gathering.

The Aeternus District would not remain the weakest district among the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

It would grow to be one of the strongest districts by then.” “Understood, Sir Yardos.”

James felt much more reassured after having the conversation with Yardos.

There weren’t that many Chaos Rank cultivators across the Endlos’ Nine Districts, to begin with.

With the seasoned cultivator’s support, James did not have to worry about getting into trouble with another cultivator of a higher cultivation rank.

“Alright.

Off you go now.

I’ll have another closed-door meditation and try to figure out the way to achieve the eleventh rank of the Omniscience Path as soon as possible.” Yardos waved his hand dismissively.

James got to his feet, bowed to Yardos, and excused himself.

After he had descended Mount Blithe, James soon arrived outside a small wooden cottage.

As James reached out to open the door, he could hear Waleria's voice coming from inside the house.

"Once I enter the Chaos Rank, the first person I'll issue a challenge to is definitely going to be that snob, Yardos Xagorari! We'll see which of us is stronger then!"

Waleria's voice rang with indignation.

James heard every word of her ranting but he entered the room regardless.

Waleria shot an icy glance in his direction.

"Well, people always say that birds of a feather flock together." "Enough with the sarcasm," James said, "Let's head over to the Aeternus District right away.

The sooner we settle the issues in the Aeternus District, the quicker we can depart for the Hazeaf District." James was very much looking forward to witnessing how Yardos would demonstrate his impressive powers and skills before the other cultivators from all nine districts and gain recognition for his superiority.

With a simple wave of the hand, Waleria kept the wooden cottage in her storage.

Then, she conjured an airship almost instantaneously.

"I'll be conducting my closed-door meditation in my room.

I plan to enter the Caelum Acme Rank this time." After all of them had gotten aboard the airship, James informed the others of his plan.

Then, he went into a room and put up a time formation.

Next, he set in place a formation that sealed off his aura from the outside world.

'I feel incredibly motivated after seeing how great and powerful Yardos is.

I want to become stronger too! 'Just look at how Waleria, the exceptionally talented cultivator, turned docile before Yardos.

I hope I get to see that side of her or even order her around someday,' James pondered.

James sat on the floor with his legs crossed inside the room.

An overwhelming aura emanated from his body.

James had achieved great enlightenment within the Boundless state of the Terra Acme Rank although he had not spent a long time in it.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4772-Moreover, James had fully mastered the Primal Mantra and the knowledge of the Greater Paths.

Even though he had not sensed the trigger for him to advance into the Caelum Acme Rank, James was equipped with the abilities and skills to move on to the next Acme Rank if he willed it.

As James focused his concentration, his body began to glow with a myriad of colors.

Those colorful lights transformed into unique, cryptic inscriptions almost instantaneously.

A strangely ethereal sight could be seen as James channeled his powers through the manifestation of paths around him.

As the paths evolved and displayed the highest form of power, James instantly detected that he had entered the Caelum Acme Rank.

In the blink of an eye, James' aura and the amount of powers he had increased by folds.

At that very moment, everyone could feel a strong tremor throughout the entire airship.

Suddenly, the ship came to a halt as a powerful energy fell upon the airship and trapped it in mid-air.

Simultaneously, countless strange inscriptions appeared in the Endlos Void around the airship.

Waleria detected the shift of pressure in the air and exited her room right away.

When she had arrived on the deck of the ship, Waleria could see the innumerable inscriptions floating in the air above the ship.

The inscriptions were swiftly clumping together to form mounds of tribulation clouds.

"It's the Heavenly Tribulation..."

James must've achieved the Caelum Acme Rank," Waleria muttered in a low voice.

The others had come out to the deck as well.

Wynona asked curiously, "That's strange.

I didn't have to face the Heavenly Tribulation back when I entered the Caelum Acme Rank.

Why is this happening to Master though?" Saachi explained, "This is closely related to one's training and cultivation process.

The more karma you've accumulated during your cultivation, the more providence and boon you'll receive in return too.

The possibility of the cultivator encountering the Heavenly Tribulation increases exponentially too." "Mhm." Waleria nodded.

"Normally, people won't have to worry about facing tribulations after they enter the Acme Ranks and become competent cultivators.

However, as Saachi said, one might encounter the Heavenly Tribulation if they've racked up a considerable amount of karma after entering the Acme Rank.

Also, the later the Heavenly Tribulation appears as one advances through the Acme Ranks, the more potent and deadly the powers of the Heavenly Tribulation will become.

Furthermore, if you didn't encounter it during the Caelum Acme Rank, you'd still have to go through the Heavenly Tribulation during the Quasi Chaos Rank." Whoosh! Just then, all of them saw a figure zooming through the air before them and stopped somewhere a few hundred meters above the airship.

It was James.

James sensed how the airship was trapped within that area of the Endlos Void.

He raised an arm and unleashed his powers.

The spatial seal cast around that space was undone in a flash.

At the same time, the airship vanished and reemerged at a safe spot far away from the tribulation clouds at James' command.

On the other hand, the tribulation clouds with magical, colorful hues continued to form above James.

However, everyone could sense the terrifyingly immense energies that each of those clouds carried.

"This isn't any ordinary Heavenly Tribulation." Zula had a grim expression.

"Most people tried to avoid gaining karma by training carefully after entering the Acme Ranks.

They were hoping to prevent the chances of encountering the Heavenly Tribulation as they leveled up.

It's a matter of life and death when it comes to facing a Heavenly Tribulation at the Acme Ranks." "She's right." Waleria gave a sigh.

"But James seems to be completely fearless all this time.

This guy just does whatever he wants since the first day I met him.

He doesn't seem to be bothered about gaining karma in the slightest." "Hey! Look at that.

What's that pattern?" Wynona pointed to the clouds.

A strange pattern started forming from the tribulation clouds.

At first, the pattern resembled the Tai Chi Eight Trigram Formation a little.

Curiously enough, the pattern also appeared to look like an image of the Sacred Blossom.

Some also found the mysterious pattern to look like an extrapolation formation at some point.

Moreover, the pattern seemed to be continuously evolving.

Countless variations were produced every minute.

Even skilled cultivators like Waleria and Wynton could not comprehend the meaning behind those patterns.

"Interesting," Wynton began, "Since a long time ago, most of the superior signature skills were born as their creator entered the Caelum Acme Rank.

Will James also create a new signature skill as he's advanced to the Caelum Acme Rank now?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4773-Zula, Waleria, and the others were all staring at James, who was eventually surrounded by the tribulation clouds.

James had also spotted the mysterious pattern appearing amid the clouds.

The man was momentarily stunned.

James found the pattern to be oddly familiar.

Yet, he couldn't seem to recall where he had come across the pattern before at the moment.

At the same time, James instinctively knew that he was facing a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity during the Heavenly Tribulation.

'From what I learned, the Nine Voices of Chaos was created as the Chaos Master advanced to the Caelum Acme Rank.

Also, Yardos Xagorari developed the Blithe Omniscience when he achieved the Caelum Acme Rank.' James pondered.

"Oh, I know what this is now!" James exclaimed.

'This pattern is a combination of the complete integration of the Greater Paths and the fusion of all the inscriptions from the Primal Mantra! I can sense the full powers of all the primitive inscriptions derived from the Primal Mantra from this pattern.

Apart from that, I can see the Sacred Blossom formed by the Greater Paths in it!'

James thought.

Just then, loud, crackling sounds filled the space around them as the aura emanated from the tribulation clouds destroyed the Endlos Void near them.

As numerous cracks formed and spread across the Endlos Void, several spatial black holes started appearing in that area as well.

The spatial turbulence caused by the black holes coupled with the petrifying energies of the Heavenly Tribulation were a frightening sight to behold.

Waleria and the others dared not hastily go near the space where James and the tribulation clouds were.

If any of them were to enter that space right now, the powers of the Heavenly Tribulation would increase correspondingly.

The intruders would be attacked by the Heavenly Tribulation as well.

Suddenly, countless lightning produced from the tribulation clouds fell from the sky and aimed for James.

"Hahaha!" Instead of feeling fear, James let out a loud laugh in excitement.

"I could finally train and improve my physical condition again upon advancing to a new cultivation rank.

Now, I can use these lightning bolts to test the limits of my current body whilst increasing its endurance!" As soon as he had finished saying that, James was hit by those lightning bolts.

Waleria and the others witnessed a strange phenomenon as the color of James' skin was tinged with various shades of color.

Those colorful lightning bolts appeared to have reacted with the cells in James' body the instant they entered his body.

James was knocked out of his senses for the next few seconds.

His body was shaking all over like a leaf in the wind.

As he came to his senses, James could feel an excruciating pain in his body.

Upon inspection, he found that he had suffered severe damage to his system.

He had several broken bones.

Some of his delicate, fine bones were even pulverized.

Waleria couldn't help but grumble, "Does he have a death wish?! How could he mindlessly take direct hits from those lightning bolts? This is a Heavenly Tribulation at the level of the Caelum Acme Rank! What's more, he's incurred a lot of karma since he's received quite a number of providences.
