The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4971-James discovered black holes had also appeared all over the Chaos Districts, and countless monsters emerged.

Every region of the Chaos District had fallen into chaos.

Many races, sects, and families had led their disciples to fight against the monsters. However, the Chaos Districts' overall strength was too weak, and they were no match for the armies of monsters.

A few weaker sects were wiped out in just a short moment.

With the current situation, the living beings of the Chaos District would be completely wiped out within tens of thousands of years at most.

James understood the severity of the matter. He quickly cast a Supernatural Power and went live throughout the Chaos District. His broadcast was projected throughout the Nine Districts.

He took out the real Endlos Heart.

The Endlos Heart was the size of a basketball and emitted a dazzling white glow.

"My fellow cultivators..."

James' broadcast played in a few core cities of powerful universes, and his voice resounded.

"It's me, James Caden.

'The Extraterrestrial Demons have invaded and are currently besieging the Chaos District. The Chaos Districts' Doom Race has colluded with the Extraterrestrial Demon's Second Commander, planning to destroy the entire Chaos District.

"In front of me is the real Endlos Heart. As the Endlos Lord, I ask powerhouses from various sects and families throughout the Ten Districts to come to the Chaos District to support us in the battle against the Extraterrestrial Demons. We must kill these Extraterrestrial Demons, stop the Dooms' plan, and save the Chaos District."

Immediately afterward, James showed the monster besieging the different regions of the Chaos District in his broadcast.

James was pleading for their help but also issuing an order as the Endlos Lord.

He was powerful but could not solve the Chaos Districts' disaster alone. He needed more powerhouses to join the battle and deal with the army of monsters continuously emerging from the black holes.

Meanwhile, his main goal was to find and kill Mekaisto.

With Mekaisto's death, the battle would come to an end.

At that moment, the Human Universe was still advancing rapidly through the Endlos Void. The Human Universe had not left the Chaos District. Fortunately, Extraterrestrial Demons had not appeared near them.

Jacopo sat in the highest seat in the Heavenly Court's main hall. Countless powerhouses from the Human Race also gathered together.

After watching the broadcast, Jacopo stood up and said, "The Chaos District is under attack by Extraterrestrial Demons. How can we just leave? Warriors of the Heavenly Court, hear my order! We shall head back and kill the Extraterrestrial Demons!"

Jacopo's voice resounded throughout the Human Universe.

"Yes, Sir!" A loud and orderly voice came from outside the main hall. Shortly after, countless warriors of the Heavenly Court assembled.

"What should we do?" Wyndael looked toward the Ancestral Blood Master.

Among the humans, the Ancestral Blood Master was the strongest. He was also the only one who had reached the Chaos Rank.

The Ancestral Blood Master had a solemn expression. After considering it, he said, 'The Chaos District is in danger. How can we just sit back and ignore it? However, who will continue to lead the Human Universe out of the Chaos District if we all go to war?'

Thea stepped forward and said, "Father, you should stay to continue moving the Human Universe. Meanwhile, the rest of us will join the battle."

The Ancestral Blood Master shook his head and disapproved, "I can't allow that."

He looked to James' children and said, "Winnie, Xainte, Jacopo, Noel. You four stay in the Heavenly Court and continue moving the Human Universe. The rest come with me."

The Ancestral Blood Master knew it would be a deadly fight. Therefore, he refused to let James' children participate in the war.

"Grandpa..."

The Ancestral Blood Master said decisively, "I've already decided."

Then, he ordered, "Heavenly Court Army, assemble!"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4972-After seeing James' call for help, the Ancestral Blood Master and the powerhouses of the Heavenly Court assembled.

Meanwhile, the Verde Academy's main hall, Lothar, summoned the elders and powerhouses of the Five Houses for a meeting.

'The Extraterrestrial Demons have launched an attack. The Chaos District is facing a crisis. Pass on my order and have the Five Houses' disciples assembled. Then, send them to the Chaos District to provide support!"

Following Lothar's order, several flying battleships as large as planets gathered outside the Verde Academy.

Powerhouses flew up from the spiritual mountains and ascended the battleships. After the powerhouses of the Verde Academy assembled, they departed toward the Chaos District.

Many other sects, forces, and families from the other districts also sent out powerhouses to support the Chaos District in battle. However, the hidden sects, families, and Orthodoxes showed no signs of participating in the war.

During Emperor Raiah's era, the Extraterrestrial Demons had attacked the entire Endlos. Even back then, they did not even participate in the battle.

Therefore, it was impossible they would provide help now that the Extraterrestrial Demons were attacking the Chaos District.

Many powerhouses were still fighting against the army of monsters in the collapsed Dooms' territory. Fortunately, the battle was basically under control.

However, the other parts of the Chaos District struggled against the waves of monsters since they lacked powerhouses to take control of the battles. Under the aggressive attacks of the monster armies, they had been continuously retreating.

The Spiritual Power left behind after the tragic deaths of countless living beings disappeared into the void.

James also sensed the Spiritual Power being gathered and cursed, "Damn it."

He had a grim and terrifying expression.

"Xezal's plan succeeded. The battlefield has been moved to the Chaos District. Now that the other districts have been made aware, they are sending reinforcements to help us. If these powerhouses die in battle, Zaden will be incredibly powerful after his resurrection."

James knew that his act of calling for backup had fallen into Xezal's trap. However, he would have no choice but to watch the Chaos District's inhabitants die miserably if he did not request reinforcements.

"Where exactly are they?" James released his Zen, searching for Mekaisto's whereabouts.

Soon, the Heavenly Court Army appeared in the Dooms' territory. The Ancestral Blood Master and the other powerhouses appeared in front of James.

'The Human's Heavenly Court has come to support in battle!' A neat and loud voice resounded.

James was very comforted to see the Heavenly Court Army.

The Ancestral Blood Master said, "Your order is our command, James."

James looked at the countless powerhouses before him, then pointed toward the black holes around the area and said, 'The waves of monsters are endless. To eliminate them, we'll have to enter the black holes.

"Inside those black holes, you'll find a hidden space with creatures called Mothers. The Mothers are responsible for producing these waves of monsters. After you kill the Mothers, you'll obtain a black crystal. I need the black crystals, so keep them for me."

James explained the situation to them.

The Ancestral Blood Master was already aware of this information. His phantom body had stayed within the small space inside James' body for some time, so he already knew about these things.

"I know what to do, James. I'll instruct them on what to do and inform the other powerhouses supporting the Chaos District. You go on and do whatever you need to. Don't worry about the situation here."

The Ancestral Blood Master reassured him, "We'll take care of these monsters as soon as possible."

James felt relieved with the Ancestral Blood Master's words. He no longer lingered and quickly left to search the Chaos District for Xezal and Mekaisto.
