The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4941-Boom!

The arriving powerhouses were powerful. They attacked James' formation, and it shattered instantly.

'They came so fast.' James frowned.

He found himself immediately exposed to the gaze of many powerhouses and being surrounded by them. The area was sealed as well.

James looked at his surroundings and saw many living beings, including Fletcher, Becca, Shane, and others that he had never seen before. Their auras were formidable.

"James Caden, hand over the clue of the Herstellen Art," a voice rang out.

James spread his hands and said, "I don't have it. I've observed the complete inscriptions, and there's no such thing as the Herstellen Art. We've all been deceived by Emperor Raiah."

"You're asking for death." Fletcher took the lead and launched an attack on James.

The moment James was about to escape, a man appeared and effortlessly blocked Fletcher's attack. With an indifferent expression, he said, "Do you think my words are just hot air? I said James is mine, and no one can touch him until I say so."

The man was none other than Taran.

Fletcher showed signs of unease. He took a few steps back and said, 'Taran, do you want to claim the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and the Herstellen Art as yours? There are also rumors that James has a method to enter the Sovereign Rank. Do you want to claim all of that too?'

"Haha," Taran burst into laughter. "What do you think of the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra or the Herstellen Art are to me? I wouldn't fear Emperor Raiah even if he was still alive." He continued, "I said I just want to have a battle with James to prove that my Curse Magic is no weaker than the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art."

James quickly chimed in, saying, "You're right. Your Curse Magic is unparalleled, and I've also studied it. I have some proficiency in it as well. Let's find a place to discuss."

At these words, Taran glanced at James and said, "Come with me. I'll make sure no one touches you."

"Okay." James' face lit up with joy. He felt temporarily safe with Taran by his side.

'Taran Zach, you're greatly overestimating yourself," a voice emanated from the void, followed by the appearance of an elder.

'The Grand Patriarch of Mount Genesis?" The living beings around were surprised.

'Taran Zach, I don't want to oppose you, but you can't take James with you," another voice chimed in.

'The Grand Patriarch of Mount Taba?" With the appearance of another powerhouse, everyone was left stunned.

'Taran Zach, do you really think you're invincible?" A middle- aged man appeared.

'The powerhouse from Silbergh Island is here too."

Sizzle!

In the distance, there was a sound that scorched the void, followed by a blaze, with a fiery red bird emanating the flames.

'The Phoenix? What's going on? Why are so many powerhouses appearing?" Everyone around was taken aback.

Taran looked at these powerhouses and said, "Apart from Emperor Raiah, I'm unrivaled in Endlos. Since you've all shown up, why don't you attack together?" He spoke with confidence and arrogance.

Then, he looked at James and said, "Retreat for now. I'll come find you once I deal with them. You must survive. In my lifetime, I've only been defeated by Emperor Raiah. You need to cultivate the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art as quickly as possible and reach the same cultivation rank as me. I want to battle with you to prove to the world that Curse Magic is no weaker than the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art.”

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4942-Taran’s obsession ran deep, and he wanted only to defeat Emperor Raiah. However, with Emperor Raiah absent, he turned his target to James, who possessed Emperor Raiah’s inheritance.

Perhaps this was the reason Taran could not take the final step to reach the first rank. Therefore, James could not die. Even if he were to die, it would have to be at Taran’s hands.

At this moment, many powerhouses who had been hidden for countless years appeared.

The Grand Patriarchs of Silbergh Island, Phoenix Clan, Mount Genesis, and Mount Taba were all renowned powerhouses during the era of Emperor Raiah.

Initially, they had chosen not to join the battle because they feared death, and also because Emperor Raiah had instructed them to hide from the world before his departure.

They obeyed Emperor Raiah because he repelled the Extraterrestrial Demon and attained the supreme cultivation achievement, which caused them to fear him.

After countless years passed with no sign of Emperor Raiah’s return, they could no longer contain themselves.

“James must stay.”

“Taran, I don’t want to be your enemy, but if you insist on protecting James, don’t blame me for being ruthless. I admit that you’re powerful. No one here can match you in a one-on-one battle, but you can’t endure it if we all attack you together.”

“Taran, are you willing to oppose the entire Endlos because of James?”

The powerhouses who revealed themselves began to voice their opinions. They more or less dreaded Taran. Some of them were at the same cultivation rank as Taran, while others were weaker.

Those who dared to speak up were generally only one rank weaker than Taran. Those who were too weak did not dare to speak, as a single Curse Inscription from Taran could kill them instantly.

There were around twenty powerhouses in total, representing the strongest fighting force in the Endlos' Ten Districts. They encircled Taran but did not act recklessly, creating a tense standoff.

Upon seeing this, James immediately activated the Blithe Omniscience to leave the area. As soon as he vanished, some of the powerhouses could not restrain themselves and pursued him.

However, an invisible hand materialized and yanked them back.

"Taran Zach, this is going too far," the Grand Patriarch of Mount Taba roared angrily, releasing a terrifying aura that even the Chaos Arena could barely withstand. It constantly crumbled under the pressure.

"What a formidable aura."

"They're about to start fighting."

"Quick, retreat."

"The Chaos Arena won't hold up if they start fighting."

Sensing the terrifying aura spreading, the remaining living beings swiftly left the Chaos Arena through the spatial passage.

Suddenly, a fierce battle erupted. Meanwhile, James left using the Blithe Omniscience and opened a spatial rift to exit.

Upon exiting the Chaos Arena, he concealed his aura and hid in a dark space far away from the Chaos Tablet. From there, he closely monitored the situation within it.

The Chaos Tablet could isolate Zen probing. Even with James at the Quasi Boundless Rank, he could not sense the situation inside it.

As more and more living beings fled the area, the Chaos Tablet trembled, and cracks began to appear on its surface.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4943-The inscriptions left by Emperor Raiah adorned the Chaos Tablet, allowing it to repair itself rapidly whenever cracks appeared on its surface.

However, the powerhouses within the Chaos Space were too powerful, like Taran, who matched Emperor Raiah in strength. Consequently, the seal on the Chaos Tablet could not withstand the fluctuations of their battle.

The battle continued for quite some time.

Boom!

The Chaos Tablet collapsed, and a massive Sealing Formation emerged. As cracks spread across the formation, countless black auras began to pour out and soar into the darkness.

Hidden in the shadows, James witnessed this scene with a heavy expression.

‘It seems that Teresa’s plan has succeeded,’ he thought. He knew that Teresa intended to break the seal of the Chaos Tablet and release the Extraterrestrial Demon suppressed within it.

Now that the Chaos Tablet had been shattered, the Extraterrestrial Demon had lost the formation suppressing it and was escaping. However, the battle was far from over.

A group of powerhouses once again engaged in a fierce battle within the Dark World, and this lasted for three thousand years. However, the aftermath of the battle continued to strengthen, expanding even after ten thousand years.

The living beings in the outside world had no idea about the expanded aftermath of the battle deep within the Dark World. However, James knew it well and was aware of the outcome of this battle.

Over twenty powerhouses besieged Taran. He slew more than a dozen of them, leaving only a few of them at his same cultivation rank who managed to escape with severe injuries.

After the battle, he disappeared, and no one knew where he had gone, not even James, who had been observing from the shadows all along.

James waited for ten thousand years more after the battle ended, but Taran never reappeared. Only then did he leave to find Henrik.

In the Dark World, Henrik sat in a lotus position in a concealed spot. He had been previously injured, but his injuries had mostly healed after ten thousand years.

“Mr. Caden,” Henrik called to James the moment James appeared. Henrik stood up immediately, unable to contain his curiosity. “How did the battle go?”

James replied, “Dozens of powerhouses besieged Taran. He killed more than a dozen of them, while the rest managed to escape. Taran won the battle, but he hasn’t shown up. I guess he’s heavily injured and has found a hiding place to heal.”

“Won? Is Taran truly that powerful?” Henrik was surprised. Taran faced over twenty powerhouses, some of them at his cultivation rank. He was incredibly fearsome.

“Indeed, he’s powerful,” James admitted, taking a deep breath. He had observed the battle and understood well the formidable strength of those powerhouses from the ancient holy site.

“Mr. Caden, what do you plan to do now?” Henrik inquired.

James’ expression became grave.

“All of this was orchestrated by Teresa. I genuinely don’t know how she managed to lure these powerhouses into the Chaos Battlefield. Now that the Chaos Tablet has been shattered and the seal is broken, the Extraterrestrial Demon that was trapped has also escaped. I worry that the Ten Districts will soon be plunged into turmoil.”

James was deeply concerned. Teresa had played a devious game, turning the Ten Districts upside down all on her own. He had been worried when Teresa mentioned wanting to shift the battlefield to the Chaos District.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4944-Right from the beginning, both James and Henrik knew about Teresa's plan. However, James never anticipated that Teresa would indeed disrupt the Ten Districts all on her own.

Now, he was worried that the battlefield would shift to the Chaos District, which housed the Human Universe. That was his home, and he did not want anything to happen to it.

Sitting on a black-colored rock, James gently massaged his temples and asked, "If you were Teresa, what would you do next?"

Henrik thought for a moment and said, "Now, the Extraterrestrial Demon has been released, and no one knows where it is hiding. Furthermore, the Sword Energy manifested within Teresa caused some damage to the Grand Purge Formation when I used it earlier."

He paused and continued, "If my guess is correct, Teresa has already reached an agreement with the Extraterrestrial Demons' Commanders. Next, she will join forces with them and shift the battlefield to the Chaos District. Now, the powerhouses in the Ten Districts are either dead or injured, and those who can truly make a difference are scarce. Even if they exist, they won't bother competing for opportunities and boons. Teresa has managed to weaken the Ten Districts and eliminate their legendary powerhouses. She's almost invincible now that she has allied with the Extraterrestrial Demon. The only thing that can draw the attention of the other powerhouses in the Ten Districts will be the Endlos Heart. Hence, she'll probably use it to her advantage."

Henrik continued to analyze. "Now, both of us are her biggest enemies. She will try to eliminate us. Since we're not showing ourselves right now, she might capture your relatives and friends in the Human Universe again to pressure you into submission."

Hearing this, James frowned. He asked, "Is the Extraterrestrial Demon that damaged the Grand Purge Formation powerful?" James asked.

Henrik nodded. "Yes, it is at least at the Chaos Essencia Rank."

James was deeply concerned after hearing this. The Chaos Essencia Rank was the same cultivation rank as Taran's, and they could not see a way to continue this battle.

“Mr. Caden, do you have a plan?” Henrik asked.

James fell into contemplation. After a lengthy pause, he said, ‘Teresa’s primary goal is to incite conflict, but her detailed plan remains unknown. To devise a strategy, we need to learn about her plan. I have an idea.”

Henrik looked at James and said, “Just tell me what I need to do, and I’ll follow your orders.”

James said, “For now, we’ll split up. You’ll return to the Chaos District’s Human Universe to safeguard its security, and I’ll try to find Teresa. If my guess is correct, she has already returned to the Doom Race in the Chaos District, and she’s formulating her next plan. I need to infiltrate there as quickly as possible.”

Hearing this, Henrik furrowed his brow. “Isn’t infiltrating the Doom Race extremely hard?”

“Nope,” James replied with a smile. He remembered Wyot of the Doom Race. Perhaps he could use that identity again to infiltrate if Wyot had not returned to the Chaos District.

“Alright.” Henrik did not hesitate. “We’ll split up then. I’ll return to the Chaos District to discuss with Mr. Xrival and the others about a countermeasure. You go find Wyot and detain him.”

“Okay.” James nodded, then conjured an inscription and handed it to Henrik. ‘Take this with you. Contact me if anything comes up.”

Henrik accepted it. With a quick movement, he disappeared.

James surveyed his surroundings. There was nothing left for him in the Dark World. His top priority was to find Wyot. He knew Wyot’s aura well and could locate him by sensing it. Even if Wyot concealed his aura, James could extrapolate his location through the Extrapolation Path.

Previously, Wyot left the Chaos Arena in despair after James spared him. He had wandered aimlessly into the Dark World and lost himself.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4945-Despite his formidable cultivation base, Wyot got lost in the Dark World. He could not find his way back, no matter how hard he tried or what methods he employed. Panic began to set in as he continued to choose different routes that only caused him to sink deeper into the abyss.

He sat on a rock in the Dark World, his handsome face etched with perplexity. He felt utterly adrift.

“Wyot Dalibor.”

Suddenly, a voice echoed through the silence, calling his name. Wyot trembled and stood up, his body quivering.

“Who... who’s there?” His voice quivered.

Regardless of whether it was an enemy or a friend calling him, it was far better than remaining alone in the Dark World.

Swish!

A faint light landed, coalescing into a man.

“James...” The moment Wyot recognized James, he became so overwhelmed with emotion that he nearly cried. He seized James’ hand and said, “Quick, take me out of this place.”

The Dark World was eerily silent and possessed a mysterious power that could erode both the body and the Divine Soul, making Wyot feel great discomfort. James’ appearance gave him a sliver of hope.

Wyot’s response left James slightly puzzled. James thought, ‘I’m your enemy. I took your wife. Don’t get so cozy with me.’

James took a few steps back, his gaze fixed warily on Wyot.

“James, can you help me get out of here?”

It suddenly dawned on James what was happening, and he said, “Now I understand that you were lost in the Dark World. It hasn’t been that long, has it? How can you bear being here?”

Wyt stared at James, his elation gradually settling into composure. He wished he could tear James to shreds, but James' cultivation rank was far above his. No matter how hard he cultivated, he could not surpass James, nor could he avenge his stolen wife.

"Take me out, and we'll consider our grievances settled. I'll even hand over Yemima to you," Wyt said, exhaling deeply as if a heavy burden had been lifted. This matter had weighed on him for countless epochs, and he finally felt liberated.

James sensed a change in Wyt's demeanor. In an instant, he sealed Wyt's cultivation base.

"What do you want to do?" Wyt asked calmly.

James asked, "Do you know anything about Teresa's plan?"

Wyt replied, "I only know she intends to resurrect our ancestral patriarch, who was the former Endlos Lord. I don't know the details."

'The Chaos Tablet has been shattered, and the Extraterrestrial Demon sealed within has escaped. Now, Teresa has allied with the Extraterrestrial Demons. Her goal is to plunge the Chaos District into chaos, turning it into a battlefield and sacrifice countless living beings to resurrect the Grand Patriarch of the Doom Race.'

Wyt spoke calmly, "So what? We only differ in our stance. If it were your wife who died, you'd go to any lengths to resurrect her. I believe you'd do the same, no matter the cost."

"I would do anything to resurrect her, but I wouldn't use the others' lives as a price," James asserted.
