The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5046-Wyot had been living in seclusion and had no interest in getting involved in outside affairs.

Although he had reached the Chaos Completare Rank, there was still room for improvement. He wanted to cultivate with peace of mind until the Extraterrestrial Army tried to invade again. However, King Marciais had paid him an unexpected visit.

“Naturally, there is a reason why I came to you,” King Marciais said calmly, ‘You’ve been living in seclusion without pursuing fame and fortune. However, this place is very mysterious. News about you has spread, and you’ve been named one of the Endlos Four. So, I’m here to challenge you.”

He went straight to the point.

James stood behind silently. He never expected Wyot to be living in seclusion within the Dark World. He was also surprised that Wyot had become so powerful and was already at the Chaos Completare Rank with just an entrapoch.”

“I don’t want to fight. I admit defeat, so please leave.”

Wyot had no intention of fighting. He immediately surrendered and asked his guests to leave.

“That’s not for you to decide.”

King Marciais grinned. Then, he flipped his hand, and an illusory palm appeared in the void.

The illusory palm came crashing down at Wyot with unparalleled power.

Wyot waved his hand and teleported Carson to safety.

Then, a powerful force instantly erupted from his body.

He activated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra and various powers to resist King Marciais' attack. At the same time, he also used the mysterious power he learned from the Endlos Light.

Boom!!!

King Marciais' illusory palm was shattered.

'This guy...' James was shocked.

James had not seen Wyot for an entrapoch. During this period, Wyot's understanding of the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra had improved. His previous attacks contained at least five kinds of powers.

While James was gone, he had also read a few more sacred scrolls.

James was even more surprised by the familiar aura within Wyot's power.

Thea and James exclaimed simultaneously, "Herstellen Art!"

The two looked at each other.

James looked at Thea and said, 'You've acquired one of the three Endlos Light, and Wyot has the other.'

Thea asked, "Could it be you have the last one?"

James smiled faintly but did not reply to her question.

"Impressive." King Marciais grinned and said, "I didn't expect you to have cultivated Emperor Raiah's Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra. It's a pity you haven't perfected it. If you had cultivated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art and used it with one-third of your Herstellen Art, you might have forced me to go all out. However, you're still no match for me in your current state.”

After speaking, King Marciais immediately took action again. He leaped into the sky and entered the Marciais Path’s Fourteenth Rank. Then, he mobilized the power of his cultivation base.

Wyot had acquired one-third of the Herstellen Art and cultivated the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra. At the same time, he had a Thousand Paths Holy Body. Thus, he was much stronger than Thea and Zaden.

King Marciais did not want to give Wyot a chance to fight back and aimed to suppress him with one move. He would have to do it with one move to show his power.

King Marciais shouted, “Five Finger Mountain.”

Then, he waved his hand. Countless magical inscriptions emerged and merged to form a mountain that looked like a palm.

The Five Finger Mountain slowly descended.

Although it looked to be moving slowly, it was falling rapidly.

“Break!” Wyot’s face darkened, and a powerful aura erupted from his body. Then, he charged toward the mountain.

A powerful energy emerged from his body and rushed toward the mountain like a soaring dragon, instantly shattering it to pieces.

However, the disintegrated mountain quickly reformed. This time, it was even more potent.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5047-Boom!!!

The Five Finger Mountain fell to the ground.

Even though Wyot was powerful, he could not dodge the mountain and was pinned to the ground.

Wyot mobilized all his strength to resist. The Five Finger Mountain cracked, and there were signs of it about to disintegrate.

However, King Marciais unleashed a few more inscriptions and submerged them into the mountain.

The pressure crushing down on Wyot's body increased, and he was unable to escape. He kept resisting the mountain and panted for air.

At the same time, he was startled by King Marciais' strength.

He had already entered the Chaos Completare Rank and cultivated countless Supernatural Powers. Although he had not perfected the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra, he possessed one-third of the Herstellen Art. He was almost unbeatable in the Endlos. Yet, he was being suppressed.

'What's the origin of Orstellen Sect?' Wyot wondered.

Many living beings were gathered in the area.

After seeing Wyot being so easily suppressed, everyone gasped in shock.

"He's too powerful."

"King Marciais is terrifying."

Carlos, who was watching from the distance, was also dumbfounded.

He thought Wyot could crush King Marciais with the strength of the Chaos Completare Rank. However, King Marciais was trouncing him.

Carlos stood in place, at a loss.

“What do you think of my attack, Grand Priest?” King Marciais looked at James proudly.

James gave him sincere praise. “It’s powerful.”

Thea secretly cursed out in her heart, “What a freak.”

King Marciais waved his hand and dispersed the Five Finger Mountain.

Wytot was finally freed. Although he was pinned down momentarily, he was not injured. He had an exceptional physical body because he had reached the Chaos Completare Rank, and he also had a Thousand Paths Holy Body. Despite that, he was slightly disheveled and looked ragged.

He floated in the void and stared at King Marciais, confused by his intentions. King Marciais merely suppressed him for a while, then released him. Wytot was not sure what King Marciais was trying to do.

King Marciaias asked with a smile, “Do you accept defeat, Wytot?”

Wytot replied sincerely, “Yeah. Your cultivation base is incredibly high. Even though I’m at the Chaos Completare Rank, I am simply no match against you. However, I’ll definitely surpass you with some more time.”

He had accepted his defeat. However, he still had confidence in himself.

King Marcaiais smiled brightly. Then, he waved his hand, and an invitation appeared before Wytot.

“You’re invited to participate in the Orstellen Convention.”

Wytot took the invitation, opened it, and took a look. Then, he replied, “I’ll be there on time.”

King Marciais looked at James and said, "Let's go."

"Is that all?" James frowned.

"What else? Do you expect me to kill him?" King Marciais rolled his eyes.

Meanwhile, Thea appeared before Carson. She looked at him and said, "Come with me, Carson."

Carson sneered, "You want me to go with you? Who do you think you are? What qualifications do you have to make me follow you?"

Wyot reprimanded him, "Carson, don't be stubborn. You should return with her to your family in the Human Universe. After your mental fortitude has stabilized, come back here, and I'll teach you a supreme Supernatural Power."

"I don't want to." Carson wore an arrogant expression.

Slap!

Wyot swung his hand at Carson, and Carson's face swelled immediately.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5048-"This is so troublesome. Just take him by force." King Marciais could not stand it anymore. He appeared in front of Carson and released his powerful aura.

Faced with King Marciais' potent aura, Carson was immediately humbled. He covered his swollen cheek and stared at

King Marciais warily. "W-What do you want?"

King Marciais had suppressed Wyot in battle. Thus, Carson was terrified of him.

'Til give you two choices. You either come with us or die."

King Marciais raised his hand, and a powerful force fluttered in his palm. He looked at Carson with a playful expression and waited for his decision.

“I...” Carson was about to speak but he suddenly paused.

He was just slapped and wanted to curse out of anger.

However, he could only suppress his resentment in front of King Marciais.

“Please do discipline him,” Wyot suddenly interrupted.

“You’re so troublesome. I should just kill you,” King Marciais said impatiently.

Carson’s face paled in fear. He said hurriedly, “I’ll come! I’ll come!”

“There you go.” King Marciais dispersed the power in his palm. Then, he said calmly, “Let’s head to the Hazeaf District’s Mount Hazea to see Taran. After this last stop, I’ll head back to the Orstellen Sect.

Meanwhile, Carson treated the swelling on his face. He did not dare to disobey King Marciais and silently followed behind him.

The group left under the watchful gazes of Wyot and the surrounding living beings.

Soon, they had left the Dark World and reappeared in the Endlos Void. This time, they did not travel hastily because of their extra company.

Although Carson was strong, he was much weaker than the other three. His speed was unable to keep up with them.

Thus, King Marciais deliberately slowed down.

After arriving in a broken universe within the Endlos, King Marciais decided to take a break.

There were no inhabitants in the universe.

King Marciais sat on a planet and began to rest.

James stood beside him and said, 'You're finally adjusting your aura. Is it because you're afraid of Taran?'

"What do you know?"

King Marciais opened his eyes and said, 'Taran is powerful. Although I've never fought him before, I heard a lot about him.

I know about the grudge between him and Emperor Raiah. Even with the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Art, Emperor

Raiah could only gain a slight upper hand against him. Now that so much time has passed, nobody knows how much he has improved. Of course, I have to prepare myself."

After speaking, King Marciais closed his eyes.

Meanwhile, Carson sat dejectedly nearby, deep in thought.

Thea stood beside him and said, "After the Orstellen Convention, return to the Human Universe with me. I'm sure James will appear during the Orstellen Convention."

Startled, Carson asked, "James? Didn't he die an entrapoch ago? How will he show up?"

Thea replied, "Everyone thinks he's dead. However, I can sense his soul aura still exists within the Endlos. He must be cultivating somewhere right now. He'll definitely show up after learning about the convention."

Carson did not respond.

'You shouldn't use the name Carson Dalibor anymore. Your last name should be Caden.'

Thea looked at Carson thoughtfully and said, "But what should your new name be?"

James interrupted, saying, "What about Hetsema Caden? Didn't you bring him out from Mount Hetsema? Wyot named his seclusion residence Mount Hetsema, and there must be a meaning behind it. His new name will be Hetsema Caden."

"Our family business has nothing to do with you." Thea rolled her eyes.

James immediately shut up.

Carson said coldly, "My last name is Dalibor! I won't change it."

King Marciais, who was resting, suddenly shouted, "What did you say?"

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5049-Carson parted his lips, about to refute. However, he noticed the terrifying expression on King Marciais' face and immediately swallowed his words. He replied, "I think Caden is a nice last name."

Thea smiled in satisfaction. Fortunately, King Marciais was with them. Otherwise, she would have a hard time dealing with Carson.

"Then Hetsema Caden it is."

Thea could not be bothered to think of a new name. To her, names were insignificant, and it did not matter.

"Remember, your name is Hetsema Caden from now onward. You're a human and no longer part of the Dooms," Thea reminded him.

"Fine," Hetsema replied reluctantly.

At this point in his life, he no longer cared what he was called or what race he belonged to. He was more concerned about why Thea was with the powerhouses of the Orstellen Sect.

Moreover, after thinking about it from another perspective, he found returning to the Human Race was not a bad idea.

Thea was the Human Race's matron and a powerhouse at the Chaos Completare Rank. She would surely agree if he demanding to become the Human Race's Lord after returning with her.

On top of that, he learned that James was not dead yet. James owed him a lot. Thus, Hetsema was sure to gain many benefits, especially Supernatural Powers, when they met.

Hetsema decided to endure everything for a while. After he obtains the Supernatural Powers, he would leave and cultivate in seclusion. He wanted the Endlos to tremble under his feet someday. Even Taran and King Marciais would be below him when that time comes.

With these thoughts, Hetsema felt much better.

Hetsema looked toward King Marciais, resting in the distance.

"King Marciais is incredibly strong. If I can become his disciple, I'll gain many Supernatural Powers."

Hetsema fell into thought.

Suddenly, he stood up and walked over to King Marciais. Then, he knelt to the ground.

James and Thea were stunned by his sudden behavior.

"What are you doing, Hetsema?" asked Thea.

Hetsema said earnestly, "King Marciais, I want to be your disciple."

King Marciais looked at Hetsema, who was kneeling on the ground. Then, he turned to James.

James looked at him helplessly and said, "You should accept him. James is already dead. Wyot, on the other hand, had instilled the idea of destroying the Human Race into his mind since he was a child. He grew up in hatred and needs your guidance."

"You're the dead one!" Thea said coldly, "I'll say it one more time. James is not dead!"

King Marciais replied seriously, "I've never accepted a disciple before, but I'll make an exception because of the Grand Priest."

'Thank you, Sir Marciais.'

Hetsema was overjoyed and bowed a few times.

King Marciais said calmly, 'That's enough. Get up.'

Hestema stood up and said excitedly, "Now that I'm your disciple, shouldn't you teach me some Supernatural Powers?"

King Marciais replied calmly, "You're only at the Quasi Chaos Rank and cannot cultivate my Supernatural Powers yet.

However, you can ask the Grand Priest to teach you the Marciais Path, more commonly known as the Omniscience Path.

After you reach the Marciais Path's Fourteenth Rank, I'll teach you the Divine Martial Scripture."

Hestema was immediately disappointed. He knew the Omniscience Path was challenging to cultivate. Reaching the Tenth Rank was already difficult, let alone the Fourteenth Rank.

Thea's curiosity about the so-called Marciais Path was piqued. "Sir, are you the one that created the Omniscience Path, I mean, the Marciais Path?"

James slapped her on the butt and said, "Why are you calling him sir? You can call him Zavis.

The Almighty Dragon General Chapter 5050-James slapped Thea's butt.

Theoretically, Thea was a powerhouse at the Chaos Completare Rank and should be able to dodge him easily. However, she could not evade it for some reason."

James smiled and said teasingly, "Your ass felt good. It was bouncy."

Thea's face immediately darkened, and a terrifying aura erupted from her body. The surrounding void began to collapse.

James immediately dodged and hid behind King Marciais after noticing he was in big trouble. He called out, "Zavis..."

With his strength, he could easily stand against Thea.

However, Thea was his wife. He could not possibly take action against her.

Moreover, he had promised King Marciais not to reveal his identity.

Now that he had caused trouble, he wanted to leave it to King Marciais to handle.

King Marciais said nonchalantly, "It's just a slap on the butt. What's the big deal? Calm down, and stop disturbing me while I'm adjusting my aura."

Thea gritted her teeth and said coldly, "If you do it again, I'll risk my life to kill you."

James nodded and replied, "T-There will be no next time."

Hetsema did not concern himself with their affairs.

He looked at James and said smilingly, "Grand Priest, please give me some pointers."

James replied calmly, "I'm not in the mood right now. We'll talk about it after the Orstellen Convention is over.

After James finished speaking, he sat down on the ground depressedly.

His wife was right before him, but he could not reunite with her.

King Marciais, on the other hand, stopped talking. He sat in a lotus position and began focusing on adjusting his aura.

Thea and Hetsema also fell silent, causing the atmosphere to become awkward.

Mount Hazeaf, which used to belong to Lucius, had become a land without an owner after James had killed Lucius.

After Taran recovered from his injuries, he occupied the place. He announced that he would leave seclusion. Then, he made an official appearance in the Endlos as Emperor Casey.

Taran sat in a lotus position in a quiet place within Mount Hazeaf.

Another man stood beside him and said, "Master, the Orstellen Sect has become the talk of the Endlos recently.

Zaden was suppressed in one move, Thea was kidnapped, and even Emperor Hetsema, residing at the Dark World's edge, was defeated. Amongst the Endlos Four, you're the only one they haven't visited yet."

Taran nodded and replied, "Alright."

"Master, what's the origin of the Orstellen Sect? Who is King Marciais?"

Taran thought awhile and said, "I heard Emperor Raiah speak of the Orstellen Sect before. Emperor Raiah was from the Orstellen Sect. He had mentioned a powerhouse in the Orstellen Sect who was not inferior to him. He claimed that facing this powerhouse was the same as facing him.

‘The person that Emperor Raiah spoke of was a prodigy of the Orstellen Sect, King Marciais.’

Although other living beings were oblivious to the Orstellen Sect, Taran had heard about them before.

Taran and Emperor Raiah were rivals but also friends.

Before their confrontation, they used to have gatherings and discussions about cultivation.

“Master, between you and Emperor Raiah, who is stronger?”

Taran gave it a thought and responded, “When I fought with Emperor Raiah, I had not yet perfected my Curse Magic. As a result, I lost to him. When Emperor Raiah fought King Marciais, he had yet to create the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra. But Emperor Raiah could defeat King Marciais without the Tenfold Realms Transcendent Sutra.”

“Does that mean King Marciais is no match against you?”
