The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5038-James and King Marciais left the Doom Universe and appeared in the Endlos Void.

"Let's head to the Human Universe," said King Marciais.

"You're going to ght my wife?" James frowned.

"Don't worry. I won't go overboard with it," King Marciais said smilingly.

The two rapidly traveled through the Endlos Void and arrived outside the Human Universe's border.

The Human Universe had left the Chaos District and was independent, not belonging to any district.

James and King Marciais oated in the Endlos Void outside the Human Universe.

King Mariciais looked at James and asked, "What do you plan to do with the Endlos Heart? Do you want to become the Endlos Lord?"

Tm not interested in the title." James shook his head.

James had no interest in becoming the Endlos Lord, but he did not want Zaden to remain as the Endlos Lord.

King Marciais said, "The Endlos Heart was left behind after the Endlos Heavenly Path was destroyed. You can perfect the District Heavenly Paths with the Endlos Heart. You'll also be able to command the District Heavenly Paths. Any cultivator would agree it's a great treasure to have."

King Marciais knew the origin of the Endlos Heart. He said smilingly, "However, it's no use to powerful cultivators. At our level, we can easily destroy the District Heavenly Paths at the snap of a nger."

After speaking, he stepped toward the Human Universe ahead of them. With one step forward, he disappeared from sight.

The next moment, he had already entered the Human Universe.

James followed closely behind him.

After entering the Human Universe, King Marciais reminded him, "Remember our agreement. You can't reveal your identity before I nish traveling the Endlos and return to Te'oma Village. Even when we meet your wife, you can't expose yourself."

"Okay, I get it," said James.

Sometimes, James found it hard to guess what was on King Marciais' mind. Despite being an unparalleled powerhouse, he occasionally acted like a naughty child.

The two quickly traveled through the Human Universe and arrived at its core, Mount Bane, which used to be part of Sol.

On top of Mount Bane, there was a statue.

James already knew the statue was of Emperor Raiah.

The two arrived near the statue.

King Maricias looked at the statue of Emperor Raiah pensively. After a while, he sighed and said, "He is a real hero. He sacri ced a lot to drive the Extraterrestrial Demons out of the Endlos."

James could not help asking, "Do you think he's still alive?"

King Marciais shook his head lightly and said, "Maybe. Back then, he sacri ced a portion of his soul. Afterward, he headed into the depths of the Dark World. He probably went somewhere beyond the Endlos. With his potential, he must've already entered the Sovereign Rank."

"What is the world beyond the Endlos like?" James was curious.

"How would I know?" King Marciais rolled his eyes, then raised his head. He looked at the Heavenly Court hovering above the quickly. Tell your

Human Universe.

Then, he leaped up and began ying toward it. Soon, he appeared outside the Heavenly Court's South Heaven Gate. However, he was immediately discovered by

"Who are you? How dare you trespass into the Heavenly Court?"

patrolling guards and was barricaded.

Faced with the guards' aggressive questioning, King Marciais replied smilingly, "Go report this matter senior authorities the Orstellen Sect's King Marciais and Grand Priest are here to visit."

The guards were shocked upon hearing the Orstellen Sect. Their faces lled with horror, and they quickly backed away.

One of them quickly rushed to report their guests' arrival.

Meanwhile, powerhouses of the Human Race were gathered inside the Heavenly Court's main hall.

Jacopo and Thea sat in the highest seat of the hall
