The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4861-James' every movement was under surveillance of the Hazeaf Sect's powerhouses. However, he was completely unaware.

Lucius was slightly puzzled after sensing that James had left the ancient battlefield. He thought to himself, "Why is he leaving at a time like this? What is he trying to do?"

They planned to attract James and Yardos to the Chaos Battlefield. Then, they would kill Yardos and capture James. Their scheme would fail if James did not participate in the Boundless Ranking competition or enter the Chaos Battlefield.

After James returned to the Hazeaf District, he immediately looked for Saachi.

Saachi had possession of the Aeternus Mantra. News about the sacred scrolls had spread, and countless powerhouses from hidden Orthodoxes had emerged. These Orthodoxes would do anything to obtain the sacred scrolls. Thus, James was worried that Saachi would be in danger if she continued holding onto the Aeternus Mantra.

James found Saachi in a spiritual mountain within the Hazeaf Sect.

Saachi looked at James excitedly. "James? Why are you back already?"

James said solemnly, "A lot of things have happened recently. I came to see you because I was worried."

Saachi's heart felt warmed at his words. She smiled and said, "What could possibly happen to me?"

James explained, "The Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra has appeared, and the sacred scrolls' secret has been exposed. It's not safe for you to have possession of the Aeternus Mantra. I'm worried powerhouses trying to obtain the sacred scrolls will come after you."

Saachi was easygoing about it. She said with a smile, "Although the Aeternus Mantra is a treasure, I can't comprehend it. It's of no use to me. If the situation calls for it, I'll just hand it over to them."

James was surprised by her reply. He said smilingly, "You're pretty relaxed about it. Are you really willing to hand over such a great treasure to others so easily?"

"You need to do what you need to in critical moments."

"I feel very relieved with your words. I'm a human from the Chaos District. Now that the Chaos District has reemerged, I'll be going back for a while," said James.

Although Saachi did not go to the ancient battlefield, she already knew about the Chaos District, the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, and the sacred books. However, she was unaware of James' true identity and was surprised to learn the truth.

"Y-You're from the Chaos District?"

James nodded and said, "Yeah. I don't have time to waste.

Let's talk when I come back."

After leaving a few words, James left with Livie.

His purpose for returning to the Chaos District was for the Infinity Steles. He knew the Infinity Steles could form into the Boundless Pagoda. He had learned from Zeno that on the highest floor of the pagoda was the Endlos Heart, which powerful cultivators desperately wanted to obtain in order to become the Endlos Lord.

He was not sure whether Teresa already knew about it.

However, he had a strong feeling Teresa was unaware of the Endlos Heart's whereabouts. Otherwise, she would have obtained it long ago and become the Endlos Lord, ruler of the Ten Districts.

James knew Thea was already on her way to the ancient battlefield. His traveling speed was much faster than hers. Thus, he might be able to return to the Endlos before Thea even arrived on the ancient battlefield.

However, Teresa's subordinate had already been ordered to intercept Thea and anyone who came to find James.

James left the Hazeaf Sect and went to a nearby city. Then, he used a Teleportation Formation to leave the Hazeaf District.

The Hazeaf District was the core region of the Endlos, which made it the furthest from the Chaos District. Therefore, James wanted to travel to a closer district.

After he sensed the Chaos District's location, he headed to the Aeternus District, which was the closest to the Chaos

District. Afterward, he arrived in a universe on the outskirts of the Aeternus District and activated the Blithe Omniscience.

Then, he traveled through the Endlos toward the Chaos District.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4862-The Endlos was vast and boundless. There was a total of ten districts within it. Each district had a Heavenly Path that governed over their universe's various Heavenly Paths.

James quickly advanced through the Endlos with the Blithe Omniscience. After some time, he finally came close to the Chaos District.

He disappeared from the Endlos Void and entered the outer region of the Chaos District.

After sensing the familiar Chaos Heavenly Path, James was overjoyed. "It feels good to be home."

James was in a good mood.

The Chaos District was extensive, but James arrived in the Human Universe almost instantly with the Blithe Omniscience.

The Human Universe was the fusion of dozens of universes and the former Primordial Realm.

James left the Infinity Seteles in the Human Universe, hoping another fated person could acquire it.

He sensed the Infinity Steles' aura and found that nobody had obtained them. Instead, they had returned to the Infinity Cities.

The Boundless Road was a mysterious place. The Boundless Road was opened sometime in the past, and everyone in the Human Universe was allowed to enter it. Throughout the Twelfth Universe's history, countless cultivators at the Grand Emperor Rank had ventured to the place before and carved their names on the Infinity Steles. However, nobody successfully acquired the Infinity Steles.

James appeared in the Boundless Road and arrived outside one of the Infinity City.

A few people from the Human Universe gathered inside the Infinity City. In the center of the city was the first Infinity Stele.

"Come." James stretched out his hand.

The Infinity Stele immediately flew toward James and shrunk in size.

"The Infinity Stele moved!"

"What just happened? Why did it move?"

"Where did it go?"

Everyone in the Infinity City was confused.

Before they could figure out what had happened, James had already opened a passage to the second Infinity City.

He walked through the passage and arrived at the second city.

The second city was a complete copy of the first. The only difference was that there was nobody present. Those who had entered the first Infinity City could not travel through time. Thus, they could not enter the second Infinity City.

James quickly collected the second Infinity Stele. Then, he traveled back in time to the next city.

Soon, he had collected 108 of the Infinity Steles. He was already familiar with the scriptures on the Infinity Steles and fused them into the Boundless Pagoda without much effort.

James looked at the Boundless Pagoda, which acted as a defensive weapon for him in the past.

He entered the Boundless Pagoda and scanned his surroundings. The space inside the pagoda was relatively small, only spanning one thousand square meters. The total area would remain unchanged even if James shrunk or expanded the pagoda.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4863-“So I need to reach the highest floor?”

James learned from Zeno that the Endlos Heart was hidden on the highest floor of the Boundless Pagoda. He searched his surroundings but could not find a way to ascend to the next floor.

He leaped into the air, examined the black ceiling, and gently pushed on it. However, there was no response.

‘This is strange.’ James frowned.

He began to brainstorm ways to climb up the pagoda. After various attempts, he was still stuck on the first floor.

James walked out of the Boundless Pagoda and inspected the building. He discovered the Boundless Pagoda seemed to have nine floors.

“This isn’t making any sense.” His brows furrowed tightly.

From the outside of the pagoda, it had nine floors. However, James could only enter the first floor. He could not find a way to access the second floor. The Endlos Heart was supposed to be hidden on the highest floor. Therefore, he must reach the ninth floor to acquire the Endlos Heart.

“Oh, right!” James suddenly thought of something.

The Infinity Steles used to have a different owner in the past. He had mentioned his name to be Tatum Warderm. James had no idea whether Tatum was a human born in the Twelfth Universe or a powerhouse from before the establishment of the Endlos’ Ten Districts.

James entered the Boundless Pagoda once again. He sat in the center of the pagoda and unleashed his Zen, scanning the interior. However, he found nothing unusual. After his efforts were to no avail, he asked tentatively, "Mr. Warderm? Are you here, Mr. Warderm? If you can hear me, please show yourself."

His voice echoed throughout the Boundless Pagoda. After some time, a black mist gathered and formed a dark, spectral silhouette whose gender or age could not be identified.

The silhouette said, "You finally came."

James stood up, clasped his hands, and said, "It's an honor to see you. My name is James Caden. As the former owner of the Infinity Steles, you must know how to enter the Boundless Pagoda's subsequent floors and reach the top floor where the Endlos Heart is stored, right?"

The silhouette's weak voice resounded. "Of course."

He fell into thought. After a while, he continued, saying, "The Endlos Heart is a supreme treasure of the Endlos. The Endlos will acknowledge the one who possesses the Endlos Heart as the Endlos Lord.

"A long time ago, Emperor Raiah hid the Endlos Heart in the Boundless Pagoda's highest floor and set up a seal. With every Ten Path Techniques's Power, you can unlock one of the pagoda's forms and enter the next floor. You must master all ten Ten Path Techniques to enter the tenth floor. Not only is the Endlos Heart hidden on the tenth floor, but there is also a message left behind by Emperor Raiah."

James frowned and asked, "From what I understand, Emperor Raiah passed the Endlos Heart to the Chaos District's Leader, instructing him to rule over the Endlos' Ten Districts."

The silhouette shook his head and said, "The Endlos Heart is too precious. Emperor Raiah would never just hand it over so easily. The Chaos District's Leader was given a replica."

James clasped his hands and said, "I see. Thank you for the help, sir."

The silhouette sighed and said, "Emperor Raiah is gone. Most of his confidants had sacrificed themselves or sustained severe injuries. The rest who remain are cowards. The Infinity Steles acknowledge you. That's enough to prove that you can shoulder this great responsibility. You're about to embark on a journey full of obstacles."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4864-James already knew the powerhouse that survived from ancient times were cowards.

"What exactly are these Extraterrestrial Demons?" asked James.

The silhouette replied solemnly, "They are from outside of the Endlos.

"I don't have much time, so I must make this quick. The Infinity Steles are great treasures. After Emperor Raiah suppressed the Extraterrestrial Demons, he transformed the Boundless Pagoda, giving it ten forms. The more forms you unlock, the stronger the pagoda becomes. The tenth form is the pagoda's most potent state. I hope the Boundless Pagoda becomes useful to you."

His voice gradually weakened. Soon, the silhouette disappeared along with his voice.

James took a deep breath. He was not expecting the Boundless Pagoda to have different forms. The current pagoda was not even in its first form.

Then, James activated one of his powers. However, the pagoda remained the same.

While James was still puzzled, a few mysterious scriptures appeared on the walls. He scrutinized them and realized it was the cultivation method to activate the Boundless Pagoda's first form.

The cultivation method required him to incorporate one of the Ten Path Techniques' Powers.

The scriptures were relatively easy to understand, and it did not take long for James to master them. He followed the cultivation method and urged one of the Ten Path Technique's Powers.

Suddenly, the Boundless Pagoda underwent some changes. The Boundless Pagoda emitted a cyan light, and its interior underwent a subtle change. Although it was not much different from its initial state, it looked much more grand.

After successfully unlocking the first form, James could sense the pagoda had much more potent energy. He exclaimed, "Amazing. I've had the Infinity Steles for so long but didn't know the Boundless Pagoda could do such things."

James was not in a hurry since there was still time before the competition for the Boundless Ranking began. He stayed within the 108th Infinity City and cultivated the scriptures recorded on the Boundless Pagoda's walls. Then, he incorporated the Ten Path Techniques' Powers, slowly unlocking the subsequent floors of the pagoda. Soon, he activated the pagoda's sixth form and accessed the sixth floor.

The pagoda emanated six different powers, similar to when James activated six of the Ten Path Techniques' Powers.

The Boundless Pagoda was no ordinary treasure, and its sixth form was much stronger than when James fused six of the Ten Path Techniques' Powers.

James gasped after sensing the power of the pagoda's sixth form. He muttered, "The Boundless Pagoda's sixth form should be able to suppress a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank."

Although James had never fought a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank before, he felt a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank would not have it easy in the face of the Boundless Pagoda.

"I'm still lacking four of the Ten Path Techniques' Powers. I must acquire the last four sacred scrolls."

James' brows furrowed after recalling the sacred scrolls' secret had been exposed, and obtaining them would not be easy. Despite the obstacles, he was determined to acquire them, even if it meant having to snatch them.

He dismissed his thoughts and dispersed his powers. Immediately afterward, the Boundless Pagoda disassembled into the Infinity Steles and returned to his body.

After James reclaimed the Infinity Steles and mastered the cultivation method recorded on the walls, he successfully activated the Boundless Pagoda's sixth form. He appeared on the Infinity City's walls and looked into the distance. However, he could see nothing but darkness.

James murmured, "The Boundless Road is also known as the Provenance. It allows one to travel to the one hundred and eight Infinity Cities and back to the beginning of time."

In the past, James thought the beginning of time referred to the birth of the Twelfth Universe.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4865-James realized he might have been wrong and that the beginning of time most probably meant when the Endlos was born.

He thought of the man he met in the 108th Infinity City. Back then, he wanted to travel to the beginning of time but was stopped. The man claimed he was too weak and said they would fight side by side in the future.

James scanned the silent city, searching for the mysterious man's whereabouts.

"You're back." Suddenly, a voice resounded. Then, a blurry silhouette appeared and gradually formed into a substantial person.

During their first encounter in the past, James was unable to see the silhouette's appearance. However, he could now clearly see that it was a man who looked to be in his forties. The man looked rather ordinary and wore a simple robe. Yet, he had a domineering presence.

James asked tentatively, "Who are you?"

The man replied smilingly, "I'm the person guarding the last Infinity City. My job is to wait for the destined person to come so that we can travel back to the battlefield and resolve the final disaster."

"The final disaster?" James frowned.

The man said, 'You should leave. Although you've become stronger, it's far from enough. I hope you're strong enough to travel to the final battlefield with me the next time you return.'

After speaking, the man disappeared from James' sight.

James shouted, "Can I ask for your name, Sir?"

'You'll find out sooner or later.'

The man's voice gradually faded.

James stood on the city wall with a frown.

He looked outside the city but could not see past the darkness.

Suddenly, the darkness seemed to have subsided, and he saw a wave of monsters rushing toward him, but a powerful formation outside the city blocked them from advancing.

"What the hell?" James was shocked.

He remembered the scene within the Supreme Illusions, where he was also in a city being attacked by monsters.

"Do the Infinity Cities exist to suppress the Extraterrestrial Demons? Are Extraterrestrial Demons from different eras attacking the Endlos? What exactly is the final disaster?"

"Is it possible Extraterrestrial Demons have been attacking the Endlos even before Emperor Raiah existed? Wasn't Emperor Raiah's previous battle against the Extraterrestrial Demons not the final battle? Could it be Extraterrestrial Demons of different eras have launched attacks, trying to conquer the Endlos? Were the Boundless Road and the one hundred and eight Infinity Cities created to protect the Endlos against the Extraterrestrial Demons from different eras?"

Many suspicions arose in James' mind, and he gasped at the possibilities. 'This is horrifying. I must become stronger to understand the final truth.'

James entered the Boundless Road and returned to the Chaos District's Human Universe.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4866-James returned to the Chaos District's Human Universe. He hovered in the void and looked down at the universe. He was surprised to find so many secrets hidden within the Human Universe.

After sensing the Human Universe, James found that the Dark World had already merged with it.

He located the Dark World and tried to scan it with his Zen. However, the area was too large, and his Zen could not penetrate every corner of it.

James murmured, "The deepest part of the Dark World is probably connected to the dark zone in the depths of the Endlos. I sensed an oil lamp before, which Zeno concluded was a guiding light to avoid getting lost in the darkness."

He tried to search for the guiding light. However, he found no traces of a guiding light within the range his Zen could reach.

James hovered above the Human Universe and thought about everything the Human Universe had gone through in the past. He also tried to recall everything he had experienced, wanting to find any information he had overlooked.

The Human Universe was mysterious and held many secrets. Therefore, James wondered if he had encountered a great boon before but failed to recognize it.

He harked back on the past. Suddenly, he remembered his time on Planet Galileo.

He went to Galileo to search for the Ancestral God Rank Elixirs. Back then, he had entered the Tribulation World and stayed there for thirty thousand years. He also encountered a man who was going through his Ancestral God Tribulation.

That mysterious man had provided him with a lot of guidance. James would not have survived his Ancestral God Tribulation without that man's help.

Before James left, that man had requested for James to return to the Tribulation World in the future to look for him.

However, James never had another Heavenly Tribulation and did not have the chance to enter the Tribulation World again. Thus, he had long forgotten his encounter with that man.

After remembering the event, James rubbed his chin and murmured guiltily, "I already forgot about him. I wonder if he is still in the Tribulation World after all this time. How is he doing now?"

He would never have thought of the man if not because he was going through his past experiences.

James raised his head and looked toward the Human Universe's Heavenly Path. He wanted to borrow the Heavenly Path's strength to open the Tribulation World. However, he discovered the Tribulation World did not exist in the Heavenly Path's operation rules.

"Why does it not exist?" James frowned.

'The Tribulation World is recorded in ancient texts. I've also personally been there before, so how could it not exist?"

James tried sensing the Chaos Heavenly Path and eventually found the Tribulation World's existence. He released his energy into the Chaos Heavenly Path to activate the Tribulation World.

He entered the Tribulation World and was immediately surrounded by lightning tribulations.

The lightning tribulations' strength was equivalent to James' cultivation rank.

However, the lightning did not affect him.

Although the lightning tribulations struck James, he was unscathed.

Suddenly, countless Heavenly Path Embodiments appeared around him.

"Break!"

James stretched out his hand, and a powerful force emerged from his fingers.

The Heavenly Path Embodiments were instantly obliterated.

He scanned the Tribulation World, trying to find the person who had helped him in the past.

However, there was nobody around. James frowned and murmured, "I can't find him. Did he die from the tribulations?"

That's most likely what happened. It's impossible for him to survive in the Tribulation World for so long."

He took a deep breath, feeling guilty he might have been the reason that man had died. Just when he was about to leave, he suddenly sensed another area outside the Tribulation World.
