The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4973-James reappeared in the Dark World, where he lost track of Xezal's aura. She must still be somewhere nearby since she had disappeared from the area.

After James entered the Dark World, he carefully searched for Xezal's aura.

The formation's core was located on the periphery of the Chaos District, somewhere in the Dark World.

Mekaisto sat in a lotus position on a strange-looking altar, and a black aura emitted from his body. At the same time, black inscriptions circled him.

Xezal appeared outside the altar, looked at Mekaisto performing the ritual, and asked, "How long more?"

She was getting worried because James was too powerful. Even with the Endlos Heart, she was no match against him. James' strength was making her anxious. She had planned and prepared very long for this day and did not want James to ruin it.

"It's almost done."

Mekaisto did not open his eyes but replied calmly, "Everything is under control. My army has already launched attacks on the Chaos District, and James has already called for support. It won't be long before powerhouses from the other districts appear. By the time they arrive, the formation will be fully activated, making it difficult for them to leave." Xezal asked worriedly, "James is really powerful. Are you confident in defeating him?"

Even though she knew Mekaisto was powerful, he was no longer in his heyday after being suppressed in the Chaos Tablet for countless eons.

"James isn't a big deal," Mekaisto said disdainfully.

He would be wary of taking action if his opponent were Emperor Raiah.

Even though James had obtained Emperor Raiah's Supernatural Power, his cultivation rank was relatively low and was nothing compared to Emperor Raiah.

Mekaisto fell silent after reassuring Xezal.

James, on the other hand, was still searching for Xezal and Mekaisto.

Time passed day by day, and the battles happening around the Chaos District showed no signs of coming to a stop.

Powerhouses from different districts had also come to join the battle one after another. The Ancestral Blood Master knew how to kill Extraterrestrial Demons and shared the method with everyone.

Soon, the battles throughout the Chaos District gradually became under control.

At the altar, Xezal said anxiously, "Your troops aren't able to last much longer. Too many powerhouses have come to support in battle. It won't be long before the war is over. You should quickly think of a countermeasure."

Mekaisto said calmly, "Don't worry, it's just the beginning. The monsters produced right now aren't very strong. The real battle will become after more powerhouses join the battle."

Everything was under Mekaisto's control.

At that moment, Xezal's expression suddenly changed, and she exclaimed, "James is here!"

Mekaisto stood up surprisedly. He looked into the darkness and saw a figure gradually groping forward.

Calmly, he said, "You leave first. The altar here is already useless. I'll head to the next altar and take control of the formation. This altar is also a massive formation. When James arrives here, he'll be trapped and unable to break free so soon."

Mekaisto remained in place, waiting for James to appear.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4974-The Demonic Energy stimulated memories deep within Livie's bones. Some fragmented memories poured into her mind. At that moment, she remembered a lot about her past life. However, most of the memories were only bits and pieces.

Overwhelmed by the sudden recovery of her memories, she felt severe pain in her head. Li vie wrapped her head in her hands and screamed in pain. Soon, she recomposed herself, knowing she was still on a battlefield surrounded by monsters. Livie picked up her weapon and continued to kill the enemies.

She was not influenced by the memories she had regained. Right now, she still considers herself James' servant.

At that moment, somewhere in the Chaos District, there was a mysterious space full of inscriptions.

The countless inscriptions came together to form a mysterious pattern.

The area looked incredibly strange.

A woman in a white dress appeared and called out, "Father M

"Are you there, Father?"

The woman was none other than Xezal, who had left the Dark World.

"Yeah." A hoarse voice came from the land of inscriptions.

"Father, how much more energy do you need before perfecting your Supernatural Power?" asked Xezal.

The voice resounded again. "The more, the merrier. I can come out of seclusion at any time. However, it's a crucial moment right now. The more cultivators die, the more energy I can absorb, and I will be much stronger after I leave seclusion. My cultivation base has only reached the early stage of the Chaos Essencia Rank. After the Chaos District is sacrificed, I might be able to enter the Chaos Completare Rank."

Xezal felt relieved by his words.

Zaden, who had fused with the Chaos Heavenly Path, said," Proceed according to our plan. Your initial prediction about James being a variable is correct. However, we have the Extraterrestrial Demons' Second Commander to deal with him. Let them fight. After I leave seclusion, I'll deal with both of them together. After I eliminate the Extraterrestrial Demons, I'll be the Endlos Lord, the strongest cultivator of the Endlos.

“James is really an unpredictable variable. From the moment he appeared until now, I've never been able to see through James, nor can I tell where he came from.”

Zaden had merged with the Chaos Heavenly Path, and everything within the Chaos District was under his control. Yet, he could not see through James or check James' origins and future.

The only thing confirmed was James was a variable in his plan.

Xezal asked, “What should we do next, Father?”

“Leave the rest to Mekaisto. As long as we offer enough benefits to Mekaisto, it will be enough to get him to work for us.”

“Alright.”

At that moment, James was slowly groping forward in the Chaos District's Dark World. He continuously used an Extrapolation Formation to search for relevant hints. Soon, he arrived at a magical altar.

The altar looked strange, and a man was sitting in a lotus position above it, emitting a sinister aura.

When James appeared, the man opened his eyes, and his aura had become more assertive.

James was on full alert. He stared at Mekaisto on the altar and summoned the Chaos Sword. Then, he activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and ten kinds of powers.

His aura immediately grew stronger after activating the Ten Path Techniques' powers.

“You're finally here, James.”

Mekaisto slowly stood up with his hands behind his back. His expression was calm and conceited. Even though

James had obtained Emperor Raiah's inheritance, he was unafraid because James' cultivation base was low.

"Hmph." James snorted.

He thrust his Chaos Sword and unleashed the Heaven Piercing Sword Art without hesitation.

A terrifying Sonic Sword Energy swept forward and approached the altar.

Boom!!!

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 4975-The Sword Energy struck the altar, shattering it into pieces.

Mekaisto's body transformed into some black aura and blended into the darkness.

James cast the Blithe Omniscience and chased after him. However, countless black inscriptions appeared around his body, forming a spatial cage.

He was trapped within the spatial cage, and a potent force suppressed him. Even though he had entered the Omniscience Path's Eleventh Rank, his body was injured.

He immediately activated his Thousand Paths Holy Body, and the powers of heaven and earth emerged from within his body. These powers strengthened his body and withstood the pressure brought on by the spatial cage.

At that moment, the spatial cage transformed, and black poisonous gases filled the cage. Even though James urged his powers to resist it, the poisonous gases entered his body through his pores.

The poisonous gas instantly affected his brain, making him feel dizzy. At that moment, countless sharp blades swept toward him.

These sharp blades approached and pierced his body. Even though he activated his Thousand Paths Holy Body, his body still suffered countless injuries.

"Break!" James infused the Ten Path Techniques' powers into the Chaos Sword, then converted them into Sword Energies, spreading to the surroundings.

The Sealing Formation was shattered instantly. Although James broke through the formation, he had lost track of Mekaisto's aura.

Mekaisto watched James break the formation from the dark. He frowned slightly and thought to himself, 'I thought the formation would hold James back for a while. I wasn't expecting him to break the formation so easily. This kid is powerful.'

He did not linger in the area any longer. His body dispersed into countless black auras, merging with the Dark World's black mist. The next moment, he had already arrived in another place.

After the brief confrontation, James lost track of Mekaisto. A voice resounded when he was about to begin searching for Mekaisto.

"Where are you, James? We can't hold on any longer." The Ancestral Blood Master used an inscription to contact James.

James instantly disappeared from the spot and rushed back to the Doom Universe, where the Ancestral Blood Master was. Shortly after, he arrived outside the Doom Universe.

The battle in the Doom Universe was the most intense. At that moment, countless black holes surrounded the Doom Universe's Endlos Void. Waves of monsters were still rushing out of the black holes. These monster armies were really strong. Among them were monsters not weaker than a powerhouse at the Chaos Rank.

The Ancestral Blood Master, Wyndael, Wael, Livie, Saachi, and the other powerhouses were caught in an intense battle. They were besieged by monsters, not weaker than themselves.

"What happened?"

James appeared before the Ancestral Blood Master, unleashed a powerful aura, and wiped out the monsters in the surrounding area.

The Ancestral Blood Master was injured and covered in blood. He said, "I don't know. The monsters suddenly became stronger."

James glanced around and stared at the Endlos Void outside the Doom Universe. He discovered the terrifying power coming from the black holes. He raised the Chaos Sword and slashed at the void a few times.

A few Sword Energies emerged, passed through the black holes, and caused an explosion within the black holes' space.

Rumble!!!

No more monsters emerged after James destroyed the black holes outside the Doom Universe. He immediately turned the tide of the battle.

The Ancestral Blood Master immediately ordered, "Quick, head to other regions of the Chaos District to provide support."
