

Read The Almighty Dragon General

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4906-Yardos led many powerhouses to Mount Stoyan to save James' family. However, Lucius and the others were well prepared and laid out a formation to trap them.

Apart from Yardos, everyone else was captured.

Despite escaping, Yardos was severely injured after he broke through the Tenfold Purge Formation.

After reaching the Omniscience Path's Eleventh Rank, he cultivated the Three Flowers. The Three Flowers represented the Sacred Blossom of one's soul, blood, and body. He had already maximized these three aspects.

According to his understanding, the Three Flowers were supposed to be able to fuse. However, he never succeeded. To escape, he had forcibly merged them.

Although Yardos gained great power and broke the formation, he had damaged his soul, body, and vein system. He collapsed on the ground and gasped for air.

The outcome of the battle was unexpected.

Yardos' side was relatively strong. However, they were easily defeated, whereas Mount Stoyan was unscathed.

Teresa had been watching the battle outside Mount Stoyan and refrained from getting involved. After seeing the injured Yardos escaping, a faint smile formed on her face.

She quickly searched for Yardos' aura and chased after him.

Yardos was lying weakly on the ground.

"Damn it. What kind of formation was that? Why is it so powerful?"

Yardos felt horrified after recalling the Tenfold Purge Formation.

He would have the upper hand against Lucius in a fair fight. Even though Lucius was at the Chaos Transcendere Rank, Yardos would have been able to defeat him with a bit more time. He had the strength to beat four of them. However, Yardos was unable to counter the Tenfold Purge Formation.

“Yardos.” A voice called out to him.

Yardos quickly leaped up from the ground and looked into the distance warily.

A beautiful woman walked over to him.

Yardos looked at her silently, but his brows furrowed.

He lacked information about Teresa in the past. However, he had learned about her as well as the details of the Sky Burials from James. He also knew that Teresa’s father had integrated into the Chaos Heavenly Path.

Yardos knew Teresa’s goal was to resurrect her father. He also learned from James that a few Extraterrestrial Demons were suppressed under the Chaos Tablet. He was aware that Teresa planned to release them and move the battlefield to the Chaos District.

He also knew Teresa had been secretly meddling and causing trouble for them. However, he felt that her tricks and strategies were useless in the face of absolute strength.

Unfortunately, he had underestimated Teresa, Lucius, and the others. Therefore, his rescue mission failed.

“You’re injured,” Teresa walked over to Yardos, took out a healing elixir, and handed it to him, saying, “Here, have this healing elixir. It’ll help with your wounds.”

Yardos refused to accept it. He looked at her and asked calmly, “Are you really going to cause chaos in the Endlos’ Ten Districts just to resurrect your father?”

Teresa shook her head and said, “You’ve misunderstood, Yardos. My goal isn’t to resurrect my father. The Endlos’ Ten Districts are fated to be in turmoil. The Endlos Heart is enough for all hell to break loose in the Endlos. As for the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and sacred scrolls, even if I didn’t expose them, the hidden sects from ancient times are already aware of their existence. They have been silent for so long because it wasn't the right time yet."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4907-Teresa looked at him and asked, "How about to work together?"

"Us, working together?" Yardos snorted.

Teresa said calmly, "You're powerful and fought four opponents at the Chaos Rank, with one of them being at the Chaos Transcendence Rank. You weren't even at a disadvantage. I believe you're capable of presiding over the future situation.

"Although it's rather peaceful now, chaos will break out very soon. A peerless powerhouse needs to step up and take charge of the situation. I know where the Endlos Heart is located. If we join forces, I can bring you to the Endlos Heart. After you become the Endlos Lord, you can suppress the hidden sects."

Teresa's offer was incredibly tempting. However, Yardos was not moved at all.

Yardos had no interest in authority, fame, and fortune.

"No, thank you." Yardos calmly rejected her.

Teresa's eyes filled with hostility.

"Since you refuse to work with me, that leaves me no choice."

Teresa revealed her murderous intent.

Yardos already had his guard up against Teresa. After sensing her hostility, he sneered, "You think you can kill me?"

"I admit that you're very strong. Even powerhouses from the hidden sects might not be able to defeat you. However, you're injured right now. A cultivator at the Quasi Chaos Rank is more than enough to kill you now."

Yardos also knew he was seriously injured and would die if he were to continue fighting. He wanted to avoid fighting with Teresa, so he quickly cast the Blithe Omniscience.

Then, he disappeared from her sight.

“Haha.” Teresa chuckled.

At that moment, a few bright inscriptions emerged from her palm. Then, they gradually merged into a weird rune and submerged into the void.

Yardos quickly appeared in another region of the Chaos Battlefield with the Blithe Omniscience. However, the Chaos Battlefield was relatively small.

He had not accomplished his goal yet and could not leave the Chaos Battlefield. Therefore, his only option was to find a place within the Chaos Battlefield to recuperate.

Yardos entered a dense forest and hid his aura. He found a place that seemed somewhat safe and began to treat his injuries.

However, a mysterious rune suddenly appeared and enveloped him. Yardos felt a crushing pressure on his body, making it hard to breathe.

“Haha.” Teresa appeared in front of Yardos and chuckled. She looked at him and said smilingly, “What’s the point of being powerful, Yardos? You’re still so easily trapped with just a rune.”

Yardos’ face darkened. He kept trying to break free. However, his injuries were severe, and he was exhausted. The more he struggled, the more powerful the rune became. A powerful force snaked through his limbs and bones, causing him excruciating pain.

Teresa walked over to him and sealed his cultivation base. Then, she waved her hand, teleporting him into a Space Treasure. After trapping Yardos, she disappeared from the area.

Shortly after, a woman in a purple dress walked out of the darkness.

It was none other than Waleria.

Waleria had a solemn expression after witnessing everything.
