

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5041-Thea's children floated in the air and were surrounded by mysterious inscriptions.

"Think about this carefully, Thea. Will you follow us, or shall I kill them and force you to come with us?"

James promptly intervened, saying, "This is too much, Zavis."

"Mom, don't go with them."

"Let us die. It's no big deal."

Thea's children kept dissuading her.

Meanwhile, Thea had an uncertain expression. After thinking for a while, she said, "Let them go. I'll come with you."

"That's the right choice." King Marciais smiled and waved his hand, freeing the people trapped in the air.

None of the powerhouses present dared to step forward to intervene. Even a powerhouse like Thea was sealed instantly.

If they were to step in, they would just be looking for death.

King Marciais scanned everyone present, then fixated his eyes on Yardos. He gently waved his hand and said, "You, come here."

After a momentary shock, Yardos walked forward. He glared at King Marciais and said coldly, "What do you want?"

"You're talented. With only the portion of the skills I left outside, you managed to reach the Marciais Path's Twelfth Rank.

I'll give you part of the Divine Martial Scripture. When you reach the Fourteenth Rank, come to the Orstellen Sect to see me. I'll teach you the complete Divine Martial Scripture."

King Marciais snapped his fingers, and an inscription flew out.

The inscription submerged into Yardos' forehead.

At that moment, tons of information flooded Yardos' mind.

"This?" Yardos was stunned after receiving the information.

Afterward, King Marciais unlocked the seal on Thea's body.

Thea did not take action against him after the seal was lifted, knowing she was no match for King Marciais.

Even Zaden was defeated in just one move. If she were to take action now, she would be declaring war against him. The Human Race and Human Universe would be doomed if she were to anger him.

An invitation appeared from King Marciais' palm and floated toward Jacopo.

"The Human Race is requested to participate in the Orstellen Sect's convention."

King Marciais turned to James and asked, "How did I do, Grand Priest?"

James nodded lightly and replied, "Not bad."

"Hehe." King Marcicias chuckled. Then, he turned to Thea and said, "Let's go."

"Mom!" Jacopo and the others shouted for her.

Thea turned to them and said, "I'll be fine."

After speaking, she followed behind King Marciais and James.

The three quickly left the area and disappeared from the South Heaven Gate.

After they were out of sight, several people began to discuss.

"What exactly is the origin of the Orstellen Sect? King Marciais was so powerful. Thea didn't even have a chance to fight back."

"Yeah. He's too strong."

"I wonder if Thea being held hostage is a blessing or a curse?"

Yardos stepped forward and said, "She should be fine. I can sense King Marciais isn't an evil person. Otherwise, he wouldn't have given me a gift."

"To take another man's wife by force is evil!"

"That's right.

Many people expressed their anger.