The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4911-Waleria shared everything she knew with Sedris, including that Teresa had captured Yardos.

‘Teresa is incredibly ambitious and will do anything to resurrect Zaden. Lucius is the murderer of her father. She would never be willing to cooperate with Lucius. Ultimately, everyone’s going to end up falling into her trap. She will be the ultimate winner.’

After hearing this, Sedris had a solemn expression.

Time passed day by day.

The Chaos Battlefield had been activated for some time. A few powerhouses that emerged from hidden sects had also made breakthroughs in their cultivation ranks. A few had entered the Quasi Chaos Rank, and some had even reached the Chaos Rank. After enhancing their strength, they moved around the Chaos Battlefield, defeating other powerhouses to obtain clues.

The senior members of hidden sects have also appeared in the Chaos Battlefield.

The Chaos Battlefield was full of cultivators. Although there were many powerhouses, and their battles were intense, most of them were paying attention to the situation on Mount Stoyan.

It had been three epochs since Yardos’ defeat, but James still had not shown up.

Lucius, Sedris, Xylus, and Toma were getting impatient. They announced they would start killing the hostages if James did not show up within ten million years. One of them would be killed every subsequent ten thousand years that passed if he still did not show up.

The news quickly spread throughout the Chaos Battlefield.

Meanwhile, James was cultivating in a secluded area to improve his Omniscience Path. His bloodline power had reached its limit, and his physical strength had become incredibly strong.

At that moment, there was a dazzling white and red halo around his body.

Boom!!!

James' aura suddenly skyrocketed, and his Blood Energy churned violently.

He stood up, took a deep breath, and said, "I finally reached the Omniscience Path's Tenth Rank.

"I've already cultivated the powers of seven sacred scrolls and activated seven forms of the Boundless Pagoda. I've also grown more profound in formations. Now that I'm at the Omniscience Path's Tenth Rank, I should be invincible in the Chaos Battlefield."

James was confident. Before he entered seclusion, he already had the strength to suppress a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank. Now that his strength had reached a higher level, he was no longer afraid of a cultivator at the Chaos Rank.

He restrained his aura, and the halo around him disappeared. Then, he dispersed the formations around him.

James sensed the time and found that only more than four epochs had passed.

"I wonder what's the situation on the Chaos Battlefield right now."

He disappeared from the area.

James was unaware of the situation on the Chaos Battlefield. Therefore, he planned to meet with Yardos and the others to inquire about it.

Meanwhile, Henrik was also cultivating within the mysterious formation. His body became transparent, and a terrifying formation formed within his body.

His meridians, flesh, and blood became part of the formation.

Suddenly, a terrifying aura emerged from his body, and he stood up.

"I finally understand the Grand Purge Formation. Although I'm not completely profound, I've grasped the basics."

After gaining a preliminary understanding of the Grand Purge Formation, Henrik quickly left Zeno's dojo.

He was worried about James and wanted to enter the Chaos Battlefield with the rune that Zeno had passed him as soon as possible.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4912-James left seclusion and began wandering around the Chaos Arena.

The Chaos Arena was a magical small world with beautiful spiritual mountains and rivers.

As soon as James left seclusion, he searched for Yardos and his comrades' auras. However, he could not locate anyone.

"What's going on?" James frowned.

The Chaos Arena was relatively small, and his Zen should be able to spread throughout it. Yet, he could not find his friends' auras. James leaped into the air and looked into the distance.

Boom!!!

Far ahead, there was the sound of fierce battles. Powerful forces permeated the area and caused cracks in the void. However, the formation around the small worlds quickly repaired the damages.

James quickly headed to the battlefield because he sensed Byron, the successor of Wynne and the Saber Sect, was fighting.

His opponent was an elderly man in a gray robe. He had a wrinkled appearance, and his hair was white. However, his aura was potent.

James sensed the elderly man's aura and could tell he had surpassed the Chaos Illimita Rank.

Byron, on the other hand, had only just broken into the Quasi Chaos Rank.

Although he had not entered the Chaos Rank, he stood his ground against a powerhouse at the Chaos Transcendence Rank. However, he was evidently disadvantaged and had sustained a few serious injuries.

"Hand over the picture fragment, and I'll consider sparing you, Byron."

After a brief confrontation, the elderly man backed into the distance. He looked at Byron, who was covered in blood and said, "The Saber Sect is incredibly terrifying. They brought up a powerhouse like you. However, it's unfortunate the Saber Sect's Grand Patriarch isn't here. You're still not a match for me."

Byron was soaked in blood, and his face was grim.

A few powerhouses gathered in the distance and spectated the battle.

'The Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch is terrifying.'

"He's at the peak of the Chaos Transcendence Rank and is so close to reaching the Chaos Omnia Rank.

"Byron has entered the Quasi Chaos Rank and has a Sword Body. He also created the Sacred Heart Art and has mastered the Defying Heavens Art. However, the disparity in strength between him and his opponent is too wide. He's not a match for the Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch."

"I wonder why the Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch is interested in Byron's picture fragment."

"It's probably a clue that Byron obtained in the Chaos Battlefield."

The powerhouses spectating the battle discussed.

James rushed over and frowned at the sight. He approached Byron and asked, "Do you need help?"

"Who's that?"

"Isn't that James from the Chaos District?"

'You're right! It's James who fought Byron in the Boundless Battlefield.'

"James has finally shown up!"

“The powerhouses from Mount Stoyan have been waiting several epochs for him. They even announced they would kill his comrades if he didn’t show up within a certain time limit.”

Everyone began whispering about James.

Byron looked at James and said calmly, “You have better things to take care of right now. The powerhouses from Mount Stoyan captured your wife and children. Yardos and your other friends rushed to rescue them but were also captured.”

James was furious by the news, and his mind went dizzy.

Boom!!!

Immediately afterward, his aura skyrocketed.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4913-James’ face became grim, and a murderous intent emerged from his body. He asked coldly, “What do you mean? Mount Stoyan? Who are they?”

The Diablo Sect’s Grand Patriarch was furious by James’ sudden interference. He sneered, “Who the hell are you? Get lost.”

After speaking, he appeared before James and raised his hand, attempting to suppress James.

However, James suddenly disappeared. The next moment, he was already behind the Diablo Sect’s Grand Patriarch.

Weird inscriptions flashed through James’ eyes. Then, a strange scenery appeared from his pupils.

The Diablo Sect’s Grand Patriarch sensed the terrifying force sweeping toward him. He kept descending from the sky as the crushing force pressured him.

Boom!

The Diablo Sect’s Grand Patriarch crashed into the ground. Shortly after, he leaped back into the sky, wearing a grim expression, and snorted, “Dobro Eyes? That’s unexpected. Unfortunately, your cultivation base is too weak. I would be scared for my life if you were at the Chaos Rank.”

He was suppressed by James' Dobro Eyes because he was not expecting it. Now that he was aware, he could fully resist the Dobro Eyes' force.

James was eager to learn more about Mount Stoyan. However, the Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch was in the way. He said coldly, "I don't want to fight you. Get lost."

Even though James' opponent was the Grand Patriarch of a hidden sect that had recently reemerged, he did not take him seriously. With his current strength, he was fearless.

The Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch sneered, "Haha. You're pretty naive, aren't you? Many ancient sects have been in hiding for countless years. Yet, you youngsters think you're invincible?"

"Yeah, I'm invincible. What're you going to do about it?"

Suddenly, a voice came from the distance.

Immediately afterward, the void split apart, and a chubby man walked out of the gap. Runes appeared around his body and gathered to form a terrifying formation behind him.

The Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch was startled after sensing the force coming from the formation. He exclaimed, 'The Grand Purge Formation?!'

After identifying the formation, the Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch quickly fled.

Henrik dispersed the formation and appeared in front of James. Then, he called out excitedly, "James! I finally found you."

James stared at Henrik and asked, "Y-You've already entered the Chaos Rank?"

Henrik replied, "It's a long story. I'll tell you about it later. I heard you were in trouble and rushed to help."

James approached Byron and asked, 'Tell me what happened.'

Byron explained, "A few District Leaders formed Mount Stoyan. The leader is the Hazeaf District's Leader, Lucius. Sedris, Xylus, and Toma are also founders of Mount Stoyan. They've trapped your wife, children, and friends in Mount Stoyan."

Byron briefly explained the situation to James.

"Yardos led a group of powerhouses to rescue them but were also taken hostage. Yardos was the only one who managed to flee. However, he was severely injured."

A murderous aura emerged from James, causing the surrounding space to tremble.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4914-Everyone held something dear to their heart that they would fight to protect. To James, that something was his family and friends.

James' heart was boiling with anger after learning that Lucius, Sedris, Xylus, and Toma had captured his wife and children.

Henrik comforted him, saying, "Don't worry, James. Let's go to Mount Stoyan and destroy those bastards."

Byron glanced at Henrik. He was clueless about Henrik's background and the technique he had used. However, the Diablo Sect's Grand Patriarch's fear of him was enough to prove his strength.

Despite knowing Henrik was exceptionally strong, Byron still threw in a reminder. "It's better to be more careful."

Previously, several powerhouses had shown up on Mount Stoyan, including Yardos, the Ancestral Blood Master, Zula, and a few cultivators at the Caelum Boundless Rank.

Everyone else was captured apart from Yardos, who fled with serious injuries."

James took a deep breath, suppressing his anger.

"Thanks for the reminder. I know what to do."

James clasped his hands at Byron and expressed his gratitude. Then, he turned to Henrik and said, "Let's head to Mount Stoyan. I'd like to know what they're up to."

Henrik gave it a thought and said, "Maybe we shouldn't rush there, James. Even Yardos was injured. He's probably hiding somewhere, treating his wounds. We should look for him first."

James nodded lightly, then scanned their surroundings.

He saw the cultivators were chatting around them and shouted, "Pass the message to Mount Stoyan that James Caden has already appeared. If my wife, children, and friends are to even sustain another scratch, I'll go on a massacre on Mount Stoyan."

After speaking, James and Henrik left the area.

The news of James' reappearance spread quickly and soon reached the ears of Mount Stoyan's powerhouses.

"Finally, James!"

"James values his family and friends. It was a good idea to capture them and threaten him. We're going to acquire the secret of the sacred scrolls so effortlessly."

The powerhouses laughed, overjoyed by the news.

James and Henrik, on the other hand, set out to search for Yardos.

While they were still trying to locate Yardos, Waleria intercepted them. She quickly disclosed that Teresa had trapped Yardos.

"I've been secretly watching everything. Yardos fled from the battle with severe injuries. Teresa seized the opportunity and sealed him away. His current whereabouts are unknown."

"Teresa..." James gritted his teeth.

Henrik's face darkened. "Then what else is there to wait for? Let's charge straight to Mount Stoyan."

"James..." Waleria paused, hesitating to speak.

"Cut to the chase." James looked at Waleria.

Waleria reminded him, “Lucius, Sedris, Xylus, and Toma are really powerful. Moreover, they set up a powerful formation in Mount Stoyan. Yardos led a group of powerhouses there to rescue your family, but everyone except Yardos was captured. If you go there right now, you’ll be digging your own grave.”

James said firmly, “Even so, I must go.”

Waleria’s pretty face showed helplessness. She was troubled by the situation, especially because the Theos Sect had gotten involved.”

After giving it a thought, she said, “I’ll come with you.”

“Alright.” James nodded lightly.

Afterward, the three headed to Mount Stoyan.

On the way, James said, “I’m sure they captured my family and friends to obtain the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and the sacred scrolls cultivation method. Our main goal will be to rescue them.”

He looked at Henrik and said, “After we arrive at Mount Stoyan, I’ll negotiate for them to be released, then I’ll take their place as hostage. After they are freed, I need you to bring them to safety.”

“No way!”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4915-Henrik immediately disagreed, saying, “I’m really powerful now, James. No matter who our opponents are or what kind of formation they have, I’ll be able to suppress them.”

Henrik was confident in his strength. He might not be invincible in the Chaos Battlefield after gaining a preliminary understanding of the Grand Purge Formation. Still, there were only a handful of cultivators that could stand against him.

James took a deep breath and said, “Do as I say. They simply want to know the cultivation method of the sacred scrolls. I need you to get Thea and the others out of Mount Stoyan so I don’t have to worry about their safety. As for Lucius and those that captured them...

“I’ll guarantee they won’t leave Mount Stoyan alive.”

James’ expression darkened, and his face was full of hostility.

Henrik asked, “Are you sure about this? Your opponents are several powerhouses at the Chaos Rank. They are leaders of major forces and districts.”

James replied confidently, “Don’t worry.”

Waleria reminded again, ‘You can’t be reckless, James.’”

Although Waleria was aware of James’ capabilities and knew he was powerful, she was worried about him as she witnessed the Tenfold Purge Formation’s strength.

“I’m confident.”

After James reassured them, he cast the Blithe Omnsiciecne and disappeared from the area. Then, he appeared in the sky far from Mount Stoyan.

Waleria and Henrik also appeared shortly after him.

James shouted, “I’m here. Let my family and friends go.”

Mount Stoyan had garnered a lot of attention in the past few epochs, and many cultivators were camping nearby.

James’ voice echoed throughout the area, immediately arousing these cultivators’ attention.

“He’s here!”

“After waiting for so long, James has finally shown up!”

“Even Yardos, who fought against four opponents at once, could not withstand the formation of Mount Stoyan. James is strong but probably weaker than Yardos, right?”

“Who knows? Let’s see what happens.”

Many cultivators began to spectate from a distance.

Swoosh!

A few figures flew up from Mount Stoyan and hovered in the sky. Lucius was in the lead, with Sedris, Xylus, and Toma behind him.

The four stood together and stared at James.

"I know exactly what you want."

James suppressed his anger and hostility toward them. He looked at them and said, "Let my family and friends go, and I'll give it to you."

"Ha!" Lucius chuckled.

The Tenfold Purge Formation was immediately activated.

Lucius said, "If you voluntarily walk into the formation, we'll release your family and friends."

James analyzed the formation. It was incredibly mysterious and contained ten kinds of powers complimenting each other. Although they seemed to be fused, they were still independent.

The Formation Inscriptions were very complicated. Even James was unable to completely understand it.

James sensed many familiar auras belonging to his family and friends within the formation.

'You can't be careless, James. That's the strongest Purging Formation during Emperor Raiah's era. It's called the Tenfold Purge Formation. Emperor Raiah created it to deal with the Extraterrestrial Demons." Henrik suddenly interrupted his thoughts.

Henrik identified the formation. He did not learn the Tenfold Purge Formation and could not set it up. However, there were some records and analyses of the Tenfold Purge Formation in the information Zeno had passed on to him.
