The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5021

“Even though King Marciais initiated the thirteenth rank of the Marciais Path, James trapped and injured him.”

“Is James really that strong?” The villagers were dumbfounded.

“Do you want to continue?” James’ various Supernatural Powers were integrated into the formation, but he only managed to hurt King Marciais.

King Marciais’ physical body was terrifying and would eventually break the formation if the fight continued. If that happened, James would be at his wits’ end.

“You’re impressive.” King Marciais was disheveled while still trapped inside the formation, yet he burst into laughter.

Immediately afterward, he clenched his fists and swung at the formation. The potent force split apart the formation, disintegrating it into inscriptions. The inscriptions reshaped into a formation again in the distance.

‘That’s Martial Path Power!’

“As expected from King Marciais.”

The villagers spectating from outside the arena were filled with joy after the formation was broken.

After King Marciais shattered the formation, he hovered above the arena with his hands behind his back. Then, he shouted, ‘The formation is powerful, but it can’t trap me. Do you have anything else?”

James’ brows furrowed. He had already gone all-out but failed to force King Marciais to surrender.

“Do I have to use the power of the beam?” His brows furrowed tighter.

After making a decision, James’ formation transformed, and a shadowy figure appeared below the formation.

The formation floated mid-air, with one shadowy figure above it and one below it.

The second figure materialized after James comprehended the beam inscriptions. In fact, he was quite puzzled as to why it had appeared in the formation.

With a thought, the shadowy figure below the formation suddenly appeared before King Marciais and launched an attack.

King Marciais raised his hand to block the attack. However, his body was knocked away upon impact. Before he could neutralize the force, the other shadowy figure attacked.

Two shadowy figures besieged King Marciais, one in front and one behind him. King Marciais could not resist and sustained injuries despite having an exceptional physical body.

At that moment, the formation swept forward again and enveloped King Marciais.

The Thunderous Tribulations appeared within the formation.

However, King Marciais shattered the Tribulation World with a punch that contained his Martial Path Power.

As soon as King Marciais broke the Tribulation World, the two shadowy figures attacked him relentlessly. It was hard for him to fight two opponents. He was continuously forced to back away. At the same time, he had to withstand the formation's pressure.

King Marciais promptly said, "Alright, that's enough."

With a thought, James commanded the shadowy figures to return to the formation, one sitting atop the formation's top and the other below.

Then, he dispersed the formation.

"Do you admit defeat, Sir?"

"Good gracious." King Marciais had a disheveled appearance. He said, "Nobody at the same cultivation rank had pushed me to this extent. The Marciais Path is only a part of the Divine Martial Scripture. I don't want to use the other Supernatural Powers of the Divine Martial Scripture. Otherwise, I wouldn't be able to control myself. I'm afraid of hurting you, alright?"

'Then, let's continue/' James wanted to see the Supernatural Powers of the Divine Martial Scripture.

"Let's call it a day. I admit you're powerful."

"If you don't want to keep fighting, you'll have to admit defeat. Then, according to our previous agreement, you'll follow and serve me," James said with a smile.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5022-"Hah!" King Marciais chuckled in disbelief at James' request. Even the legendary Emperor Raiah was only worthy of being his friend.

James said smilingly, "I'm just joking. Your cultivation base is unparalleled. How could I ask you to be a follower of mine?"

However, I've heard about the Divine Martial Scripture you mentioned before and am really interested. Can you give me a few pointers?"

James had learned about the Divine Martial Scripture from Wyndael.

Initially, he thought Yardos' master was the creator of the Divine Martial Scripture. However, he found out the version they had been cultivating was incomplete. In truth, King Marciais was the creator of the Divine Martial Scripture.

The village chief was very satisfied with the battle's outcome. King Marciais was an extraordinary existence, but he finally struggled against someone while at the same cultivation rank. As a result, it would considerably lessen his arrogance.

James followed suit.

After they walked out of the arena, the village chief waved his hand, and the area turned back to a simple village.

King Marciais approached the village chief and asked, "What do you need me for this time?"

The village chief said, "I need you to spread the news about Te'oma Village and that the Orstellen Sect is making a reappearance, as well as the Orstellen Realm and Orstellen Art. You won't need me to teach you how, right?"

King Marciais stretched his body and said lazily, "I haven't been around the outside world for a long time. I don't know what's the situation out there like. What kind of powerhouses have been born after Emperor Raiah?"

The village chief smiled and explained the current trend of the Endlos to him.

After learning there were several powerhouses at the Chaos Completare Rank, King Marciais was intrigued.

James promptly stepped forward and said, "How about I accompany you, sir?"

King Marciais looked at James and said, "You? You should stay in the village and focus on cultivating. As Emperor Raiah's successor, your cultivation rank is too weak."

Although his fight with James was almost a draw, King Marciais suppressed his cultivation rank to have a fair fight. If he had fought with his actual cultivation rank, James would have been trounced regardless of the boons he had.

"Please teach me the Divine Martial Scripture, sir."

"The Divine Martial Scripture isn't impressive at all. You'll be powerful if you obtain the Orstellen Art," said King Marciais.

Intrigued, James asked, "Is there any connection between the Herstellen Art and Oestellen Art?"

King Marciais stared at James.

Everyone else looked at James, puzzledly.

"Why do you know about the Herstellen Art?" King Marciais asked curiously.

James replied smilingly, "In the Chaos Arena, I obtained clues about the Herstellen Art left by Emperor Raiah. I learned about the three beams that existed before the Endlos. These three beams are the so-called Herstellen Art.

I almost died in battle. However, a beam of light appeared before my death. I merged with the beam and survived.

Theoretically, I've obtained one-third of the Herstellen Art."

"I see." King Marciais came to a sudden realization.

He explained, "Herstellen and Orstellen Art are indeed related. The Herstellen Art is an Innate Art, whereas the Orstellen Art is an Acquired Art."

James asked, "What do you mean by that?"

King Marciais elaborated, "Innate Art is a natural existence that was around before the birth of heaven and earth.

Acquired Art, on the other hand, is a treasure created after heaven and earth had formed. The Herstellen Art contains the mystery and meaning of the Endlos. Meanwhile, Lady Tehila created the Orstellen Art after being inspired by the three Endlos Lights."

James immediately had a clear picture after hearing his explanation. Curious, he asked, "What's Lady Tehila's cultivation rank?"

He had heard about Lady Tehila more than once. She was the Orstellen Sect's saintess and the village's former lord.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5023-Lady Tehila was also the powerhouse who left behind the Koloretsua Stone. James was clueless about her cultivation rank.

The village chief said calmly, "If you can't enter the Sovereign Rank, don't even think about the Orstellen Art."

'The Sovereign Rank...' James was startled.

He thought to himself, 'Has Lady Tehila already entered the legendary Sovereign Rank?'

King Marciais did not continue on the topic. He looked at James thoughtfully, then said, "How about we make a deal, James?"

"What kind of deal?"

"Give me the one-third of your Herstellen Art, and I'll teach you the complete Divine Martial Scripture."

"Deal," James agreed without hesitation.

"Alright." King Marciais beamed with a smile.

"Let's go." The village chief gently waved his hand.

"Come with me, James." King Marciais looked outside the village. He suddenly remembered something and said, "You're famous in the Endlos. Don't reveal your identity while you're with me, or else how will I establish my authority and show off in the Endlos?"

James was dumbfounded.

He thought to himself, 'Are these words spoken by an unparalleled powerhouse?'

"It's settled." King Marciais did not wait for James to answer and made the decision himself. He continued, saying, "From now onward, you won't use the identity as James Caden. Even if you meet an acquaintance, you can't reveal your identity to them. After I travel around the Endlos, you can do whatever you want."

"Alright. I'll go with whatever you say." James was speechless, but for the sake of the Divine Martial Scripture, he had no choice but to hide his identity.

"Also, it's awkward to keep addressing me formally, so just call me Zavis."

“Alright, Zavis,” James said with a smile.

The village chief looked at James and said smilingly, “You’ve already obtained the Koloretsua Stone. Even though you can’t break the seals in our bodies and become the new lord of the Te’oma Village, you’re qualified to become our Grand Priest. From today onward, you’re the Grand Priest of the Te’oma Village and Orstellen Sect.”

James was not flattered by becoming the Grand Priest. His priority was to obtain the Divine Martial Scripture, Orstellen

Art, and go to the holy site that Emperor Raiah had gone before to gain inspiration for the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.

“Now that I’m the Grand Priest, am I qualified to go to the holy site to cultivate?” asked James.

“Qualifications aren’t given but earned,” answered the village chief.

“How do I earn it?”

King Marciais said calmly, “You’ll have to defeat all our villagers.”

James asked, “Including you?”

“Of course.” King Marciais rolled his eyes at James, then walked out of Te’oma Village.

He took a step forward and disappeared from their view. James chased after him.

Soon, they arrived at an ocean region.

James asked, “Isn’t there a seal in your body? How long can you stay outside Te’oma Village?”

Marciaias said calmly, ‘The seal doesn’t have much effect on me. Even Emperor Raiah could break the seal. I’m not that far from breaking it. As long as I perfect the Divine Martial Scripture and enter the Marciais Path's fifteenth rank, I'll be free from it. I'm really close."

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5024-King Marciais was close to breaking the seal in his body, but he lacked the opportunity to cultivate in their holy site.

After losing to Emperor Raiah, he missed the opportunity and never managed to perfect the Divine Martial Scripture. Back then, if he were the one who entered the holy site, then he would have been the one to leave Te'oma Village and not Emperor Raiah.

He had been dispirited about it for a very long time. However, he had already looked past it now.

Curious, James asked, "Where do you plan on going?"

James wanted to know where King Marciais would go next and how he would establish his authority as well as spread the news of Te'oma Village's reappearance.

Zavis gave it a thought, then replied, "One entrapoch ago, there was a lot of commotion within the Endlos' Ten Districts.

Now, only a few famous powerhouses are left, including Zaden, Thea, Taran, and one unidentified powerhouse.

Meanwhile, there are only a handful of cultivators worthy of being my opponents. Let's head to the Chaos District and pay the Dooms a visit. I'd like to meet Zaden Dalibor."

Zavis looked at James and said, "Change your appearance."

"Okay." James nodded, then cast one of his Supernatural Powers to transform his appearance. A few moments later, he turned into an ordinary-looking man.

“I still have ten epochs left, so I’m not in a rush to find them to fight. I’ll travel around first.”

Zavis expressed that he wanted to wait to fight the powerhouses. Since he hardly left the village, he wanted to use the opportunity to look around in the Endlos.

James did not have any objections. He changed the topic, asking about the Divine Martial Scripture. “Please teach me about the Divine Martial Scripture.”

Zavis looked at James and said smilingly, “The Koloretsua Stone is a magical item. It has merged with your soul but hasn’t completely integrated yet. The Koloretsua Stone has been absorbing heaven and earth’s Essence Energy for countless years, so it’s really powerful.

“After your soul completely integrates with the Koloretsua Stone, you’ll be able to restore your cultivation base to the Chaos Rank. Your physical body will also activate shortly after and be able to use the power in the Koloretsua Stone. Your physical body should be equivalent to the Chaos Completare Rank by then.

“Moreover, your soul has been absorbing nourishments within the Endlos for an entrapoch. Your current weakness is your bloodline power. As long as your bloodline power improves, you’ll reach the fourteenth rank of the Marciais Path.

“However, I created an extremely aggressive Supernatural Power within the Divine Martial Scripture. Even I would occasionally lose my sense of reasoning when I cast it. Thus, you’ll need to reach the Fifteenth Rank of the Marciais Path to have complete control over it.

‘There’s not much I can teach you right now. I’m only able to guide you in improving your Marciais Path. After you reach the fourteenth rank of the Marciais Path, I’ll guide you in cultivating the Divine Martial Scripture.”

James nodded lightly in response.

King Marciais reached out and said, “Give me the Herstellen Art you’ve acquired. After comprehending it, I might be able to enter the fifteenth rank of the Marciais Path.”

James said, “The fifteenth rank of the Marciais Path isn’t impressive either. It’s only equivalent to the Chaos Completare

Rank.”

King Marciais rolled his eyes and said, ‘Throughout history, very few have entered the Chaos Completare Rank. My cultivation base is currently at the Chaos Completare Rank. If I enter the fifteenth rank of the Marciais Path as well, I might be able to break through heaven and earth’s restriction and successfully enter the Sovereign Rank.”

James did not make any further comments on the matter. Instead, he said, “I can’t give you the Endlos Light because it has already integrated with my soul. I can only teach you my understanding of it.”

King Marciais frowned slightly. He needed the Endlos Light, not James’ understanding of it.

The Endlos Light contained the ultimate secret and meaning of the Endlos. Everyone walked a different cultivation journey. Thus, everyone would comprehend different things from the Endlos Light.

‘Then, could you let me peek into your soul?’ King Marciais looked at James, waiting for his answer. He reassured James, saying, “Don’t worry. I’ll only look for the Endlos Light and won’t invade your privacy.”

James trusted King Marciais. Although this was their first meeting, James could tell he was very frank.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5025-Sure,” James agreed without hesitation and immediately sat into a lotus position on the ground.

King Marciais also sat down. His Zen emerged and entered James’ soul. After sensing the Endlos Light’s existence within James’ soul, King Marciais immediately began to examine it.

The two of them sat in a lotus position opposite each other as time passed by unperceivable.

After some time, King Marciais slowly stood up.

James followed suit. Upon noticing King Marciais’ furrowed brows, he asked, “How was it?”

King Marciais replied, “It’s the first time I’ve come in contact with it. It’s quite profound, and it’s hard for me to grasp its essence within such a short period. After traveling around the Endlos, I’ll return to Te’oma Village to cultivate. After seeing the Endlos Light, I might be able to break into the fifteenth rank of the Marciais Path if I cultivate for a while. Once I succeed, even Emperor Raiah will be no match for me when he returns.”

King Marcias was confident in his strength. He believed he could defeat Emperor Raiah’s Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra after entering the fifteenth rank of the Marciais Path.

“Awesome.” James gave a thumbs up.

King Marciais looked at James and said, “You’re also powerful. Your formation is bizarre, but I can tell it’s not perfected yet. By the way, where did you get the formation from? Where did those two figures within the formation come from? I could sense they had different powers. I’ve never seen or heard of such powers before. They don’t seem to be from our space.”

James shook his head and said, “I don’t really know either.”

Then, he recounted his cultivation journey to King Marciais.

King Marciais frowned after hearing his stories.

“So one materialized from the Dark Path, and the other formed after you cultivated the Herstellen Art?”

King Marciais fell into thought.

James asked, “Do you know anything about it?”

King Marciais shook his head and replied, “I don’t. It just seems that these two figures don’t belong to our space. It’s possible they represent good and evil.

‘The figure above your formation is a representation of your evil thoughts, whereas the one below is the justice in your heart. Judging from the formation, the evil in your heart is greater than the good. However, that contradicts your experiences since birth. This can only mean one thing.”

“What does it mean?” asked James.

King Marciais looked at him and said, “It means your previous life was not straightforward. You might have been

James immediately retorted, ‘That’s impossible.”

King Marciais said smilingly, “It’s just a guess, a speculation. It’s not necessarily true. There’s also another explanation for the two figures.”

“Oh?” James was perplexed.

King Marciais said calmly, “One could be your past body, and the other your future body. Regardless, both your past and future must be special. Perhaps your past, present, and future self are cultivating the formation simultaneously. It’s possible you can only cultivate it to perfection with three of them combined.”

King Marciais made a few analyses on James’ formation. However, he could not be sure.
