The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4846-Many cultivators had repaired the dilapidated city somewhat, and it served as the temporary residence for many others. Waleria and the others also occupied a place to stay.

After entering an independent manor, James was immediately surrounded by his comrades.

Livie, on the other hand, maintained a distance from them. She knew these people were James' friends, and she could not touch them without James' orders.

Waleria placed her hands on her waists and said, "You better tell me the truth, James. Where did you find a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank like her?"

Livie was exceptionally powerful. Even though she never released her aura, her physical strength was enough to defeat Hafgan, who placed number one in the previous Boundless Ranking. Therefore, Waleria suspected Livie to be at the Chaos Rank.

Wynton said, "I know you very well, James. I know how many women and children you have. You've never had a daughter named Livie Caden."

After being beaten up, Wynton held a slight grudge. Thus, he was siding with Waleria and wanted to get an answer from James.

Even Wynona, James' loyal follower, also supported Waleria.

She said, "You shouldn't hide it from us, Master. Tell us where you've been the past two epochs and how you met her."

James was not sure how to explain himself. He could not reveal Livie's past life as the Extraterrestrial Demons' Commander. Otherwise, it would be very troublesome if word got out. He replied nonchalantly, "If you don't believe me, then so be it. I have nothing to say."

Waleria and the others kept pressing him about it, but James refrained from saying anything. Eventually, they gave up trying to extort an answer from him.

James said, "I'll be going into seclusion. I'd like to cultivate so I can perform better on the Boundless Arena Battle."

Meanwhile, a massive black tablet had appeared somewhere in the deepest parts of the dark zone.

The tablet was one million meters tall and hundreds of thousands of meters thick. The stone tablet was like a colossal mountain in the darkness.

Swoosh!!!

A blurry figure appeared near the stone tablet.

The blurry figure slowly became opaque. It was a beautiful woman dressed in a white dress, emitting an extraordinary aura. She had a perfect face and an excellent figure.

It was none other than Xezal, who had separated from James after arriving in the Endlos' Nine Districts.

Xezal was a clone of Teresa and the personal maid to the Doom Race's Leader. She had existed since the Chaos District's first Sky Burial. In the past, she had even guided the Grand Patriarch of Doom Race to cultivate the Chaos' Nine Voices.

Teresa had always been a mysterious existence in the Chaos District, and nobody knew her true origin.

However, Wynton had a few speculations. Before the Chaos District's Leader's death, he ruled over the Endlos' Ten Districts. He felt that Teresa was a descendant of the Chaos District's leader. The Doooms, on the other hand, were left behind by the Chaos District's Leader.

Xezal appeared before the Boundless Tablet. She leaped into the air and looked down to examine it.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4847-After briefly examining the Boundless Tablet, Xezal looked into the depths of the dark zone. She saw through the darkness and noticed that the seal in the depths showed signs of disintegrating.

Xezal murmured, “The seal seems to be weakening. Once it’s broken, the Extraterrestrial Demons will infiltrate again. Emperor Raiah had ordered his subordinates to go into seclusion and focus on cultivating to prepare for the impending war. He also instructed my father to take control of the Endlos’ Nine Districts. Now that my father is gone, it’s about time his subordinates appear.”

Xezal took a deep breath. Immediately afterward, she stretched out her slender arms. A few mysterious inscriptions emerged from her palm and submerged into the Boundless Tablet.

After completing the series of actions, she left the area.

Swoosh!

As soon as Xezal left, the Boundless Tablet showed abnormalities. The mysterious inscriptions on it emitted dazzling light and illuminated the darkness.

Many cultivators instantly sensed the abnormality of the Boundless Tablet.

Somewhere in the Endlos was a spiritual mountain that had been sealed for countless years. On the spiritual mountain was an old man. After he sensed a familiar power, he flew into the sky.

“It’s the Boundless Tablet’s power. Emperor Raiah had left behind a message. If the Boundless Tablet shows an abnormality, it means the Extraterrestrial Demons are about to infiltrate very soon. He left a powerful boon within the Boundless Tablet. Whoever ranks number one on the Boundless Ranking can obtain it.”

The old man shouted, “Yvain Boudewijn, are you there?”

“I’m here, sir.” A man appeared out of the blue and knelt on the ground.

“Yvain, it’s time to leave this place. Head to the ancient battlefield and find the Boundless Tablet. Getting close to the Boundless Tablet will allow you to enter the Boundless Battlefield. You must place number one and obtain the boon left behind by Emperor Raiah.”

“Understood.”

At that moment, several other cultivators that had stayed hidden for countless eons also sensed the Boundless Tablet's abnormality. These cultivators were powerhouses that lived in seclusion and avoided moving around in the Endlos' Nine Districts.

Instead of personally taking action, they sent their strongest disciples at the Boundless Rank to participate in the competition for the Boundless Ranking in order to obtain the boon left by Emperor Raiah.

In a dangerous place of the Endlos' Nine District, a shirtless man leaped into the sky and said, "The boon left by Emperor Raiah has appeared. The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra is mine."

His aura was terrifying and distorted the surrounding space.

Another cultivator in a different ancient Orthodox murmured, "The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra has finally reappeared. After I master it and obtain the ten sacred scrolls, I'll be the strongest in the Endlos."

Many powerhouses at the Boundless Rank from hidden Orthodox began to appear. They had stayed in the Boundless Rank for a long time, waiting for this day to arrive. All of them were powerhouses capable of defeating cultivators at the Chaos Rank. Hafgan, the previous number one of the Boundless Ranking, was a mere ant in their eyes.

James, who was in cultivation, also sensed the Boundless Tablet's powers. He immediately left seclusion and leaped into the sky.

His comrades were also floating above the city, staring into the dark zone.

Colorful rays illuminated the dark zone, allowing everyone to see the enormous black tablet and the mysterious scriptures circulating above it.

James was startled. "Those scriptures. Aren't they from the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra?"

He had cultivated the complete version of the Tenfold

Realms Transcendent Sutra. Therefore, he recognized that the scriptures were a complete version of the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra at a glance.

Confused, James thought to himself, 'Did Emperor Raiah leave the Boundless Tablet behind?'

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4848-James was puzzled. He was unsure why the complete Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra suddenly appeared above the Boundless Tablet.

Waleria marveled, saying, "What kind of scriptures are those? They're so complicated."

The other powerhouses also stared at the scriptures puzzledly. They carefully examined the scriptures, trying to comprehend them. However, the scriptures suddenly submerged into the Boundless Tablet and disappeared. Everyone looked at each other in confusion.

James and his comrades landed back to the ground and gathered inside the manor.

"It's the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra," said James.

Everyone looked at James curiously.

Zula asked, "What is the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra?"

James had no intentions of telling them at first. The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra was his biggest secret.

However, it was fine to reveal it to them since the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra had already appeared.

He replied honestly, "It's an invincible scripture left by Emperor Raiah. Once you master it, you can comprehend the sacred scrolls. Then, you'll be able to cultivate a unique power from each of the sacred scrolls. Ultimately, you can fuse the ten powers into the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art."

James revealed the information to them.

Wynona looked at him puzzledly and asked, "How do you know? Did you already cultivate the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra?"

James nodded lightly and said, "Yeah."

At that moment, there was a knock on their door. Livie immediately opened the door and saw a tall, elegant woman wearing a white dress outside.

Livie asked, "Who are you looking for?"

Xezal pointed at James and said, "Him."

James immediately noticed Xezal. He and Wynton immediately glanced at each other.

Then, he ordered, "Let her in."

"Alright." Livie let her pass into the room.

Xezal slowly approached.

James looked at her and said, 'You've finally shown up.

You've been keeping a lot of secrets from me.'

Xezal sat down and replied calmly, "Is that so? What kind of secrets have I been keeping?"

James said, 'You're proficient in the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra. Were you the one that passed an incomplete version to Wyot?'

Xezal shook her head and said, "No. Wyot comprehended the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra himself. The scriptures are similar to the Karma Path. One can only rely on oneself to comprehend it. It's not something that can be taught. Wyot entered the Path of Heavenly Awakening and comprehended it himself. However, he only understood a portion of it. His comprehension isn't as complete as yours." "What about your comprehension?" asked James.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4849

Xezal replied, "I've also encountered the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra in the Path of Heavenly Awakening. However, my comprehension of it is still lacking."

The others in the room were confused by their conversation.

James asked, "Are you the descendant of the Chaos District's Leader?"

Xezal replied honestly, "Yes. Teresa is the daughter of the Chaos District's Leader. I'm just a clone of her.

Unfortunately, the Chaos District's Leader was ambushed and killed by the Hazeaf District's Leader."

"Your father has already integrated into the Chaos Heavenly Path. Was he the one who planned the Sky Burials? Is he trying to use the strength of other deceased powerhouses to resurrect? Will he come back to life after the third Sky Burial and the destruction of the Chaos Heavenly Path?"

Xexal chuckled and said, "Do you really believe that, James? Wynton's ancestor is a mere subordinate of my father. Wynton simply made a few conjectures based on some incomplete information left behind by his ancestor."

"Then enlighten me on the Sky Burial."

James' body emitted a murderous intent. He refused to be used by Xezal. If Wynton's conjectures were true, he would kill Xezal.

She was unfazed by James' hostility. Xezal replied calmly, " My father was already a powerhouse before the Endlos' Ten Districts were established. He had contributed significantly to the fight against the Extraterrestrial Demons.

"Back then, Emperor Raiah severely injured the Extraterrestrial Demons' Great Commander. As a result, the Extraterrestrial Army withdrew. Afterward, Emperor Raiah established the Endlos' Ten Districts. He gave the Endlos Heart to my father and asked him to rule the Ten Districts as the Endlos Lord. At the same time, he asked the other forces under him to go into hiding and prepare for the return of the Extraterrestrial Demons."

James finally understood why the Endlos' Nine District's inhabitants were clueless about Extraterrestrial Demons and Emperor Raiah. It was because the powerhouses, forces, and sects that participated in the battle had gone into seclusion.

Xezal took a deep breath and continued, "Before Emperor Raiah left, he arranged for my father to become the Endlos Lord. He also delegated nine other district leaders. Then, he split the Ten Path Techniques into ten parts and recorded them in the ten sacred scrolls. Each district was to protect one of the sacred scrolls. He also left different illusions in each district for those with enough talent to encounter and acquire the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra. In the Endlos' Ten Districts, my father and the hidden powerhouses and sects are the only ones aware of this.

“Many years after my father became the Endlos Lord, Jagan entered the Chaos Rank. He ambushed my father in an attempt to seize the Endlos Heart and become the new Endlos Lord. My father had no choice but to flee. He also cast a Supernatural Power and hid the entire Chaos District.

“My father suffered severe injuries and had to integrate himself into the Chaos Heavenly Path to survive. However, things aren't as Wynton speculated them to be. The Chaos District's Sky Burials have nothing to do with my father. He had used extreme measures to hide the Chaos District and protect the Endlos Heart.

‘That being said, it is true that my father is indeed absorbing the aura of deceased powerhouses and will be able to resurrect. However, my father isn't the mastermind that caused things to develop in his direction. In fact, it is the plan of some powerhouses of the Endlos' Nine Districts with evil intentions.’

Xezal shared some past events, pinning the blame on the powerhouses of the Endlos' Nine Districts.

After listening to all the stories, James' comrades instantly realized that Wynton and James were not from the Endlos' Nine Districts but from the hidden Chaos District. They also learned that Xezal was the daughter of the former Endlos Lord.

Waleria looked at James meaningfully and said, “So you're from the Chaos District.”

James did not reply to her. He began to evaluate Xezal's words.

She continued, saying, “I appeared because there are too many powerhouses in the Chaos District. The Chaos Heavenly Path will no longer be able to suppress the Chaos District's aura from leaking out. I can't have powerhouses from the Endlos' Nine Districts paying too much attention to the Chaos District. Therefore, I activated the Boundless Tablet and allowed the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra to appear.

'The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra will keep the powerhouses of the Nine Districts distracted from the Chaos District.'

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4850

Xezal revealed that she was responsible for activating the Boundless Tablet and exposing the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

Waleria asked doubtfully, "How do you know the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra was hidden inside the Boundless Table?"

Xezal replied calmly, "My father was the Chaos District's Leader and was delegated as the Endlos Lord by Emperor Raiah. As the daughter of the Endlos Lord, I'm naturally aware of these secrets."

Her stories had no flaws, but James still did not fully trust her. It was possible not everything she had shared was the whole truth.

James asked, "So what's your goal?"

Xezal answered, "After the Boundless Battlefield, there will be a Chaos Battlefield. Emperor Raiah left behind a Chaos Tablet within the Chaos Battlefield. A few Extraterrestrial Demons are sealed beneath the Chaos Tablet.

"Back then, the Extraterrestrial Demons' Great Commander was severely injured and fled for his life. The Extraterrestrial Army withdrew, but some were trapped after failing to retreat in time. Unfortunately, Emperor Raiah was already injured and could not eliminate them. Therefore, he used the Chaos Tablet to seal them away.

"The Chaos Heavenly Path is no longer capable of suppressing the Chaos District's aura. If the Chaos District's aura were to leak, the seal around it would be undone, and its location would be exposed. Ultimately, the Endlos' Nine Districts will become the Endlos' Ten Districts again.

"There are many hidden sects from ancient times throughout the Endlos. Most of them barely contributed to the battle against the Extraterrestrial Demons. Instead, they did their best to preserve themselves. As a result, most of these forces have retained their overall strength.

“In the past, they were wary of Emperor Raiah. Thus, they obeyed his command and lived in seclusion. After Emperor Raiah left, he never returned. These forces think Emperor Raiah is already dead and are no longer afraid.

“Once the Chaos District reappears, chaos will break loose in the Endlos. We need a powerhouse to preside and stabilize the situation. My father is the only person in the entire Endlos capable of suppressing these forces.

“My goal is very simple. I revealed the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra to kick-start the Boundless Battlefield. After it is over, the Chaos Battlefield will be opened. Then, I can release the Extraterrestrial Demons sealed under the Chaos Tablet. Afterward, I want to lure them to the Chaos District and slaughter them. The Chaos Heavenly Path will absorb their energy after their deaths, and my father will be revived. Then, he will be able to calm the turbulent storm.”

Wynton asked, “Ultimately, your main goal is still to resurrect your father.”

Xezal stood up and said, “The Endlos will be in turmoil if I don’t do this. I’ve sensed the seal in the deepest part of the dark zone. It won’t be long before the Extraterrestrial Demons make their way into the Endlos. How will the Endlos fight back when that happens? You need to think about the seriousness of this matter.”

Xezal disappeared after speaking.

James and his comrades fell silent.

After a while, Wynton asked, “Do you believe her?”

James gently shook his head and said, “To be honest, not really.”

Wynton said, “Back then, I only peeked slightly into the truth of these past events. Yet, it led to the entire Yaneiri Clan being sealed away.”

James shrugged helplessly and asked, “What other options do we have right now?”

Everything he did in the past was to protect the Chaos District.

Xezal had already shared the details of the past events and her plan to release the Extraterrestrial Demons sealed under the Chaos Tablet. Then, she wanted to take the battle to the Chaos District. However, the Chaos District would suffer grave consequences from the battle.

The Human Universe in the Chaos District was James' home, where many of his family and friends resided.
