

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4821

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4821-Once James withdrew from the battlefield, Zeno asked, "James, are you okay?" James wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth and replied, "I'm fine."

"I didn't think Warner was that good, so I wasn't careful and got a minor injury, but there's nothing to worry about." "That's good," Zeno said with relief and then pulled James aside.

"Let's seize the moment during their battle to breach the formation and explore the ruins."

"We may uncover valuable treasures." "No need to rush," James said calmly.

He kept his eyes on the distant battlefield.

In the midst of the battle, Warner's aura was truly formidable.

His aura even surpassed that of some Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouses.

However, Wael showed no fear while facing Warner.

He calmly stroked his beard and wore a smile as he remarked, "It's been a while since I roamed through the Nine Districts."

"Do these young folks nowadays have no idea of their place?" "I'll send you on your way, old man." Warner launched an attack immediately.

Wael met it head-on.

Intense fighting broke out in the area, and the powerful shockwaves pushed back the living beings nearby.

Right from the beginning of the battle, Wael had the advantage over Warner.

James felt relieved when he saw this.

He was confident that Wael was stronger than Warner.

"Let's go check out the formation," James said.

He used the Blithe Omniscience and instantly appeared outside the ruins.

In the central area of the ruins, a mysterious source emitted a bright and dazzling white light.

James attempted to sense it using Zen, but the formation blocked his ability to examine it.

Soon, Zeno appeared.

He stared at the formation for a while, but he could not grasp its nature.

He turned to James and asked, "Can you break this formation?" James observed the formation for a moment and said, "This formation is ancient and complex, but it isn't too difficult to break.

Just give me some time.

"I'll break it." "Okay, I'll wait for you," Zeno said with a hint of excitement.

James set up a time formation around himself.

Boom! As the formation was being set up, a tremendous shockwave swept through the area, causing his time formation to collapse in an instant.

At the outer edges of the ruins, several Spatial Black Holes appeared.

They exuded a terrifying gravitational pull capable of swallowing everything.

Despite the horror of the black holes, Zeno stood near their edge.

He was unaffected by their pull.

James used his immense power to resist the gravitational pull of the Spatial Black Holes.

Advancing a short distance, he entered the region enveloped by the formation.

He sensed an overwhelming force emanating from it as he drew closer, akin to a powerful torrent pressing down upon him.

However, he relied on his formidable strength to withstand this force.

Then, he set up a time formation around himself and began working on breaking the formation.

Meanwhile, a crowd of living beings had gathered to watch the intense battle outside the battlefield.

“Why is Wael fighting with Warner?” “Tsk tsk, Warner is incredibly strong.

He can stand his ground even against Wael, who holds a cultivation rank higher.” “Not only is he holding his own, but he’s also putting Wael in a difficult situation.” “The Verde Academy powerhouse isn’t as impressive as we thought.” Numerous living beings, including several renowned powerhouses from the Nine Districts, had gathered outside the battlefield.

“No, you can’t say that,” one of them remarked.

“Back then, Wael had a really tough time due to the incident with the top disciple from Tempris.

His Cultivation Heart was nearly shattered, and he even dropped in cultivation rank.

It looks like he’s only just gotten back to where he was.” “That’s right,” another chimed in.

“I’ve witnessed Wael in his prime, and he was truly terrifying.” The powerhouses in the vicinity engaged in lively discussions.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4822-At the outset, Wael dominated Warner in both aura and strength.

Warner appeared unable to fight back at first, but it turned out he had not used his full strength yet.

Warner only truly grasped the terrifying might that Wael possessed upon facing the latter, hence unleashing his true strength.

His body radiated a golden light, and a terrifying aura emanated.

A massive golden bow appeared in his hand.

The bowstring was crafted from unique materials, giving it a peculiar quality.

With each pull of the bowstring, he unleashed relentless and powerful attacks, forcing Wael to constantly dodge.

For a fleeting moment, Wael was on the verge of defeat.

“Warner is incredibly strong.” “No wonder he held the third rank in the previous Boundless Ranking.

Even Wael is struggling against his attacks.” On the battlefield, Warner wielded the golden bow, seamlessly shifting positions as he launched relentless assaults against Wael.

The void shattered under the constant barrage of Path Arrows.

The arrows were so fast that they seemed to transcend time and solidify space.

Wael struggled to defend against them.

In a moment of carelessness, he was struck in the shoulder.

His shoulder exploded, and his arm was severed outright.

Wael blinked out of existence and reappeared in a distant area.

However, a Path Arrow streaked toward him before he could begin to heal.

It pierced through the void and struck him instantaneously.

He had no chance to evade them.

This arrow pierced through his body, leaving a bloody hole.

Blood flowed incessantly, and the void shattered instantly.

“Go die.” A cold, emotionless voice echoed in the void.

Warner once again drew the string of his golden bow behind Wael.

His entire strength condensed into the Path Arrow.

As he released the bowstring, the arrow shot forth, splitting into two, then four, then eight...

In an instant, the entire void was filled with arrows.

The overwhelming arrows rained down, creating a terrifying spectacle.

Wael had lost an arm and sustained a bloody wound on his body, but he remained composed in the face of this formidable onslaught.

At this critical moment, he casually waved his hand, summoning countless inscriptions that rapidly converged to form a circular pattern.

This pattern served as a barrier, deflecting all the mysterious Path Arrows that came his way.

Wael's aura surged after successfully repelling Warner's assault, and with it, his severed arm and injuries healed.

The spatial pressure in the area instantly increased, causing the void to collapse.

Warner felt immense pressure within the space that made him uncomfortable.

He wanted to escape, but the void had been sealed, and his movements slowed considerably.

At that moment, Wael launched an attack.

He appeared in front of Warner, delivering a barrage of punches that left Warner's body riddled with wounds.

The tide of battle had turned too swiftly.

Just moments ago, Warner had held the advantage, but now he found himself on the losing end, enduring grievous injuries.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4823-T've finally witnessed Wael's signature skill, the Boundless Space." "Wow, it's incredibly powerful." "Even Warner has to endure the immense pressure when trapped in the Boundless Space.

His speed naturally slows down as he resists the pressure, making him an easy target." From the distance, powerhouses commented on this battle.

The Boundless Space was a signature skill created by Wael.

Once he unleashed this skill, anyone trapped within it would be at a severe disadvantage.

"This old man." Warner was nearly powerless to fight back.

His face turned grim.

'I never thought he would remain this formidable even after losing his cultivation rank.

Presently, we both hold the Caelum Boundless Rank, but the power of his Boundless Space is restraining me greatly.

If this persists, I'll be at a distinct disadvantage.' Countless thoughts raced through Warner's mind as he contemplated escape.

Yet, with numerous powerhouses watching in this area, fleeing would imperil his future in the Endlos' Nine Districts.

Crack! Another dreadful punch struck him, carrying an incredible force that broke his bones instantly.

"Break!" Warner was angry, causing his aura to surge once again.

However, the spatial pressure in the area intensified as his aura grew stronger.

The terrifying force tore through his flesh, leaving his body covered in countless cracks, from which blood oozed.

At this moment, Warner looked disheveled and battered.

Smack! Suddenly, Wael appeared in front of Warner and slapped him across the face.

"I'll spare you today out of respect for your master.

If you dare to be arrogant again next time, don't blame me for not being polite." After giving Warner a slap, Wael retreated to a distance and dispersed the Boundless Space.

Only then did the spatial pressure that Warner had been enduring finally dissipate.

Warner stared intently at Wael, his expression growing grimmer as he sensed Wael's aura.

He asked, "You've recovered your strength?" He sensed Wael's current cultivation rank, which was at the Quasi Boundless Rank.

However, at this moment, Wael's aura underwent an abnormal change.

"This isn't right," Warner exclaimed in fear.

"You...

you've entered the Chaos Rank?" Wael smiled faintly and replied, "I was just playing with you earlier.

Did you truly believe you could harm me?" "Phew!" Warner gasped in shock.

"Is there another Chaos Rank powerhouse in the Endlos' Nine Districts?" In the distance, many powerhouses were dumbfounded.

"Wael has entered the Chaos Rank?" "When did he step into the Chaos Rank?" "This doesn't make sense.

Yardos' aura spread throughout the Nine Districts when he entered the Chaos Rank, and almost all the powerhouses here sensed it.

Why didn't anyone sense Wael's aura when he entered the Chaos Rank?" "He must be hiding something deep." "Verde Academy has given birth to a Chaos Rank powerhouse.

The Endlos' First District is about to change its leader." "Yes, Verde Academy boasts the strongest overall strength among the Endlos' Nine Districts, but it has never had a Chaos Rank powerhouse lead it.

With Wael's ascent to the Chaos Rank, the strength of the Verde District will undoubtedly surpass that of Theos, Welkin, and the Hazeaf District.

It's poised to claim the first place in the Endlos' Nine Districts." Many powerhouses were filled with astonishment after sensing Wael's aura.

However, Wael only leaked a fraction of his aura before retracting it.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4824-He had spent countless years in the Caelum Boundless Rank and was confident in his abilities.

He believed he could hold his own against a true Chaos Rank powerhouse.

However, he had never actually battled a Chaos Rank powerhouse, nor had he even fought against a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse.

Now, he realized the terror of a true Chaos Rank powerhouse after facing Wael in battle.

They were overwhelmingly superior compared to him.

Wael paid no more attention to him, instead focusing on a distant area that had been devastated.

In the distance, remnants of a protective formation were visible, but the ruins within the formation remained intact.

Wael's figure flickered, and he appeared at the edge of the formation.

He saw James comprehending the formation within and noticed Zeno's presence beside him.

As the battle ended, a crowd of curious living beings gathered, eager to uncover the secrets hidden within the ruins.

They tried to sense it, but the formation was mysterious, impervious to their Zen.

All they could see was a mystical white light emanating from the central area of the formation.

Wael stared at the formation for a while, but its profound and ancient nature rendered it ungraspable, even though he had reached the Chaos Rank.

"Mr.

Wael," a living being approached and greeted him, "My son possesses extraordinary talent and wishes to join Tempris.

Would you consider accepting him as a disciple?" The one speaking was a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse with a certain reputation in the Endlos' Nine Districts.

Wael refused, saying, "I'm not interested." At that moment, James emerged from the formation.

Even though he was focused on breaking the formation, he was still monitoring the battle in the outside world.

Stepping out of the formation, he gave Wael a thumbs-up and praised, "Sir Wael, you're amazing! I never expected you to reach the Chaos Rank after leaving Tempris to gain experience." Wael stroked his beard and chuckled, "It's just a small achievement." "Since you're back, I formally submit my resignation.

From now on, I am no longer the Head of Tempris House," James said.

Wael refused immediately, asking, "How can that be?" James replied, "I've established a sect called Heavenly Court in the Aeternus District.

I am now the sect leader, so I no longer have the qualifications to be the Head of Tempris House." "You've founded a sect?" Wael was taken aback.

"Yes." James nodded.

"Alright." Wael smiled.

"In that case, I'll take back the position of the Head of Tempris House.

No matter how the Heavenly Court develops in the future, I'll welcome you at any time if you ever want to return to Tempris." "Sure," James replied.

James and Wael reminisced briefly.

Then, Wael asked, "You can understand Verde Academy's sacred scroll, so this formation shouldn't be too challenging for you.

Do you have a way to break it?" "Of course," James replied confidently.

This formation did not pose a significant challenge for him, and he could easily decipher it.

Hearing that James could break the formation, many eyes turned toward him.

James surveyed his surroundings, noting the numerous living beings in the area.

Opening the formation would likely trigger intense competition for the fortune inside.

“Sir Wael, please wait here for now.

I’ll take a look inside,” James said.

“Take me with you.” Zeno immediately grabbed him.

Wael had no interest in the fortune here.

Having already reached the Chaos Rank, he stood at the pinnacle of cultivation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

“You can fight for the fortune.

I’ll explore this ancient battlefield,” he said, and with that, he vanished from the spot.

James glanced at Zeno and said, “I can take you in, but let’s make it clear.

I get the first pick no matter what we find.

You can only have it if I’m not interested.” “No problem,” Zeno agreed without hesitation.

However, four Caelum Boundless Rank powerhouses surrounded James just as he was about to enter the formation.

James gave them a casual glance and said, “What’s the meaning of this?”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4825-He was seriously wounded in the battle earlier, but his high cultivation rank allowed him to recover from his external injuries.

He bore no visible injuries and showed no signs of having recently endured a major battle.

“what does this mean?” James stared at Warner, once again questioning him.

Warner replied, “What do you think?” James shook his head slightly.

“I don’t know.” Zeno chimed in, saying, “Are you stupid? He clearly knows you can break the formation, and he wants you to lead him inside.” “Lead me inside?” Warner responded.

“Think of it as your way out.

You lead me into the formation, or else...” “Or else what?” James smirked.

“Death.” Warner’s expression darkened.

“Haha,” James burst into laughter.

“what are you laughing at?” Warner spoke coldly.

“You’re no longer the Head of Tempris House, and Wael won’t protect you anymore.

Besides, he’s gone.

Without him, killing you will be as simple as squashing an insect.” Warner had been itching for revenge ever since Wael beat him up, and it was all because of James.

“He wants you dead,” Zeno said.

Many living beings gathered around, their expressions a mixture of curiosity and amusement.

James stretched his muscles, bones cracking as he did so.

“I haven’t had a real fight since my cultivation base became stronger.

Today, I’ll test my strength against you.” As soon as James finished speaking, he vanished from his original position.

In the next moment, he appeared behind Warner.

Warner had no time to react before James’ fist landed squarely on his back.

His body tilted and stumbled forward, crashing a distance away before he quickly regained his balance.

Just as he steadied himself, James' fist struck again, this time landing a powerful blow on his forehead, causing blood to gush forth.

"Is that all?" James appeared nonchalant in the distance.

"Damn it!" Warner seethed.

A golden bow materialized in his hand.

He quickly drew it back and shot a golden Path Arrow directly at James.

Seeing the fight escalating once more, the surrounding living beings hurriedly retreated, fearing collateral damage.

James stood his ground, attempting to catch Warner's arrow with his hand.

However, he had underestimated Warner.

The arrow proved too formidable, shattering his arm and rendering it useless.

Had he not moved quickly, Warner's arrow would have annihilated his entire body.

Utilizing the Blithe Omniscience, James reappeared in the distance, inspecting his bloodied and battered arm.

He winced in pain.

"It hurts," he muttered through gritted teeth.

At that moment, a second arrow sped toward him.

James immediately activated his Thousand Paths Holy Body, manifesting the power of the Greater Paths within him.

He then exerted his strength, delivering a forceful punch that conjured illusory fist shadows, meeting the arrow head-on.

Boom! The fist shadows instantly shattered upon collision with the arrow.

The arrow surged forward once more.

“Quite formidable,” James said as he activated the Blithe Omniscience again, swiftly fleeing the area.

However, the moment he reappeared, the arrow pierced through the void, impaling his body and leaving a bloody wound.

The arrow contained a destructive force that rapidly corroded his flesh, causing half of his body to disintegrate.

Finally, James dropped his guard and channeled all his power to suppress the devastating force.

□

□

□

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4826-If one were to be hit by it, they would be tainted by a dreadful power, even if not immediately killed.

This force could steadily corrode the flesh and consume one’s own strength.

James tried to harness the power of the Greater Paths to suppress it, but it remained unyielding.

In that instant, he entered a state of the Omniscience Path and Battle Rank.

Radiating a white halo from head to toe, tinged with a hint of crimson, he appeared resplendent and radiant.

Even so, he could not both suppress and expel the power left by the Path Arrow within him.

In the end, James used One for All to dispel it.

“So powerful,” James exclaimed.

He was not currently using six powers.

In the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank, utilizing the Omniscience Path and the power of Greater Paths, James displayed considerable formidable prowess that allowed him to surpass Caelum Boundless Rank opponents.

Nevertheless, Warner's displayed strength was simply too terrifying, and James could not defeat him without employing six powers.

Whoosh! Another Path Arrow streaked through the sky and swept towards James.

He stood in the void.

In that instant, he utilized the Blithe Omniscience, vanishing from his original spot and appearing in front of Warner.

Having previously battled with James, Warner was aware of his use of the Blithe Omniscience and had already locked onto James' aura.

Warner dodged and reappeared at the distance as James' aura approached.

The Path Arrow simultaneously remained firmly fixed on James' aura, seamlessly traversing the void to pursue him.

James activated the power of Greater Paths, creating numerous inscriptions that materialized in front of him, forming a protective shield.

Boom! The brilliant Path Arrow attacked the shield, causing the shield to shatter instantly.

Although the arrow's power was weakened, it persisted in its charge towards James.

With a thought, James summoned the Chaos Sword, and Sword Energy materialized to intercept the approaching Path Arrow head-on.

The Sword Energy and the Path Arrow clashed in the void, generating a formidable shockwave.

This scene left all the living beings who were watching the battle in absolute awe.

Nobody had expected James to be so powerful.

They were not surprised by Warner's defeat at the Wael's hands, as Wael had been a renowned powerhouse for countless years and had even achieved the Chaos Rank.

It was understandable that Warner was no match for him.

However, what seemed inconceivable now was that an unknown human without any reputation could withstand Warner's attacks.

"Where did James come from, and why is he so strong, able to contend with Warner?" "His strength must be impressive to withstand Warner's attacks.

He could rank in the top twenty of the Boundless Ranking." "As far as I know, James first appeared at Verde Academy, and his first battle was against a genius from the academy named Wynona.

During that time, he was only at the Permanence Boundless Rank." "It feels like only ten thousand epochs have passed." Many living beings were unfamiliar with James.

However, there were quite a few living beings from Verde District who knew something about him.

James' exploits were dug up.

"Damn it," Warner muttered with a terrifying expression.

His Path Arrow was extremely powerful, and among those of the same cultivation rank, only a select few could withstand its force.

Now, a Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank human had been struck by his arrow without any effect, and had even taken the blow.

At this moment, James launched a counterattack.

Gripping the Chaos Sword, he released a terrifying sound wave that sent mysterious echoes reverberating throughout the area.

Upon hearing the sound, some distant living beings found their minds going blank, and their senses scattered.

James displayed the Chaos' Nine Voices.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4827-However, Warner was too formidable.

The Chaos' Nine Voices had no effect on him.

Warner grew increasingly astonished as the battle raged on.

'Damn,' he thought as his anger surged.

"He's truly troublesome," James said with a frown.

He had not expected Warner to be so powerful.

Despite using six powers and unleashing nearly all of his strength, it still proved insufficient to overcome Warner.

In that moment, Warner's aura soared as dozens of illusory golden longbows instantly materialized behind him.

They continued to multiply, with thousands appearing in the blink of an eye, all of them enveloping James instantaneously.

James sensed the void being sealed and constrained.

Meanwhile, illusory longbows surrounded him from all directions, each bearing various Path Arrows.

Countless arrows were aimed directly at James at that moment.

"I'm sending you on your way," a voice echoed, seemingly originating from both right beside his ear and the distant horizon.

Swish! Innumerable Path Arrows surged from every direction.

In response, James activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, harnessing all six powers simultaneously.

The six supreme powers merged within his body, causing his aura to skyrocket.

However, the area was filled with Path Arrows, piercing through the void.

James remained unnoticed despite his surge in power.

In an instant, countless arrows struck him.

Boom! The entire area exploded, forming a terrifying Spatial Black Hole.

James' figure was instantly engulfed by it.

Many living beings were left stunned.

"He's too powerful." "Warner's arrow formation is terrifying.

Even a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse wouldn't dare to face it head-on." "James may be incredibly talented, but his cultivation rank is only at the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank.

He hasn't even stepped into the Caelum Boundless Rank." "It's ashame." "Yes, he would undoubtedly have claimed the top rank on the Boundless Ranking if he had diligently cultivated for the next gathering." Many living beings felt a sense of regret for James.

They all thought he was too audacious, believing that he should have exercised restraint against Warner.

Yet, he had chosen to take the initiative, paying a heavy price and even risking his life as a result.

However, just as everyone thought James had perished under the arrow formation, a figure slowly emerged from the black hole in the void.

James emerged from the Spatial Black Hole and immediately threw a punch, shattering the arrow formation's seal on the space.

In an instant, he vanished from the spot.

Warner, who had assumed James was dead, was now visibly shocked.

Before he could react, James had appeared right in front of him.

"You..." Warner's body took a step back involuntarily.

James extended his hand, creating a terrifying aura that manifested into an illusory palm print.

This palm print grabbed hold of Warner directly.

“Damn you! Go die!” Warner roared and exerted all his strength in an attempt to break free.

However, he could not escape the grip of the illusory palm no matter how hard he struggled.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4828-While at a distance, an illusory palm was dragging Warner.

Warner could not break free no matter how hard he struggled.

His face turned ashen, with veins bulging on his forehead, and his expression twisted into a fearsome grimace.

He exerted all his strength to escape.

However, the illusory palm was too terrifying.

In the distance, everyone was stunned.

“How is this possible?” “This is Warner, the third-ranked powerhouse from the previous Boundless Ranking.

How could he be so easily controlled now?” It was unbelievable to all witnessing it.

“Let me go!” warner roared.

“If you’re capable, release me and let’s have a battle for thirty thousand rounds!” Being the third-ranked powerhouse on the Boundless Ranking, he had never endured such humiliation before.

With numerous living beings present, it would be challenging for him to uphold his reputation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts if this news were to spread.

‘James must die!’ A surge of murderous intent rose within him.

The surrounding living beings would only forget this scene once James had died.

“Hmph,” James smiled faintly and released Warner.

The moment Warner was deliberated, a golden bow materialized in his grasp.

He exerted all his strength to draw the bowstring taut.

Instantly, the Path Arrow lined up on the bowstring.

Whoosh! The radiant bowstring shot out.

James stood unwavering in the void, observing the arrow hurtling towards him.

He raised his hand, and his palm continued to enlarge.

The arrow collided with the enlarged palm print.

Boom! The void where the palm print was located collapsed directly, yet James' palm remained unscathed.

"Impossible!" Warner exclaimed upon witnessing the scene.

"This can't be possible.

You're only in the late stage of the Caelum Acme Rank..." His voice grew fainter with each word.

He had already accepted this fact in his heart although he vocalized his disbelief.

With a flick of his hand, James' illusory palm transformed and struck Warner's face squarely, sending his body spinning through the void.

His face swelled up instantly, and moments later, a mouthful of blood, mixed with several shattered teeth, spewed forth.

James continued to wave his palm, while Warner found himself repeatedly slapped.

Despite his desire to resist, a formidable force had already locked onto him, rendering any resistance futile.

It felt as though any movement would tear him apart.

The sight left the distant living beings utterly bewildered.

“Ts this really Warner, the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking?” “This is too incredible.” Nobody could have imagined that Warner would be so utterly defenseless.

After delivering a severe lesson to Warner, pounding him until half of his head was a pulpy mess, James dispelled his six powers.

As his aura gradually diminished, he looked at the barely conscious Warner and said, “Is being the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking truly that remarkable? Remember, there’s always someone better out there.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4829-In the next moment, he had already reappeared by Zeno’s side at the edge of the formation.

As for Warner, he had undergone a stern lesson from both Wael and James.

It was the most frustrating experience he had encountered since he began his cultivation.

He wanted revenge and to eliminate James.

However, a chill ran down his spine every time he thought of James’ displayed strength.

He did not linger in this area for long and quickly escaped with his subordinates.

Countless living beings gasped in shock.

“He’s too powerful.” “The first place on the Boundless Ranking now belongs to James.” “The gathering hasn’t even commenced, and James has already emerged.

Who knows if there are any other freaks waiting to appear.” Countless living beings discussed.

“Impressive,” Zeno raised his thumb in praise, “It’s truly incredible that you’ve cultivated six types of Ten Path Techniques.

You should know that since Emperor Raiah, no living being has been able to cultivate more than two types of power.

Yet, you possess six.

Given time, you will undoubtedly become the top powerhouse in the Endlos.”
“Aren’t you losing your memory? How do you know what I’m using?” James looked at Zeno with a puzzled expression.

“Huh?” This question left Zeno stumped.

“Yeah, how do I know?” He looked puzzled and said, “I naturally knew when I watched you fight.” James was skeptical of this forced explanation.

He wondered if Zeno was pretending, but it did not seem like an act.

At this moment, a voice spoke out, “Fellow.” James turned to see an elderly man walking through the void.

He wore a gray robe, his gray hair framing a face full of wrinkles, yet radiated a powerful aura.

James gave him a casual glance and said, ““What’s up?” The man smiled and said, “I am the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect, and I have a granddaughter who is a rare talent that our sect hasn’t seen in generations.

She secured the eighth rank in the last Boundless Ranking.” “Oh,” James responded nonchalantly.

He had heard of the Sky Sword Sect.

It was the strongest sect in the Sky District.

Its current sect leader also served as the district leader of the Sky District, boasting a cultivation rank that reached the Quasi Boundless Rank.

“My granddaughter is quite arrogant, which has caused her not to marry yet.

Would you be interested, my fellow?” The Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect lightly stroked his beard and smiled as he asked.

James’ eyes rolled.

He had no interest in the so-called Heavenly Beauty of the Sky Sword Sect.

What piqued his curiosity was the Sky Sword Sect’s sacred scroll.

He changed the subject, saying, "I'd be pleased to meet her if the opportunity arises." James wasn't overly concerned about the remaining sacred scroll.

Following this gathering, his name would resound throughout the Nine Districts.

With his strength and fame, it would not be difficult to gain access to the sacred scrolls of the other districts.

Once he had access to the sacred scrolls of the remaining four districts, he would be able to cultivate ten powers.

At that point, he could finally practice the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

"Good," the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect wore a smile on his face.

"It's settled, then.

You must come and visit the Sky Sword Sect after this gathering ends."
"Absolutely," James replied with a smile.

Immediately, other powerhouses approached.

"Fellow, we also have a heavenly beauty in our sect who would be a perfect match for you." "Fellow, with your strength, how can just one woman be enough? Our sect has a pair of twin heavenly geniuses, and both of them are stunning beauties.

What do you think? Would you like me to introduce them?" Numerous powerhouses came forward, each eager to introduce their sect's talented women to James.

In a short span, dozens of living beings were keen on arranging marriages between their sect's women and James.

James nonchalantly agreed, promising to visit their sects when he had the time.

After expending a lot of effort and words, he finally dismissed the living beings who had approached him to establish connections.

"Enough, stop with these useless things.

It's time to enter the formation." Zeno could not wait any longer.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4830-The ruins had been appearing for quite some time now.

The white light emanating from within them had drawn the attention of the living beings in this area.

However, none of these living beings had dared to step foot inside during the previous battles.

The battle came to an end, James did not drive others away as Warner had done.

This caused numerous living beings to gather outside and study the formation.

Zeno was growing impatient and tugged at James, urging him to enter the formation and search for treasures.

For Zeno, treasure hunting was secondary.

His main goal was to enter the formation and find some items left behind inside the ruins.

He wanted to use those items to deduce what had transpired in the distant past.

It was a journey to rediscover himself.

"Follow me," James said without hesitation.

He advanced with measured steps, and with a single stride, he arrived at the location of the formation.

James glanced at the formation, with his hand raised, the mystical inscriptions appeared within his fingertips.

The inscriptions seamlessly integrated into the formation.

At that moment, a crack appeared in the formation.

James' consciousness moved, bringing his body into the formation.

Zeno followed closely behind.

After entering the formation, there were not many changes in the surroundings.

It was a ruin, once a spiritual mountain that had been destroyed.

Within a particular ruin of this mountain, an unknown object emitted a radiant white light.

James quickly made his way towards the source of the white light with just a single step.

Zeno, who had followed him, wore an expression of astonishment.

James, too, was bewildered upon seeing that the source of the radiant light was nothing but a set of bones.

The bones were riddled with countless wounds.

Sword slashes, knife marks, and various fractures.

Many parts were damaged.

Upon witnessing this scene, James was filled with surprise.

He had thought that the radiant light indicated a rare treasure, but it turned out to be a set of bones.

He exchanged a glance with Zeno.

“What’s going on?” James asked.

Zeno shrugged.

“I have no idea.

It seems like these bones are sealed with a powerful enchantment, keeping them here.” He noticed some clues.

James, too, stared intently.

He did sense the presence of the seal.

Inside the bones, he could not sense any signs of life, but there was a palpable, unsettling power.

Despite the long passage of time since the owner of these bones had perished, the bones still held a disquieting power within.

“The owner of these bones must have been a Chaos Rank powerhouse in their lifetime,” James analyzed.

Zeno added, “Just don’t know which powerhouse sealed these bones in this place.

What can be confirmed is that this set of bones was sealed during the battle that took place before the birth of the Ten Districts.

I can’t tell if it’s the Extraterrestrial Demon or a living being from the Endlos.” “What should we do?” James asked Zeno.

“I’m confident I can break the seal restrictions around these bones, but as you mentioned, if this turns out to be the Extraterrestrial Demon, it could spell trouble if it escapes.” Zeno remained nonchalant.

“What’s the worst that could happen? Even if this being was once a Chaos Rank powerhouse, it has been dead for countless ages.

Its power is probably less than a hundredth of what it used to be.

If it truly is the Extraterrestrial Demon, we can suppress it.

Besides...” He changed the topic, saying, “I’m actually hoping it’s the Extraterrestrial Demon.

If it is, we might learn something about the origin of the Extraterrestrial Demon from these bones after we suppress it.” James cautioned, “Don’t blame me if things go awry.” Zeno responded, “I won’t.

Go ahead and open it up.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4822

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4822-At the outset, Wael dominated Warner in both aura and strength.

Warner appeared unable to fight back at first, but it turned out he had not used his full strength yet.

Warner only truly grasped the terrifying might that Wael possessed upon facing the latter, hence unleashing his true strength.

His body radiated a golden light, and a terrifying aura emanated.

A massive golden bow appeared in his hand.

The bowstring was crafted from unique materials, giving it a peculiar quality.

With each pull of the bowstring, he unleashed relentless and powerful attacks, forcing Wael to constantly dodge.

For a fleeting moment, Wael was on the verge of defeat.

“Warner is incredibly strong.” “No wonder he held the third rank in the previous Boundless Ranking.

Even Wael is struggling against his attacks.” On the battlefield, Warner wielded the golden bow, seamlessly shifting positions as he launched relentless assaults against Wael.

The void shattered under the constant barrage of Path Arrows.

The arrows were so fast that they seemed to transcend time and solidify space.

Wael struggled to defend against them.

In a moment of carelessness, he was struck in the shoulder.

His shoulder exploded, and his arm was severed outright.

Wael blinked out of existence and reappeared in a distant area.

However, a Path Arrow streaked toward him before he could begin to heal.

It pierced through the void and struck him instantaneously.

He had no chance to evade them.

This arrow pierced through his body, leaving a bloody hole.

Blood flowed incessantly, and the void shattered instantly.

“Go die.” A cold, emotionless voice echoed in the void.

Warner once again drew the string of his golden bow behind Wael.

His entire strength condensed into the Path Arrow.

As he released the bowstring, the arrow shot forth, splitting into two, then four, then eight...

In an instant, the entire void was filled with arrows.

The overwhelming arrows rained down, creating a terrifying spectacle.

Wael had lost an arm and sustained a bloody wound on his body, but he remained composed in the face of this formidable onslaught.

At this critical moment, he casually waved his hand, summoning countless inscriptions that rapidly converged to form a circular pattern.

This pattern served as a barrier, deflecting all the mysterious Path Arrows that came his way.

Wael's aura surged after successfully repelling Warner's assault, and with it, his severed arm and injuries healed.

The spatial pressure in the area instantly increased, causing the void to collapse.

Warner felt immense pressure within the space that made him uncomfortable.

He wanted to escape, but the void had been sealed, and his movements slowed considerably.

At that moment, Wael launched an attack.

He appeared in front of Warner, delivering a barrage of punches that left Warner's body riddled with wounds.

The tide of battle had turned too swiftly.

Just moments ago, Warner had held the advantage, but now he found himself on the losing end, enduring grievous injuries.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4823-T've finally witnessed Wael's signature skill, the Boundless Space." "Wow, it's incredibly powerful." "Even Warner has to endure the immense pressure when trapped in the Boundless Space.

His speed naturally slows down as he resists the pressure, making him an easy target." From the distance, powerhouses commented on this battle.

The Boundless Space was a signature skill created by Wael.

Once he unleashed this skill, anyone trapped within it would be at a severe disadvantage.

"This old man." Warner was nearly powerless to fight back.

His face turned grim.

'I never thought he would remain this formidable even after losing his cultivation rank.

Presently, we both hold the Caelum Boundless Rank, but the power of his Boundless Space is restraining me greatly.

If this persists, I'll be at a distinct disadvantage.' Countless thoughts raced through Warner's mind as he contemplated escape.

Yet, with numerous powerhouses watching in this area, fleeing would imperil his future in the Endlos' Nine Districts.

Crack! Another dreadful punch struck him, carrying an incredible force that broke his bones instantly.

"Break!" Warner was angry, causing his aura to surge once again.

However, the spatial pressure in the area intensified as his aura grew stronger.

The terrifying force tore through his flesh, leaving his body covered in countless cracks, from which blood oozed.

At this moment, Warner looked disheveled and battered.

Smack! Suddenly, Wael appeared in front of Warner and slapped him across the face.

“I’ll spare you today out of respect for your master.

If you dare to be arrogant again next time, don’t blame me for not being polite.” After giving Warner a slap, Wael retreated to a distance and dispersed the Boundless Space.

Only then did the spatial pressure that Warner had been enduring finally dissipate.

Warner stared intently at Wael, his expression growing grimmer as he sensed Wael’s aura.

He asked, “You’ve recovered your strength?” He sensed Wael’s current cultivation rank, which was at the Quasi Boundless Rank.

However, at this moment, Wael’s aura underwent an abnormal change.

“This isn’t right,” Warner exclaimed in fear.

“You...

you’ve entered the Chaos Rank?” Wael smiled faintly and replied, “I was just playing with you earlier.

Did you truly believe you could harm me?” “Phew!” Warner gasped in shock.

“Is there another Chaos Rank powerhouse in the Endlos’ Nine Districts?” In the distance, many powerhouses were dumbfounded.

“Wael has entered the Chaos Rank?” “When did he step into the Chaos Rank?” “This doesn’t make sense.

Yardos’ aura spread throughout the Nine Districts when he entered the Chaos Rank, and almost all the powerhouses here sensed it.

Why didn’t anyone sense Wael’s aura when he entered the Chaos Rank?” “He must be hiding something deep.” “Verde Academy has given birth to a Chaos Rank powerhouse.

The Endlos' First District is about to change its leader." "Yes, Verde Academy boasts the strongest overall strength among the Endlos' Nine Districts, but it has never had a Chaos Rank powerhouse lead it.

With Wael's ascent to the Chaos Rank, the strength of the Verde District will undoubtedly surpass that of Theos, Welkin, and the Hazeaf District.

It's poised to claim the first place in the Endlos' Nine Districts." Many powerhouses were filled with astonishment after sensing Wael's aura.

However, Wael only leaked a fraction of his aura before retracting it.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4824-He had spent countless years in the Caelum Boundless Rank and was confident in his abilities.

He believed he could hold his own against a true Chaos Rank powerhouse.

However, he had never actually battled a Chaos Rank powerhouse, nor had he even fought against a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse.

Now, he realized the terror of a true Chaos Rank powerhouse after facing Wael in battle.

They were overwhelmingly superior compared to him.

Wael paid no more attention to him, instead focusing on a distant area that had been devastated.

In the distance, remnants of a protective formation were visible, but the ruins within the formation remained intact.

Wael's figure flickered, and he appeared at the edge of the formation.

He saw James comprehending the formation within and noticed Zeno's presence beside him.

As the battle ended, a crowd of curious living beings gathered, eager to uncover the secrets hidden within the ruins.

They tried to sense it, but the formation was mysterious, impervious to their Zen.

All they could see was a mystical white light emanating from the central area of the formation.

Wael stared at the formation for a while, but its profound and ancient nature rendered it ungraspable, even though he had reached the Chaos Rank.

“Mr.

Wael,” a living being approached and greeted him, “My son possesses extraordinary talent and wishes to join Tempris.

Would you consider accepting him as a disciple?” The one speaking was a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse with a certain reputation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

Wael refused, saying, “I’m not interested.” At that moment, James emerged from the formation.

Even though he was focused on breaking the formation, he was still monitoring the battle in the outside world.

Stepping out of the formation, he gave Wael a thumbs-up and praised, “Sir Wael, you’re amazing! I never expected you to reach the Chaos Rank after leaving Tempris to gain experience.” Wael stroked his beard and chuckled, “It’s just a small achievement.” “Since you’re back, I formally submit my resignation.

From now on, I am no longer the Head of Tempris House,” James said.

Wael refused immediately, asking, “How can that be?” James replied, “I’ve established a sect called Heavenly Court in the Aeternus District.

I am now the sect leader, so I no longer have the qualifications to be the Head of Tempris House.” “You’ve founded a sect?” Wael was taken aback.

“Yes.” James nodded.

“Alright.” Wael smiled.

“In that case, I’ll take back the position of the Head of Tempris House.

No matter how the Heavenly Court develops in the future, I’ll welcome you at any time if you ever want to return to Tempris.” “Sure,” James replied.

James and Wael reminisced briefly.

Then, Wael asked, "You can understand Verde Academy's sacred scroll, so this formation shouldn't be too challenging for you.

Do you have a way to break it?" "Of course," James replied confidently.

This formation did not pose a significant challenge for him, and he could easily decipher it.

Hearing that James could break the formation, many eyes turned toward him.

James surveyed his surroundings, noting the numerous living beings in the area.

Opening the formation would likely trigger intense competition for the fortune inside.

"Sir Wael, please wait here for now.

I'll take a look inside," James said.

"Take me with you." Zeno immediately grabbed him.

Wael had no interest in the fortune here.

Having already reached the Chaos Rank, he stood at the pinnacle of cultivation in the Endlos' Nine Districts.

"You can fight for the fortune.

I'll explore this ancient battlefield," he said, and with that, he vanished from the spot.

James glanced at Zeno and said, "I can take you in, but let's make it clear.

I get the first pick no matter what we find.

You can only have it if I'm not interested." "No problem," Zeno agreed without hesitation.

However, four Caelum Boundless Rank powerhouses surrounded James just as he was about to enter the formation.

James gave them a casual glance and said, "What's the meaning of this?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4825-He was seriously wounded in the battle earlier, but his high cultivation rank allowed him to recover from his external injuries.

He bore no visible injuries and showed no signs of having recently endured a major battle.

"what does this mean?" James stared at Warner, once again questioning him.

Warner replied, "What do you think?" James shook his head slightly.

"I don't know." Zeno chimed in, saying, "Are you stupid? He clearly knows you can break the formation, and he wants you to lead him inside." "Lead me inside?" Warner responded.

"Think of it as your way out.

You lead me into the formation, or else..." "Or else what?" James smirked.

"Death." Warner's expression darkened.

"Haha," James burst into laughter.

"what are you laughing at?" Warner spoke coldly.

"You're no longer the Head of Tempris House, and Wael won't protect you anymore.

Besides, he's gone.

Without him, killing you will be as simple as squashing an insect." Warner had been itching for revenge ever since Wael beat him up, and it was all because of James.

"He wants you dead," Zeno said.

Many living beings gathered around, their expressions a mixture of curiosity and amusement.

James stretched his muscles, bones cracking as he did so.

“I haven’t had a real fight since my cultivation base became stronger.

Today, I’ll test my strength against you.” As soon as James finished speaking, he vanished from his original position.

In the next moment, he appeared behind Warner.

Warner had no time to react before James’ fist landed squarely on his back.

His body tilted and stumbled forward, crashing a distance away before he quickly regained his balance.

Just as he steadied himself, James’ fist struck again, this time landing a powerful blow on his forehead, causing blood to gush forth.

“Is that all?” James appeared nonchalant in the distance.

“Damn it!” Warner seethed.

A golden bow materialized in his hand.

He quickly drew it back and shot a golden Path Arrow directly at James.

Seeing the fight escalating once more, the surrounding living beings hurriedly retreated, fearing collateral damage.

James stood his ground, attempting to catch Warner’s arrow with his hand.

However, he had underestimated Warner.

The arrow proved too formidable, shattering his arm and rendering it useless.

Had he not moved quickly, Warner’s arrow would have annihilated his entire body.

Utilizing the Blithe Omniscience, James reappeared in the distance, inspecting his bloodied and battered arm.

He winced in pain.

“It hurts,” he muttered through gritted teeth.

At that moment, a second arrow sped toward him.

James immediately activated his Thousand Paths Holy Body, manifesting the power of the Greater Paths within him.

He then exerted his strength, delivering a forceful punch that conjured illusory fist shadows, meeting the arrow head-on.

Boom! The fist shadows instantly shattered upon collision with the arrow.

The arrow surged forward once more.

“Quite formidable,” James said as he activated the Blithe Omniscience again, swiftly fleeing the area.

However, the moment he reappeared, the arrow pierced through the void, impaling his body and leaving a bloody wound.

The arrow contained a destructive force that rapidly corroded his flesh, causing half of his body to disintegrate.

Finally, James dropped his guard and channeled all his power to suppress the devastating force.

□

□

□

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4826-If one were to be hit by it, they would be tainted by a dreadful power, even if not immediately killed.

This force could steadily corrode the flesh and consume one’s own strength.

James tried to harness the power of the Greater Paths to suppress it, but it remained unyielding.

In that instant, he entered a state of the Omniscience Path and Battle Rank.

Radiating a white halo from head to toe, tinged with a hint of crimson, he appeared resplendent and radiant.

Even so, he could not both suppress and expel the power left by the Path Arrow within him.

In the end, James used One for All to dispel it.

“So powerful,” James exclaimed.

He was not currently using six powers.

In the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank, utilizing the Omniscience Path and the power of Greater Paths, James displayed considerable formidable prowess that allowed him to surpass Caelum Boundless Rank opponents.

Nevertheless, Warner’s displayed strength was simply too terrifying, and James could not defeat him without employing six powers.

Whoosh! Another Path Arrow streaked through the sky and swept towards James.

He stood in the void.

In that instant, he utilized the Blithe Omniscience, vanishing from his original spot and appearing in front of Warner.

Having previously battled with James, Warner was aware of his use of the Blithe Omniscience and had already locked onto James’ aura.

Warner dodged and reappeared at the distance as James’ aura approached.

The Path Arrow simultaneously remained firmly fixed on James’ aura, seamlessly traversing the void to pursue him.

James activated the power of Greater Paths, creating numerous inscriptions that materialized in front of him, forming a protective shield.

Boom! The brilliant Path Arrow attacked the shield, causing the shield to shatter instantly.

Although the arrow’s power was weakened, it persisted in its charge towards James.

With a thought, James summoned the Chaos Sword, and Sword Energy materialized to intercept the approaching Path Arrow head -on.

The Sword Energy and the Path Arrow clashed in the void, generating a formidable shockwave.

This scene left all the living beings who were watching the battle in absolute awe.

Nobody had expected James to be so powerful.

They were not surprised by Warner's defeat at the Wael's hands, as Wael had been a renowned powerhouse for countless years and had even achieved the Chaos Rank.

It was understandable that Warner was no match for him.

However, what seemed inconceivable now was that an unknown human without any reputation could withstand Warner's attacks.

"Where did James come from, and why is he so strong, able to contend with Warner?" "His strength must be impressive to withstand Warner's attacks.

He could rank in the top twenty of the Boundless Ranking." "As far as I know, James first appeared at Verde Academy, and his first battle was against a genius from the academy named Wynona.

During that time, he was only at the Permanence Boundless Rank." "It feels like only ten thousand epochs have passed." Many living beings were unfamiliar with James.

However, there were quite a few living beings from Verde District who knew something about him.

James' exploits were dug up.

"Damn it," Warner muttered with a terrifying expression.

His Path Arrow was extremely powerful, and among those of the same cultivation rank, only a select few could withstand its force.

Now, a Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank human had been struck by his arrow without any effect, and had even taken the blow.

At this moment, James launched a counterattack.

Gripping the Chaos Sword, he released a terrifying sound wave that sent mysterious echoes reverberating throughout the area.

Upon hearing the sound, some distant living beings found their minds going blank, and their senses scattered.

James displayed the Chaos' Nine Voices.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4827-However, Warner was too formidable.

The Chaos' Nine Voices had no effect on him.

Warner grew increasingly astonished as the battle raged on.

'Damn,' he thought as his anger surged.

"He's truly troublesome," James said with a frown.

He had not expected Warner to be so powerful.

Despite using six powers and unleashing nearly all of his strength, it still proved insufficient to overcome Warner.

In that moment, Warner's aura soared as dozens of illusory golden longbows instantly materialized behind him.

They continued to multiply, with thousands appearing in the blink of an eye, all of them enveloping James instantaneously.

James sensed the void being sealed and constrained.

Meanwhile, illusory longbows surrounded him from all directions, each bearing various Path Arrows.

Countless arrows were aimed directly at James at that moment.

"I'm sending you on your way," a voice echoed, seemingly originating from both right beside his ear and the distant horizon.

Swish! Innumerable Path Arrows surged from every direction.

In response, James activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, harnessing all six powers simultaneously.

The six supreme powers merged within his body, causing his aura to skyrocket.

However, the area was filled with Path Arrows, piercing through the void.

James remained unnoticed despite his surge in power.

In an instant, countless arrows struck him.

Boom! The entire area exploded, forming a terrifying Spatial Black Hole.

James' figure was instantly engulfed by it.

Many living beings were left stunned.

"He's too powerful." "Warner's arrow formation is terrifying.

Even a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse wouldn't dare to face it head-on." "James may be incredibly talented, but his cultivation rank is only at the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank.

He hasn't even stepped into the Caelum Boundless Rank." "It's ashame." "Yes, he would undoubtedly have claimed the top rank on the Boundless Ranking if he had diligently cultivated for the next gathering." Many living beings felt a sense of regret for James.

They all thought he was too audacious, believing that he should have exercised restraint against Warner.

Yet, he had chosen to take the initiative, paying a heavy price and even risking his life as a result.

However, just as everyone thought James had perished under the arrow formation, a figure slowly emerged from the black hole in the void.

James emerged from the Spatial Black Hole and immediately threw a punch, shattering the arrow formation's seal on the space.

In an instant, he vanished from the spot.

Warner, who had assumed James was dead, was now visibly shocked.

Before he could react, James had appeared right in front of him.

“You...” Warner’s body took a step back involuntarily.

James extended his hand, creating a terrifying aura that manifested into an illusory palm print.

This palm print grabbed hold of Warner directly.

“Damn you! Go die!” Warner roared and exerted all his strength in an attempt to break free.

However, he could not escape the grip of the illusory palm no matter how hard he struggled.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4828-While at a distance, an illusory palm was dragging Warner.

Warner could not break free no matter how hard he struggled.

His face turned ashen, with veins bulging on his forehead, and his expression twisted into a fearsome grimace.

He exerted all his strength to escape.

However, the illusory palm was too terrifying.

In the distance, everyone was stunned.

“How is this possible?” “This is Warner, the third-ranked powerhouse from the previous Boundless Ranking.

How could he be so easily controlled now?” It was unbelievable to all witnessing it.

“Let me go!” Warner roared.

“If you’re capable, release me and let’s have a battle for thirty thousand rounds!” Being the third-ranked powerhouse on the Boundless Ranking, he had never endured such humiliation before.

With numerous living beings present, it would be challenging for him to uphold his reputation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts if this news were to spread.

‘James must die!’ A surge of murderous intent rose within him.

The surrounding living beings would only forget this scene once James had died.

“Hmph,” James smiled faintly and released Warner.

The moment Warner was deliberated, a golden bow materialized in his grasp.

He exerted all his strength to draw the bowstring taut.

Instantly, the Path Arrow lined up on the bowstring.

Whoosh! The radiant bowstring shot out.

James stood unwavering in the void, observing the arrow hurtling towards him.

He raised his hand, and his palm continued to enlarge.

The arrow collided with the enlarged palm print.

Boom! The void where the palm print was located collapsed directly, yet James’ palm remained unscathed.

“Impossible!” Warner exclaimed upon witnessing the scene.

“ This can’t be possible.

You’re only in the late stage of the Caelum Acme Rank...” His voice grew fainter with each word.

He had already accepted this fact in his heart although he vocalized his disbelief.

With a flick of his hand, James’ illusory palm transformed and struck Warner’s face squarely, sending his body spinning through the void.

His face swelled up instantly, and moments later, a mouthful of blood, mixed with several shattered teeth, spewed forth.

James continued to wave his palm, while Warner found himself repeatedly slapped.

Despite his desire to resist, a formidable force had already locked onto him, rendering any resistance futile.

It felt as though any movement would tear him apart.

The sight left the distant living beings utterly bewildered.

“Ts this really Warner, the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking?” “This is too incredible.” Nobody could have imagined that Warner would be so utterly defenseless.

After delivering a severe lesson to Warner, pounding him until half of his head was a pulpy mess, James dispelled his six powers.

As his aura gradually diminished, he looked at the barely conscious Warner and said, “Is being the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking truly that remarkable? Remember, there’s always someone better out there.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4829-In the next moment, he had already reappeared by Zeno’s side at the edge of the formation.

As for Warner, he had undergone a stern lesson from both Wael and James.

It was the most frustrating experience he had encountered since he began his cultivation.

He wanted revenge and to eliminate James.

However, a chill ran down his spine every time he thought of James’ displayed strength.

He did not linger in this area for long and quickly escaped with his subordinates.

Countless living beings gasped in shock.

“He’s too powerful.” “The first place on the Boundless Ranking now belongs to James.” “The gathering hasn’t even commenced, and James has already emerged.

Who knows if there are any other freaks waiting to appear.” Countless living beings discussed.

“Impressive,” Zeno raised his thumb in praise, “It’s truly incredible that you’ve cultivated six types of Ten Path Techniques.

You should know that since Emperor Raiah, no living being has been able to cultivate more than two types of power.

Yet, you possess six.

Given time, you will undoubtedly become the top powerhouse in the Endlos.” “Aren’t you losing your memory? How do you know what I’m using?” James looked at Zeno with a puzzled expression.

“Huh?” This question left Zeno stumped.

“Yeah, how do I know?” He looked puzzled and said, “I naturally knew when I watched you fight.” James was skeptical of this forced explanation.

He wondered if Zeno was pretending, but it did not seem like an act.

At this moment, a voice spoke out, “Fellow.” James turned to see an elderly man walking through the void.

He wore a gray robe, his gray hair framing a face full of wrinkles, yet radiated a powerful aura.

James gave him a casual glance and said, ““What’s up?” The man smiled and said, “I am the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect, and I have a granddaughter who is a rare talent that our sect hasn’t seen in generations.

She secured the eighth rank in the last Boundless Ranking.” “Oh,” James responded nonchalantly.

He had heard of the Sky Sword Sect.

It was the strongest sect in the Sky District.

Its current sect leader also served as the district leader of the Sky District, boasting a cultivation rank that reached the Quasi Boundless Rank.

“My granddaughter is quite arrogant, which has caused her not to marry yet.

Would you be interested, my fellow?” The Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect lightly stroked his beard and smiled as he asked.

James' eyes rolled.

He had no interest in the so-called Heavenly Beauty of the Sky Sword Sect.

What piqued his curiosity was the Sky Sword Sect's sacred scroll.

He changed the subject, saying, "I'd be pleased to meet her if the opportunity arises." James wasn't overly concerned about the remaining sacred scroll.

Following this gathering, his name would resound throughout the Nine Districts.

With his strength and fame, it would not be difficult to gain access to the sacred scrolls of the other districts.

Once he had access to the sacred scrolls of the remaining four districts, he would be able to cultivate ten powers.

At that point, he could finally practice the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

"Good," the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect wore a smile on his face.

"It's settled, then.

You must come and visit the Sky Sword Sect after this gathering ends."

"Absolutely," James replied with a smile.

Immediately, other powerhouses approached.

"Fellow, we also have a heavenly beauty in our sect who would be a perfect match for you." "Fellow, with your strength, how can just one woman be enough? Our sect has a pair of twin heavenly geniuses, and both of them are stunning beauties.

What do you think? Would you like me to introduce them?" Numerous powerhouses came forward, each eager to introduce their sect's talented women to James.

In a short span, dozens of living beings were keen on arranging marriages between their sect's women and James.

James nonchalantly agreed, promising to visit their sects when he had the time.

After expending a lot of effort and words, he finally dismissed the living beings who had approached him to establish connections.

“Enough, stop with these useless things.

It’s time to enter the formation.” Zeno could not wait any longer.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4830-The ruins had been appearing for quite some time now.

The white light emanating from within them had drawn the attention of the living beings in this area.

However, none of these living beings had dared to step foot inside during the previous battles.

The battle came to an end, James did not drive others away as Warner had done.

This caused numerous living beings to gather outside and study the formation.

Zeno was growing impatient and tugged at James, urging him to enter the formation and search for treasures.

For Zeno, treasure hunting was secondary.

His main goal was to enter the formation and find some items left behind inside the ruins.

He wanted to use those items to deduce what had transpired in the distant past.

It was a journey to rediscover himself.

“Follow me,” James said without hesitation.

He advanced with measured steps, and with a single stride, he arrived at the location of the formation.

James glanced at the formation, with his hand raised, the mystical inscriptions appeared within his fingertips.

The inscriptions seamlessly integrated into the formation.

At that moment, a crack appeared in the formation.

James' consciousness moved, bringing his body into the formation.

Zeno followed closely behind.

After entering the formation, there were not many changes in the surroundings.

It was a ruin, once a spiritual mountain that had been destroyed.

Within a particular ruin of this mountain, an unknown object emitted a radiant white light.

James quickly made his way towards the source of the white light with just a single step.

Zeno, who had followed him, wore an expression of astonishment.

James, too, was bewildered upon seeing that the source of the radiant light was nothing but a set of bones.

The bones were riddled with countless wounds.

Sword slashes, knife marks, and various fractures.

Many parts were damaged.

Upon witnessing this scene, James was filled with surprise.

He had thought that the radiant light indicated a rare treasure, but it turned out to be a set of bones.

He exchanged a glance with Zeno.

"What's going on?" James asked.

Zeno shrugged.

"I have no idea.

It seems like these bones are sealed with a powerful enchantment, keeping them here." He noticed some clues.

James, too, stared intently.

He did sense the presence of the seal.

Inside the bones, he could not sense any signs of life, but there was a palpable, unsettling power.

Despite the long passage of time since the owner of these bones had perished, the bones still held a disquieting power within.

"The owner of these bones must have been a Chaos Rank powerhouse in their lifetime," James analyzed.

Zeno added, "Just don't know which powerhouse sealed these bones in this place.

What can be confirmed is that this set of bones was sealed during the battle that took place before the birth of the Ten Districts.

I can't tell if it's the Extraterrestrial Demon or a living being from the Endlos." "What should we do?" James asked Zeno.

"I'm confident I can break the seal restrictions around these bones, but as you mentioned, if this turns out to be the Extraterrestrial Demon, it could spell trouble if it escapes." Zeno remained nonchalant.

"What's the worst that could happen? Even if this being was once a Chaos Rank powerhouse, it has been dead for countless ages.

Its power is probably less than a hundredth of what it used to be.

If it truly is the Extraterrestrial Demon, we can suppress it.

Besides..." He changed the topic, saying, "I'm actually hoping it's the Extraterrestrial Demon.

If it is, we might learn something about the origin of the Extraterrestrial Demon from these bones after we suppress it.” James cautioned, “Don’t blame me if things go awry.” Zeno responded, “I won’t.

Go ahead and open it up.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4823

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4823-T’ve finally witnessed Wael’s signature skill, the Boundless Space.” “Wow, it’s incredibly powerful.” “Even Warner has to endure the immense pressure when trapped in the Boundless Space.

His speed naturally slows down as he resists the pressure, making him an easy target.” From the distance, powerhouses commented on this battle.

The Boundless Space was a signature skill created by Wael.

Once he unleashed this skill, anyone trapped within it would be at a severe disadvantage.

“This old man.” Warner was nearly powerless to fight back.

His face turned grim.

‘I never thought he would remain this formidable even after losing his cultivation rank.

Presently, we both hold the Caelum Boundless Rank, but the power of his Boundless Space is restraining me greatly.

If this persists, I’ll be at a distinct disadvantage.’ Countless thoughts raced through Warner’s mind as he contemplated escape.

Yet, with numerous powerhouses watching in this area, fleeing would imperil his future in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

Crack! Another dreadful punch struck him, carrying an incredible force that broke his bones instantly.

“Break!” Warner was angry, causing his aura to surge once again.

However, the spatial pressure in the area intensified as his aura grew stronger.

The terrifying force tore through his flesh, leaving his body covered in countless cracks, from which blood oozed.

At this moment, Warner looked disheveled and battered.

Smack! Suddenly, Wael appeared in front of Warner and slapped him across the face.

"I'll spare you today out of respect for your master.

If you dare to be arrogant again next time, don't blame me for not being polite." After giving Warner a slap, Wael retreated to a distance and dispersed the Boundless Space.

Only then did the spatial pressure that Warner had been enduring finally dissipate.

Warner stared intently at Wael, his expression growing grimmer as he sensed Wael's aura.

He asked, "You've recovered your strength?" He sensed Wael's current cultivation rank, which was at the Quasi Boundless Rank.

However, at this moment, Wael's aura underwent an abnormal change.

"This isn't right," Warner exclaimed in fear.

"You...

you've entered the Chaos Rank?" Wael smiled faintly and replied, "I was just playing with you earlier.

Did you truly believe you could harm me?" "Phew!" Warner gasped in shock.

"Is there another Chaos Rank powerhouse in the Endlos' Nine Districts?" In the distance, many powerhouses were dumbfounded.

"Wael has entered the Chaos Rank?" "When did he step into the Chaos Rank?" "This doesn't make sense.

Yardos' aura spread throughout the Nine Districts when he entered the Chaos Rank, and almost all the powerhouses here sensed it.

Why didn't anyone sense Wael's aura when he entered the Chaos Rank?" "He must be hiding something deep." "Verde Academy has given birth to a Chaos Rank powerhouse.

The Endlos' First District is about to change its leader." "Yes, Verde Academy boasts the strongest overall strength among the Endlos' Nine Districts, but it has never had a Chaos Rank powerhouse lead it.

With Wael's ascent to the Chaos Rank, the strength of the Verde District will undoubtedly surpass that of Theos, Welkin, and the Hazeaf District.

It's poised to claim the first place in the Endlos' Nine Districts." Many powerhouses were filled with astonishment after sensing Wael's aura.

However, Wael only leaked a fraction of his aura before retracting it.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4824-He had spent countless years in the Caelum Boundless Rank and was confident in his abilities.

He believed he could hold his own against a true Chaos Rank powerhouse.

However, he had never actually battled a Chaos Rank powerhouse, nor had he even fought against a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse.

Now, he realized the terror of a true Chaos Rank powerhouse after facing Wael in battle.

They were overwhelmingly superior compared to him.

Wael paid no more attention to him, instead focusing on a distant area that had been devastated.

In the distance, remnants of a protective formation were visible, but the ruins within the formation remained intact.

Wael's figure flickered, and he appeared at the edge of the formation.

He saw James comprehending the formation within and noticed Zeno's presence beside him.

As the battle ended, a crowd of curious living beings gathered, eager to uncover the secrets hidden within the ruins.

They tried to sense it, but the formation was mysterious, impervious to their Zen.

All they could see was a mystical white light emanating from the central area of the formation.

Wael stared at the formation for a while, but its profound and ancient nature rendered it ungraspable, even though he had reached the Chaos Rank.

“Mr.

Wael,” a living being approached and greeted him, “My son possesses extraordinary talent and wishes to join Tempris.

Would you consider accepting him as a disciple?” The one speaking was a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse with a certain reputation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

Wael refused, saying, “I’m not interested.” At that moment, James emerged from the formation.

Even though he was focused on breaking the formation, he was still monitoring the battle in the outside world.

Stepping out of the formation, he gave Wael a thumbs-up and praised, “Sir Wael, you’re amazing! I never expected you to reach the Chaos Rank after leaving Tempris to gain experience.” Wael stroked his beard and chuckled, “It’s just a small achievement.” “Since you’re back, I formally submit my resignation.

From now on, I am no longer the Head of Tempris House,” James said.

Wael refused immediately, asking, “How can that be?” James replied, “I’ve established a sect called Heavenly Court in the Aeternus District.

I am now the sect leader, so I no longer have the qualifications to be the Head of Tempris House.” “You’ve founded a sect?” Wael was taken aback.

“Yes.” James nodded.

“Alright.” Wael smiled.

“In that case, I’ll take back the position of the Head of Tempris House.

No matter how the Heavenly Court develops in the future, I’ll welcome you at any time if you ever want to return to Tempris.” “Sure,” James replied.

James and Wael reminisced briefly.

Then, Wael asked, “You can understand Verde Academy’s sacred scroll, so this formation shouldn’t be too challenging for you.

Do you have a way to break it?” “Of course,” James replied confidently.

This formation did not pose a significant challenge for him, and he could easily decipher it.

Hearing that James could break the formation, many eyes turned toward him.

James surveyed his surroundings, noting the numerous living beings in the area.

Opening the formation would likely trigger intense competition for the fortune inside.

“Sir Wael, please wait here for now.

I’ll take a look inside,” James said.

“Take me with you.” Zeno immediately grabbed him.

Wael had no interest in the fortune here.

Having already reached the Chaos Rank, he stood at the pinnacle of cultivation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

“You can fight for the fortune.

I’ll explore this ancient battlefield,” he said, and with that, he vanished from the spot.

James glanced at Zeno and said, “I can take you in, but let’s make it clear.

I get the first pick no matter what we find.

You can only have it if I'm not interested." "No problem," Zeno agreed without hesitation.

However, four Caelum Boundless Rank powerhouses surrounded James just as he was about to enter the formation.

James gave them a casual glance and said, "What's the meaning of this?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4825-He was seriously wounded in the battle earlier, but his high cultivation rank allowed him to recover from his external injuries.

He bore no visible injuries and showed no signs of having recently endured a major battle.

"what does this mean?" James stared at Warner, once again questioning him.

Warner replied, "What do you think?" James shook his head slightly.

"I don't know." Zeno chimed in, saying, "Are you stupid? He clearly knows you can break the formation, and he wants you to lead him inside." "Lead me inside?" Warner responded.

"Think of it as your way out.

You lead me into the formation, or else..." "Or else what?" James smirked.

"Death." Warner's expression darkened.

"Haha," James burst into laughter.

"what are you laughing at?" Warner spoke coldly.

"You're no longer the Head of Tempris House, and Wael won't protect you anymore.

Besides, he's gone.

Without him, killing you will be as simple as squashing an insect." Warner had been itching for revenge ever since Wael beat him up, and it was all because of James.

“He wants you dead,” Zeno said.

Many living beings gathered around, their expressions a mixture of curiosity and amusement.

James stretched his muscles, bones cracking as he did so.

“I haven’t had a real fight since my cultivation base became stronger.

Today, I’ll test my strength against you.” As soon as James finished speaking, he vanished from his original position.

In the next moment, he appeared behind Warner.

Warner had no time to react before James’ fist landed squarely on his back.

His body tilted and stumbled forward, crashing a distance away before he quickly regained his balance.

Just as he steadied himself, James’ fist struck again, this time landing a powerful blow on his forehead, causing blood to gush forth.

“Is that all?” James appeared nonchalant in the distance.

“Damn it!” Warner seethed.

A golden bow materialized in his hand.

He quickly drew it back and shot a golden Path Arrow directly at James.

Seeing the fight escalating once more, the surrounding living beings hurriedly retreated, fearing collateral damage.

James stood his ground, attempting to catch Warner’s arrow with his hand.

However, he had underestimated Warner.

The arrow proved too formidable, shattering his arm and rendering it useless.

Had he not moved quickly, Warner’s arrow would have annihilated his entire body.

Utilizing the Blithe Omniscience, James reappeared in the distance, inspecting his bloodied and battered arm.

He winced in pain.

“It hurts,” he muttered through gritted teeth.

At that moment, a second arrow sped toward him.

James immediately activated his Thousand Paths Holy Body, manifesting the power of the Greater Paths within him.

He then exerted his strength, delivering a forceful punch that conjured illusory fist shadows, meeting the arrow head-on.

Boom! The fist shadows instantly shattered upon collision with the arrow.

The arrow surged forward once more.

“Quite formidable,” James said as he activated the Blithe Omniscience again, swiftly fleeing the area.

However, the moment he reappeared, the arrow pierced through the void, impaling his body and leaving a bloody wound.

The arrow contained a destructive force that rapidly corroded his flesh, causing half of his body to disintegrate.

Finally, James dropped his guard and channeled all his power to suppress the devastating force.

□

□

□

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4826-If one were to be hit by it, they would be tainted by a dreadful power, even if not immediately killed.

This force could steadily corrode the flesh and consume one’s own strength.

James tried to harness the power of the Greater Paths to suppress it, but it remained unyielding.

In that instant, he entered a state of the Omniscience Path and Battle Rank.

Radiating a white halo from head to toe, tinged with a hint of crimson, he appeared resplendent and radiant.

Even so, he could not both suppress and expel the power left by the Path Arrow within him.

In the end, James used One for All to dispel it.

“So powerful,” James exclaimed.

He was not currently using six powers.

In the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank, utilizing the Omniscience Path and the power of Greater Paths, James displayed considerable formidable prowess that allowed him to surpass Caelum Boundless Rank opponents.

Nevertheless, Warner's displayed strength was simply too terrifying, and James could not defeat him without employing six powers.

Whoosh! Another Path Arrow streaked through the sky and swept towards James.

He stood in the void.

In that instant, he utilized the Blithe Omniscience, vanishing from his original spot and appearing in front of Warner.

Having previously battled with James, Warner was aware of his use of the Blithe Omniscience and had already locked onto James' aura.

Warner dodged and reappeared at the distance as James' aura approached.

The Path Arrow simultaneously remained firmly fixed on James' aura, seamlessly traversing the void to pursue him.

James activated the power of Greater Paths, creating numerous inscriptions that materialized in front of him, forming a protective shield.

Boom! The brilliant Path Arrow attacked the shield, causing the shield to shatter instantly.

Although the arrow's power was weakened, it persisted in its charge towards James.

With a thought, James summoned the Chaos Sword, and Sword Energy materialized to intercept the approaching Path Arrow head-on.

The Sword Energy and the Path Arrow clashed in the void, generating a formidable shockwave.

This scene left all the living beings who were watching the battle in absolute awe.

Nobody had expected James to be so powerful.

They were not surprised by Warner's defeat at the Wael's hands, as Wael had been a renowned powerhouse for countless years and had even achieved the Chaos Rank.

It was understandable that Warner was no match for him.

However, what seemed inconceivable now was that an unknown human without any reputation could withstand Warner's attacks.

"Where did James come from, and why is he so strong, able to contend with Warner?" "His strength must be impressive to withstand Warner's attacks.

He could rank in the top twenty of the Boundless Ranking." "As far as I know, James first appeared at Verde Academy, and his first battle was against a genius from the academy named Wynona.

During that time, he was only at the Permanence Boundless Rank." "It feels like only ten thousand epochs have passed." Many living beings were unfamiliar with James.

However, there were quite a few living beings from Verde District who knew something about him.

James' exploits were dug up.

"Damn it," Warner muttered with a terrifying expression.

His Path Arrow was extremely powerful, and among those of the same cultivation rank, only a select few could withstand its force.

Now, a Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank human had been struck by his arrow without any effect, and had even taken the blow.

At this moment, James launched a counterattack.

Gripping the Chaos Sword, he released a terrifying sound wave that sent mysterious echoes reverberating throughout the area.

Upon hearing the sound, some distant living beings found their minds going blank, and their senses scattered.

James displayed the Chaos' Nine Voices.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4827-However, Warner was too formidable.

The Chaos' Nine Voices had no effect on him.

Warner grew increasingly astonished as the battle raged on.

'Damn,' he thought as his anger surged.

"He's truly troublesome," James said with a frown.

He had not expected Warner to be so powerful.

Despite using six powers and unleashing nearly all of his strength, it still proved insufficient to overcome Warner.

In that moment, Warner's aura soared as dozens of illusory golden longbows instantly materialized behind him.

They continued to multiply, with thousands appearing in the blink of an eye, all of them enveloping James instantaneously.

James sensed the void being sealed and constrained.

Meanwhile, illusory longbows surrounded him from all directions, each bearing various Path Arrows.

Countless arrows were aimed directly at James at that moment.

“I’m sending you on your way,” a voice echoed, seemingly originating from both right beside his ear and the distant horizon.

Swish! Innumerable Path Arrows surged from every direction.

In response, James activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, harnessing all six powers simultaneously.

The six supreme powers merged within his body, causing his aura to skyrocket.

However, the area was filled with Path Arrows, piercing through the void.

James remained unnoticed despite his surge in power.

In an instant, countless arrows struck him.

Boom! The entire area exploded, forming a terrifying Spatial Black Hole.

James’ figure was instantly engulfed by it.

Many living beings were left stunned.

“He’s too powerful.” “Warner’s arrow formation is terrifying.

Even a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse wouldn’t dare to face it head-on.” “James may be incredibly talented, but his cultivation rank is only at the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank.

He hasn’t even stepped into the Caelum Boundless Rank.” “It’s ashame.” “Yes, he would undoubtedly have claimed the top rank on the Boundless Ranking if he had diligently cultivated for the next gathering.” Many living beings felt a sense of regret for James.

They all thought he was too audacious, believing that he should have exercised restraint against Warner.

Yet, he had chosen to take the initiative, paying a heavy price and even risking his life as a result.

However, just as everyone thought James had perished under the arrow formation, a figure slowly emerged from the black hole in the void.

James emerged from the Spatial Black Hole and immediately threw a punch, shattering the arrow formation's seal on the space.

In an instant, he vanished from the spot.

Warner, who had assumed James was dead, was now visibly shocked.

Before he could react, James had appeared right in front of him.

"You..." Warner's body took a step back involuntarily.

James extended his hand, creating a terrifying aura that manifested into an illusory palm print.

This palm print grabbed hold of Warner directly.

"Damn you! Go die!" Warner roared and exerted all his strength in an attempt to break free.

However, he could not escape the grip of the illusory palm no matter how hard he struggled.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4828-While at a distance, an illusory palm was dragging Warner.

Warner could not break free no matter how hard he struggled.

His face turned ashen, with veins bulging on his forehead, and his expression twisted into a fearsome grimace.

He exerted all his strength to escape.

However, the illusory palm was too terrifying.

In the distance, everyone was stunned.

"How is this possible?" "This is Warner, the third-ranked powerhouse from the previous Boundless Ranking.

How could he be so easily controlled now?" It was unbelievable to all witnessing it.

"Let me go!" warner roared.

"If you're capable, release me and let's have a battle for thirty thousand rounds!" Being the third-ranked powerhouse on the Boundless Ranking, he had never endured such humiliation before.

With numerous living beings present, it would be challenging for him to uphold his reputation in the Endlos' Nine Districts if this news were to spread.

'James must die!' A surge of murderous intent rose within him.

The surrounding living beings would only forget this scene once James had died.

"Hmph," James smiled faintly and released Warner.

The moment Warner was deliberated, a golden bow materialized in his grasp.

He exerted all his strength to draw the bowstring taut.

Instantly, the Path Arrow lined up on the bowstring.

Whoosh! The radiant bowstring shot out.

James stood unwavering in the void, observing the arrow hurtling towards him.

He raised his hand, and his palm continued to enlarge.

The arrow collided with the enlarged palm print.

Boom! The void where the palm print was located collapsed directly, yet James' palm remained unscathed.

"Impossible!" Warner exclaimed upon witnessing the scene.

" This can't be possible.

You're only in the late stage of the Caelum Acme Rank..." His voice grew fainter with each word.

He had already accepted this fact in his heart although he vocalized his disbelief.

With a flick of his hand, James' illusory palm transformed and struck Warner's face squarely, sending his body spinning through the void.

His face swelled up instantly, and moments later, a mouthful of blood, mixed with several shattered teeth, spewed forth.

James continued to wave his palm, while Warner found himself repeatedly slapped.

Despite his desire to resist, a formidable force had already locked onto him, rendering any resistance futile.

It felt as though any movement would tear him apart.

The sight left the distant living beings utterly bewildered.

"Ts this really Warner, the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking?" "This is too incredible." Nobody could have imagined that Warner would be so utterly defenseless.

After delivering a severe lesson to Warner, pounding him until half of his head was a pulpy mess, James dispelled his six powers.

As his aura gradually diminished, he looked at the barely conscious Warner and said, "Is being the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking truly that remarkable? Remember, there's always someone better out there."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4829-In the next moment, he had already reappeared by Zeno's side at the edge of the formation.

As for Warner, he had undergone a stern lesson from both Wael and James.

It was the most frustrating experience he had encountered since he began his cultivation.

He wanted revenge and to eliminate James.

However, a chill ran down his spine every time he thought of James' displayed strength.

He did not linger in this area for long and quickly escaped with his subordinates.

Countless living beings gasped in shock.

“He’s too powerful.” “The first place on the Boundless Ranking now belongs to James.” “The gathering hasn’t even commenced, and James has already emerged.

Who knows if there are any other freaks waiting to appear.” Countless living beings discussed.

“Impressive,” Zeno raised his thumb in praise, “It’s truly incredible that you’ve cultivated six types of Ten Path Techniques.

You should know that since Emperor Raiah, no living being has been able to cultivate more than two types of power.

Yet, you possess six.

Given time, you will undoubtedly become the top powerhouse in the Endlos.” “Aren’t you losing your memory? How do you know what I’m using?” James looked at Zeno with a puzzled expression.

“Huh?” This question left Zeno stumped.

“Yeah, how do I know?” He looked puzzled and said, “I naturally knew when I watched you fight.” James was skeptical of this forced explanation.

He wondered if Zeno was pretending, but it did not seem like an act.

At this moment, a voice spoke out, “Fellow.” James turned to see an elderly man walking through the void.

He wore a gray robe, his gray hair framing a face full of wrinkles, yet radiated a powerful aura.

James gave him a casual glance and said, ““What’s up?” The man smiled and said, “I am the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect, and I have a granddaughter who is a rare talent that our sect hasn’t seen in generations.

She secured the eighth rank in the last Boundless Ranking.” “Oh,” James responded nonchalantly.

He had heard of the Sky Sword Sect.

It was the strongest sect in the Sky District.

Its current sect leader also served as the district leader of the Sky District, boasting a cultivation rank that reached the Quasi Boundless Rank.

“My granddaughter is quite arrogant, which has caused her not to marry yet.

Would you be interested, my fellow?” The Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect lightly stroked his beard and smiled as he asked.

James’ eyes rolled.

He had no interest in the so-called Heavenly Beauty of the Sky Sword Sect.

What piqued his curiosity was the Sky Sword Sect’s sacred scroll.

He changed the subject, saying, “I’d be pleased to meet her if the opportunity arises.” James wasn’t overly concerned about the remaining sacred scroll.

Following this gathering, his name would resound throughout the Nine Districts.

With his strength and fame, it would not be difficult to gain access to the sacred scrolls of the other districts.

Once he had access to the sacred scrolls of the remaining four districts, he would be able to cultivate ten powers.

At that point, he could finally practice the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

“Good,” the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect wore a smile on his face.

“It’s settled, then.

You must come and visit the Sky Sword Sect after this gathering ends.”

“Absolutely,” James replied with a smile.

Immediately, other powerhouses approached.

“Fellow, we also have a heavenly beauty in our sect who would be a perfect match for you.” “Fellow, with your strength, how can just one woman be enough? Our sect has a pair of twin heavenly geniuses, and both of them are stunning beauties.

What do you think? Would you like me to introduce them?” Numerous powerhouses came forward, each eager to introduce their sect’s talented women to James.

In a short span, dozens of living beings were keen on arranging marriages between their sect’s women and James.

James nonchalantly agreed, promising to visit their sects when he had the time.

After expending a lot of effort and words, he finally dismissed the living beings who had approached him to establish connections.

“Enough, stop with these useless things.

It’s time to enter the formation.” Zeno could not wait any longer.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4830-The ruins had been appearing for quite some time now.

The white light emanating from within them had drawn the attention of the living beings in this area.

However, none of these living beings had dared to step foot inside during the previous battles.

The battle came to an end, James did not drive others away as Warner had done.

This caused numerous living beings to gather outside and study the formation.

Zeno was growing impatient and tugged at James, urging him to enter the formation and search for treasures.

For Zeno, treasure hunting was secondary.

His main goal was to enter the formation and find some items left behind inside the ruins.

He wanted to use those items to deduce what had transpired in the distant past.

It was a journey to rediscover himself.

“Follow me,” James said without hesitation.

He advanced with measured steps, and with a single stride, he arrived at the location of the formation.

James glanced at the formation, with his hand raised, the mystical inscriptions appeared within his fingertips.

The inscriptions seamlessly integrated into the formation.

At that moment, a crack appeared in the formation.

James’ consciousness moved, bringing his body into the formation.

Zeno followed closely behind.

After entering the formation, there were not many changes in the surroundings.

It was a ruin, once a spiritual mountain that had been destroyed.

Within a particular ruin of this mountain, an unknown object emitted a radiant white light.

James quickly made his way towards the source of the white light with just a single step.

Zeno, who had followed him, wore an expression of astonishment.

James, too, was bewildered upon seeing that the source of the radiant light was nothing but a set of bones.

The bones were riddled with countless wounds.

Sword slashes, knife marks, and various fractures.

Many parts were damaged.

Upon witnessing this scene, James was filled with surprise.

He had thought that the radiant light indicated a rare treasure, but it turned out to be a set of bones.

He exchanged a glance with Zeno.

“What’s going on?” James asked.

Zeno shrugged.

“I have no idea.

It seems like these bones are sealed with a powerful enchantment, keeping them here.” He noticed some clues.

James, too, stared intently.

He did sense the presence of the seal.

Inside the bones, he could not sense any signs of life, but there was a palpable, unsettling power.

Despite the long passage of time since the owner of these bones had perished, the bones still held a disquieting power within.

“The owner of these bones must have been a Chaos Rank powerhouse in their lifetime,” James analyzed.

Zeno added, “Just don’t know which powerhouse sealed these bones in this place.

What can be confirmed is that this set of bones was sealed during the battle that took place before the birth of the Ten Districts.

I can’t tell if it’s the Extraterrestrial Demon or a living being from the Endlos.”
“What should we do?” James asked Zeno.

“I’m confident I can break the seal restrictions around these bones, but as you mentioned, if this turns out to be the Extraterrestrial Demon, it could spell trouble if it escapes.” Zeno remained nonchalant.

“What’s the worst that could happen? Even if this being was once a Chaos Rank powerhouse, it has been dead for countless ages.

Its power is probably less than a hundredth of what it used to be.

If it truly is the Extraterrestrial Demon, we can suppress it.

Besides...” He changed the topic, saying, “I’m actually hoping it’s the Extraterrestrial Demon.

If it is, we might learn something about the origin of the Extraterrestrial Demon from these bones after we suppress it.” James cautioned, “Don’t blame me if things go awry.” Zeno responded, “I won’t.

Go ahead and open it up.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4824

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4824-He had spent countless years in the Caelum Boundless Rank and was confident in his abilities.

He believed he could hold his own against a true Chaos Rank powerhouse.

However, he had never actually battled a Chaos Rank powerhouse, nor had he even fought against a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse.

Now, he realized the terror of a true Chaos Rank powerhouse after facing Wael in battle.

They were overwhelmingly superior compared to him.

Wael paid no more attention to him, instead focusing on a distant area that had been devastated.

In the distance, remnants of a protective formation were visible, but the ruins within the formation remained intact.

Wael’s figure flickered, and he appeared at the edge of the formation.

He saw James comprehending the formation within and noticed Zeno’s presence beside him.

As the battle ended, a crowd of curious living beings gathered, eager to uncover the secrets hidden within the ruins.

They tried to sense it, but the formation was mysterious, impervious to their Zen.

All they could see was a mystical white light emanating from the central area of the formation.

Wael stared at the formation for a while, but its profound and ancient nature rendered it ungraspable, even though he had reached the Chaos Rank.

“Mr.

Wael,” a living being approached and greeted him, “My son possesses extraordinary talent and wishes to join Tempris.

Would you consider accepting him as a disciple?” The one speaking was a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse with a certain reputation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

Wael refused, saying, “I’m not interested.” At that moment, James emerged from the formation.

Even though he was focused on breaking the formation, he was still monitoring the battle in the outside world.

Stepping out of the formation, he gave Wael a thumbs-up and praised, “Sir Wael, you’re amazing! I never expected you to reach the Chaos Rank after leaving Tempris to gain experience.” Wael stroked his beard and chuckled, “It’s just a small achievement.” “Since you’re back, I formally submit my resignation.

From now on, I am no longer the Head of Tempris House,” James said.

Wael refused immediately, asking, “How can that be?” James replied, “I’ve established a sect called Heavenly Court in the Aeternus District.

I am now the sect leader, so I no longer have the qualifications to be the Head of Tempris House.” “You’ve founded a sect?” Wael was taken aback.

“Yes.” James nodded.

“Alright.” Wael smiled.

“In that case, I’ll take back the position of the Head of Tempris House.

No matter how the Heavenly Court develops in the future, I’ll welcome you at any time if you ever want to return to Tempris.” “Sure,” James replied.

James and Wael reminisced briefly.

Then, Wael asked, “You can understand Verde Academy’s sacred scroll, so this formation shouldn’t be too challenging for you.

Do you have a way to break it?” “Of course,” James replied confidently.

This formation did not pose a significant challenge for him, and he could easily decipher it.

Hearing that James could break the formation, many eyes turned toward him.

James surveyed his surroundings, noting the numerous living beings in the area.

Opening the formation would likely trigger intense competition for the fortune inside.

“Sir Wael, please wait here for now.

I’ll take a look inside,” James said.

“Take me with you.” Zeno immediately grabbed him.

Wael had no interest in the fortune here.

Having already reached the Chaos Rank, he stood at the pinnacle of cultivation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts.

“You can fight for the fortune.

I’ll explore this ancient battlefield,” he said, and with that, he vanished from the spot.

James glanced at Zeno and said, “I can take you in, but let’s make it clear.

I get the first pick no matter what we find.

You can only have it if I'm not interested." "No problem," Zeno agreed without hesitation.

However, four Caelum Boundless Rank powerhouses surrounded James just as he was about to enter the formation.

James gave them a casual glance and said, "What's the meaning of this?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4825-He was seriously wounded in the battle earlier, but his high cultivation rank allowed him to recover from his external injuries.

He bore no visible injuries and showed no signs of having recently endured a major battle.

"what does this mean?" James stared at Warner, once again questioning him.

Warner replied, "What do you think?" James shook his head slightly.

"I don't know." Zeno chimed in, saying, "Are you stupid? He clearly knows you can break the formation, and he wants you to lead him inside." "Lead me inside?" Warner responded.

"Think of it as your way out.

You lead me into the formation, or else..." "Or else what?" James smirked.

"Death." Warner's expression darkened.

"Haha," James burst into laughter.

"what are you laughing at?" Warner spoke coldly.

"You're no longer the Head of Tempris House, and Wael won't protect you anymore.

Besides, he's gone.

Without him, killing you will be as simple as squashing an insect." Warner had been itching for revenge ever since Wael beat him up, and it was all because of James.

“He wants you dead,” Zeno said.

Many living beings gathered around, their expressions a mixture of curiosity and amusement.

James stretched his muscles, bones cracking as he did so.

“I haven’t had a real fight since my cultivation base became stronger.

Today, I’ll test my strength against you.” As soon as James finished speaking, he vanished from his original position.

In the next moment, he appeared behind Warner.

Warner had no time to react before James’ fist landed squarely on his back.

His body tilted and stumbled forward, crashing a distance away before he quickly regained his balance.

Just as he steadied himself, James’ fist struck again, this time landing a powerful blow on his forehead, causing blood to gush forth.

“Is that all?” James appeared nonchalant in the distance.

“Damn it!” Warner seethed.

A golden bow materialized in his hand.

He quickly drew it back and shot a golden Path Arrow directly at James.

Seeing the fight escalating once more, the surrounding living beings hurriedly retreated, fearing collateral damage.

James stood his ground, attempting to catch Warner’s arrow with his hand.

However, he had underestimated Warner.

The arrow proved too formidable, shattering his arm and rendering it useless.

Had he not moved quickly, Warner’s arrow would have annihilated his entire body.

Utilizing the Blithe Omniscience, James reappeared in the distance, inspecting his bloodied and battered arm.

He winced in pain.

“It hurts,” he muttered through gritted teeth.

At that moment, a second arrow sped toward him.

James immediately activated his Thousand Paths Holy Body, manifesting the power of the Greater Paths within him.

He then exerted his strength, delivering a forceful punch that conjured illusory fist shadows, meeting the arrow head-on.

Boom! The fist shadows instantly shattered upon collision with the arrow.

The arrow surged forward once more.

“Quite formidable,” James said as he activated the Blithe Omniscience again, swiftly fleeing the area.

However, the moment he reappeared, the arrow pierced through the void, impaling his body and leaving a bloody wound.

The arrow contained a destructive force that rapidly corroded his flesh, causing half of his body to disintegrate.

Finally, James dropped his guard and channeled all his power to suppress the devastating force.

□

□

□

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4826-If one were to be hit by it, they would be tainted by a dreadful power, even if not immediately killed.

This force could steadily corrode the flesh and consume one’s own strength.

James tried to harness the power of the Greater Paths to suppress it, but it remained unyielding.

In that instant, he entered a state of the Omniscience Path and Battle Rank.

Radiating a white halo from head to toe, tinged with a hint of crimson, he appeared resplendent and radiant.

Even so, he could not both suppress and expel the power left by the Path Arrow within him.

In the end, James used One for All to dispel it.

“So powerful,” James exclaimed.

He was not currently using six powers.

In the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank, utilizing the Omniscience Path and the power of Greater Paths, James displayed considerable formidable prowess that allowed him to surpass Caelum Boundless Rank opponents.

Nevertheless, Warner's displayed strength was simply too terrifying, and James could not defeat him without employing six powers.

Whoosh! Another Path Arrow streaked through the sky and swept towards James.

He stood in the void.

In that instant, he utilized the Blithe Omniscience, vanishing from his original spot and appearing in front of Warner.

Having previously battled with James, Warner was aware of his use of the Blithe Omniscience and had already locked onto James' aura.

Warner dodged and reappeared at the distance as James' aura approached.

The Path Arrow simultaneously remained firmly fixed on James' aura, seamlessly traversing the void to pursue him.

James activated the power of Greater Paths, creating numerous inscriptions that materialized in front of him, forming a protective shield.

Boom! The brilliant Path Arrow attacked the shield, causing the shield to shatter instantly.

Although the arrow's power was weakened, it persisted in its charge towards James.

With a thought, James summoned the Chaos Sword, and Sword Energy materialized to intercept the approaching Path Arrow head-on.

The Sword Energy and the Path Arrow clashed in the void, generating a formidable shockwave.

This scene left all the living beings who were watching the battle in absolute awe.

Nobody had expected James to be so powerful.

They were not surprised by Warner's defeat at the Wael's hands, as Wael had been a renowned powerhouse for countless years and had even achieved the Chaos Rank.

It was understandable that Warner was no match for him.

However, what seemed inconceivable now was that an unknown human without any reputation could withstand Warner's attacks.

"Where did James come from, and why is he so strong, able to contend with Warner?" "His strength must be impressive to withstand Warner's attacks.

He could rank in the top twenty of the Boundless Ranking." "As far as I know, James first appeared at Verde Academy, and his first battle was against a genius from the academy named Wynona.

During that time, he was only at the Permanence Boundless Rank." "It feels like only ten thousand epochs have passed." Many living beings were unfamiliar with James.

However, there were quite a few living beings from Verde District who knew something about him.

James' exploits were dug up.

"Damn it," Warner muttered with a terrifying expression.

His Path Arrow was extremely powerful, and among those of the same cultivation rank, only a select few could withstand its force.

Now, a Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank human had been struck by his arrow without any effect, and had even taken the blow.

At this moment, James launched a counterattack.

Gripping the Chaos Sword, he released a terrifying sound wave that sent mysterious echoes reverberating throughout the area.

Upon hearing the sound, some distant living beings found their minds going blank, and their senses scattered.

James displayed the Chaos' Nine Voices.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4827-However, Warner was too formidable.

The Chaos' Nine Voices had no effect on him.

Warner grew increasingly astonished as the battle raged on.

'Damn,' he thought as his anger surged.

"He's truly troublesome," James said with a frown.

He had not expected Warner to be so powerful.

Despite using six powers and unleashing nearly all of his strength, it still proved insufficient to overcome Warner.

In that moment, Warner's aura soared as dozens of illusory golden longbows instantly materialized behind him.

They continued to multiply, with thousands appearing in the blink of an eye, all of them enveloping James instantaneously.

James sensed the void being sealed and constrained.

Meanwhile, illusory longbows surrounded him from all directions, each bearing various Path Arrows.

Countless arrows were aimed directly at James at that moment.

“I’m sending you on your way,” a voice echoed, seemingly originating from both right beside his ear and the distant horizon.

Swish! Innumerable Path Arrows surged from every direction.

In response, James activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, harnessing all six powers simultaneously.

The six supreme powers merged within his body, causing his aura to skyrocket.

However, the area was filled with Path Arrows, piercing through the void.

James remained unnoticed despite his surge in power.

In an instant, countless arrows struck him.

Boom! The entire area exploded, forming a terrifying Spatial Black Hole.

James’ figure was instantly engulfed by it.

Many living beings were left stunned.

“He’s too powerful.” “Warner’s arrow formation is terrifying.

Even a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse wouldn’t dare to face it head-on.” “James may be incredibly talented, but his cultivation rank is only at the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank.

He hasn’t even stepped into the Caelum Boundless Rank.” “It’s ashame.” “Yes, he would undoubtedly have claimed the top rank on the Boundless Ranking if he had diligently cultivated for the next gathering.” Many living beings felt a sense of regret for James.

They all thought he was too audacious, believing that he should have exercised restraint against Warner.

Yet, he had chosen to take the initiative, paying a heavy price and even risking his life as a result.

However, just as everyone thought James had perished under the arrow formation, a figure slowly emerged from the black hole in the void.

James emerged from the Spatial Black Hole and immediately threw a punch, shattering the arrow formation's seal on the space.

In an instant, he vanished from the spot.

Warner, who had assumed James was dead, was now visibly shocked.

Before he could react, James had appeared right in front of him.

"You..." Warner's body took a step back involuntarily.

James extended his hand, creating a terrifying aura that manifested into an illusory palm print.

This palm print grabbed hold of Warner directly.

"Damn you! Go die!" Warner roared and exerted all his strength in an attempt to break free.

However, he could not escape the grip of the illusory palm no matter how hard he struggled.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4828-While at a distance, an illusory palm was dragging Warner.

Warner could not break free no matter how hard he struggled.

His face turned ashen, with veins bulging on his forehead, and his expression twisted into a fearsome grimace.

He exerted all his strength to escape.

However, the illusory palm was too terrifying.

In the distance, everyone was stunned.

"How is this possible?" "This is Warner, the third-ranked powerhouse from the previous Boundless Ranking.

How could he be so easily controlled now?" It was unbelievable to all witnessing it.

"Let me go!" warner roared.

"If you're capable, release me and let's have a battle for thirty thousand rounds!" Being the third-ranked powerhouse on the Boundless Ranking, he had never endured such humiliation before.

With numerous living beings present, it would be challenging for him to uphold his reputation in the Endlos' Nine Districts if this news were to spread.

'James must die!' A surge of murderous intent rose within him.

The surrounding living beings would only forget this scene once James had died.

"Hmph," James smiled faintly and released Warner.

The moment Warner was deliberated, a golden bow materialized in his grasp.

He exerted all his strength to draw the bowstring taut.

Instantly, the Path Arrow lined up on the bowstring.

Whoosh! The radiant bowstring shot out.

James stood unwavering in the void, observing the arrow hurtling towards him.

He raised his hand, and his palm continued to enlarge.

The arrow collided with the enlarged palm print.

Boom! The void where the palm print was located collapsed directly, yet James' palm remained unscathed.

"Impossible!" Warner exclaimed upon witnessing the scene.

" This can't be possible.

You're only in the late stage of the Caelum Acme Rank..." His voice grew fainter with each word.

He had already accepted this fact in his heart although he vocalized his disbelief.

With a flick of his hand, James' illusory palm transformed and struck Warner's face squarely, sending his body spinning through the void.

His face swelled up instantly, and moments later, a mouthful of blood, mixed with several shattered teeth, spewed forth.

James continued to wave his palm, while Warner found himself repeatedly slapped.

Despite his desire to resist, a formidable force had already locked onto him, rendering any resistance futile.

It felt as though any movement would tear him apart.

The sight left the distant living beings utterly bewildered.

"Ts this really Warner, the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking?" "This is too incredible." Nobody could have imagined that Warner would be so utterly defenseless.

After delivering a severe lesson to Warner, pounding him until half of his head was a pulpy mess, James dispelled his six powers.

As his aura gradually diminished, he looked at the barely conscious Warner and said, "Is being the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking truly that remarkable? Remember, there's always someone better out there."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4829-In the next moment, he had already reappeared by Zeno's side at the edge of the formation.

As for Warner, he had undergone a stern lesson from both Wael and James.

It was the most frustrating experience he had encountered since he began his cultivation.

He wanted revenge and to eliminate James.

However, a chill ran down his spine every time he thought of James' displayed strength.

He did not linger in this area for long and quickly escaped with his subordinates.

Countless living beings gasped in shock.

“He’s too powerful.” “The first place on the Boundless Ranking now belongs to James.” “The gathering hasn’t even commenced, and James has already emerged.

Who knows if there are any other freaks waiting to appear.” Countless living beings discussed.

“Impressive,” Zeno raised his thumb in praise, “It’s truly incredible that you’ve cultivated six types of Ten Path Techniques.

You should know that since Emperor Raiah, no living being has been able to cultivate more than two types of power.

Yet, you possess six.

Given time, you will undoubtedly become the top powerhouse in the Endlos.” “Aren’t you losing your memory? How do you know what I’m using?” James looked at Zeno with a puzzled expression.

“Huh?” This question left Zeno stumped.

“Yeah, how do I know?” He looked puzzled and said, “I naturally knew when I watched you fight.” James was skeptical of this forced explanation.

He wondered if Zeno was pretending, but it did not seem like an act.

At this moment, a voice spoke out, “Fellow.” James turned to see an elderly man walking through the void.

He wore a gray robe, his gray hair framing a face full of wrinkles, yet radiated a powerful aura.

James gave him a casual glance and said, ““What’s up?” The man smiled and said, “I am the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect, and I have a granddaughter who is a rare talent that our sect hasn’t seen in generations.

She secured the eighth rank in the last Boundless Ranking.” “Oh,” James responded nonchalantly.

He had heard of the Sky Sword Sect.

It was the strongest sect in the Sky District.

Its current sect leader also served as the district leader of the Sky District, boasting a cultivation rank that reached the Quasi Boundless Rank.

“My granddaughter is quite arrogant, which has caused her not to marry yet.

Would you be interested, my fellow?” The Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect lightly stroked his beard and smiled as he asked.

James’ eyes rolled.

He had no interest in the so-called Heavenly Beauty of the Sky Sword Sect.

What piqued his curiosity was the Sky Sword Sect’s sacred scroll.

He changed the subject, saying, “I’d be pleased to meet her if the opportunity arises.” James wasn’t overly concerned about the remaining sacred scroll.

Following this gathering, his name would resound throughout the Nine Districts.

With his strength and fame, it would not be difficult to gain access to the sacred scrolls of the other districts.

Once he had access to the sacred scrolls of the remaining four districts, he would be able to cultivate ten powers.

At that point, he could finally practice the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

“Good,” the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect wore a smile on his face.

“It’s settled, then.

You must come and visit the Sky Sword Sect after this gathering ends.”

“Absolutely,” James replied with a smile.

Immediately, other powerhouses approached.

“Fellow, we also have a heavenly beauty in our sect who would be a perfect match for you.” “Fellow, with your strength, how can just one woman be enough? Our sect has a pair of twin heavenly geniuses, and both of them are stunning beauties.

What do you think? Would you like me to introduce them?” Numerous powerhouses came forward, each eager to introduce their sect’s talented women to James.

In a short span, dozens of living beings were keen on arranging marriages between their sect’s women and James.

James nonchalantly agreed, promising to visit their sects when he had the time.

After expending a lot of effort and words, he finally dismissed the living beings who had approached him to establish connections.

“Enough, stop with these useless things.

It’s time to enter the formation.” Zeno could not wait any longer.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4830-The ruins had been appearing for quite some time now.

The white light emanating from within them had drawn the attention of the living beings in this area.

However, none of these living beings had dared to step foot inside during the previous battles.

The battle came to an end, James did not drive others away as Warner had done.

This caused numerous living beings to gather outside and study the formation.

Zeno was growing impatient and tugged at James, urging him to enter the formation and search for treasures.

For Zeno, treasure hunting was secondary.

His main goal was to enter the formation and find some items left behind inside the ruins.

He wanted to use those items to deduce what had transpired in the distant past.

It was a journey to rediscover himself.

“Follow me,” James said without hesitation.

He advanced with measured steps, and with a single stride, he arrived at the location of the formation.

James glanced at the formation, with his hand raised, the mystical inscriptions appeared within his fingertips.

The inscriptions seamlessly integrated into the formation.

At that moment, a crack appeared in the formation.

James’ consciousness moved, bringing his body into the formation.

Zeno followed closely behind.

After entering the formation, there were not many changes in the surroundings.

It was a ruin, once a spiritual mountain that had been destroyed.

Within a particular ruin of this mountain, an unknown object emitted a radiant white light.

James quickly made his way towards the source of the white light with just a single step.

Zeno, who had followed him, wore an expression of astonishment.

James, too, was bewildered upon seeing that the source of the radiant light was nothing but a set of bones.

The bones were riddled with countless wounds.

Sword slashes, knife marks, and various fractures.

Many parts were damaged.

Upon witnessing this scene, James was filled with surprise.

He had thought that the radiant light indicated a rare treasure, but it turned out to be a set of bones.

He exchanged a glance with Zeno.

“What’s going on?” James asked.

Zeno shrugged.

“I have no idea.

It seems like these bones are sealed with a powerful enchantment, keeping them here.” He noticed some clues.

James, too, stared intently.

He did sense the presence of the seal.

Inside the bones, he could not sense any signs of life, but there was a palpable, unsettling power.

Despite the long passage of time since the owner of these bones had perished, the bones still held a disquieting power within.

“The owner of these bones must have been a Chaos Rank powerhouse in their lifetime,” James analyzed.

Zeno added, “Just don’t know which powerhouse sealed these bones in this place.

What can be confirmed is that this set of bones was sealed during the battle that took place before the birth of the Ten Districts.

I can’t tell if it’s the Extraterrestrial Demon or a living being from the Endlos.”
“What should we do?” James asked Zeno.

“I’m confident I can break the seal restrictions around these bones, but as you mentioned, if this turns out to be the Extraterrestrial Demon, it could spell trouble if it escapes.” Zeno remained nonchalant.

“What’s the worst that could happen? Even if this being was once a Chaos Rank powerhouse, it has been dead for countless ages.

Its power is probably less than a hundredth of what it used to be.

If it truly is the Extraterrestrial Demon, we can suppress it.

Besides...” He changed the topic, saying, “I’m actually hoping it’s the Extraterrestrial Demon.

If it is, we might learn something about the origin of the Extraterrestrial Demon from these bones after we suppress it.” James cautioned, “Don’t blame me if things go awry.” Zeno responded, “I won’t.

Go ahead and open it up.”

Read The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4825

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4825-He was seriously wounded in the battle earlier, but his high cultivation rank allowed him to recover from his external injuries.

He bore no visible injuries and showed no signs of having recently endured a major battle.

“what does this mean?” James stared at Warner, once again questioning him.

Warner replied, “What do you think?” James shook his head slightly.

“I don’t know.” Zeno chimed in, saying, “Are you stupid? He clearly knows you can break the formation, and he wants you to lead him inside.” “Lead me inside?” Warner responded.

“Think of it as your way out.

You lead me into the formation, or else...” “Or else what?” James smirked.

“Death.” Warner’s expression darkened.

“Haha,” James burst into laughter.

“what are you laughing at?” Warner spoke coldly.

“You’re no longer the Head of Tempris House, and Wael won’t protect you anymore.

Besides, he’s gone.

Without him, killing you will be as simple as squashing an insect.” Warner had been itching for revenge ever since Wael beat him up, and it was all because of James.

“He wants you dead,” Zeno said.

Many living beings gathered around, their expressions a mixture of curiosity and amusement.

James stretched his muscles, bones cracking as he did so.

“I haven’t had a real fight since my cultivation base became stronger.

Today, I’ll test my strength against you.” As soon as James finished speaking, he vanished from his original position.

In the next moment, he appeared behind Warner.

Warner had no time to react before James’ fist landed squarely on his back.

His body tilted and stumbled forward, crashing a distance away before he quickly regained his balance.

Just as he steadied himself, James’ fist struck again, this time landing a powerful blow on his forehead, causing blood to gush forth.

“Is that all?” James appeared nonchalant in the distance.

“Damn it!” Warner seethed.

A golden bow materialized in his hand.

He quickly drew it back and shot a golden Path Arrow directly at James.

Seeing the fight escalating once more, the surrounding living beings hurriedly retreated, fearing collateral damage.

James stood his ground, attempting to catch Warner’s arrow with his hand.

However, he had underestimated Warner.

The arrow proved too formidable, shattering his arm and rendering it useless.

Had he not moved quickly, Warner's arrow would have annihilated his entire body.

Utilizing the Blithe Omniscience, James reappeared in the distance, inspecting his bloodied and battered arm.

He winced in pain.

"It hurts," he muttered through gritted teeth.

At that moment, a second arrow sped toward him.

James immediately activated his Thousand Paths Holy Body, manifesting the power of the Greater Paths within him.

He then exerted his strength, delivering a forceful punch that conjured illusory fist shadows, meeting the arrow head-on.

Boom! The fist shadows instantly shattered upon collision with the arrow.

The arrow surged forward once more.

"Quite formidable," James said as he activated the Blithe Omniscience again, swiftly fleeing the area.

However, the moment he reappeared, the arrow pierced through the void, impaling his body and leaving a bloody wound.

The arrow contained a destructive force that rapidly corroded his flesh, causing half of his body to disintegrate.

Finally, James dropped his guard and channeled all his power to suppress the devastating force.

□

□

□

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4826-If one were to be hit by it, they would be tainted by a dreadful power, even if not immediately killed.

This force could steadily corrode the flesh and consume one's own strength.

James tried to harness the power of the Greater Paths to suppress it, but it remained unyielding.

In that instant, he entered a state of the Omniscience Path and Battle Rank.

Radiating a white halo from head to toe, tinged with a hint of crimson, he appeared resplendent and radiant.

Even so, he could not both suppress and expel the power left by the Path Arrow within him.

In the end, James used One for All to dispel it.

"So powerful," James exclaimed.

He was not currently using six powers.

In the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank, utilizing the Omniscience Path and the power of Greater Paths, James displayed considerable formidable prowess that allowed him to surpass Caelum Boundless Rank opponents.

Nevertheless, Warner's displayed strength was simply too terrifying, and James could not defeat him without employing six powers.

Whoosh! Another Path Arrow streaked through the sky and swept towards James.

He stood in the void.

In that instant, he utilized the Blithe Omniscience, vanishing from his original spot and appearing in front of Warner.

Having previously battled with James, Warner was aware of his use of the Blithe Omniscience and had already locked onto James' aura.

Warner dodged and reappeared at the distance as James' aura approached.

The Path Arrow simultaneously remained firmly fixed on James' aura, seamlessly traversing the void to pursue him.

James activated the power of Greater Paths, creating numerous inscriptions that materialized in front of him, forming a protective shield.

Boom! The brilliant Path Arrow attacked the shield, causing the shield to shatter instantly.

Although the arrow's power was weakened, it persisted in its charge towards James.

With a thought, James summoned the Chaos Sword, and Sword Energy materialized to intercept the approaching Path Arrow head-on.

The Sword Energy and the Path Arrow clashed in the void, generating a formidable shockwave.

This scene left all the living beings who were watching the battle in absolute awe.

Nobody had expected James to be so powerful.

They were not surprised by Warner's defeat at the Wael's hands, as Wael had been a renowned powerhouse for countless years and had even achieved the Chaos Rank.

It was understandable that Warner was no match for him.

However, what seemed inconceivable now was that an unknown human without any reputation could withstand Warner's attacks.

"Where did James come from, and why is he so strong, able to contend with Warner?" "His strength must be impressive to withstand Warner's attacks.

He could rank in the top twenty of the Boundless Ranking." "As far as I know, James first appeared at Verde Academy, and his first battle was against a genius from the academy named Wynona.

During that time, he was only at the Permanence Boundless Rank." "It feels like only ten thousand epochs have passed." Many living beings were unfamiliar with James.

However, there were quite a few living beings from Verde District who knew something about him.

James' exploits were dug up.

"Damn it," Warner muttered with a terrifying expression.

His Path Arrow was extremely powerful, and among those of the same cultivation rank, only a select few could withstand its force.

Now, a Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank human had been struck by his arrow without any effect, and had even taken the blow.

At this moment, James launched a counterattack.

Gripping the Chaos Sword, he released a terrifying sound wave that sent mysterious echoes reverberating throughout the area.

Upon hearing the sound, some distant living beings found their minds going blank, and their senses scattered.

James displayed the Chaos' Nine Voices.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4827-However, Warner was too formidable.

The Chaos' Nine Voices had no effect on him.

Warner grew increasingly astonished as the battle raged on.

'Damn,' he thought as his anger surged.

"He's truly troublesome," James said with a frown.

He had not expected Warner to be so powerful.

Despite using six powers and unleashing nearly all of his strength, it still proved insufficient to overcome Warner.

In that moment, Warner's aura soared as dozens of illusory golden longbows instantly materialized behind him.

They continued to multiply, with thousands appearing in the blink of an eye, all of them enveloping James instantaneously.

James sensed the void being sealed and constrained.

Meanwhile, illusory longbows surrounded him from all directions, each bearing various Path Arrows.

Countless arrows were aimed directly at James at that moment.

“I’m sending you on your way,” a voice echoed, seemingly originating from both right beside his ear and the distant horizon.

Swish! Innumerable Path Arrows surged from every direction.

In response, James activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, harnessing all six powers simultaneously.

The six supreme powers merged within his body, causing his aura to skyrocket.

However, the area was filled with Path Arrows, piercing through the void.

James remained unnoticed despite his surge in power.

In an instant, countless arrows struck him.

Boom! The entire area exploded, forming a terrifying Spatial Black Hole.

James’ figure was instantly engulfed by it.

Many living beings were left stunned.

“He’s too powerful.” “Warner’s arrow formation is terrifying.

Even a Quasi Boundless Rank powerhouse wouldn’t dare to face it head-on.” “James may be incredibly talented, but his cultivation rank is only at the Late Stage of Caelum Acme Rank.

He hasn’t even stepped into the Caelum Boundless Rank.” “It’s ashame.” “Yes, he would undoubtedly have claimed the top rank on the Boundless Ranking if he had diligently cultivated for the next gathering.” Many living beings felt a sense of regret for James.

They all thought he was too audacious, believing that he should have exercised restraint against Warner.

Yet, he had chosen to take the initiative, paying a heavy price and even risking his life as a result.

However, just as everyone thought James had perished under the arrow formation, a figure slowly emerged from the black hole in the void.

James emerged from the Spatial Black Hole and immediately threw a punch, shattering the arrow formation's seal on the space.

In an instant, he vanished from the spot.

Warner, who had assumed James was dead, was now visibly shocked.

Before he could react, James had appeared right in front of him.

"You..." Warner's body took a step back involuntarily.

James extended his hand, creating a terrifying aura that manifested into an illusory palm print.

This palm print grabbed hold of Warner directly.

"Damn you! Go die!" Warner roared and exerted all his strength in an attempt to break free.

However, he could not escape the grip of the illusory palm no matter how hard he struggled.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4828-While at a distance, an illusory palm was dragging Warner.

Warner could not break free no matter how hard he struggled.

His face turned ashen, with veins bulging on his forehead, and his expression twisted into a fearsome grimace.

He exerted all his strength to escape.

However, the illusory palm was too terrifying.

In the distance, everyone was stunned.

“How is this possible?” “This is Warner, the third-ranked powerhouse from the previous Boundless Ranking.

How could he be so easily controlled now?” It was unbelievable to all witnessing it.

“Let me go!” warner roared.

“If you’re capable, release me and let’s have a battle for thirty thousand rounds!” Being the third-ranked powerhouse on the Boundless Ranking, he had never endured such humiliation before.

With numerous living beings present, it would be challenging for him to uphold his reputation in the Endlos’ Nine Districts if this news were to spread.

‘James must die!’ A surge of murderous intent rose within him.

The surrounding living beings would only forget this scene once James had died.

“Hmph,” James smiled faintly and released Warner.

The moment Warner was deliberated, a golden bow materialized in his grasp.

He exerted all his strength to draw the bowstring taut.

Instantly, the Path Arrow lined up on the bowstring.

Whoosh! The radiant bowstring shot out.

James stood unwavering in the void, observing the arrow hurtling towards him.

He raised his hand, and his palm continued to enlarge.

The arrow collided with the enlarged palm print.

Boom! The void where the palm print was located collapsed directly, yet James’ palm remained unscathed.

“Impossible!” Warner exclaimed upon witnessing the scene.

“ This can’t be possible.

You’re only in the late stage of the Caelum Acme Rank...” His voice grew fainter with each word.

He had already accepted this fact in his heart although he vocalized his disbelief.

With a flick of his hand, James’ illusory palm transformed and struck Warner’s face squarely, sending his body spinning through the void.

His face swelled up instantly, and moments later, a mouthful of blood, mixed with several shattered teeth, spewed forth.

James continued to wave his palm, while Warner found himself repeatedly slapped.

Despite his desire to resist, a formidable force had already locked onto him, rendering any resistance futile.

It felt as though any movement would tear him apart.

The sight left the distant living beings utterly bewildered.

“Ts this really Warner, the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking?” “This is too incredible.” Nobody could have imagined that Warner would be so utterly defenseless.

After delivering a severe lesson to Warner, pounding him until half of his head was a pulpy mess, James dispelled his six powers.

As his aura gradually diminished, he looked at the barely conscious Warner and said, “Is being the third-ranked on the Boundless Ranking truly that remarkable? Remember, there’s always someone better out there.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4829-In the next moment, he had already reappeared by Zeno’s side at the edge of the formation.

As for Warner, he had undergone a stern lesson from both Wael and James.

It was the most frustrating experience he had encountered since he began his cultivation.

He wanted revenge and to eliminate James.

However, a chill ran down his spine every time he thought of James' displayed strength.

He did not linger in this area for long and quickly escaped with his subordinates.

Countless living beings gasped in shock.

"He's too powerful." "The first place on the Boundless Ranking now belongs to James." "The gathering hasn't even commenced, and James has already emerged.

Who knows if there are any other freaks waiting to appear." Countless living beings discussed.

"Impressive," Zeno raised his thumb in praise, "It's truly incredible that you've cultivated six types of Ten Path Techniques.

You should know that since Emperor Raiah, no living being has been able to cultivate more than two types of power.

Yet, you possess six.

Given time, you will undoubtedly become the top powerhouse in the Endlos." "Aren't you losing your memory? How do you know what I'm using?" James looked at Zeno with a puzzled expression.

"Huh?" This question left Zeno stumped.

"Yeah, how do I know?" He looked puzzled and said, "I naturally knew when I watched you fight." James was skeptical of this forced explanation.

He wondered if Zeno was pretending, but it did not seem like an act.

At this moment, a voice spoke out, "Fellow." James turned to see an elderly man walking through the void.

He wore a gray robe, his gray hair framing a face full of wrinkles, yet radiated a powerful aura.

James gave him a casual glance and said, ““What’s up?” The man smiled and said, “I am the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect, and I have a granddaughter who is a rare talent that our sect hasn’t seen in generations.

She secured the eighth rank in the last Boundless Ranking.” “Oh,” James responded nonchalantly.

He had heard of the Sky Sword Sect.

It was the strongest sect in the Sky District.

Its current sect leader also served as the district leader of the Sky District, boasting a cultivation rank that reached the Quasi Boundless Rank.

“My granddaughter is quite arrogant, which has caused her not to marry yet.

Would you be interested, my fellow?” The Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect lightly stroked his beard and smiled as he asked.

James’ eyes rolled.

He had no interest in the so-called Heavenly Beauty of the Sky Sword Sect.

What piqued his curiosity was the Sky Sword Sect’s sacred scroll.

He changed the subject, saying, “I’d be pleased to meet her if the opportunity arises.” James wasn’t overly concerned about the remaining sacred scroll.

Following this gathering, his name would resound throughout the Nine Districts.

With his strength and fame, it would not be difficult to gain access to the sacred scrolls of the other districts.

Once he had access to the sacred scrolls of the remaining four districts, he would be able to cultivate ten powers.

At that point, he could finally practice the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.

“Good,” the Grand Sect Leader of the Sky Sword Sect wore a smile on his face.

“It’s settled, then.

You must come and visit the Sky Sword Sect after this gathering ends.”
“Absolutely,” James replied with a smile.

Immediately, other powerhouses approached.

“Fellow, we also have a heavenly beauty in our sect who would be a perfect match for you.” “Fellow, with your strength, how can just one woman be enough? Our sect has a pair of twin heavenly geniuses, and both of them are stunning beauties.

What do you think? Would you like me to introduce them?” Numerous powerhouses came forward, each eager to introduce their sect’s talented women to James.

In a short span, dozens of living beings were keen on arranging marriages between their sect’s women and James.

James nonchalantly agreed, promising to visit their sects when he had the time.

After expending a lot of effort and words, he finally dismissed the living beings who had approached him to establish connections.

“Enough, stop with these useless things.

It’s time to enter the formation.” Zeno could not wait any longer.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4830-The ruins had been appearing for quite some time now.

The white light emanating from within them had drawn the attention of the living beings in this area.

However, none of these living beings had dared to step foot inside during the previous battles.

The battle came to an end, James did not drive others away as Warner had done.

This caused numerous living beings to gather outside and study the formation.

Zeno was growing impatient and tugged at James, urging him to enter the formation and search for treasures.

For Zeno, treasure hunting was secondary.

His main goal was to enter the formation and find some items left behind inside the ruins.

He wanted to use those items to deduce what had transpired in the distant past.

It was a journey to rediscover himself.

“Follow me,” James said without hesitation.

He advanced with measured steps, and with a single stride, he arrived at the location of the formation.

James glanced at the formation, with his hand raised, the mystical inscriptions appeared within his fingertips.

The inscriptions seamlessly integrated into the formation.

At that moment, a crack appeared in the formation.

James’ consciousness moved, bringing his body into the formation.

Zeno followed closely behind.

After entering the formation, there were not many changes in the surroundings.

It was a ruin, once a spiritual mountain that had been destroyed.

Within a particular ruin of this mountain, an unknown object emitted a radiant white light.

James quickly made his way towards the source of the white light with just a single step.

Zeno, who had followed him, wore an expression of astonishment.

James, too, was bewildered upon seeing that the source of the radiant light was nothing but a set of bones.

The bones were riddled with countless wounds.

Sword slashes, knife marks, and various fractures.

Many parts were damaged.

Upon witnessing this scene, James was filled with surprise.

He had thought that the radiant light indicated a rare treasure, but it turned out to be a set of bones.

He exchanged a glance with Zeno.

“What’s going on?” James asked.

Zeno shrugged.

“I have no idea.

It seems like these bones are sealed with a powerful enchantment, keeping them here.” He noticed some clues.

James, too, stared intently.

He did sense the presence of the seal.

Inside the bones, he could not sense any signs of life, but there was a palpable, unsettling power.

Despite the long passage of time since the owner of these bones had perished, the bones still held a disquieting power within.

“The owner of these bones must have been a Chaos Rank powerhouse in their lifetime,” James analyzed.

Zeno added, “Just don’t know which powerhouse sealed these bones in this place.

What can be confirmed is that this set of bones was sealed during the battle that took place before the birth of the Ten Districts.

I can’t tell if it’s the Extraterrestrial Demon or a living being from the Endlos.”
“What should we do?” James asked Zeno.

"I'm confident I can break the seal restrictions around these bones, but as you mentioned, if this turns out to be the Extraterrestrial Demon, it could spell trouble if it escapes." Zeno remained nonchalant.

"What's the worst that could happen? Even if this being was once a Chaos Rank powerhouse, it has been dead for countless ages.

Its power is probably less than a hundredth of what it used to be.

If it truly is the Extraterrestrial Demon, we can suppress it.

Besides..." He changed the topic, saying, "I'm actually hoping it's the Extraterrestrial Demon.

If it is, we might learn something about the origin of the Extraterrestrial Demon from these bones after we suppress it." James cautioned, "Don't blame me if things go awry." Zeno responded, "I won't.

Go ahead and open it up."