The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4961-Xezal activated the mountain formation to prevent everyone from escaping. It was not the right time to get on everyone's bad side.

Although the formation to sacrifice the entire Chaos District had been set up, it required substantial energy to be activated. Moreover, full activation would take some time.

She wanted to ensure there were no variables to her plan, or else her efforts would be in vain.

"Is that so?"

At that moment, an old man wearing a white robe walked out of the crowd. It was none other than the Saber Sect's Grand Patriarch, the Sword Master.

The Sword Master stepped forward and said, "Before I arrived here, I heard the Dooms have colluded with the Extraterrestrial Demons."

Xezal stood up and refuted, "Nonsense! Who spread the false rumors?"

The Grand Patriarch of another hidden sect also stepped forward and said, "You've gone through so much effort to hold the Endlos Tournament and lure us here so that you can kill us, extract our energy, and then resurrect your father, right?"

"You're also planning to sacrifice the entire Chaos District."

The Grand Patriarchs of several hidden sects exposed Xezal's plan.

Xezal broke out in cold sweat.

Mekaisto had already left the Dooms' territory with the last bit of energy into the formation. He could not return soon, so Xezal had to buy some time.

Xezal retorted, "Nonsense! The humans are the ones colluding with the Extraterrestrial Demons."

After speaking, Xezal showed them the scene of Yardos meeting with the Extraterrestrial Demons' Second Commander and saving the Extraterrestrial Demons inside the Chaos Tablet.

Xezal said, "I used the Endlos Heart to gain insight into these events. The humans have already allied with the Extraterrestrial Demons. Yardos is the main mastermind. James and the other humans are his accomplices.

'The humans are the ones trying to sacrifice the Chaos District. They have already started evacuating the Human Universe and are on their way out of the Chaos District.

"I've already known about their plans for a long time and wanted to expose their scheme during the Endlos Tournament. Then, we could come up with a countermeasure together. However, I had to reveal everything in advance because I was being suspected just now.

'The Human Race has been secretly meddling in the Doom Race's Endlos Tournament and using every possible means to drive a wedge between us and the other sects."

Xezal's words were so reasonable and well-founded that even James would have believed her if he was clueless about the truth.

The Human Universe had indeed started evacuating the Chaos District, and the scene of Yardos meeting with the Extraterrestrial Demons' Second Commander was also real.

After hearing Xezal's explanation, everyone present became confused and unsure about who to believe.

James became anxious after noticing them wavering. He stood up and said, "Don't be fooled. So many powerhouses have already died in the Doods' territory. Isn't that enough evidence to prove their wicked plans?"

Xezal glared at James and said coldly, "What can their deaths in our territory prove? The humans have ill intentions and want to frame us. You humans deliberately killed these powerhouses in our territory. If we were the masterminds, we would never act in our own territory."

She pointed at James and accused him, "He's also a human colluding with the Extraterrestrial Demons! Take him down!!!"

With Xezal's order, a few fully-armed soldiers rushed into the hall and besieged James.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4962-Xezal was still unaware the cultivator she was accusing was James. However, he had stepped forward and pointed fingers at her. Therefore, he naturally became her enemy, and she had to eliminate him.

The soldiers were dressed in black armor and were wielding swords. As soon as they entered the hall, the other powerhouses stepped back and cleared an area for them.

They could not tell what was the truth and were still confused. Therefore, they did not want to act rashly before having a clearer picture of the situation.

James was not bothered by the soldiers. He looked at Xezal, casually waved his hand, and a scene began to play before everyone. In the scene, Xezal brought Wyot to a spiritual mountain in the Dooms' territory. Then, the two opened a formation and met with an Extraterrestrial Demon. The scene of Wyot almost being devoured was also shown.

'This...' The powerhouses inside the hall were shocked.

"You think a fake illusion is enough to make me the scapegoat?"

Xezal's face darkened. She raised the Endlos Heart, and a dazzling light emerged, shattering the scene that James had presented. Then, she ordered, "Take him down! After the new Endlos Lord is chosen, he shall punish this man who has conspired with the Extraterrestrial Demons!"

The ancient powerhouses present were immediately intrigued by the mention of the Endlos Lord.

James sneered, "Hah."

The soldiers charged at James, and countless Sword Energy slashed at him.

However, James remained unscathed.

Boom!

Shockwaves permeated the area and destroyed the hall. Countless cultivators flew up from the ruins.

James also floated steadily in the sky, surrounded by soldiers.

Xezal's face was grim. She stared at James and thought to herself, 'Who the hell is he? Could it be James?'¹

However, she quickly dismissed the thought. She had already lured James out of the Chaos District, and he was on the way to save Yardos. It was impossible for him to still be in the Dooms' territory.

'If it's not James, who is it? Henrik, perhaps?'

To Xezal, the only humans that could pose a threat to her were James and Henrik, who had somehow acquired the Grand Purge Formation.

Without Mekaisto, Xezal was not confident dealing with James and Henrik alone. Regardless of the identity of the human before her, her goal was to buy as much time as possible. She wanted to deal with the troublesome human with the Endlos Heart.

James also had an Endlos Heart, but his was genuine. However, the Endlos Heart was James' trump card against the Extraterrestrial Demon's Second Commander, Mekaisto. Therefore, he did not want to expose it before Mekaisto appeared.

Swoosh!!!

At that moment, the soldiers surrounding James launched another attack.

James did not want to hurt the Dooms' soldiers, who were oblivious to the truth. However, they had already taken action against him. Thus, he no longer showed mercy. With the wave of a hand, he summoned a few mysterious inscriptions that contained terrifying power.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4963-The inscriptions' power spread, and the soldiers instantly evaporated.

Xezal realized the human before her was incredibly powerful and had to be either Henrik or James. Her opponent was one she was incapable of handling alone.

She said, "The Endlos Tournament will start in advance!"

Whoever kills that human will be rewarded with the Endlos Heart! The Endlos Heavenly Path recognizes the one who possesses the Endlos Heart as the new Endlos Lord!”

A few powerhouses were instantly intrigued by her words.

James looked at the powerhouses about to take action against him and reprimanded them, “You’ve all lived for so long but can’t even tell right from wrong. A fake Endlos Heart and the position as the Endlos Lord is enough to fool you and make you lose all logic!

“You’re saying it’s fake?” Xezal sneered.

Immediately afterward, she activated the Endlos Heart. At that moment, the power of the Ten Districts’ Heavenly Paths gathered around her. She was surrounded by a colorful light, making her look like an ethereal being.

With the power of the Ten Districts’ Heavenly Paths shrouding her body, her aura instantly skyrocketed. She looked like a peerless goddess, and a few weaker cultivators even had the urge to worship her.

After sensing the power of the Ten Districts’ Heavenly Paths, a few powerhouses were tempted.

“Stop your nonsense, Demon!” An elderly man with a long white beard, dressed in a gray robe, stepped forward and leaped into the sky.

The elderly man emitting a powerful aura was the Grand Patriarch of a hidden sect and was at the peak of the Chaos Transcendence Rank. His cultivation base was more potent than Lucius, who was acknowledged as the Endlos’ strongest cultivator.

James looked at him coldly and sneered, ‘The peak of the Chaos Transcendence Rank? Step down. I don’t want to have to kill you or anyone else. The more that die, the more energy Zaden will absorb for his resurrection.”

The elderly man mocked, “Even now, you’re still trying to deceive us?”

The elderly man was the Grand Patriarch of a hidden family, the Xenakis. His name was Bardwell Xenaki.

Bardwell summoned a battle axe and swung at James. His attack seemed like it could split the void apart.

James cast the Blithe Omniscience and dodged the attack.

He came to the Dooms to prevent Xezal's scheme, not to fight against the powerhouses from these hidden sects. Killing them would only be helping Xezal's plan.

'The Blithe Omniscience?' Xezal's face darkened.

She was sure that the man was James.

The Blithe Omniscience was a Supernatural Power created by Yardos. In the Human Race, there were only a handful that had cultivated it. There were even fewer people who had such high proficiency in it.

Xezal shouted, "What's your goal for sneaking into our territory, James?!! Are you trying to stir up conflict between us and the other sects? You want us to fight so the humans will reap the benefits, right?"

Her voice resounded throughout the area.

The powerhouses present were shocked after hearing James' name.

Everyone was aware of James' strength. In the Chaos Arena, James shattered the Tenfold Purge Formation and killed several powerhouses at the Chaos Rank.

"Is it really him?" Among the crowd in the distance, a woman in a purple dress stared at James.

The woman was none other than Waleria.

Waleria had accompanied the Theos Sect's Leader, Sedris, to attend the Endlos Tournament.

James did not think about hiding his identity anymore. He transformed back into his actual appearance and said calmly, "You're right, it's me. As long as I'm here, I won't let your plan succeed, Xezal."

"Haha!!!" Xezal let out a cold and murderous laughter.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4964-James and Xezal glared at each other, their eyes full of hostility.

Xezal said coldly, "Yardos is colluding with the Extraterrestrial Demons. How do you explain your close relationship with Yardos?"

Xezal used every means to buy time until the formation around the Chaos District activated. Soon, it would be a killing spree, and the entire Chaos District would be sacrificed.

Mekaisto had gone to activate the formation, and Xezal had to wait for his return. Otherwise, the situation would get out of her control.

"She's right. Give us an explanation, James."

"Are you working with the Extraterrestrial Demons as well?"

The powerhouses questioning James trusted him. However, Xezal claimed to have used the Endlos Heart to gain a vision of Yardos rescuing the Extraterrestrial Demons. Therefore, they had doubts about Yardos.

James did not bother explaining himself. He said, 'The Extraterrestrial Demon's Second Commander is within Mount Chaos. If you can't trust me, how about we head there and find out the truth?'

He looked toward Xezal and asked, "Shall we go together?"

Xezal replied, "Why not?"

James thought Xezal would try to obstruct him in every way possible. A bad premonition rose in his heart after seeing her agree without hesitation. He thought to himself, 'Could the Extraterrestrial Demons have already left?'

He released his Zen and scanned the spiritual mountain that Xezal had met with the Extraterrestrial Demons. The formation around it was still active. His Zen was unable to penetrate it to detect Mekaisto's presence.

With the current circumstances, James had no choice but to try it.

Xezal gestured to him, saying, "Lead the way."

James walked ahead of them. In a flash, he appeared on the spiritual mountain where Mekaisto was. A large group of cultivators arrived after him.

Everyone immediately sensed the mysterious formation around the spiritual mountain and looked at Xezal.

One of them said, "Open the formation, Xezal. Let us check the area."

Xezal opened the formation without any hesitation.

After opening the formation, the spiritual mountain appeared before their eyes. The dark palace had been replaced with an extravagant and majestic palace. There were also a few soldiers from the Dooms inside the palace.

Xezal explained, "This spiritual mountain is our holy site. Only core members are permitted to enter."

Noticing that nothing was abnormal, everyone's gaze turned to James.

Xezal asked coldly, 'What do you have to say now, James?'

James' brows furrowed. He was sure Mekaisto was responsible for the previous killings. How did he suddenly disappear?

"You better explain yourself, James. Otherwise, you won't be able to leave this place alive."

'What else do you have to say now, James?'

The powerhouses questioned James.

James took a deep breath.

Xezal was meticulous with her plan.

James felt it was unnecessary to explain to these powerhouses who were blind to the truth. Since the Extraterrestrial Demon's Second Commander was not around, it was the perfect chance to kill Xezal.

He said calmly, "I've nothing to say. The truth will come to light soon. Unfortunately, you guys might already be dead by then. The moment everyone stepped into the Dooms' territory, you'd already been destined to die. Your only chance of survival is to join forces with me."

James' voice resounded in the area.

Bardwell shouted coldly, “Arrogant! I’d like to see if you’re as terrifying as the rumors make you to be.”
