The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4851-Xezal's plan of moving the battlefield to the Chaos District contradicted James' initial goal of protecting the Chaos District. Thus, James was hesitant. He looked at Waleria and asked, "What do you think?"

Waleria shook her head and replied, "I don't know much about these things. Based on what I've heard from Xezal, I think her approach is ideal. If some powerful sects really are hidden within the Endlos, then chaos will surely break out very soon. We do need a powerhouse to preside over the situation."

Wynton said coldly, "Even if we really need someone to preside over the situation, why does it have to be the deceased Chaos District's Leader? He's already gone, so why must we make a huge sacrifice just to resurrect him?"

Wynona, who had been silent, suddenly joined the conversation. "I agree. Why must it be him? You're also capable of presiding over the situation, Master."

Zula looked at James and said, "Wynton's right. You've got great potential, James. With some time, you should be able to shoulder this responsibility."

After hearing their opinions, James began to contemplate.

Wynton continued, saying, "You can't blindly trust her, James. If the Extraterrestrial Demons are released, things might get out of hand. If we fail to eliminate them, it'll become a huge disaster for the Endlos' Ten Districts."

James nodded and replied solemnly, "I understand. Since this is a crucial matter, I'll discuss it with Yardos."

Waleria was stunned. After a while, she exclaimed, "Is Yardos also from the Chaos District?"

She took a deep breath and said, "The Chaos District is a really magical place. How are there so many powerhouses from there?"

James did not further explain and quickly searched for Yardos' aura.

Yardos had already entered the ancient battlefield and was quite far from James. He was wandering the depths of the dark zone and had entered an ancient ruin.

“Let’s go, Livie,” James quickly gave an order and disappeared from the spot.

Livie immediately followed after him. The others waited patiently for his return.

While James made his way to see Yardos, Xezal had also gone to meet with Wyot.

At that moment, Wyot was outside an ancient ruin with a few of Mount Kapron’s powerhouses, trying to break the formation to enter the ruin.

Swoosh!

A white light descended before them, and a beautiful woman with an extraordinary aura appeared.

“Xezal!” Wyot was overjoyed. He quickly gave an order, saying, “Leave us alone.”

“Alright.” The powerhouses from Mount Kapron dispersed, leaving only Xezal and Wyot.

“You’ve finally appeared, Xezal.”

Teresa had given Wyot some cultivation guidance in the past. She was also the one who saved him when he was trapped in the Human Universe. Before he entered the Endlos, he had already learned that Xezal, who served the Dooms’ Patriarch, was Teresa’s clone.

Xezal nodded lightly in response. She looked at Wyot disappointedly and said, “You’ve disappointed me, Wyot. I’ve already given you many boons and taught you the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, yet you still lost to James.” Wyot’s face darkened.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4852-Wyot was livid at the mention of James’ name. Not only did James sleep with his beloved wife, but he lost twice to James.

Xezal waved her hand and said, "Never mind. Losing to him isn't that big of a deal. He won't be able to be on his high horse for long.

Wytot looked at her and asked, "What do you mean?"

Xezal replied, "I've been paying close attention to him since he came to the Endlos' Nine Districts. He's grown too strong and is already beyond my control. I've disclosed some things to him, but I can tell that he is no longer willing to work with me. Since he's not useful anymore, I'll have to get rid of him."

A hostile expression flashed across Xezal's face. After arriving in the Endlos' Nine Districts, James' improvements surpassed her expectations. He was under her control while they were still in the Chaos District. She rescued James, hoping he would become a valuable pawn to her. However, James was evidently unwilling to cooperate with her after she had revealed her plan to him.

Wytot asked, "What's your plan?"

Xezal replied, "I need to eliminate James. However, neither of us is capable of killing him right now. I need to use the Chaos Rank powerhouses to kill him."

She shared her plans with Wytot.

Wytot immediately disagreed. "No, I must be the one who kills James. I'll defeat him fair and square."

Slap!

Xezal instantly swung at Wytot's face. Then, she reprimanded him, "Stop dreaming. How will you defeat him with your strength? He's already comprehended the complete Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and read several sacred scrolls. You can't win."

Wytot fell silent.

Xezal took a deep breath and said, "Since he's no longer useful to me, I can only kill him. I don't want him to become a stumbling block to my plan."

After speaking, Xezal casually waved her hand. A light emerged from her palm and gathered into a beautiful woman wearing a black dress. However, she was unconscious.

Xezal explained, "This is a very good friend of James. Her name is Maxine. James treasures friendships and will do everything he can to rescue Maxine. I'll leave the task of eliminating him to you."

After speaking, Xezal disappeared from Wyot's sight.

Wyot looked at the unconscious woman on the ground with a grim expression. He was eager to kill James, but not with unfair means. He wanted to kill James relying on his own strength.

However, he had to obey Teresa's orders.

Wyot took a deep breath, then teleported the Maxine away.

Afterward, he left to meet with the Kapron District's Leader.

The Kapron District's Leader was a formidable powerhouse of the Endlos, named Xylus Sachse.

Wyot appeared somewhere on the ancient battlefield. He knelt before a middle-aged man who was sitting in a ruin. Then, he called out respectfully, "Sir Xylus."

The middle-aged man wore a gray robe. He opened his eyes and looked at Wyot. Then, he waved his hand and said, "You may rise to talk."

Wyot stood up.

Xylus asked, "What's the matter?"

Wyot replied, "I've discovered something, sir."

"Is that so? Do elaborate."

Wyot said calmly, "I went to the Aeternus District some time ago and encountered a man called James Caden. He had recently defeated Warner, who was ranked third on the previous Boundless Ranking. James has successfully cultivated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4853-Curious, Xylus asked, “What is the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra?”

Wyot explained, “It’s a powerful scripture left behind by Emperor Raiah before the establishment of the Ten Districts. Mastering the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra allows one to cultivate the magical powers of the ten sacred scrolls.”

Xylus stood up in shock. After he became the Kapron District’s Leader, he had possession of the Kapron District’s sacred scroll. However, he never comprehended it, even after so many years.

Wyot elaborated, “James has mastered the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and can read the sacred scrolls. He has already seen a few sacred scrolls and cultivated their powers. Although he is only at the Caelum Acme Rank’s late stage, he is incredibly powerful.”

Wyot revealed some information about Emperor Raiah, the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, and the sacred scrolls.

Even Xylus, the Kapron District’s Leader, was clueless about these things. His master had never disclosed this information to him before.

After learning these secrets, Xylus finally came to a realization and said, “I see. So that’s how the ten districts were born. I never knew the sacred scrolls contained such potent powers.”

Wyot continued, saying, “I also discovered that James isn’t from the Endlos’ Nine Districts but the Chaos District.

Yardos is also a human from the Chaos District.

“Really? They’re from the Chaos District?” Xylus was shocked.

Wyot asked tentatively, “What are you going to do, sir? James and Yardos aren’t easy opponents. With Mount Kapron’s strength, we won’t be able to extort more information about the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and the method to comprehending the sacred scrolls from James.”

Xylus looked at Wyot and asked, “Since you’ve shared these secrets with me, you must have already devised a plan, right?”

Wyt nodded lightly and said, "I believe the only way to deal with Yardos and James is to unite with the Hazeaf District's Leader, the Welkin District's Leader, and other powerhouses at the Chaos Rank."

"Alright. I'll think about it. You're dismissed." Xylus gently waved his hand.

"Understood. I'll take my leave." Wyt turned and left.

Xylus fell into thought and muttered, "Emperor Raiah, Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, ten sacred scrolls, and Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art? Lucius had only comprehended one-tenth of the Hazeaf District's sacred scroll but managed to cultivate the Crepe Myrtle Energy of Hazeaf. If he were to fully comprehend the sacred scroll, his strength would be unfathomable.

"Then, how strong will one be after comprehending ten of the sacred scrolls?"

Xylus took a deep breath. He did not feel confident in resolving these matters himself. To capture James and Yardos, he would need the help of a few powerhouses at the Chaos Rank.

After thinking everything through, he immediately disappeared from the area. The next moment, he appeared before the Hazeaf District's leader, Lucius.

Lucius had not gone to the ancient battlefield. Instead, he had been staying within the Hazeaf District. At his current strength, nothing much could catch his eyes.

Xylus greeted with a smile, "Sir Lucius."

"Please have a seat, Sir Xylus."

Lucius sat in the highest seat of the hall and waved his hand to summon a chair.

Xylus sat down and said smilingly, "I have some secrets to share with you, Sir Lucius."

Intrigued, Lucius asked, "Oh? What are they about?"

Xylus replied with a smile, "The origin of the sacred scrolls and the unique powers contained within it."

Lucius jumped to his feet in shock. He was well aware of the sacred scrolls since he had one in his possession.

However, he was clueless about its origin and the unique powers within it. His curiosity was immediately piqued. He asked, "Please do enlighten me."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4854-Meanwhile, James was completely unaware that Xezal had already decided to get rid of him and Yardos.

Yardos had already entered the Chao Rank, and his existence posed a significant threat to her plan.

James met up with Yardos in a ruin inside of the ancient battlefield.

Yardos sat on a boulder, and James stood in front of him. James then recounted everything that Xezal had shared with him.

After learning of Xezal's plan, Yardos fell into thought.

James asked, "What should we do now?"

Yardos took a deep breath and said, "I wasn't expecting hidden sects in the Endlos' Nine Districts. They've stayed in seclusion for so long because of Emperor Raiah's orders. That's enough to prove Emperor Raiah's strength and prestige.

'The Chaos District's Leader was killed after an ambush and integrated himself into the Chaos Heavenly Path. Even if he were to be resurrected, there's no guarantee that he will be able to resolve the situation. Instead of depending on someone that's already dead, it's better to rely on ourselves.'

Yardos stood up, patted James' shoulder, and said smilingly, "You've already read many of the sacred scrolls. As long as you can obtain the remaining sacred scrolls and keep improving your cultivation base, you might be able to reach Emperor Raiah's level. The Chaos District needs your protection. You'll need to suppress these hidden forces that will emerge. You have my full support."

Yardos had decided to side with James. He did not trust Xezal, nor did he want to oblige with her ways. He believed relying on themselves was better than the already deceased Chaos District's leader.

“I know what to do next.” James felt more confident.

Yardos said, “Although you’re strong, your cultivation rank is lacking. We can’t predict when disaster will strike, so it’s best to strive to improve your cultivation base as much as possible.”

James nodded and said, “Alright. I understand. I’ll do my best to enter the Caelum Boundless Rank soon. After I stay in the Caelum Boundless Rank for a while, I’ll enter the Quasi Chaos Rank.”

Even though James’ cultivation rank was low, he felt confident in suppressing some of the Endlos’ Nine Districts’ powerhouses because of Livie, who had astonishing strength on par with a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank.

“By the way, who is this?”

After the brief conversation, Yardos fixed his eyes on Livie.

James replied truthfully, “I found her skeletal remains. Zeno helped turn her into a puppet. Then, I gave her a soul and life. Her body belonged to the Third Commander of the Extraterrestrial Demons.”

Yardos looked at James in shock. “Oh? The Third Commander of the Extraterrestrial Demons?”

“I’ve always been curious about how powerful an Extraterrestrial Demon is. How strong is she?”

Yardos beckoned Livie and said, “Come, attack me with all your strength.”

James glanced at Livie and said, “Go ahead. However, it’s just a friendly match. Don’t go overboard.”

Livie nodded. Immediately afterward, a powerful aura erupted from her body and formed into a storm.

Even James had to take a few steps backward.

Yardos sensed Livie’s strength and summoned all his strength. His aura immediately skyrocketed.

The two charged at each other, and their palms clashed. Boom!

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4855-Their powerful forces intertwined and caused an explosion. The void cracked and spread throughout the area.

Yardos had entered the Omniscience Path's Tenth Rank. A bright white halo bloomed from his body, and he activated his Blithe Omniscience.

He vanished from the spot and appeared behind Livie. Then, Yardos raised his hand and thrust his palm at her back.

However, he struck an afterimage. Livie's physical body had already disappeared.

The two had a fierce fight, but it ended rather quickly.

Ultimately, Livie was injured, and blood dripped from the corner of her lips.

Meanwhile, Yardos was in a disheveled state. Livie's terrifying power had pierced his chest, and he was bleeding from the injury.

Yardos exclaimed, "Even though her body only retained a portion of its previous strength, it's still very potent. If in her prime, she could easily defeat and kill me."

After the brief confrontation, Yardos had an estimation of Livie's strength. In the Omniscience Path's Tenth Rank, Yardos could fight other powerhouses at the Chaos Rank. Therefore, he concluded that Livie was capable of the same.

James knew Livie was powerful, but he was surprised that even Yardos could not instantly defeat her. He looked at the bloody injury on Yardos' chest and asked concernedly, "Are you alright?"

Yardos waved his hand and said, "I'm fine. It's impressive that she managed to injure my physical body. After I enter the Omniscience Path's Eleventh Rank, even a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank might not be able to injure me."

James turned to Livie and asked, "What about you? Are you alright?"

Livie shook her head and said, "Just a few scratches. It's nothing serious."

James was relieved.

Yardos mobilized his strength, and the injuries recovered rapidly. He gave Livie a thumbs up and praised, "You're powerful. I wonder if you can regain your body's previous strength. If you do, nobody in the Endlos will be a match against you."

Livie shook her head and said, "I don't know anything about my body's past life. I'm not an Extraterrestrial Demon.

James is the one that gave me life."

Yardos' smile suddenly froze. Livie was too powerful. If she were to recover her strength and reclaim her identity as an Extraterrestrial Demon, she would become a massive threat to the Endlos' Ten Districts. Despite that, Yardos felt slightly relieved after seeing her innocent expression.

James claimed she had already died long ago, and only her bones remained. Moreover, her remaining body's Zen and soul sigil had already been obliterated. Thus, there was no possibility of her original consciousness reawakening again. She was no longer the Extraterrestrial Demons' Third Commander. Her name was Livie Caden now.

'There's still time before the competition for the Boundless Ranking begins. You should head into seclusion and cultivate. If possible, try to enter the Caelum Boundless Rank or the Quasi Chaos Rank. At the same time, try to reach the Omniscience Path's Tenth Rank," said Yardos.

"Alright." James nodded.

Then, he left with Livie and returned to the city.

Waleria and the others immediately inquired James about his discussion with Yardos.

After James vaguely went over their decision, he went into seclusion. James set up a time formation and an isolation formation in the backyard of the manor. His goal was to reach the Caelum Boundless Rank and become stronger.
